SACRAMENTO, Jan. 24.—Hiram W. Johnson declared in Francisco on December 5, 1913, to a conference of Progres- that:

"Progressivism must march to victory or defeat under the of the Progressive party; so far as the vital essence of Progressive spirit is concerned, a wedded union with the of the old Republican party would be a league with death covenant with hell."

He then referred to the "ignoble ending of a once great party," say- the Republican party was dead beyond recall, a carcass in which whose name had passed into history, and he admonished that the only hope of advancing progressive ideas was to as part of the Progressive party of the nation.

Old-line Republicans never have forgiven him for his attempt wholly to destroy the Republican party in California. They now recall his double treachery, that to La Follette in the spring of 1912 and his rape of the Republican State Central Committees in December, 1918. The only time they ever voted for him was for Senator in 1916, and then it was under a pledge from him that he would do his best to carry the State for Hughes, a pledge that he flagrantly violated.

One has but to follow Johnson's record during 1912 and 1913 to discover the end which he sought to obtain. When he accepted the Progressive nomination for Vice-President in 1912 it was not with any idea that the Roosevelt-Johnson ticket could win. The plan of campaign was to split the Republican party in 1912 and give the government to the Democrats; then the Progressive party was to capture the machinery of the Republican party and appear as the opposition party in 1914, and win the Presidency in 1916. As there was no place for a third party, it was necessary that the Republican party should be stabbed to death. Such a conception was worthy a Machiavelli. But, thanks to the good sense of the American voters, such duplicity was not crowned with success.

On the day before the national election in 1912, Hiram Johnson sent the following wire to the Sacramento Bee, to be held until after the election:

"I have never been under any illusions regarding the outcome, and I am not now. We will make a showing that will be most gratifying, but I cannot see any possibility of immediate success."

This wire was sent to prepare the Bee, which was supporting Johnson, for the defeat that came the following day. It was published in the Bee a few days after the election.

CHECKMATE ON WILSON IS UNDERWOOD'S PLAN.

MINORITY LEADERSHIP VOTE WILL BE POSTPONED UNTIL GLASS TAKES SEAT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—If President Wilson is holding up the nomination of a new Secretary of the Treasury to keep Carter Glass from the Senate until the Democrats settle the minority leadership fight Senator Underwood's friends say he will wait some time because they propose to await Mr. Glass's arrival in the Senate before submitting the leadership issue to another vote.

Discussing the report that the President wanted the leadership contest settled in favor of Senator Hitchcock and hoped a vote would be taken before the present Secretary of the Treasury reaches the Senate to vote for Underwood, to whom he is pledged, Democratic leaders insist that Mr. Wilson will have to abandon that idea. Secretary Glass is himself getting very impatient over the long delay and is reported to be on the verge of insisting that the President release him.

It was learned yesterday that when several Cabinet officials inquired of the President about the treasury appointment, he sent word that he would do nothing until he had talked to Secretary Glass. A few days later Secretary Glass conferred with him and later announced that he would take his seat in the Senate January 15. Mr. Glass was then confident that his successor would be appointed by that time. But January 15 is now nine days passed and there has been no indication from the White House when a Secretary of the Treasury will be named.

This situation has mystified even Secretary Glass, who confidently expected the appointment of Assistant Secretary Leffingwell. Now he and his associates do not know what to think and there were rumors that the President may have a dark horse in mind just as he had when he named Representative Alexander Secretary of Commerce.

U.S.S. Brooklyn to San Francisco.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—The U.S.S. Brooklyn, formerly flagship of the Asiatic fleet, will arrive at San Francisco from Honolulu about January 29, headquarters of the twelfth naval district announced here today. The Brooklyn is to be assigned as flagship of destroyer squadrons.

OUR FLEET BARS JAPAN

No War if America Keeps Strong.

Plenty of Militarism and Jingoism in Tokio, but not from Wise Ones.

Uncle Sam's Pacific Coast Armada and Yards Speak with Authority.

BY FRAZIER HUNT.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TOKIO, Jan. 23.—There will be no war between America and Japan—as long as America keeps her powder dry.

That's the biggest thing that one learns in five weeks of study here in Japan.

The second most important thing is that if by some unbelievable possibility a wild sweep of popular sentiment should swing the countries into war, Japan would be completely beaten—if America keeps its powder dry.

Manufactured talk of war is always in the air here, and there are no small number of people who are eternally visioning a future contest at arms. The coming of a powerful American fleet to the Pacific, and the assurance that it is to be kept there and great naval yards and repair stations and dry docks built, not only large enough to accommodate it, but the other half of the American fleet as well, has given these forecasters much new ammunition.

There is no question but that the presence of this magnificent fleet has been the cause of great concern and much criticism of America among the Japanese. Like a bolt of lightning it shattered Japan's dream of full and complete naval domination of the Pacific, and suddenly brought to a proud, ambitious people the realization that the Pacific is not and never will be their private pond.

But all this has been but one phase in the general shaking that has awakened Japan to her real place in world affairs and her real place in the scale of nations today. The 2,200,000 soldiers America put in France; the 2,000,000 that she had in training camps at home; the shipbuilding miracles she performed; the throwing of the whole nation into war gear, and the vital effect on Japan caused by our embargoes has caused her to stop, look and listen about this war business, and consider what right a well-trained lightweight like Japan has to even think of mixing with a heavyweight like America.

There can be only one answer—Japan has absolutely no chance as long as America keeps herself in condition.

Japan hasn't the navy or the money or the resources, and, one might even add, the brains to think of mixing with America. She'd be committing plain suicide, and her best men know it.

Right now Japan's naval boosters are pushing through a naval budget of $188,000,000, which is the rather general figure of 30 per cent. of her total government income. Her building programme provides for the building in the next seven years of four battleships, four battle cruisers, twenty light cruisers, eighty-two destroyers, seventy-two submarines, and various service vessels, a fleet of over 200 new units in all at a cost of $387,000,000.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—California millers advanced the price of flour 60 cents a barrel today, according to a notice sent the Retail Grocers' Association here. This was the second increase of 60 cents in fifteen days. The retail price for a ninety-pound sack now is $3.83.

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 24.—Jacob Rassi, a grocer, yesterday pleaded guilty to profiteering in sugar sales and was fined $50 in Federal court.

MEEKER PROVES CASE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Royal S. Meeker, chief of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, whose assertion that there would be no appreciable reduction in the cost of living for a year or more, was challenged by Atty.-Gen. Palmer, submitted figures today to show that high cost of living is still mounting despite government efforts to bring it down.

"Reports of lower prices are not borne out by statistics of retail food prices which are carefully collected and compiled," he says. "Retail prices of food are obtained from retail dealers through monthly reports of actual selling prices on the 15th of each month and are on identical brands, grades and qualities of goods. It is necessary that prices of commodities be obtained in this way if price quotations are to show increases or decreases at all accurately. According to the figures thus compiled the retail cost of twenty-two articles of food in December was the highest ever attained, being 2.6 per cent. higher than in November, 5 per cent. higher than in December, 1918, and 89 per cent. higher than in December, 1913.

BASIS OF COMPARISON.

This comparison is based on the average retail prices of the following articles, weighted according to the consumption of the average family: Sirloin steak, round steak, rib roast, chuck roast, plate beef, pork chops, bacon, ham, lard, hens, flour, cornmeal, eggs, butter, milk, bread, potatoes, sugar, cheese, rice, coffee and tea.

"During 1919 monthly retail prices of food have been secured for forty-four food articles. During the month from November 15 to December 15 twenty-two of these articles increased in price as follows: Cabbage, 36 per cent.; onions, 17; granulated sugar, 16; strictly fresh eggs, 11 per cent.; cream of wheat and potatoes, 10 per cent. each; raisins, 5 per cent.; flour, 4 per cent.; butter and store eggs, 3 per cent each; fresh milk and canned salmon, 2 per cent. each; lamb, evaporated milk, oleomargarine, cheese, macaroni, rice, canned peas and bananas, 1 per cent. each; rib roast and chuck roast, increased less than one-half of 1 per cent. each.

TWELVE SHOW DECREASES.

"The twelve articles which decreased in price were: Pork chops, 10 per cent.; lard and oranges, 4 per cent. each; tea and prunes, 3

SPLIT AGAIN ON LEAGUE.

Johnson and Borah Cause Hold-up.

Senator Lodge Halts Compromise to Confer with the Irreconcilables.

Article Ten and Equality of Voting Still Rocks in the Treaty's Course.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Compromise negotiations in the Senate on the peace treaty were halted temporarily today while Republican Senators considered the situation caused by the protests against further compromise made yesterday by Senators Johnson of California, Borah of Idaho and other Republicans.

To give opportunity for the Republican Senators' conferences, Senator Lodge cancelled the meeting of the bi-partisan conference of Republican and Democratic leaders considering compromise reservations. Another meeting of the conciliation committees was called for Monday. Meantime, informal conferences on both sides were planned.

Numerous consultations between members of all Senate factions were held today and leaders generally agreed that the outlook for an early settlement was unpromising. It was conceded that the protests by Senators Johnson and Borah had made future negotiations more difficult.

Senator Lodge conferred today with the other three members of the Republican committee, and prepared an answer to Democratic proposals for composing differences over the reservations to Article X of the League of Nations covenant and that regarding equality of voting in the League. This answer will be transmitted to Senator Hitchcock and his associates on the Democratic committee Monday.

SAME STUBBORN STAND.

Although no authoritative statement regarding the Republican leader's plans were given, it was intimated that the Republicans would agree only to changes in language of the two major reservations, and would not yield any of the principles involved. Assurances to this effect were reported to have been given Senators Johnson and Borah at yesterday's conference with Senators Lodge and New.

Today the treaty controversy cropped out briefly in the Senate. Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, an opponent to the treaty, criticised the bi-partisan negotiations, declaring they were being conducted in secret by "self-appointed" committees having no authority to act.

The "mild reservation" Republicans, Senator Reed said, "insist on yielding only part of our sovereignty, while advocates of unqualified ratificaton of the treaty wish to yield it all."

"There is another class of old-fashioned wicked people," continued Mr. Reed, "who would not surrender a single star of the American flag to live under a banner of internationalism."

COMMENDS BRYAN.

Senator Reed also commended William J. Bryan for his position against ratification of the treaty without change in Article X of the League covenant and in opposing assumption of mandatories by America.

"Mr. Bryan has done one or two things lately," said the Missouri Senator, "with which I am greatly pleased. He said Article X of the League would, no doubt, cover a multitude of sins. Thus Mr. Bryan condemns an important part of this document we are asked to accept."

Commending Mr. Bryan's opposition to mandates, Senator Reed said the word "mandatory" was a polite name for conquest.

Besides the conferences of the Republican leaders today the "mild reservation" Republicans and also a number of Democrats consulted separately and with each other. The "mild reservationists" were sounded out by Senator Hitchcock and other Democratic leaders and, it was stated, gave assurances that while opposition from Senators Johnson, Borah and their adherents to further compromise blocked the conciliation movement, some of the "mild reservationists" were prepared to treat with the Democrats independently in an effort to bring about ratification.

The Democratic leaders said they had assurances from the "mild reservationists" that if a break developed in the present bipartisan conferences, the "mild" group would put forth a programme of reservations of their own, and seek support from other Republicans and the Democrats.

THREATEN PARTY SPLIT.

The eight Republicans headed by Senators Johnson and Borah had served notice that they positively will not agree to any modification of the so-called Lodge reservations as proposed, with a threatened split in the party's solidarity as the alternative.

In this attitude they claimed to have the support of thirty other Senators, enough to defeat ratification of the treaty if presented with the Lodge reservations compromised, the reported basis of the tentative agreement reached in the series of bi-partisan committee meetings.

GRAYSON'S O.K. ON WILSON TRIP.

President's Personal Physician Favors Convalescence in Southern California.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The proposal that President Wilson pass his period of convalescence from his long-continued illness in Southern California not only meets with the approval of the President's personal physician, Dr. Grayson, but also with consulting physicians in the President's case who aver that before the President can resume his duties completely he must have a change of scene and climate and get away from the strenuous governmental environment of Washington for a time.

Former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo is also said to be urging these plans to completion, and to have had a part in the President's family deciding upon California as the proper place. Mr. McAdoo himself has a place in California and it may be that the President will go there, or to some place adjacent thereto in the vicinity of San Diego.

Of course, should the President's condition become worse, it may be necessary to cancel these plans, but at the present rate of progress his physicians feel quite certain that the President would be able to go to Southern California by sea, through the Panama Canal within a month.

A trip to Virginia contemplated by the President this week had to be abandoned on account of severe weather, the Potomac just now being swept by blizzardy winds and the river being dangerously full of ice, according to weather bureau representatives tonight.

Transport Service and Aerial Post Link up Many of the Big Cities.

Florentine Walkout Committee and Anarchist Leader are Held.

BY AUSTIN WEST.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MILAN, Jan. 24.—Although the actual strike on the state railways is the worst tie-up hitherto experienced in Italy, the government continues to control the situation with a firm hand. Motor transport services are being organized on a large scale and on lines distantly imitative of those adopted in Great Britain last autumn for provisioning the great towns.

The aerial post, at express-rate fees, was inaugurated today for linking up Rome and Milan with Messina, Naples, Pisa, Venice and Turin.

While local traffic is not seriously affected in the southern provinces, the consequences of the strike are sharply felt in Tuscany, Lombardy and Piedmont.

In its evening bulletin the railway men's syndicate claims that for a whole day it has not been possible to start a single train in the whole of Central and Northern Italy, and that even in Rome no passenger tickets are issued.

In this situation the Florentine

CENSUS INDICATES CHICAGO HAS POPULATION OF FOUR MILLION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Chicago will show a population of 4,000,- according to veteran census enumerators now engaged in up the residents. This will mean that the city has almost in population since the last census. Several districts show increase of 200 per cent. and enumerators say the city is due for surprise when returns are all in. They say the figures will explain why hotels, clubs and private homes are crowded to limit and many applicants appear for every vacant house and It is plain the building programme has not kept pace with growing population. Enumerators who have finished their work they must wait until the entire enumeration is completed they get their pay. This probably means they will have to until June and perhaps two months longer.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Frank A. Munsey, owner of the New York Sun and the Evening Sun, who recently bought the New York Herald and Evening Telegram from the estate of the late James Gordon Bennett, announced tonight that the Sun and Herald would be amalgamated February 1 under the name of the "Sun and New York Herald."

The plant of the Sun is to be used for publication of the Sun and New York Herald, Mr. Munsey explained, because the lease on ground upon which the Herald building rests expires in a few months and will have to be abandoned.

LENINE AGENT PLOTS ON BORDER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO, Jan. 24.—A man going under the name of Lenine and posing as a cousin of Nikolai Lenine, Premier of soviet Russia, has been spreading Bolshevik propaganda in the State of Sonora, Mex., according to reports received tonight by government officials on the border.

Lenine is said to be aided in his work by a Dr. Atl, whose real name is Turido Murillo, known as a radical labor leader of Sonora, according to the reports received here.

It was said here tonight that evidence relating to the alleged activities of Lenine and Atl would be laid before the Senate subcommittee investigating Mexican affairs. Considerable attention will be given to alleged Bolshevik propaganda in Mexico by the committee, it was predicted.

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Jan. 24.—As the result of the activities of German consuls in Mexico there has been arranged a steamship line between German and Mexican ports which will begin regular service at once, Mexican newspapers say.

LAREDO (Tex.) Jan. 24.—Agitators are at work in the Tampico oil fields, and as a result the employees of the Transcontinental Oil Company are threatening a general strike, which would affect all the company's properties, according to a Tampico dispatch published Thursday in El Universal, a Mexico City newspaper. The men demand a 30 per cent. wage increase. Agitators are inciting them to strike for an advance of 100 per cent., says the dispatch.

THE HUERTA CONTROVERSY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 24.—Copies of official telegrams purporting to throw some light on Carranza's refusal to recognize Huerta were placed in evidence at the last hearing here today of the Senate subcommittee investigating the Mexican situation. The correspondence was exchanged at the time Carranza was Governor of the State of Cohuila.

A message to the American State Department from the consular officer then at Saltillo said Carranza had decided to recognize the new government, but, the correspondence indicated, it was sent without knowledge of the controversy beginning between Carranza and Huerta. The dispute concerned the maintenance of State troops. The former government had appropriated annually a certain amount of money for that purpose and it is known Madero and Carranza had disagreed regarding the continuance of the plan. The dispute was revived after Huerta assumed control of the government.

It was from the local organization that many of the leaders of the army which Carranza later recruited came. Among them were Pablo Gonzales, Santos Coy, Lucio Blanco, Francisco Cos and Eulalio Gutierrez.

The controversy began February 22, 1913, with the formal notification of Carranza by Alberto Garcia Granados, Huerta's Secretary of the Interior and subsequently executed by the Carranzistas, that Huerta was the President ad interim, and called upon him to assist in reestablishment of peace.

ARREDONDO'S HAND.

Carranza, according to the evidence, sent two commissioners, Eliseo Arredondo and Rafael R. Arizpe, to adjust the differences over the State guard with Huerta. These, it appeared, reached a conclusion, but as it was not wholly satisfactory to Carranza he disregarded it. He then, it was indicated by the evidence, attempted to finance his native troops by making levies on financial institutions in Coahuila. Gen. Huerta, learning of this, sent the Governor of Coahuila (Carranza) the following message, which was received in Saltillo, March 2:

"Please inform us for what purpose you extracted $40,000 from the bank, as this government has no information upon this subject."

Incident to the examination of James W. Sullivan, formerly a cotton-seed buyer of Torrean, who had written a letter to the Rules Committee of the House, warning against intervention in Mexico, Senator Fall read into the record a report of the American consular officer at Torreon. He reported conditions "worse than at any time since 1914."

The committee left here tonight for El Paso, where the hearings will be resumed next week.

SOLDIERS UNDER ARREST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO, Jan. 24.—Three American soldiers, negroes, were taken into custody near Deming, N. M., late Friday, in connection with the death of Rosalio Hernandez, Mexican fiscal guard, and the wounding of Isodoro Duran, Mexican cowboy, near Bade de Fusiles, Chihuahua, Tuesday night, according to information received tonight by the Mexican Consul-General here. The arrest was made by a detachment of soldiers from Columbus, N. M. The prisoners were taken to Deming.

JAPAN TO GRIP KIAO-CHOW.

Award of Shantung Protested by 15,000 Americanized Chinese.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PEKING, Jan. 24.—The Japanese Minister has informed the Chinese government that Japan, in accordance with the peace treaty, will succeed to the rights formerly enjoyed by Germany in Kiao-Chow. He further stated that Japan was ready to negotiate regarding the retrocession of the leased territory if China were willing, emphasizing the fact that when arrangements were completed Japan would withdraw immediately the railway guards from Shantung. China has not yet replied.

STOCKTON, Jan. 24.—Resolutions to be sent to the council of the League of Nations demanding that Shantung be awarded to China instead of Japan were passed today by the western division of the Chinese National League in session in Stockton. This action was taken following the recipt of a cablegram from the Students' United Association of China asking for the co-operation of the American Chinese in attempting to "get for China that which is justly hers." The Chinese National League represents the sentiments of 15,000 Americanized Chinese.

The convention also favored the creating of a fund of $300,000 by the members of the league to finance development in China. Promoters of the scheme plan to open banks, sawmills and factories.

It was further decided that the Chinese people of the United States should save their money to have a fund available to send to China in case a rebellion, to place the national league in power in China, breaks out. The national league is hostile towards the present Chinese government, the delegates state.

The delegates voted to open a daily newspaper in Shanghai to spread the league's propaganda and also to give the Chinese people the news of the latest American inventions and developments. It is also planned to start a newspaper in San Francisco.

The convention will close tomorrow afternoon. Further important actions are expected. Monday the delegates will go to the aviation school at Redwood City to attend the graduation of two Stockton aviators, Willie Chan and Chin Yu Sing, who were made licensed pilots.

This afternoon the delegates were taken on a trip into the delta section.

TAFT'S VIEW OF HOOVER'S BOOM.

Political Affiliations of Past Make Him a Knotty Question for Republicans, but Democrats Would Find Californian a Strong Candidate.

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

The New York World in a double-leaded editorial of more than two columns proposes that Mr. Hoover be nominated for the Presidency and promises its support whether he runs as a Democrat, a Republican or an independent. The article is a striking one and is sure to attract much public attention.

Mr. Hoover's name has been frequently mentioned for the Presidency and it's certain that his demonstrated ability in the great war, his reputation as a man who has done great things, his official experience without political associations, his courage and ability to stand the fire of personal and political attack, his training and honor as a business man, his record of disinterested and uncompensated patriotic service would lend an unwonted glow to his candidacy if he were nominated by one of the great political parties.

The heretofore unsatisfied yearning for a business man, which so often finds expression among business men, would be gratified by his nomination. But party regularity is still strong enough in this country to prevent the election of a candidate on an independent platform. Only as a candidate of the Republican or Democratic party will Mr. Hoover be formidable.

The Republican party leaders, with a strong prospect of party success, are less likely to take one whose party affiliations have been so indeterminate in the past, because they feel confident of winning with a certified Republican of long standing. The Democratic party heads are doing the best they can to give an impression of their platforms in the next campaign, but in their hearts they see little to brighten the prospects. They are much more likely than the Republicans to offer the nomination to Mr. Hoover. He did support the Democratic ticket in the Congressional fight of 1918 and they could use this as a ground, however slight, to recognize him as one of the fold.

So, too, his continued service as an important executive in this administration gives him a slight Democratic color. Doubtless Mr. Hoover's associations have always been Republican and his votes for President, when he was in this country to vote, were probably Republican, but when the Democrats are looking for a man to win a fight, with heavy odds against them, they are not likely to press too closely their searching of his erstwhile political predilactis.

Would Mr. Hoover accept a Democratic nomination? No one can [illegible] He is a man of broad views an high standard of public service. might well conclude that he co not accept without being politic bound to a party with whose e nomic or other views he did sympathize or he might be proff the nomination in such [illegible] make him feel free to [illegible] own policies and make [illegible] pointments.

H.C.L. LOWERS BIRTH RATE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—New York State's normal birth rate has been reduced by 36,000 since January 1, 1918, because of the war and the resultant high cost of living, according to a statement issued here today by Dr. H. M. Biggs, State Commissioner of Health. Dr. Biggs found solace in the fact that the death rate for the same period was the lowest in many years.

Increased agricultural production throughout the world to combat the high cost of living is planned by the International Association of Agricultural Missions just organized here, it was announced today. The organization, which is associated with the Interchurch World Movement, will seek to introduce modern agricultural methods in all non-Christian lands. The new methods will be introduced through the Protestant foreign mission boards.

HOPE FOR DECREASE.

A decrease in the cost of living in the next few months was predicted today by Arthur Williams, Federal Food Administrator. He based his belief on the spirit of economy prevailing among the people as a whole, decreased exports and increased production. Prices of clothes will drop sharply within a year, Mr. Williams believes, and he advised against stocking up on apparel now. The wiser course, he says, is to buy only clothes that actually are needed.

WOULD JAIL PROFITEERS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Jail bars for profiteers was urged by Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, in an address today in the Senate. "Profiteers, he said, "are more dangerous than Reds."

Advocating legislation by Congress to curb profiteering, Senator Capper said the people could help themselves too if they would organize to "boycott" the profit hogs by refusing to buy goods offered at extortionate prices."

The Kansas Senator declared that the "general public is being sandbagged" in view of profits reported by large manufacturing corporations and the rise in the value of their securities. He cited the American Woolen Company, the Central Leather Company, the Crucible Steel Company, the U. S. Steel Corporation and others.

WOOL PIRATES.

Referring to increased prices of clothing, Senator Capper read a telegram from the National Wool Growers' Association, stating that the wool in a suit of clothes selling for $100 costs only $7.27.

"A 50 per cent. increase in the price of shoes by next summer is predicted by the president of the National Shoe Travelers' Association," continued Mr. Capper. "The day this prediction appeared, another extra dividend was declared by the Central Leather Company."

"Just now the greatest 'get rich quick' game in America is gouging in sugar. The increase in the price of sugar will add a billion dollars to the burdens now being borne by the American people.

"We have 4,000,000 homeless people in the United States as a result of the melon cutting in lumber. There has been and is shameless profiteering in that industry.

"The market price of the farmer's live stock has declined nearly 50 per cent., bringing many farmers to the verge of bankruptcy, but the high prices the consumer pays for meat are virtually unchanged."

ADVOCATES AUTO DRIVING LICENSE

State Motor Vehicle Man Thinks it is Necessary.

Believes it Would Cut Down Number of Accidents.

Also Advocates Branch Motor License Offices.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—In winding up his affairs as Superintendent of the State Motor Vehicle Department, a position he held for two years, P. J. Tehaney, submitted a report to Gov. Stephens, recommending sweeping reforms in the auto law as a means of reducing the number of accidents in California.

Correction of the evil is proposed by requiring official tests to prove the qualifications of applicants. In this regard the report says:

"One urgently needed reform is that of the licensing of operators and chauffeurs. Under our present act no qualification whatever is necessary other than to fill out an application as to one's age and color of hair and eyes. I submit that such information will not establish the competency or ability of a person to drive an automobile on the highways of the State.

"It is my candid opinion that the now appalling list of injuries and deaths through auto accidents would be appreciably reduced if all applicants were required to appear before some local examining board of officials to demonstrate their ability and competency to operate an automobile, as well as to demonstrate their knowledge of the rules of the road, before a license could be procured."

Another recommendation contained in the report suggests the establishment of additional branch offices to facilitate the work of registration.

A noteworthy achievement, Tehaney declared, was the rounding out of the year for the first time in the history of the department without a deficit. He reported a surplus of $55,000 over all expenses.

Statistical features for 1919 were reported as follows:

Total gross revenue, $4,468,721.67; concluded transactions, 1,481,751; expenditures, $406,593.25; State and county apportionments, $3,827,303.32.

The State library has just acquired by purchase thirty-five letters written by California pioneers of the days of '49, from Mrs. Alice Marsh Cameron of Santa Barbara, daughter of Dr. John Marsh, who arrived in the State in 1838.

Among the letters are some from Thomas O. Larkin, United States Consul at Monterey during the Mexican regime; Charles Weber, the founder of Stockton; S. W. Hastings, who arrived in California in 1843 and gave the information which led the ill-fated Donner party to take the short-cut; and Gen. John Sutter.

Though the major part of a century has elapsed since the letters were written, the writing is legible, but the phraseology is of a nature peculiar to the day.

The California State Fair, which in 1919 cleared $10,000, is said to be the only organization of the kind in the United States that made money last year. This statement was made by Charles Paine, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, at a meeting of the directors here. Extensive plans are being made for this year's exhibition.

A twelve-inch American shell, known as "Big Bertha," has been given to Gov. Stephens as a present by Maj. H. Hugh Sydenham, who was with the American Expeditionary forces during the war. The shell was engraved by a German prisoner, and has been added to the relics in the State Library.

Motoring is a hobby with Gilbert B. Daniels, newly appointed superintendent of the State Motor Vehicle Department. If there is any greater sport than motoring in the wonderful outdoors, Daniels says he hasn't found it. The lure of the auto has become a fixed habit with him. He became the owner of one shortly after motor cars first appeared on the market, and has managed to continue the practice ever since.

Gov. Stephens got a new gun for Christmas, and whenever the chief executive finds a little spare time on his hands, he immediately beats it to the rice fields and marshes in search of the elusive duck. The Governor is a crack shot, according to the sportsmen, and always brings home the limit.

POST-BELLUM WAR REVELATIONS

Roch Book Declares Lloyd George Could Have Averted Conflict—Pierrefou Insists America Was Duped By Allies On Austria's 1917 Peace Offer.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Startling revelations were made in a book published today, "Mr. Lloyd George and The War," by Walter Roch, Welsh Liberal, former member of Parliament, and member of the commission which investigated the Dardanelles failure.

Mr. Roch alleges Lloyd George opposed the war and delayed Great Britain's entry for nearly a week. On July 30, he says, Messrs. Asquith, Grey, Haldane, Crewe, Churchill, McKenna and Runciman had made up their minds that Great Britain must fight, but the majority of the Cabinet, under the leadership of Lloyd George, held up the decision five days. Finally, Burns and Morley resigned and Lloyd George joined the war makers. England then entered the alliance. Mr. Roch suggests that if Lloyd George had agreed to Mr. Asquith's firm policy five days earlier war might have been averted.

Mr. Roch declared Lloyd George all along believed a stalemate had been reached on the west front, supported all the sideshows and favored the great attack of 1917. The end of the volume is an ironical attack on the Premier. The long nightmare of the war had come to an end at last. The vast majority of the grateful nation, forgetting its own efforts, its own steadfast faith in the justice of the cause, its own stubborn confidence in ultimate victory, joined almost with one accord in acclaiming Lloyd George as the man who won the war.

WAS AMERICA DUPED?

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Jan. 23.—Why was the United States told nothing of the Austrian pourparlers for peace during the first half of 1917, after President Wilson and Congress had proclaimed that a "state of war" existed with Germany? American diplomats are asking the question today following the sensational revelations made by Jean de Pierrefou in the magazine Opinion.

The Allies concealed these parleys from the United States, although it seemed to have been our entry into the war that chiefly discouraged the Austrian government and impelled it to seek peace while the fortunes of war were favorable.

M. De Pierrefou recounts chronologically the communications exchanged between Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary and France and Great Britain through the intermediary of Prince Sixte de Bourbon, brother of Empress Zita of Austria.

These negotiations began early in March, 1917, after the United States had broken off diplomatic relations with Germany, and when it was a foregone conclusion that America would go to war against the Teutons. They continued until May 9, although the United States entered the world war on April 6.

ITALY IN IGNORANCE.

Besides the United States, Italy was kept in ignorance of the offer of Austria-Hungary to make a separate peace, because the French and British diplomats feared that the government at Rome would not be satisfied with what Emperor Charles had offered as a realization of Italian ambitions.

On March 5 Prince Sixte, who, with his brother, Prince Xavier, had been driving ambulances at the Belgian front since the beginning of the war three years before, was received by President Poincare in Paris. He outlined his plan of trying to get a concrete offer of peace from his brother-in-law, the Emperor of Austria, following the death of old Franz Josef.

Prince Sixte received special diplomatic passports from William Martin, French director of the protocol, and went to Switzerland, where he saw his mother, who told him that Emperor Charles wished to make peace and would like to make his offers through his brother-in-law.

In conversations with his mother, Prince Sixte laid down the following broad principles of peace, which he knew the Allied powers would insist upon: Alsace-Lorraine to the 1814 frontiers for France, without any colonial territory or other compensation in exchange; restitution of Belgium and the surrender of the Congo to the Belgian state; restitution of Serbia and the handing over of Albania to the Serbs, and, finally, giving the Russians Constantinople.

CHARLES WAS FAVORABLE.

On February 21, Charles I sent certain communications to his brother-in-law setting forth how he had refused to follow the directions of the Kaiser and to break off diplomatic relations with the United States. Prince Sixte was asked to visit Vienna and to talk the situation over with the Emperor and with Count Czernin.

Thus on March 5, Prince Sixte had returned to Paris and obtained an audience with President Poincare in order to learn the demands of the Allied Powers that he might submit them to his brother-in-law. The Prince showed two letters from Emperor Charles and one from Count Czernin to M. Poincare.

Czernin's note was immediately judged as "insufficient." It declared the alliance of Germany-Austria-Hungary-Bulgaria-Turkey is indissoluble and demanded certain guarantees against Serbia. It declared that Austria would make no objection if Germany wished to surrender Alsace-Lorraine to France and said that Belgium should receive reparation. It denied that Austria was a vassal of Germany, but declared that France was a catspaw of Great Britain. Finally, Czernin stated that Austria di dnot seek to destrop Rumania, and that the Slavs were loyal to the Emperor and the empire.

DISPUTES LUDENDORFF.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, Jan. 21 (via Copenhagen Jan. 23.)—Capt. Kurt Anker of the Intelligence section, great headquarters, has contradicted the statement in Ludendorff's book that the number of American troops in France in April, 1918, were not ascertained by the Germans. "Intelligence already has reported the arrival of twelve divisions and the only question was whether it had put the facts together correctly and that there might not be more," Capt. Anker says. "Later the fighting showed twelve right at the beginning of May. Early in July the section submitted an exact statement of the organization of the American forces including forty-four infantry and one cavalry division."

Capt. Anker said some information from the papers had been forwarded to Germany but the identities of the other divisions were disclosed by French prisoners telling of arrival in French training areas.

press its party feeling and pride and exercise real political sagacity and press the nomination upon Mr. Hoover without conditions, it might change the situation as the Republican leaders now view it. They properly think Mr. Wilson as a third term candidate will make their success and his decisive defeat certain. They have the same feeling as to the candidacy of Messrs. McAdoo, Palmer or Cox. But it might be different with Mr. Hoover. The latter shares nothing of the present unpopularity of Mr. Wilson, and would command the support of all his friends. If he ran, he would be tendered to the electorate, not as a Democrat but as an independent on a Democratic ticket; a proved executive and one most familiar with the practical problems of reconstruction and the high cost of living.

But strong as Mr. Hoover will be before the people, the trend toward the Republican party as a means of freeing the country from the irritating burden of arrogant, wasteful Democratic rule will prevent him from winning as a Democratic candidate unless under his leadership some issue shall acquire an importance sufficient to minimize the weight of those reasons which now make for Republican success.

THE LEAGUE PLANK.

It has generally been regarded as absurd for Mr. Wilson to express a desire to carry the League of Nations question into the next campaign because he cannot make it the controlling issue. Many Republicans agreeing with him on the League will find so many other reasons for voting against him that its importance as a campaign issue in his behalf will be materially lessened. With Mr. Hoover as a Democratic candidate, however, it is likely to be different. The very numerous element of the Republican party called idealistic by the politicians and practically important only on election day, will be attracted to Mr. Hoover as an independent candidate, free from Democratic partisanship and not responsible for the faults of Mr. Wilson's Democratic administration or likely to perpetuate them. His candidacy will give them an opportunity to voice their opinions on the League issue without fear of a continuance of that for which they oppose Mr. Wilson.

POSSIBILITY OF SERVICE.

Mr. Hoover's tastes are not political. Only possibility of service would attract him if the Republicans beat the league in which he is deeply interested and which he believes to be essential to the stabilizing of the world then on that issue he might enter the lists con amore.

If the Republicans are so stiff as to defeat compromise the moderate Republicans cannot confine the issue in the campaign merely to the question of reservations. The "bitter enders" will force the fighting and put the party definitely against the league. On such an issue it is hard to estimate how large a Republican vote Mr. Hoover could secure.

The recent polls leave no doubt that a most formidable mass of Republican voters are not in sympathy with unbending adherence to the Lodge resolutions. If a compromise is not forthcoming and the issue is of a league or no league that mass of silent Republican protestants may seize the opportunity of Mr. Hoover's candidacy to register their deep-seated conviction of the duty of the United States to assume its share of the responsibilities of the world. The Republican leaders, if they are long-headed, will not allow this possible phase of the political situation to scape them and will make every effort to bring about a compromise.

H.C.L. LOWERS BIRTH RATE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—New York State's normal birth rate has been reduced by 36,000 since January 1, 1918, because of the war and the resultant high cost of living, according to a statement issued here today by Dr. H. M. Biggs, State Commissioner of Health. Dr. Biggs found solace in the fact that the death rate for the same period was the lowest in many years.

Increased agricultural production throughout the world to combat the high cost of living is planned by the International Association of Agricultural Missions just organized here, it was announced today. The organization, which is associated with the Interchurch World Movement, will seek to introduce modern agricultural methods in all non-Christian lands. The new methods will be introduced through the Protestant foreign mission boards.

HOPE FOR DECREASE.

A decrease in the cost of living in the next few months was predicted today by Arthur Williams, Federal Food Administrator. He based his belief on the spirit of economy prevailing among the people as a whole, decreased exports and increased production. Prices of clothes will drop sharply within a year, Mr. Williams believes, and he advised against stocking up on apparel now. The wiser course, he says, is to buy only clothes that actually are needed.

He cited the American Woolen Company, the Central Leather Company, the Crucible Steel Company, the U. S. Steel Corporation and others.

WOOL PIRATES.

Referring to increased prices of clothing, Senator Capper read a telegram from the National Wool Growers' Association, stating that the wool in a suit of clothes selling for $100 costs only $7.37.

"A 50 per cent. increase in the price of shoes by next summer is predicted by the president of the National Shoe Travelers' Association," continued Mr. Capper. "The day this prediction appeared, another extra dividend was declared by the Central Leather Company."

"Just now the greatest 'get rich quick' game in America is gouging in sugar. The increase in the price of sugar will add a billion dollars to the burdens now being borne by the American people.

"We have 4,000,000 homeless people in the United States as a result of the melon cutting in lumber. There has been and is shameless profiteering in that industry.

"The market price of the farmer's live stock has declined nearly 50 per cent., bringing many farmers to the verge of bankruptcy, but the high prices the consumer pays for meat are virtually unchanged."

ADVOCATES AUTO DRIVING LICENSE

State Motor Vehicle Man Thinks it is Necessary.

Believes it Would Cut Down Number of Accidents.

Also Advocates Branch Motor License Offices.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—In winding up his affairs as Superintendent of the State Motor Vehicle Department, a position he held for two years, P. J. Tehaney, submitted a report to Gov. Stephens, recommending sweeping reforms in the auto law as a means of reducing the number of accidents in California.

Correction of the evil is proposed by requiring official tests to prove the qualifications of applicants. In this regard the report says:

"One urgently needed reform is that of the licensing of operators and chauffeurs. Under our present act no qualification whatever is necessary other than to fill out an application as to one's age and color of hair and eyes. I submit that such information will not establish the competency or ability of a person to drive an automobile on the highways of the State.

"It is my candid opinion that the now appalling list of injuries and deaths through auto accidents would be appreciably reduced if all applicants were required to appear before some local examining board of officials to demonstrate their ability and competency to operate an automobile, as well as to demonstrate their knowledge of the rules of the road, before a license could be procured."

Another recommendation contained in the report suggests the establishment of additional branch offices to facilitate the work of registration.

A noteworthy achievement, Tehaney declared, was the rounding out of the year for the first time in the history of the department without a deficit. He reported a surplus of $55,000 over all expenses.

Statistical features for 1919 were reported as follows:

Total gross revenue, $4,463,721.67; concluded transactions, 1,481,751; expenditures, $406,593.25; State and county apportionments, $3,827,303.32.

The State library has just acquired by purchase thirty-five letters written by California pioneers of the days of '49, from Mrs. Alice Marsh Cameron of Santa Barbara, daughter of Dr. John Marsh, who arrived in the State in 1838.

Among the letters are some from Thomas O. Larkin, United States Consul at Monterey during the Mexican regime; Charles Weber, the founder of Stockton; S. W. Hastings, who arrived in California in 1843 and gave the information which led the ill-fated Donner party to take the short-cut; and Gen. John Sutter.

Though the major part of a century has elapsed since the letters were written, the writing is legible, but the phraseology is of a nature peculiar to the day.

The California State Fair, which in 1919 cleared $10,000, is said to be the only organization of the kind in the United States that made money last year. This statement was made by Charles Paine, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, at a meeting of the directors here. Extensive plans are being made for this year's exhibition.

A twelve-inch American shell, known as "Big Bertha," has been given to Gov. Stephens as a present by Maj. H. Hugh Sydenham, who was with the American Expeditionary forces during the war. The shell was engraved by a German prisoner, and has been added to the relics in the State Library.

Motoring is a hobby with Gilbert B. Daniels, newly appointed superintendent of the State Motor Vehicle Department. If there is any greater sport than motoring in the wonderful outdoors, Daniels says he hasn't found it. The lure of the auto has become a fixed habit with him. He became the owner of one shortly after motor cars first appeared on the market, and has managed to continue the practice ever since.

Gov. Stephens got a new gun for Christmas, and whenever the chief executive finds a little spare time on his hands, he immediately beats it to the rice fields and marshes in search of the elusive duck. The Governor is a crack shot, according to the sportsmen, and always brings home the limit.

POST-BELLUM WAR REVELATIONS

Roch Book Declares Lloyd George Could Have Averted Conflict—Pierrefou Insists America Was Duped By Allies On Austria's 1917 Peace Offer.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Startling revelations were made in a book published today, "Mr. Lloyd George and The War," by Walter Roch, Welsh Liberal, former member of Parliament, and member of the commission which investigated the Dardanelles failure.

Mr. Roch alleges Lloyd George opposed the war and delayed Great Britain's entry for nearly a week. On July 30, he says, Messrs. Asquith, Grey, Haldane, Crewe, Churchill, McKenna and Runciman had made up their minds that Great Britain must fight, but the majority of the Cabinet, under the leadership of Lloyd George, held up the decision five days. Finally, Burns and Morley resigned and Lloyd George joined the war makers. England then entered the alliance. Mr. Roch suggests that if Lloyd George had agreed to Mr. Asquith's firm policy five days earlier war might have been averted.

Mr. Roch declared Lloyd George all along believed a stalemate had been reached on the west front, supported all the sideshows and favored the great attack of 1917. The end of the volume is an ironical attack on the Premier. The long nightmare of the war had come to an end at last. The vast majority of the grateful nation, forgetting its own efforts, its own steadfast faith in the justice of the cause, its own stubborn confidence in ultimate victory, joined almost with one accord in acclaiming Lloyd George as the man who won the war.

WAS AMERICA DUPED?

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Jan. 23.—Why was the United States told nothing of the Austrian pourparlers for peace during the first half of 1917, after President Wilson and Congress had proclaimed that a "state of war" existed with Germany? American diplomats are asking the question today following the sensational revelations made by Jean de Pierrefou in the magazine Opinion.

The Allies concealed these parleys from the United States, although it seemed to have been our entry into the war that chiefly discouraged the Austrian government and impelled it to seek peace while the fortunes of war were favorable.

M. De Pierrefou recounts chronologically the communications exchanged between Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary and France and Great Britain through the intermediary of Prince Sixte de Bourbon, brother of Empress Zita of Austria.

These negotiations began early in March, 1917, after the United States had broken off diplomatic relations with Germany, and when it was a foregone conclusion that America would go to war against the Teutons. They continued until May 9, although the United States entered the world war on April 6.

ITALY IN IGNORANCE.

Besides the United States, Italy was kept in ignorance of the offer of Austria-Hungary to make a separate peace, because the French and British diplomats feared that the government at Rome would not be satisfied with what Emperor Charles had offered as a realization of Italian ambitions.

On March 5 Prince Sixte, who, with his brother, Prince Xavier, had been driving ambulances at the Belgian front since the beginning of the war three years before, was received by President Poincare in Paris. He outlined his plan of trying to get a concrete offer of peace from his brother-in-law, the Emperor of Austria, following the death of old Franz Josef.

Prince Sixte received special diplomatic passports from William Martin, French director of the protocol, and went to Switzerland, where he saw his mother, who told him that Emperor Charles wished to make peace and would like to make his offers through his brother-in-law.

In conversations with his mother, Prince Sixte laid down the following broad principles of peace, which he knew the Allied powers would insist upon: Alsace-Lorraine to the 1814 frontiers for France, without any colonial territory or other compensation in exchange; restitution of Belgium and the surrender of the Congo to the Belgian state; restitution of Serbia and the handing over of Albania to the Serbs, and, finally, giving the Russians Constantinople.

CHARLES WAS FAVORABLE.

On February 21, Charles I sent certain communications to his brother-in-law setting forth how he had refused to follow the directions of the Kaiser and to break off diplomatic relations with the United States. Prince Sixte was asked to visit Vienna and to talk the situation over with the Emperor and with Count Czernin.

Thus on March 5, Prince Sixte had returned to Paris and obtained an audience with President Poincare in order to learn the demands of the Allied Powers that he might submit them to his brother-in-law. The Prince showed two letters from Emperor Charles and one from Count Czernin to M. Poincare.

Czernin's note was immediately judged as "insufficient." It declared the alliance of Germany-Austria-Hungary-Bulgaria-Turkey is indissoluble and demanded certain guarantees against Serbia. It declared that Austria would make no objection if Germany wished to surrender Alsace-Lorraine to France and said that Belgium should receive reparation. It denied that Austria was a vassal of Germany, but declared that France was a catspaw of Great Britain. Finally, Czernin stated that Austria di dnot seek to destrop Rumania, and that the Slavs were loyal to the Emperor and the empire.

DISPUTES LUDENDORFF.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, Jan. 21 (via Copenhagen Jan. 23.)—Capt. Kurt Anker of the intelligence section, great headquarters, has contradicted the statement in Ludendorff's book that the number of American troops in France in April, 1918, were not ascertained by the Germans. "Intelligence already has reported the arrival of twelve divisions and the only question was whether it had put the facts together correctly and that there might not be more," Capt. Anker says. "Later the fighting showed twelve right at the beginning of May. Early in July the section submitted an exact statement of the organization of the American forces including forty-four infantry and one cavalry division."

Capt. Anker said some information from the papers had been forwarded to Germany but the identities of the other divisions were disclosed by French prisoners telling of arrival in French training areas.

COLUMBIA ANNOUNCES INDUSTRIAL TRAINING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Columbia University has decided to train men to manage industrial plants. Approval by the faculty of a three-year course in "management engineering" and establishment of a new degree of "managing engineer," was announced in the annual report of George B. Pegram, dean of the university's school of mines, engineering and chemistry, made public tonight.

press its party feeling and pride and exercise real political sagacity and press the nomination upon Mr. Hoover without conditions, it might change the situation as the Republican leaders now view it. They properly think Mr. Wilson as a third term candidate will make their success and his decisive defeat certain. They have the same feeling as to the candidacy of Messrs. McAdoo, Palmer or Cox. But it might be different with Mr. Hoover. The latter shares nothing of the present unpopularity of Mr. Wilson, and would command the support of all his friends. If he ran, he would be tendered to the electorate, not as a Democrat but as an independent on a Democratic ticket; a proved executive and one most familiar with the practical problems of reconstruction and the high cost of living.

But strong as Mr. Hoover will be before the people, the trend toward the Republican party as a means of freeing the country from the irritating burden of arrogant, wasteful Democratic rule will prevent him from winning as a Democratic candidate unless under his leadership some issue shall acquire an importance sufficient to minimize the weight of those reasons which now make for Republican success.

THE LEAGUE PLANK.

It has generally been regarded as absurd for Mr. Wilson to express a desire to carry the League of Nations question into the next campaign because he cannot make it the controlling issue. Many Republicans agreeing with him on the League will find so many other reasons for voting against him that its importance as a campaign issue in his behalf will be materially lessened. With Mr. Hoover as a Democratic candidate, however, it is likely to be different. The very numerous element of the Republican party called idealistic by the politicians and practically important only on election day, will be attracted to Mr. Hoover as an independent candidate, free from Democratic partisanship and not responsible for the faults of Mr. Wilson's Democratic administration or likely to perpetuate them. His candidacy will give them an opportunity to voice their opinions on the League issue without fear of a continuance of that for which they oppose Mr. Wilson.

POSSIBILITY OF SERVICE.

Mr. Hoover's tastes are not political. Only possibility of service would attract him if the Republicans beat the league in which he is deeply interested and which he believes to be essential to the stabilizing of the world then on that issue he might enter the lists con amore.

If the Republicans are so stiff as to defeat compromise the moderate Republicans cannot confine the issue in the campaign merely to the question of reservations. The "bitter enders" will force the fighting and put the party definitely against the league. On such an issue it is hard to estimate how large a Republican vote Mr. Hoover could secure.

The recent polls leave no doubt that a most formidable mass of Republican voters are not in sympathy with unbending adherence to the Lodge resolutions. If a compromise is not forthcoming and the issue is of a league or no league that mass of silent Republican protestants may seize the opportunity of Mr. Hoover's candidacy to register their deep-seated conviction of the duty of the United States to assume its share of the responsibilities of the world. The Republican leaders, if they are long-headed, will not allow this possible phase of the political situation to scape them and will make every effort to bring about a compromise.

The main lines now are being patrolled by low-flying airplanes and the need for these and other precautions is demonstrated in many ways.

The attempt to blow up the great Monte Varchi viaduct on the Florence-Rome line was frustrated only in the nick of time.

The protest also was sent to Paris for presentation to the League of Nations Council.

A memorial demanding immediate ratification of the peace treaty was formally presented to Vice-President Marshall and the California Senators today by Dr. Aurelia H. MONTENEGRO BALKS ON ADRIATIC DECISION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Jan. 24.—A strong note has been addressed to the Peace Conference by the Montenegrin government in connection with the discussion of the Adriatic question. Protest is made against the "manner in which Montenegro's sovereign rights have been trampled on," and it is declared the Supreme Council has "deliberately, without consulting the Montenegrin population, taken decisions in flagrant contradiction to its previous decisions."

The note concludes by reminding the Peace Conference that "the kingdom of Montenegro is your ally, not a conquered enemy; a sovereign and constitutional state whose rights the Allies should respect the same as those of any great power."

WILEY B. ALLEN CO., Los Angeles—

Gentlemen:—Whenever I have been able to procure a Mason and Hamlin piano for my Music Concerts, I have always been gratified, as I consider it the ideal instrument work. Possessing an inexhaustible resource of tone color, which blends perfectly with instruments, one always obtains the effect desired.

I have used the Mason and Hamlin piano for the past twelve years all over the United New York to San Francisco, and it is a great satisfaction to me that I am able to my Chamber Music Series here in Los Angeles, as I find the standard of excellence late instruments even higher than formerly.

Very Sincerely, (Signed) ALEXANDER

SUIT Satisfaction

An Open Letter to Mr. S. O. S. Smith and Other Men

Relative to Tailored-to Measure Suits at

Dear Mr. Smith:

You were not one of the fortunate ones last week who took advantage of our big offer of a perfectly fitted suit of clothes, made to individual measure from our formerly priced $50 materials at $35. We therefore, are willing to give you and all other men who want a suit, guaranteed to fit or money refunded, the opportunity once again.

Thirty-five dollars is a price away below the price of tailors doing business in the East and should appeal to visiting tourists as well as the hundreds of our former well-pleased patrons.

See our new grey material, suitable for bankers and other professional men.

We invite you to inspect the latest materials received direct from the mills.

~~CALOMEL~~

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents. This is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It is harmless, pleasant; also safe to give to children.

TRIAL OF KAISER STILL PROBABLE.

Diplomats Believe Allies to Persist in Demand.

But Time and Apathy are in William's Favor.

British Public not so Keen to Make Him Pay.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Jan. 24.—In diplomatic quarters the belief was expressed this morning that the Dutch reply with regard to surrender of the former German Emperor does not close the incident. It is held that the Allies have so strongly committed themselves in the peace treaty on this matter that they cannot withdraw without further conversations with Holland.

In the opinion of close observers Great Britain in particular took such an emphatic stand at the Peace Conference that Downing street will have to make some further move. At the same time, public opinion in England regarding the trial of the former war lord has changed considerably since the conference. At that time the country appeared very keen for bringing the ex-Kaiser to justice. In recent days, however, the feeling seems to have become more or less apathetic.

CONFER ON EXTRADITION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Jan. 24.—Conference between Premiers of Great Britain, France and Italy will be held before the next move in the proceedings to extradite former Emperor William from Holland is decided upon, according to information given to the Associated Press by the French Foreign Office. Whether the next demand for surrender will be directed to The Hague or Berlin will be the main subject to be determined.

The next meeting will be held in London, but as no date has been fixed and the matter cannot be left pending a long time, the Foreign Office expressed the opinion that the question might be settled through diplomatic channels between Rome, Paris and London.

DUTCH DECISION FINAL.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

THE HAGUE, Friday, Jan. 23.—While there may be a future exchange of notes with reference to the Allied demand for surrender of the former German Emperor, the government of The Netherlands is declared inclined to the belief that its decision will be considered as final.

The Dutch press does not expect any belligerent action by the Allied powers and the government is believed to share this view, on the theory that the demand for the former monarch's extradition was made merely to satisfy some political clamor in the Allied states and was not intended to be pressed by the statesmen who signed it.

The reference to the League of Nations in the reply to the Entente was explained to the correspondent today by a high official as meaning that Holland considers the former Emperor's case beyond even the power of the League of Nations tribunal, as no League law covering his case was in effect at the time his alleged crimes were committed.

As far as the Dutch government knows, the former Emperor expects to stay at Amerongen and Doorn, and the former Crown Prince, who was not mentioned in the Allied note, shows no sign of an intention to leave his refuge on the island of Wieringen.

WILLIAM IS SERENE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

AMERONGEN Friday, Jan. 23.—Former Emperor William of Germany was not surprised by the formal refusal of the Dutch government to comply with the alleged demand for his surrender, it was declared today at Bentinck Castle, where the ex-ruler makes his home. News of the decision was first communicated to the castle by the Associated Press correspondent here.

A refusal of extradition has been expected from the first, the correspondent was told, but the castle's residents had never been officially informed that such a decision had been or would be reached.

COMPROMISE IS RAIL BILL HOPE.

Differences Over Earnings and Rates may be Settled.

House Conferees may Restore Original Esch Provision.

Possibility that Labor Clause may be Dropped.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—An agreement on the railroad bill will be effected in short order when differences involving Section Six, relating to earnings and a rule of rate making, are ironed out. This is the opinion of some of the conferees who profess themselves more optimistic than outsiders who have been keeping in touch with the situation.

The conferees took an early recess yesterday in order to give an opportunity to some House members to draft in concrete form a suggested compromise on Section Six. This compromise is understood to be patterned after the original rule of rate making in the Esch bill which was stricken out by the House. That provision specified a number of things which should be taken into consideration by the Interstate Commerce Commission in fixing of rates. It did not undertake to fix any percentage of return which should be assured the railroads.

RULE REJECTED.

The House saw fit to reject this rule of rate making. The House conferees continue to oppose the provision in the Senate bill for an average return of 5½ per cent, for groups of railroads and also are unwilling to accept the Senate bill method of using excess earnings. It is understood that the compromise which is being drafted by the House conferees goes as far as possible without actually fixing a percentage or return.

There is no indication that the Senate conferees will accept the compromise.

If an agreement is once reached on Section Six it is believed that neither the transportation board provision of the Senate bill nor its anti-strike provision will stand in the way of a speedy settlement of other issues.

MAY DROP LABOR SECTION.

The belief is that the Senate conferees will finally consent to the elimination of the transportation board. As to the wage adjustment sections additional instructions will be asked of the House and possibly also of the Senate with a final result that the entire labor section may be dropped out of the bill.

Organized labor has shown no disposition to compromise on the wage adjustment section. It is its avowed purpose to seek an extension of Federal control for at least two years and the only way that can be accomplished is by the defeat of all pending legislation.

In view of this situation it is regarded as probable that by a considerable amount of jockeying the entire section will be eliminated in order to get some sort of bill through both Houses before March 1.

"STEADY" WATCHWORD OF NATION, SAYS WOOD.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.) Jan. 24.—Solution of present-day national problems, Gen. Wood declared, in a speech here last night, lies in application of the old principles of law and order. The watchword now, the general said, should be "steady."

The government, Gen. Wood said, must loosen the "strangle hold" of taxes on legitimate business and assist in extending America's trade throughout the world.

Attacking radicals, Gen. Wood continued: "This country is going to be run by Americans. There is going to be no autocracy of wealth nor labor; there must be a true democracy. We must begin on the other side of the ocean to cut off the invasion of 'Reds.'"

HOBART (Okla.) Jan. 24.—The Seventh District Republican convention meeting here yesterday elected uninstructed delegates to the national convention. The convention by resolution condemned the Wilson administration, praised Senators Johnson, Lodge, Borah and others for their stand against "surrendering the independence of the country" and urged adoption of the Lodge reservations to the League of Nations.

Little Farms Adjoining Los Angeles Only $197 Pay $10 Down, $4 Month

Right now, when food-stuffs are almost beyond reach — when everything has doubled or tripled in price—just when you need the most help—here are garden lots in this marvelous climate of California, adjoining this great city and near your employment at half the prices of before the war.

And still some folks think that God isn't good to them.

Study this offering.

Near yellow car line and junction of two red lines.

Southwest, in that magical area between the city and the sea, at a point where industries center.

Oiled streets. Cement pavements.

Water and electricity on tract.

No city taxes or assessments.

The prices of $187 to $239 for level lots, regular 40x150-foot lots, on terms of $4 per month, give you that access to a garden home that you have long needed. Take three lots at only $12 per month outlay and you have established your life plan, from which nothing can shake or disturb you.

We have convinced more busy financiers that a dead subdivision is Land Gone on a Strike and that Los Angeles will get the foundation for safety and a big forward movement by getting its people onto the idle lots in "dead" subdivisions all about this city.

There is now no reason for your pessimism. We have convinced the bank that it is safer and better to sell you 3 lots for $12 a month than to sell you in the usual way only one lot at $5 or $10 a month, because in your hands these garden lots will pay for themselves, and after a few years two of them will be worth what we charge on four of them now. You thereby get your lots free ultimately by having enough of them to live from and also benefit from growth of the city.

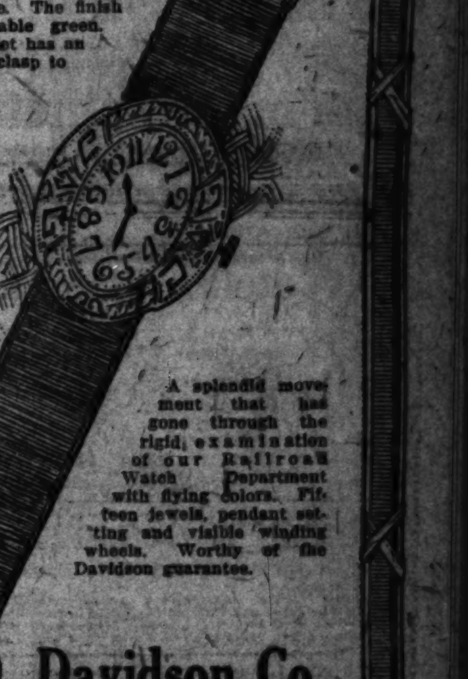
Another Enamel

Just Such a Dainty Watch as SHE Would Like

Your sense of the beautiful will bear us out when we say that never, since wrist watches were made, have they been so beautiful. This coming season will see the most wonderful variety of shapes in engraved, engine-turned and enameled patterns you could ever imagine. Many advance styles are now in the Davidson stock, and others are coming in as fast as the various factories can turn them out. Let us suggest that you put the Davidson store on your shopping list. You will be well repaid.



The greatly enlarge drawing shows in detail the enameled and engraved design of the solid 14-karat gold case. The finish is the fashionable green. The silk bracelet has an engraved gold clasp to match.

$75

A splendid movement that has gone through the rigid examination of our Railroad Watch Department with flying colors. Fifteen jewels, pendant setting and visible winding wheels. Worthy of the Davidson guarantee.

LITTLE HOPE FOR TURKISH TREATY

Great Britain's Efforts are Blocked by France.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The negotiations for a Turkish settlement are virtually at a standstill, it was learned authoritatively yesterday. Only Great Britain is prepared to proceed with the effort to reach an understanding among the interested powers, and France, at the moment, is the principal obstructing nation, but, in fact, conditions in Turkey rather than the disposition or indisposition of governments is the real cause of delay.

The United States is taking no part in the pourparlers. With the practical elimination of America as a probable mandatory for Armenia, this country is disinclined, because of the nonratification by the United States of the Treaty of Versailles, to participate in the arrangements affecting the future of Turkey and of the nationalities formerly subject to the Sultan.

It was learned also on the best authority that Cilicia has not been assigned to France as was recently charged by the national Armenians. Originally, the Entente governments assented to the assignment of Cilicia to Armenia when it was believed that the United States would take over Armenia as a mandate, but it is declared in official circles that Cilicia does not properly belong to Armenia at all, and also that the French are not at this time claiming it.

It is admitted in the best informed diplomatic quarters that the entire Turkish situation is more chaotic and the problem more confused today than it has ever been. At the time of President Wilson's departure from Paris a satisfactory solution was believed to be in sight, but since then conditions and influences have so changed and shifted that now the greatest uncertainty prevails and a settlement is indefinitely postponed.

DENY CZECH-AUSTRO PACT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, Jan. 24. — Chancellor Renner of Austria, answering a question in the National Assembly, is reported to have denied the conclusion of a treaty for a defensive alliance between Austria and Czecho-Slovakia. He said, however, that the foreign ministries of the two states had come to a far-reaching agreement as to their views, having decided particularly that the foreign policy of the two countries should be based on the protectory of St. Germain.

SECRET INQUIRY IN NAVAL VICE.

Newport Investigation on Behind Closed Doors.

Charge is that Sailors are Forced Into Nameless Sins.

Officers Use Boys as Decoys to Trap Civilians.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. — Preliminary investigation into charges by John R. Rathom of the Providence (R. I.) Journal that a naval "vice squad" at Newport, R. I., had been ordered by naval officers to commit nameless practices in an effort to obtain evidence against residents of Newport was begun today by a special Senate naval committee, which met behind closed doors. The committee is to determine whether a full public inquiry should be conducted.

MEDAL SESSION TUESDAY.

In order to allow time for bringing up to date the records of testimony already heard the Senate subcommittee investigating the award of naval war medals was not in session today. Chairman Hale announced that the next session probably would be held Tuesday, at which time it is planned to hear Secretary Daniels, whose action in changing a number of awards as recommended precipitated the controversy resulting in the inquiry.

REPAIR FUND REFUSED.

By a margin of one vote the House Appropriations Committee today refused to include in the deficiency appropriation bill a fund of $10,000,000 asked by the Navy Department for repairs to ships. Naval officials had informed the committee that unless the money was made available necessary repairs to many capital ships and destroyers could not be made and that 13,900 navy-yard employees would have to be discharged next month.

As approved by the committee the deficiency bill, the second of the current fiscal year, carries $88,684,000, of which $71,700,000 was for expenditure growing out of the war. The measure includes an appropriation of $12,000,000 for the vocational rehabilitation work of disabled service men and $4,500,000 for the care of war risk insurance patients.

DANIELS'S WATCHFUL WAIT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) Jan. 24.—The letter from Secretary of the Navy Daniels to Bishop Perry of Rhode Island referred to in the testimony before a naval board of inquiry at Newport today was dated September 27, 1919. Bishop Perry made a personal call upon Secretary Daniels September 22 to lay before him a statement of the conditions existing and asked that steps be taken to correct them.

Secretary Daniels's letter in reply said:

"In reply to the request which you made to me in person during your recent visit in Washington, I have to reply that I have gone carefully over the evidence in the case and find myself unable to comply with your request, as the matter of further action by the Navy Department is still pending."

OPPOSITION POSTPONES MEAT-PACKER MEASURE

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Opposition to provisions in the Kenyon-Kendrick bill for regulation of the meat-packing industry developed today in the Senate Agriculture Committee, and caused postponement of final action on the measure. The committee plans to meet again in a few days.

Some Senators objected to enforced licensing of industry while others objected to the powers proposed for the live-stock commission, which they felt might reduce authority of the Federal Trade Commission over general business.

STATE GRADE SCHOOL ATTENDANCE 371,071.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 24. — Daily attendance at the elementary schools of the State during the year ending June 30, 1919, was 371,071, according to a report just compiled by Sam H. Cohn, statistician, to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

This is an increase over the preceding year of 20,503.

Elementary school expenditures for the same period were $21,333,768.58, an increase over the preceding year of $668,629, or 3 per cent. This increase, Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, said today, is remarkably small in view of the advancing cost of school supplies.

Los Angeles leads in increase of school children with 3936 gain over the preceding year. Alameda county is next with 2636; Fresno, 1135; San Francisco, 942; San Joaquin county, 846, and Sacramento, 441.

BOLES-RONEY MURDER SUSPECTS BEING HELD.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 24.—Several men suspected of being implicated in the murder of Earle Boles and F. J. Roney, American oil men, are under arrest at Tampico, according to the military police there.

None of the prisoners has confessed, but one of them is said by the police to have been wearing a sweater belonging to one of the Americans. This garment was bloodstained, and the man, whose name is Castro, is alleged to have tried to get rid of it when apprehended.

CALIFORNIA OVERSEAS "Y" WORKERS ORGANIZE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

STOCKTON, Jan. 24. — The California War Workers' Council, composed of Y.M.C.A. secretaries and other officials who saw service overseas during the war, was organized here today in connection with the fifty-third annual convention of the California Y.M.C.A., which will be in session until tomorrow. Twenty-five signed the roster as charter members, and as many more are expected to join later. Tributes were paid the Y.M.C.A. secretaries who gave their lives during the war.

DELEGATES TOUR CITY.

Arthur N. Cotton of New York, international boys' work secretary, and B. C. Sircar, head of the Y.M.C.A. in India, delivered addresses at the session this afternoon. The morning was devoted to the reading of reports of State officers and an address by the Rev. Shirley R. Shaw of Stockton. Following the afternoon meeting, the delegates were given a sightseeing trip through the city and environs.

The convention will close with a mass meeting for men tomorrow afternoon at which Harry N. Holmes, director-general of the British Y.M.C.A., will deliver an address. Two hundred and sixteen delegates have registered at the convention so far. John R. Humphreys of Stockton was last night elected president of the California Y.M.C.A. at the opening dinner of the convention.

46,000 MEMBERS NOW.

Reports read at the meeting last night stated that at a State Y.M.C.A. session in Stockton nineteen years ago there were 6000 represented members in the organization. Now there are 46,000. Money handled by the Y.M.C.A. nineteen years ago totaled $82,000 and this year $1,250,000 passed through the association's hands.

LONDON COMMENTS ON DUTCH NOTE ON KAISER

NO MORAL ADVANTAGE IN TRYING WILHELM, SAYS MANCHESTER GUARDIAN.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON Jan. 24.—The Manchester Guardian commenting on Holland's reply to the Allied demand for surrender of the former German Emperor, says:

"The reply marks a new turn in a delicate piece of diplomatic fencing. It is particularly delicate because none of the spectators knows exactly which thrusts are merely feints and which parries are not meant really to parry thrusts.

"The Allies feel on second thought that to be prosecutor, judge, jury and hangman all at once in one's own quarrel is not a moral advantage.

"When he fled from the western front in 1918 the Kaiser threw away his last big chance in life. Every distinguished exit is now closed unless we should be so unlucky to patch him up again as a sort of hero for the German monarchists by giving him the dignity of a historic court scene and death with all the world looking on."

The Evening Standard, in its comment on the Dutch reply, says:

"The reply of Holland is not very convincing, although its general purport is in accordance with expectations and meets with some measure of sympathy in this country. Few, even in Holland, will deny that the Kaiser deserves to be tried and there are plenty, even in Germany, who wish he might be brought to judgment.

"The Allies," continues the Standard, "cannot consent to abandon the trial merely because Holland makes the objection that hitherto no written international code has actually denounced the acts the Kaiser committed."

DUTCH ARE SATISFIED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

THE HAGUE, Jan. 24.—The Rotterdamasche Courant, in its comment, says:

"The Netherlands in refusing to assist in the 'show of London' has done not only a good thing for the Dutch name in history, but also for the conquering powers."

The newspaper adds its opinion that the Dutch decision will relieve the powers of a very annoying case, and it thinks that while the refusal may be accepted externally with indifference it will be received inwardly with gratitude.

BERLIN IS JOYOUS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BERLIN, Jan. 24 (via London.)—The Pan-German press joyfully hails what it characterises as the "manly attitude of Holland on the question of the extradition of former Emperor William." The Bourgeoise journals and those of the Radical and Majority Socialist persuasion also express satisfaction with the Dutch government's note.

PLAN BRITISH-AMERICAN CO-OPERATION IN RELIEF

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Jan. 23.—Conferences are in daily progress here between representatives of the British and American treasury departments with a view to Allied and neutral co-operation in the event that the American Congress approves the proposed plan of credits for feeding Central Europe.

The negotiations are well advanced and approximately 40,000 tons of British shipping have been chartered to transport grain advanced through credit expected from the United States.

WASHINGTON VARSITY SECURES ALLISON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Jan. 24. — Leonard ("Stub") Allison, former Carlton College (Minnesota) athlete, today signed a one-year contract as director of athletics at the University of Washington, succeeding Claude J. Hunt, who recently resigned to accept the post of athletic director at Carlton. Allison was assistant football coach at the University of Washington last year. He will receive a salary of $3400, it was announced.

Allison was prominent in athletics both at Carlton College and in the army, serving as coach of the teams of the Eighty-eighth Division overseas. He was recently offered the position of athletic director at the University of Idaho at a salary of $3500, it was reported.

Girl to Aid Alleged Grand Larceny.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN JOSE, Jan. 24.—Miss Pearl Carpenter, companion of Wm. H. Moffitt, alleged to be a former New York millionaire and now under arrest here on a charge of grand larceny filed in New York, left for that city today to prepare his defense. Moffitt announced that he would not oppose extradition and that he is ready to leave for New York at any time.

RESCUED PASSENGERS OF POWHATAN LANDED.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN FIRST, UNWRITTEN LAW OF SEA, OBSERVED TO LETTER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Bringing safely back to port the 271 passengers of the luckless transport Powhatan, as well as the last contingent of American troops in France, the transport Northern Pacific docked at Hoboken today.

Although they suffered from the cold while the leaking Powhatan was tossed about on a raging sea far off the Nova Scotian coast, the passengers here bore their discomfort without complaint. Only one of them was ill, Mrs. John A. Worden, of McKinney, Tex., wife of a lieutenant-colonel. She is suffering from a light attack of pneumonia.

The transfer of the passengers, who include eleven women and eight children, was made without incident or accident late Thursday.

When the water rose until it flooded the engines, putting out the fires and leaving the ship without heat or light with a tempest raging, the passengers took their discomforts philosophically. They seemed to place every confidence in the seamanship of the captain and crew.

The unwritten law of the sea, "Women and children first," was observed to the letter by the passengers of the disabled Powhatan as well as by the officers and men of the Northern Pacific. The men on the Powhatan decided among themselves as to which individual would be personally responsible for a certain child or woman to avoid confusion if an emergency developed.

Reports taken to Halifax by the British steamship Bardic that eight lives had been lost in an attempt to transfer the passengers were without foundation. Not a life was lost and no one was injured.

Two boatloads of seamen from the Northern Pacific had narrow escapes, however, when they tried to reach the Powhatan in a heavy sea.

CRISIS IN ADRIATIC AVERTED BY NITTI?

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ROME, Friday, Jan. 23.—Newspaper opinion on Premier Nitti's journey to Paris and London is unanimous that friendliest relations have been re-established with the Allies and that England, France and Italy can now work together for the attainment of mutual interests.

The first result of this understanding is seen in the support given by the Allies to Italy's latest proposal regarding the Adriatic question. It is believed here this question will reach a final solution within a few days if France and England can make Jugo-Slavia understand it is impossible to escape from the dilemma, and that she must either accept the compromise suggested by Signor Nitti or have the pact of London applied in its entirety.

Reconstruction of the Italian Cabinet by Premier Nitti, who will choose his ministers from "stronger elements," is forecast by Idea Nazionale.

HAWAII SUGAR MEN STAND PAT.

Refuse for Second Time to Increase Wages.

Rumor Persistent of Strike of 24,000 Workers.

Association Says Men Better Paid than Last Year.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

HONOLULU (T. H.) Jan. 16.—[Correspondence of the Associated Press.] The Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association has just refused for a second time to meet demands of Japanese cane workers for increased wages and other changes in the present relations between employers and employees on the plantations. Renewed threats of a strike, by Japanese leaders convey assertions that 24,000 workers in sugar-cane plantations of the islands would leave their jobs.

Following presentation of their demands several weeks ago and the planters' refusal to meet them, the Japanese asked for reconsideration of the case.

R. D. Mead, secretary of the planters' association, replied that the association believed the present wage scale and system of bonuses the best for all concerned.

Mead's reply to the workers pointed out that in 1918 total dividends paid to stockholders of forty-one plantations in the association were $9,192,408; Federal and Territorial taxes, $9,265,985, and bonuses to employees, $5,600,000, exclusive of wages.

Mead asserted that, considering housing, fuel, medical attention supplied by planters, the cane workers were better paid than employees of Japanese stores and newspapers in Hawaii.

Last year, Mead said, with an 87 per cent. bonus, the lowest paid, unskilled day laborers were able to earn $37.40 a month, in addition to living quarters, fuel, etc.

He estimated that if sugar in 1920 averaged 9 cents a pound, wholesale, the bonus would be 144 per cent. and the possible cash earnings of the lowest-paid man on the plantation $48.80 per month.

The planters insist on the old rules that a man, to earn his bonus, must work twenty days a month, unless sick, and they refuse to accede to the laborers' demand that fifteen days' work entitles an employee to the bonus.

JOHNSON CLUBS DON'T PROSPER.

Republicans in North Give Senator the Icy Go-by.

Vast Majority Would Prefer Hoover for President.

man who with mature deliberation turned the government of the country over to the Democrats in 1912 should now be rewarded by Republicans with a Presidential nomination.

The Republican nomination for the Presidency has always been awarded in the past to men in return for valuable services rendered to the party, and through the party to the nation.

You would not expect depositors to continue to patronize a bank that would elect as cashier a man who had been caught looting the safe. Every campaign made by Johnson since his election to the California Governorship in 1910 has resulted in the defeat of the Republican party, and on two notable occasions, in the loss to the Republican party of the Presidency.

If such a record is one of valuable service, it would be interesting to know the Johnsonian idea of party treachery. Johnson might appeal with reason to the Democrats as a Democratic candidate, giving as his reason that he had been the means of giving that party two Presidents; but Republicans are asking each other with evident relish on what ground he is going to solicit the votes of Republicans.

STRANGE WORDS.

After the Presidential election of 1912, Johnson was quoted by the Progressive press as saying:

"There have been times when it was said that we were merely a bolting faction of one of the old parties and that we would attempt again to fuse with that party. We will not."

In view of that statement, perhaps Senator Johnson will explain what he is trying to do now.

In seeking to cover up Johnson's past record, Chester Rowell has asserted repeatedly in the Fresno Republican that Gov. Johnson had nothing to do with the alleged disfranchising of the Taft electors in 1912, that he was astounded when he learned there would be no Taft electors on the State ballot.

But in the San Francisco Bulletin of October 4, 1912, there appeared the following telegram from Buffalo, N. Y.

"Gov. Johnson when informed of the Taft electors' decision in California today said that the Roosevelt people complied with the law in filing their petition.

"'I understand there will be no Taft ticket in California,' he said. 'This matters little, because the few adherents of Taft there, in the main, have already declared their intention of supporting the Democratic nominee. It is the field against Roosevelt in California. The field will be overwhelmingly defeated.'"

That telegram shows that Gov. Johnson was fully posted on what was going on. The telegram was dated the very day that the Supreme Court declined to prevent the disfranchisement of the Republicans of the State. It was Johnson himself who gave to his followers their cue, "Let them howl!"

And it is to those who "howled" then that Johnson is now appealing for support. Some Republicans, however, have good memories.

December 6, 1913, was "der Tag" for Johnson and the other Progressive politicians who believed that they were strong enough to utterly destroy the Republican party.

On that day they gathered in San Francisco and launched the Progressive organization of California. Until that time they had continued to masquerade as Republicans in California and as Progressives in the nation outside.

They were in control of the Republican State Central Committee, as a result of the Roosevelt victory in the primaries of 1912. On Friday, December 5, 1913, the Republican State Central Committee was formally convened in San Francisco. It was composed almost exclusively of members who called themselves "Progressive Republicans." Some speeches were made, most of them highly sarcastic, and a funeral sermon was preached over the "corpse of the Republican party in the State and nation." Then the chairman declared the Republican State Central Committee to be adjourned sine die. A statement sent out by the Progressives who took part in this despicable proceeding said that such adjournment "is equivalent to putting the committee legally out of business."

The same men and women who had adjourned the Republican State Central Committee formed themselves on the following day into the "Progressive State Central Committee of California."

Johnson papers gloated over the fact that they had wholly destroyed the Republican organization, "leaving not even a legal scrap."

That is the valiant service that Hiram Johnson did for the Republican party. The Republican organization was indeed so badly scrapped that it was not able to get into shape to make a successful fight in 1916 for the Presidency; for the Progressives who had scrapped it in 1913 came "boring in" again and made possible the delivery of the State to Wilson.

"NO HARMONIZING."

Speaking in San Francisco on January 17, 1914, Johnson, then the Governor, said:

"There can be no harmonizing of opposing principles. . . . THE PROGRESSIVE PARTY IS FORMED AS A PROTEST AGAINST THE POLICIES OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY."

As there has not been a modification or change of a single policy of the Republican party between January, 1914, and January, 1920, it would be interesting to know whether it is as a "protest against the policies of the Republican party" that he seeks the Republican nomination for the Presidency this year.

At the time this "keynote" speech was delivered the Progressive press of the State proclaimed in banner headlines:

"Hiram W. Johnson burns bridges behind him."

This line had evidently been agreed upon in a Progressive council; for about twenty papers carried it on the same day. The burning of the bridges consisted in the repudiation of the very name Republican as anathema and the formal launching of the Progressive campaign.

Senator Johnson is experiencing some difficulty now in rebuilding those bridges which he burned with such eclat six years ago. He has not been more successful in his foray than the ancient Helvetii, who, like Johnson, burned their bridges behind them to signify that they would never return, only to have to swim back a short time later.

Is it any wonder that those who enlisted a few weeks ago in the Johnson-for-President campaign are complaining about the apathy of the Republicans whom they approach?

ARIZONAN HITS SUPINE SENATE.

Ashurst Pans Colleagues in Race for Nomination.

Says Both Parties Show Lack of Real Statesmen.

Failure to Ratify Treaty He Calls Gross Inefficiency.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Senator Ashurst of Arizona, stalwart Democrat, is kicking over the traces and calling on his colleagues to stop running to the White House for instructions and, instead, try to use their own minds in straightening out the peace-treaty tangle.

He declares both sides in the Senate are frittering away their time playing politics instead of trying to "liquidate the war."

Senator Harding yesterday tried to get Senator Ashurst to stop talking for a few minutes to permit the passage of a much-needed shipping bill.

"I do not wonder that he asks that I stop it," said Senator Ashurst. "He, with the other Presidential candidates, has been equally guilty of a lack of constructive statesmanship here and no wonder he hates to hear this speech. If I were a candidate for President and had sat supinely in my seat for a year and a half when a treaty of peace was pending and all the nations of the earth had ratified it and I had been guilty of delay I would beg, plead, implore a Senator who was calling attention to what had occurred to stop it, for God's sake."

"The Senator from Arizona," said Senator Harding, "has very much misconstrued me. I am not only delighted, I am elated over the speech of the Senator from Arizona and the last thought I could have in the world would be to interrupt the flow of his illuminating eloquence."

Senator Ashurst said there were between fifteen and twenty candidates for the Presidency in the Senate.

"The Democratic party today can stand convicted of inefficiency in the matter of liquidating the war," he continued. "The Republican party is equally guilty of gross inefficiency in liquidating the war. Here is the peace treaty, lodged in the Senate. We are unable to do anything.

PLAYING POLITICS.

"Here are all the other nations of the earth making forward moves while partisans politics dominates our country and candidates for President are bombarding the circumnambient atmosphere, thinking they are going to get elected on a speech, whereas they could be elected by doing their duty here.

"We are sitting here with the treaty in the Senate, unable to move, whispering to see what the White House thinks as to how we should vote. What kind of a statesman is that? We should take up the treaty knowing that the President cannot recede if he wants to recede. Shame on him if he did recede, after sitting with his Allies and making that treaty. If he then would quietly and under cover say 'yes, go ahead and carve the heart out of my treaty and I will pretend to my allies that I am sorry about it but cannot prevent it,' the President would be doing a dishonorable thing."

CANADA IS ADJUSTING NEWS-PRINT TROUBLES.

EXICANS PIN HOPES TO THE COMING ELECTIONS.

ple Back Obregon for President in the Campaign to Oust Carranza Regime and End Turmoil.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ALES (Ariz.) Jan. 24.— terest is being taken in forthcoming Presidential than has ever been mani- here. The reason is that the of Mexico are tired of the of Gen. Carranza and are that the next President is one who understands the of Mexico. election will be held the first Sunday in July. All elections in Mexico are held on Sunday and generally the first Sunday in July. There are three candidates for President—Gen. Alvaro Obregon, Gen. Pablo Gonzales and Ygnacio Bonillas, but the only candidates that are taken seriously by the people of Mexico are the two army men.

OBREGON A FARMER.

Obregon is not really a military man, though he is always referred to as "general." He was a general in the constitutional army and has the distinction of being the only man who ever really defeated Francisco Villa. But Obregon is a farmer and thousands of Mexicans in Northern Sonora work on his ranches. He is frequently referred to as the "Garbanza King of Sonora." Obregon abhors fighting and has refused to accept the rank of major-general conferred on him by President Carranza.

At the close of the war when the constitutional government was established Obregon retired to private life, later declining the post of Secretary of Army and Navy in the Carranza Cabinet. He was voted the rank of major-general, but refused in a long statement to the Senate in which he declared he had always been a civilian and had only taken up arms to defend the civilians' rights which were imperiled by Victoriano Huerta's usurpation of the Presidency through the assassination of Madero. Obregon declared that he detested militarism and did not have any fancy toward military honors.

Both Gonzales and Bonillas are Carranza's candidates, brought out by the President for the purpose of defeating Obregon. Gen. Gonzales and Obregon have been enemies for years, due probably to the popularity won by Obregon when he so successfully defeated the bandit Villa. Bonillas is the Mexican Ambassador to Washington. His candidacy, however, is considered a joke by many persons in Mexico, and those most familiar with Bonillas believe he is only running because his chief, Carranza, desires him to be a stalking-horse for Obregon. The press of Mexico ridicules Bonillas's candidacy.

Bonillas and Gen. Obregon are both residents of Nogales, Son., and both are well known and very popular in the United States. There is no apparent enmity between these two.

Carranza's power in Mexico has been slowly, but surely, waning for many months, and no one realizes this more than does President Carranza, and he is leaving no stone unturned to secure as a successor someone whom he can control, and the majority of the people of Mexico are equally as anxious to see that the next President of Mexico is one over whom Carranza has no control.

POWER IS WANING.

It is no secret in Mexico that Gen. Gonzales and Ambassador Bonillas are both as putty in the hands of the President, and this fact alone is enough to insure the election of Obregon.

As an evidence of the waning of the power of the "first chief" the Mexican Congress has recently annulled the power which Carranza has enjoyed ever since he launched his "Plan de Guadalupe" in Cuatro Cienegas to overthrow Victoriano Huerta. At that time by decrees issued by himself, in the name of the Constitutionalist armies, of which he was the self-appointed "first chief," although this chieftancy was later confirmed by Obregon, Villa, Gonzales and other leaders of the revolution, he vested upon himself full power to use and spend all money and war taxes levied during the revolution as he best saw fit to gain the ends that the revolution fought for.

After the overthrow of Huerta, and defeat of Villa, Carranza was elected constitutional President of Mexico, and most of his acts from then on required the legal sanctioning of established constitutional order.

ASKS INCREASED POWERS.

Carranza, however, made a strong plea before the "Constituent Assembly," at Queretaro in 1917, asking a free hand in hacendary matters as well as in fixing export and import taxes, claiming that it was impossible for him to present a budget to Congress for its approval, while there was so much reconstruction and pacification work at hand, and no correct or even approximate estimate could be made of expenditures that would be necessary. His request was granted and it has been renewed every time a new Congress has been elected.

It is charged now that Carranza has been using State money to further his own popularity. It is reported that he has spent money freely to secure the election, as Governors, of men friendly to him, and these violations of popular suffrage have been so flagrant it is stated, that the people have grown tired, and action has been taken to oust some of these Governors elected by Carranza propaganda.

It is also charged that the President has caused the nation to be embroiled in so many diplomatic wrangles that the republic has lost international prestige. Hundreds of prominent Mexicans would welcome intervention by the United States if the Presidential election was not so near. All prominent officials, except those who are directly connected with Carranza, hope to see Obregon elected because they believe he offers the only solution to the present unbearable conditions.

FAVORS SMALLER ARMY.

Gen. Obregon is the candidate on the Constitutionalist Liberty party. His platform declares that constitutional order has been restored in Mexico and that all of the people should enjoy its privileges. He advocates the reduction of the standing army to 50,000 or less, separation of military command from the administrative power, education, physical and mental of the army, increase and improvement of the navy, reduction of the pension system and to establish in a precise and clear way the military status with respect to politics.

In addition to placing several candidates in the field, with the hope of defeating Obregon, Carranza is also said to have attempted in other ways to defeat the popular farmer-soldier of Sonora. The last and most sensational charge—the one that has done Carranza the most harm, is the reported attempt of Federal soldiers to wreck the train which was carrying Obregon to Mexico City. This charge may, or may not be true. But it has been spread broadcast and men of power and influence have heard and believe it.

One other move by the President to stay his exodus is to tell the Congress that the time is not opportune for an election. He has declared that the country is too unsettled to risk a change of policy, but this move met with failure, as Mexicans prominent in national affairs assert that the time is opportune and the salvation of the republic requires a change of policy.

Persons familiar with conditions in the interior of Mexico say Obregon is the most popular of the candidates and that he will unquestionably be elected. Along the border one hears nothing but Obregon, indicating that the popular vote will be strongly in favor of the northern man. In Mexico the elections are controlled by the military, which in theory is controlled by the President of the Republic. The returns could be easily falsified, under some circumstances and the candidate most popular with the administration elected. In this case, however, Carranza is thwarted, because many of his most prominent generals are openly in favor of Obregon. The President has been checkmated in practically every move he has made to control the elections, and for once, in all probability, Mexico will have an honest election and the people's choice will be selected.

Carranzistas say this man will be Gonzales, and the antis are equally as positive that Alvaro Obregon will be the next President of Mexico.

Those favoring Obregon declare the issue is plain; that their candidate stands for reconstruction of the national affairs of the country and anything but his acceptance can lead to but one thing and that is another revolution.

TO SEE WORLD'S END.

Wendell P. and Florence E. McCaslin quarreled about religion soon after they were married, he testified in divorce proceedings before Judge Taft yesterday. She left him in 1916 to live with her parents in Michigan, where there was a religious colony, he said. In a letter to him she urged him to join her faith.

Mr. McCaslin testified that his wife left him to go to Michigan in order to be with her parents when the world came to an end. His father testified that his daughter-in-law believed the less she had to do with men the higher her place would be in the next world. Judge Taft granted the husband a decree.

DENIES GIVING KISSES.

Wife Explains Visit in Negligee to Soldier's Room.

Admitting that she was in negligee when she entered the room of Russell Haskins, a soldier, at a San Diego hotel, Mrs. Daisy P. Thomas testified yesterday that she had on all her clothes and had been in the room only a moment when the landlady ordered her out. She denied that she was smoking a cigarette.

The divorce action was brought by Frank D. Thomas who charged alleged escapades on the part of his wife. She further denied that she sat in the rear seat of an automobile on a man's lap and kissed him. The case will be resumed by Judge Taft tomorrow.

WILL HEAR HIS STORY.

Judge Taft wants to hear what Arthur M. Peer has to say before he decides the merits of the divorce action of Mrs. Gail K. Peer. He heard Mrs. Peer's story yesterday. She said she and her husband quarreled about his staying out late at night. He gave various excuses, saying, among other things, if he could not go out and do as he pleased without being fussed at, he would leave home, she testified.

PUMPS

WE SHALL PROTECT USERS OF BYRON JACKSON PUMPS TO THE LIMIT

It has lately come to our attention that the Layne & Bowler Company ve inserted certain advertisements in newspapers, warning customers gainst the purchase of pumps manufactured by the Byron Jackson Iron Works, claiming an infringement of a patent, purporting to cover an inclosed line shaft.

In this connection, we desire to assure our customers that we have, in our opinion, indisputable evidence that the Byron Jackson Iron Works were the originators of this type of structure, as applied to deep-well pumping.

For a number of years previous to the issuance of the Layne patent, the Byron Jackson Iron Works manufactured and sold numerous pumps of the type we are now building, and we are in a position to defend our rights in the Court and propose to do so.

We unqualifiedly guarantee all purchasers and users of Byron Jackson Iron Works equipment against any losses or damages arising out of above litigation.

BUNNY COMES INTO HIS OWN.

Is Silent King for a Day at the Rabbit Show.

On Dress Parade from Lean to Flossy Specimen.

Lack of Noise Characterizes the Exhibition.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

The rabbit show is silently raging at 241 South Broadway, and the competition is so muffled that it cannot be discerned with the naked ear.

An affair of this sort is fully as uproarious and exciting as a milk cow chewing her cud in deep contemplation of the next meal. But the competition is there just the same, and it is this which makes it a sporting event. This show is generally regarded as the derby of the rabbit world as far as Southern California is concerned.

LACK OF NOISE.

But the lack of noise tends to get the goat of a sporting gent who is accustomed to loud explosions of human emotions and the boisterous baying of trained food hounds. Not only is the rabbit quiet and retiring by nature, seldom emitting anything louder than an unintelligible squeak, but people standing in front of a rabbit hutch do not, as a rule, applaud. A sleepy-eyed rabbit nibbling rolled oats or gently sniffing the smelly air is not a sight calculated to throw the bystanders into a delirium of excitement.

The rabbit is about the only animal without a sound worth mentioning. Nature neglected to graft any noise onto it. In this respect it is lower than a flivver, and unlike the rattlesnake does not even give warning to the unsuspecting person about to step on it.

SET OF BUTTONS.

One can but feel that nature should at least have given the rabbit a set of buttons on its tail so that it could make itself heard, and entertain the young ones, or placed a whistle in its mouth. A flock of whistling rabbits would make things more cheerful around the ranch.

From the lean and hungry jack-rabbit to the flossy, well-fed, domesticated beast of today is a far cry, except that the cry isn't there. The rabbit has now been hand-raised for something like sixty years. No great difficulty was experienced in extracting their wild and woolly tendencies. They proved amenable to food. Three table d'hote meals per day quickly tamed them and made them content to pass their lives snooping around the back yard.

The rabbit has it on the average fur-bearing animal in that it provides the wherewith with which to both nourish and clothe the human body. That is, it can be worn both inside and out. It's drumstick adorns the festal board, while its fur embellishes the fair sex.

FUR TO OPERA.

Rabbits are now being grown whose fur, when properly made up, can pass successfully for the silver fox and the ermine. And at the same time the meat sells for a good price at our best butcher shops. Milady may not look more fetching after having eaten a rabbit stew, but it provides her with nutriment and she can wear the fur to the opera. Thus nothing is wasted, barring possibly the ears and hoofs.

Whereas there formerly were nothing in the world except jack-rabbits and cottontails, something like fifteen breeds are now to be seen assembled in one place—meaning at the show.

BELGIAN EXTINCT.

The public generally will be pained to learn that the Belgian hare is now almost extinct. He does not seem to have been able to survive the world war in large numbers. The Belgian hare has largely disappeared before the ravages of the hungry Huns. This and inter-breeding with the Flemish Giant spelled his finish. Some years ago Southern California experienced an epidemic of Belgian hares.

He was known as the Rufus Red. Color seemed to be the only thing that cut any mustard. The redder the buck the stiffer the price. Nothing except ripe russet rabbits were in demand. They overflowed the various communities and then just seemed to evaporate. Now in his place we have the New Zealand Red, the American Giant, the Himalayan Runt and a scad of others too numerous to mention. The pelts of some of these bring from $5 to $25, and after being peeled the rabbit proper sells at the prevailing retail price.

ALWAYS NIBBLE.

The rabbit is different from many people. Whereas some people are always blowing bubbles and others are forever climbing mountains, rabbits seldom do either of these things. They seem to be forever nibbling, and as far as we can see it never gets them any place.

However, sometimes they lay off nibbling long enough to snuffle. Although it is not generally known, rabbits sometimes have the snuffles. Reduced from scientific to plain language, the snuffles are merely a bad cold in the head and can be cured with home remedies. There are no snuffles in this show. Those who had expected to see a snuffling contest are due to be disappointed.

EXPERT ON BUNNY.

C. E. Sherman, of Culver City, is superintendent of the show, which is being judged by Lewis H. Salisbury, of Pasadena, an expert on rabbits of every nationality. The prizes will be awarded Wednesday by a movie queen not yet selected. No show containing domestic animals would be complete without a movie queen wading around in it.

There is one rabbit in the show weighing twenty-one and three-fourths pounds. This is believed to be the rabbit which once spit in the eye of a bull dog. When hunting rabbits of this caliber one should use buck shot or hand grenades. This bird is valued at $500, which would make him expensive eating. Small rabbits lose about 50 per cent. of weight when dressed. But one of this size would not lose more than 25 per cent. when dismantled. Therefore it pays to buy 'em big when buying on the hoof.

Thus far the show has had nothing but good luck. This probably is due to the fact that each rabbit wears four feet.

Rabbits in order to enjoy good health muht have clean foo dand water and sanitary living quarters. People keeping rabbits in the house health must have clean food and the trash out of the parlor every day. Otherwise the rabbits may curl up and die in the piano.

TOMMY BURNS IS TO LIVE ABROAD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Jan. 24.—Tommy Burns, the only Canadian who ever held the world's heavyweight boxing championship, is to leave here to make his home in England or Ireland. Burns has resided here since he received his discharge from the Canadian forces.

FISHING NOTES.

That the State laws forbidding net fishing within 750 feet of wharves, and prohibiting the taking of undersized lobsters or halibut, mean exactly what they say, was again impressed forcibly upon the alien market fishermen yesterday when some stiff fines were meted out to offenders in the beach police courts.

Upon complaints sworn to by Capt. Anderson and Deputy F. O. Hutchinson of the Fish and Game Commission's sea patrol, T. Shibata, captain of the Japanese launch Kiyoshi, was fined $200 by Judge Rennie of Venice for round-hauling some five tons of sardines within 250 feet of Playa del Rey wharf.

The Russian fishing outfit Kronstadt, Capt. Vassili Velour, was taken within the prohibited distance of the Long Wharf at Port Los Angeles, and Velour will plead today at Santa Monica.

Meanwhile the State deputies put in a lick for the public health when they arrested the Hamaguchi brothers and J. Mio of the Jap launches S. Y. H. and Pershing (!) for netting kingfish and yellowfin wholesale within a few hundred feet of the outfall sewer wharf at Hyperion, contrary to the ordinance forbidding taking of such unfit fish for food. Fish readily carry typhoid germs if exposed thereto. Judge Browning of Redondo fined each of the three Japanese $100.

These arrests were only made following repeated warnings given by the Fish and Game Commission to the commercial fishermen, stating the requirements of the laws, and notifying all transgressors that these provisions were to be strictly enforced

All told, it was a busy week for the sea patrol and a bad time for violators, as the name of George Michaelis and added to the already long list of those taken with undersized lobsters, forfeiting his $25 bail.

* * *

These arrests are the opening guns in a campaign of most emphatic enforcement of the laws reserving a small portion of the sea around wharves to the "family mess" species of angler, which throngs the peirs all summer, and constitute all important, fully appreciated feature of the beach resorts' business.

STANFORD PLAYERS GIVEN FOUR STARS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 24.—"Danny" Carroll and "Dink" Templeton were granted four stars, for four years' participation in football, by the Student Executive Committee. The action was taken this week in recognition of their playing on the varsity this season, making their fourth year. Carroll played on the 1913, 1914, 1915 and 1919 teams, and Templeton played in 1915, 1916, 1917 and 1919. Until this award was made, "Reg" Caughey, the football captain this year, was the only holder of the four-star honor at Stanford. Carroll played at half-back and Templeton at full-back.

"BILL" BRINGS BACON HOME.

Hangs it on Armstrong in L.A.C.C. Golf Tourney.

"Scotty" is Outplayed in the Closing Strokes.

Winner is One of Best Linkers in California.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

"Farmer Bill" Bacon of the San Gabriel Country Club yesterday demonstrated that he is one of the best golfers ever developed in Southern California by defeating "Scotty" Armstrong, the Midwick and L.A.C.C. veteran, 4 up on the 34th hole in the final round of the Los Angeles Country Club invitational tourney.

Playing with the same stroke and nerve that characterized his game in the earlier rounds of the tournament Bacon fought all day against the skill and stamina of the Midwick star and finally achieved victory with a marvelous pitch onto the 34th green, followed by a sixteen-foot putt.

Armstrong's defeat came only after hours of the closest and most bitterly-contested golf that has been witnessed in a tourney this year. But it was no cosmic accident—this sudden effulgence of the Bacon star in the golfing firmament. "Farmer Bill" outdrove, outpitched and outputted his opponent.

He thoroughly demonstrated that he is entitled to be decorated with the order of the mystic "O"—the rank that entitles him to mingle within the circle of the select, the scratch players. Years ago Bacon fought on the athletic teams of Occidental College for the honor of wearing the orange "O." Yesterday he was fighting for the award of an "O" of a different stripe. In both cases he was returned the victor.

Bacon started out in the morning as if he intended to cinch the contest quickly. He shot the first nine holes in par, and was 2 up at the turn, but Armstrong squared matters in the next nine holes, and they were all even at the end of the forenoon play. Bacon's card for the first 18 holes was 79 and Armstrong's 80—an indication of just how close the match was up to this stage.

Those who had wagered two to one on Armstrong to defeat Bacon believed that it was a foregone conclusion "Farmer Bill" would "crack" in the afternoon round. They thought it impossible that Bacon, defeated on two previous occasions by "Scotty," veteran in many a titular affair, could trail the latter's colors.

But the wiseacres reckoned without their man. The San Gabriel representative not only failed to "crack" under the strain, but he was coming far stronger at the finish than Armstrong. "Farmer Bill" found the vulnerable spots of his steely-nerved opponent.

Armstrong was in trouble virtually all afternoon. Had he made the last two holes in par he would have turned in an 86 for the final eighteen. He was particularly bad in his drives, the ball repeatedly finding bunkers, pits or the rough, and but for some remarkable recovery shots he would not have been able to carry the match along as well as he did.

Bacon, on the other hand, was particularly steady, and made every shot count. His putting was really brilliant at times.

Starting the afternoon round, Bacon and Armstrong halved the nineteenth hole. The latter took the twentieth when Bacon topped his drive into the bunkers. It was his only miscue of a similar nature in the afternoon duel.

With Armstrong 1 up Bacon immediately squared the match by taking the next hole in par. Armstrong topped his drive and required a brassie shot to get on even terms with Bacon's long drive down the fairway. It was this difference that gave the twenty-second hole to the latter. Bacon was now 1 up.

The tweny-third was halved, and Bacon took the twenty-fourth hole by sinking a six-foot putt that rolled to the rim, paused tantalizingly for a moment and then dropped in. Armstrong lost his chance to halve the hole by missing a 6-foot putt.

Armstrong won the twenty-fifth when his approach came to a rest within a foot of the pin dead for a "4."

Armstrong broke a driver and his shot for the twenty-sixth hole fell short into the bunkers. It took him another stroke to get even with Bacon, who then pitched within fifteen feet of the hole. His approach put him dead for a "4" and he was two up on Armstrong.

The twenty-seventh was halved, though Bacon had a magnificent chance to win, but missed a foot and half putt from a difficult slope.

The next went to Armstrong, and Bacon supporters began to fidget. The short twenty-ninth hole was halved, each making it in two. Bacon sank a seemingly impossible fifty-foot putt after landing on the edge of the green. The applause from the large gallery that was following the match had hardly died down when Armstrong sank a twenty-foot putt.

The thirtieth hole was halved, as was the thirty-first.

Armstrong again got into trouble with his drive to the thirty-second hole, his ball hitting the limb of a tree and rebounding back into the gulley. It took him two strokes to get out. Bacon's drive was not much better, his ball being buried in the soft bunker sand to the side of the green. He made a pretty "out," which put him twenty feet on the far side of the pin. He sank in "4," Armstrong needing one more, and Bacon was 2 up.

"Farmer Bill" took the next two holes in three strokes apiece—one under the course par. His game at this stage was flawless, splendid drives, wonderful pitches and marvelous putts all combining to give him an edge on Armstrong that was unmistakable.

In the course of the match Bacon bettered par on six holes, Armstrong on two. Therein lies the story of "Farmer Bill's" success.

The Smith-McCarthy match in the fourth flight was productive of a real fight. Because of his topheavy handicap the latter had seven holes to the good of Smith when they started the rounds. But Smith turned in a card of 73 for his efforts, was square at the turn and finished 2 and 1.

The complete results follow:

First flight—W. W. Bacon defeated E. S. Armstrong, 4 and 2.

Second flight—J. B. Nichols (10) defeated J. B. Fahy (12,) 4 and 3.

Third flight—W. J. Hyde (10) defeated G. E. Noll (12,) 2 up.

Fourth flight—Walter Smith (4) defeated R. McCarthy (18,) 2 and 1.

Fifth flight—H. E. Crawford (14) defeated G. D. Nordenholt (14,) 5 and 4.

Sixth flight—H. G. Montgomery (10) defeated A. S. Burgess (12,) 5 and 4.

Seventh flight—H. J. Schoder (12) defeated H. R. Minor (14,) 8 and 7.

Eighth flight—S. A. Guiberson (12) defeated G. A. Van Derbeck (12,) 5 and 4.

Ninth flight—Hugh Smith (14) defeated Dr. H. M. Voorhees (18,) 2 up.

The results in the defeated eights follow:

First flight—Maj. Tisdale defeated H. L. Case, 1 up on the 19th hole. Second flight—W. A. Pearse defeated J. M. Arnell, 2 and 1. Third flight—J. H. Hyde defeated W. W. Ralphs, 1 up. Fourth flight—W. B. Bohn defeated F. B. Browning, 2 and 1. Fifth flight—W. D. Whelan defeated L. W. Denison, 1 up on the 19th hole. Seventh flight—C. M. Sharpsten defeated V. Follen, 7 and 5. Eighth flight—F. R. Richardson defeated M. E. Horner, 1 up. Ninth flight—H. J. Martin defeated T. A. Schramm, default.

STUDENTS STAND BY BOB EVANS.

Point Out Record of Team is Evidence of His Ability.

Members of Varsity Eleven to Take up Matter.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 24.—Just why the Stanford Board of Athletic Control let out "Bob" Evans, Stanford's football coach at a secret meeting two weeks ago is the subject of much discussion among the students, and especially the members of the athletic teams, today. Thursday night a group of representative students appeared before the board, urging it to reconsider its action in dismissing Evans on the grounds of his success as a coach, and on his behalf requested an increased salary.

Sentiment among the students and alumni seems to be divided concerning Evans. Some claim that the coach simply did not "fit in" with Stanford ideals of sportsmanship and cite the incident where he complained to the San Francisco papers about the officials in the Stanford-California game, after the game had been played.

Others point out that the loyalty of his players and the record of his team give evidence of his ability as a coach. According to them the incident is not closed yet and if they have anything to say about what is done in the near future Evans will be back to the Stanford team this year.

The Stanford Board of Athletic Control is composed of three faculty members, three alumni and three students. The three students are the president of the student body, the student manager and the captain of the athletic team in season.

In a statement issued Friday Evans said that he would not like to leave Stanford if it was not for financial reasons. That is, unless his services are no longer wanted. Several members of the Varsity team intend to take up the matter with the board again soon in the hope that the raise that Evans is demanding may be granted.

CAPT. YOPP DIES AT SOLDIERS' HOME.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) Jan. 24.—With slave, at his bedside, Capt. Thomas M. Yopp died yesterday at the Confederate Soldiers' Home here. Because of his love for his former master, "Ten Cent Bill" had collected dimes and bought each inmate of the Confederate Home a Christmas present annually for the last ten years. Three days ago trustees of the home gave the ex-slave a lifetime job.

OREGON PUTS IT ON WASHINGTON FIVE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Jan. 24.—The University of Oregon basketball team last night defeated the University of Washington five here, 29 to 26, in a fast, close game. Washington ran up an eight-point lead early in the first half, but it was overcome and the two teams alternated for the lead in the second, Oregon scoring the final two points in the last two minutes of play.

WRIGHT AND MORRIS BOX DRAW DECISION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Jan. 24.—Billy Wright of Seattle, holder of the Pacific Coast welterweight title, fought Morris Lux of Kansas City a four-round draw here last night. Both men boxed cleverly and the decision was approved by sport writers.

Harry Gillum of Seattle, middleweight, knocked out Frankie Mason of Chicago in the first round of a scheduled four-round event.

SAGEHENS SHOW WELL IN BASKETBALL GAME.

The Pomona Sage Hens took the Occidental basketball quintette down the line up Claremont way last night. The score was 25 to 16. The Tigers led at the end of the first period, 10 to 9, but Taylor of Pomona, got busy in the second half and caged a flock of baskets while Oxy was accumulating a meager six points. The line-up follows:

Pomona.		Occidental.
Taylor (15)	forward	Hadden (12)
Pooley (6)	forward	Williams (0)
Voorhies (0)	center	Work (2)

LINCOLN (Neb.) Jan. 24. — The University of Nebraska basketball team defeated University of South Dakota here tonight, 33 to 12.

McCOY PRAISES CARPENTIER.

"Now, don't let them fool you into the belief that Carpentier will be soft pickings for Dempsey," said Kid McCoy to a friend in the Alexandria Hotel lobby last Thursday afternoon. "I've boxed with Carpentier and I know pretty well what he can do. He has taken on weight since we met and has undoubtedly improved a great deal.

"Has he a wallop? Well, I'll say he has. He has a hard right and when it connects something is going to drop. Besides, he is very fast, has the fighting spirit and is a great deal more clever than most people think he is. Carpentier is no man's fool, and I want to say that he may surprise a lot of experts who look upon Dempsey as an airtight cinch."

When the Kid gave vent to his humble opinion he was not standing on the magic carpet of the hostelry—a carpet that wafts many into the realms of Jules Vernes—simply because the said carpet had been removed for the purpose of keeping soarers down to real, plain, cold-stone facts.

BASEBALL NOTES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Hugh Jennings, manager of the Tigers, has offered to assist Catcher John Henry, coach the baseball candidates at Cornell. Jennings is an attorney in Scranton when not busy bossing the Tigers.

John McGraw has sent word to Shortstop Art Fletcher that he will not be sold or traded, and if the Giants land another infielder he will be retained as utility man.

The University of California baseball team is coming East for a spring trip and is billed with Illinois at Urbana, June 19.

Joe Jackson was charged with 516 times at bat last season and he fanned only ten times. Ruth fanned on fifty-eight occasions. Shannon, of the Athletics, was the only man surpassing Ruth, fanning 70 times.

* * *

A new candidate has popped up for the chairmanship of the National Commission. He is State Senator James L. Walker of New York. His chances are regarded as exceedingly slender.

Carl Wellman, who had to quit playing baseball last season because of a kidney operation, is going south with the Browns in the spring. He is one of the best left-handed pitchers in the American League.

Miller Huggins admits in an interview with a New York paper that "Babe" Ruth has not signed a contract, but declared he will do so before the spring training trip begins. "Hug" says Ruth is satisfied; but does not say why he has not affixed the old John Hancock.

* * *

The appellate division of the New York State Supreme Court has reserved decision in the appeal Ban Johnson took in the Mays case.

Bob Bescher, who was the fastest outfielder in the National League a few years ago, will be traded by Louisville. He probably will not escape from the American Association.

A Milwaukee paper hears that Catcher Byrd Lynn and Pitcher Erskine Mayer may go to the Brewers. It is doubtful if Lynn could be shunted out of the American League. Mayer, however, did not show well last year.

John Heydler, president of the National League, says a new chairman of the National Commission may be selected at the joint meeting of the major league here February 11.

* * *

The entire Yanks ball club is holding out for more money, no doubt agitated by the vast sum alleged to have been paid for the services of "Babe" Ruth.

No More Getting Up Nights

Bladder Weakness Quickly Corrected by Recent Scientific Discovery for Old and Young.

50 Cent Package Free

What a wonderful comfort to sleep all night and not get up at least once, and maybe six or eight times, every night because of bladder weakness. Have you forgotten what the restfulness and luxury of an unbroken night of untroubled sleep is like?

Wonderful! Wonderful! Sleep Like a Top All Night Long! Kellogg's Brown Tablets Make One Feel Young Again.

Among the principal causes of this trouble is chronic enlargement of the prostate gland and bladder irritation and of these and of the scientific discovery upon which Kellogg's Brown Tablets are based, a noted medical authority says: "A symptomatic cure is usually achieved. . . . The frequent impulses to urinate and the recurring desire at night cease. Successes with this salt . . . have been had in men of ninety years."

Every man, young and old, should try this wonderful treatment. It works upon the bladder to correct the faults that are causing a host of men days and nights of untold misery.

Send coupon today, with six cents in stamps to help pay postage and packing for a free 50c trial box of Kellogg's Brown Tablets, to Frank J. Kellogg Co., 1919 Hoffmaster Block, Battle Creek, Mich.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—[Advertisement.

Cocoanut Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless,) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine, silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—[Advertisement.

FACTIONS WAGE POLITICAL WAR.

Pasadena Recall Election is Hot Contest.

Burglars Rob Store and Home in Crown City.

Armenian War Worker to Talk for Red Cross.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Jan. 24.—Pasadena's recall election situation is in a muddled state as a result of the failure of two out of the three candidates against Commissioner John J. Hamilton to drop out of the race as had been agreed upon. Through the efforts of the Taxpayers' League, an organization opposed to the municipal transportation project, the three candidates, William Easterbrook Theodore Syvertson and Leslie I. Hood, agreed to leave it up to the Executive Committee of the league as to which one of them should be the candidate against Hamilton, who is the strongest proponent of the transportation project. According to a statement issued today by the executives of the league, Easterbrook failed to live up to the agreement, and as a result all of the candidates have agreed to remain in the race.

This is believed by many to mean the re-election of Hamilton, who is expected to poll a big vote because of his attitude in the municipal railway scheme. Commissioner M. H. Salisbury, the second member of the Commission facing the recall, will be opposed by William T. Root, Sr. Root is a former City Councilman. A great amount of interest is being taken in the election, which will be held February 11.

A mass meeting of the 2000 persons signing the recall petitions against Hamilton and Salisbury will be held next Thursday night at the John Muir school for the purpose of indorsing one of the three candidates against Hamilton.

TWO STORES ROBBED.

Two Pasadena stores were robbed early this morning and merchandise valued at $250 stolen. The burglar used a glass cutter on the display windows of the Modern Pharmacy branch store and at Johnson's grocery, cutting holes in the windows just large enough for him to enter. The residence of J. B. Allen, 495 Kensington drive, also was entered this morning and clothing and silverplate valued at $500 was taken. It was later recovered, being found in a vacant house adjoining the Allen place.

ARMENIAN TO SPEAK.

Lady Ann Azagapetian, whose husband was knighted by the late Czar of Russia and also by the Shah of Persia, is to tell of her war experiences at the hands of the Turks and the Reds at a meeting to be held on Monday at the Y.M.C.A. She is to speak under the auspices of the Red Cross and in the interests of the Armenian-Syrian relief work.

LOVE IN THE CLOUDS.

Venice Couple Start Married Life in Airplane.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Jan. 24.—Immediately following the marriage service this afternoon, which united the lives of Miss Margaret Stayman of Cincinnati, O., and Jack Peters, motor officer of Venice, the huge airplane in which the ceremony had taken place floated up among the clouds and carried the bride and groom to San Diego.

Aviators at the Venice field are becoming accustomed to piloting honeymoons, but this was the first ceremony that had yet taken place out on the field in the open air, mid the leather fittings of the biggest plane on the Ince field. Lieut. Fred Hoyt is pilot of the wedding trip. Rev. C. S. Vail performed the ceremony.

Peters has been a member of the Venice police force for some time. He became acquainted with Miss Stayman shortly after she came here from Ohio several months ago.

DISCORDANT NOTES.

Citizens of Santa Monica Start Dispute About Band.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 24.—Where Santa Monica's municipal bandstand will be is the newest question that is creating disturbance among music lovers of this city. The matter of choosing between La Monaca and Chiafferelli as band master which threatened to tear the town into rival factions was settled yesterday when the City Council appointed Tomasino to the much-discussed position.

It is now a serious matter of discussion as to where the band shall play. There are citizens who are strongly in favor of removing the music from the ocean front to the Seventh-street municipal park. Other individuals and organizations believe that the band should be used as an advertisement of the beach, and should therefore present their concerts, according to custom, at the amusement centers. The matter will be settled by Council action probably in the near future.

HAS NO MALICE IN HIS HEART.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Jan. 23.—Charles J. C. Machus, 33, well-to-do rancher of Lankershim, is herewith entered as "the most cheerful man."

Last June Machus was arrested for speeding fifty-six miles an hour in Orange county and Justice J. B. Cox sent him to jail for ten days.

Today Machus is on his honeymoon, and the ceremony which united him in marriage with Miss Julia Vidos, 19, also of Lankershim, was performed by Cox.

Machus was cheerful when he was arrested, he was cheerful before Justice Cox and after Cox had let him go home to harvest his apricot crop which was in danger of spoiling, he cheerfully returned, and smilingly served his jail sentence.

Miss Vidos was with Machus when he was arrested for speeding, and when the marriage date arrived, both decided it would be a capital idea to show Cox they bore him no malice by having him tie the knot.

VENTURA BEANS GO TO ITALIANS.

RANCHERS DONATE PART OF CROP TO EUROPEAN SUFFERERS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, Jan. 24.—Twenty sacks of whole beans and more than 200 sacks of split beans are recleaned, double sacked, stenciled and waiting at the Ventura wharf for shipment to the Italian Red Cross. The beans were solicited by Miss Leila Taylor, who served as a volunteer war worker in Italy where she has spent many years of her life; but is now at her home here. The beans were all donated by Ventura county ranchers and Mayor Malvern Dimmick had them sacked and prepared for shipment at his own expense. The beans will be taken to San Pedro by truck this week. From there they will go by water, via the Panama Canal, to New York, the expense being borne at this end. At New York, the Italian Red Cross will take charge and ship them across seas to Florence, Italy, their destination. They are to be used in the soup kitchens of Florence.

PAINFUL CEREMONY.

Bystander Weeps as Whisky is Dumped in Sewer.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 24.—During the process of destroying 2000 bottles of whisky at the County Jail this morning, supervised by Sheriff Wilson, one man who chanced to be in the office on business was seen to shed a tear as he witnessed, what, to him, was a heart-breaking ceremony. Others present who were friends of John Barleycorn, wore long faces. The liquor was seized several weeks ago, when an automobile load of the wet goods, en route from Los Angeles to Arizona, was intercepted. The driver, who got as far as Indio, declared the market price at that time in Arizona was $14 a pint.

COUNTY AUDITORS TO MEET AT RIVERSIDE.

STATE MEETING OF OFFICIALS WILL BE OF GENERAL INTEREST.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 24.—Three hundred or more county auditors and tax collectors of the State are expected to gather here next month for the annual convention of the California County Auditors' Association. Owing to the greatly increased demands being made on city and county governments, and the inadequacy of present tax limits to raise revenue sufficient for municipalities to meet increased wage demands and rising costs of materials, it is anticipated that the discussions will be the most absorbing that have engaged the attention of assessors and other officials concerned with revenue and taxation matters in many years.

WILDCAT WELL CAUSES EXCITEMENT.

STANDARD'S EXPERIMENT IN TERRITORY SAID TO BE A WINNER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 24.—With reports that the Standard has struck a high grade of oil in its first wildcat well on the Huntington Beach mesa, excitement in this district is running high. The well, now down nearly 2000 feet, is being cemented and it is understood the hole will be sunk deeper as soon as drilling can be resumed.

The taking of leases in this neighborhood is continuing, 190 acres, west of Smeltzer, having just been leased. D. S. McFarlane has leased his ninety-five acres to a Fullerton company, it is reported, at $100 a month and one-eighth royalty. W. D. McLean has also leased his fifty-five acres to the Fullerton company. Feeling that a large oil field will be developed along the Orange-county coastline was heightened by reports that an expert geologist, who had been over the ground, said a large body of oil will be uncovered in the coast country between Huntington Beach and San Juan Capistrano.

SANTA ANA LICENSES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, Jan. 24.—Marriage licenses here: Richard E. Carswell, 58, Santa Ana, and Janette Elizabeth McLawin, 32, Tiverton, Ontario, Can.; Charles E. Newles, 35, and Grace May Ryan, 40, both of Los Angeles; E. Clyde Taltman, 36, and Mary E. Tracy, 28, both of Imperial; David G. Lorraine, 41, and Rose Little, 38, both of Los Angeles; Lee D. Stewart, 34, and Zella Arvilla Baker, 25, both of Santa Ana; Thomas N. Bassett, 27, Santa Ana, and Mary K. Price, 17, Los Angeles; Orlie E. Badders, 22, Chino, and Florence Thompson, 19, Santa Ana.

The store that Courtesy Built It's Employees

When you enter the Lyon, McKinney, Smith store you are greeted by a man trained in the value of courtesy, whose duty it is to welcome you heartily and to direct you to the proper department where you can see the particular merchandise for which you came. In the sales departments you will find only experienced salesmen who also have been thoroughly instructed in the value of courtesy.

And here the courtesy is foremost if you come only to look and is just as apparent in this case as when you come to make a purchase.

In the event of making a selection and wishing to take advantage of the terms that are offered, you are directed to the manager of this department who will courteously arrange the "terms to suit your individual requirements."

Courtesy is paramount from the time you enter our doors until you are ready to leave.

No variation, ever — it is as much a part of our selling plan as is our one-price ruling.

The principle of one-price selling is nothing more or less than the courtesy you have a right to demand from any store you happen to patronize. It is an iron-clad rule here that all merchandise is marked in plain English and that the marked price allows of no deviation under any conditions. A child can buy as cheaply and as well here as can a grownup—you need know nothing of furniture values and still be perfectly safe when trading at this store that has made courtesy in all its forms one of the fundamentals of its business.

You are welcomed here at any time whether you come to look or to buy.

JAPS RUSHING TO PAY CORPORATION LICENSE.

TWENTY-SIX MAIL CHECKS IN WEEK ALTHOUGH THEY HAVE UNTIL FEBRUARY 28.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 24.—Japanese corporations, according to Everett Gardiner, superintendent of the State corporation license department, are taking no chances in forfeiting their license to do business in California through failure to pay the license tax.

Although the right of a corporation to do business in the State cannot be cancelled unless the company fails to pay its license fee on or before February 28, Gardiner says the Japanese corporations are playing safe by paying their fees well in advance. He states that on one day during the week twenty-six checks were received from Japanese companies through an agent in Fresno. The drive being made by the Japanese to obtain possession of agricultural land in the State through the formation of dummy corporations continues unabated. Today articles of incorporation of three new land-owning companies were filed with Secretary of State Jordan.

The articles of the new companies were filed by Guy C. Calden, San Francisco, attorney, who has been doing such a rushing business that he has prepared printed forms for the land corporations which merely necessitates the filling in of the name, directors and capital stock.

The companies formed today are: Valley Farming and Trading Company, of Mountain View, Santa Clara county; capital stock, $10,000. Directors, Frank Fujii, S. Ossaki and S. Heneye.

Pausell Farming Company, of Oakland; capital stock, $10,000. Directors, K. Kimura, N. Shines of Oakland and Y. Oshima of Richmond.

Tulare Vineyard Company, of Tulare; capital stock, $10,000. Directors, Heutseo Fukushima, T. Mori and Y. Fukushima.

BEGIN EXTENSION OF ALL-AMERICAN CABLE.

TWENTY-SIX HUNDRED MILES TO BE LAID TO INCLUDE RIO DE JANEIRO.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The cable steamer Codonia is on her way from Plymouth, Eng., to Santos, Brazil, with 2600 miles of cable to be used for the extension of the all-American cable systems from Buenos Aires, Argentina, to Santos and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, John L. Merrill, president of the cable company, announced today.

The cable will be laid in two sections, the first from Santos to Montevideo, Uruguay, where it will connect with a short line to Buenos Aires, and the other from Santos to Rio de Janeiro.

Work on the extension will begin within a few weeks. It is expected that the cable will be ready for operation before the end of the year.

Mr. Merrill says the establishment of the American cable service to Brazil will give the newspapers of that country an opportunity to receive direct the news service furnished by American press associations to papers of other sections of South and Central America.

ARREST OPIUM SMUGGLER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Chow Jun, a Chinese, was indicted by the Federal grand jury yesterday on a charge of having possession of 159 cans of opium valued at $50,000, alleged to have been found hidden beneath coal on the steamship Tenyo Maru, on which he was employed. According to Federal officials, he had government stamps in his possession to place on the tins of drugs to show that the internal revenue tax had been paid. The stamps led to his arrest.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Ch ing that Herbert Hoover was of the go-betweens between House and members high in British government during the gotiations preceding the entry the United States into the w Senator Reed, Democrat, Misso launched a vigorous attack tod the Senate against what he cha terized as Mr. Hoover's "self- moted boom for President."

Senator Reed said Mr. Hoo was so close to the British gov ment that "he constituted a con ient connecting link" and challe any member of the Senate doubted his statement to introd a resolution of investigation.

Declaring that Mr. Hoover a tutelage all of his adult life the British service, Senator said Hoover "never cast a vo the United States, unless he voted since this war to qualify self."

"When he was asked as to party he belonged he said thought he was a 'liberal,'" Senator Reed. "Apparently hasn't been in the United enough to know the names of political parties in this country has to designate himself as a eral,' a British political orga tion.

"I think Mr. Hoover's nomi would put the finishing touch to League of Nations and that League would surrender the ereignty of the world to the B empire," the Senator continued.

DRAGS IN LEAGUE.

"In addition to her own Great Britain would control votes of Portugal, Greece, Fra and Belgium in the League," ator Reed said, adding that Belg "was in no condition to resist Britain's imperious will," and France, according to high F officials, had admitted that she dependent on the British army navy for protection against Ge attack.

Senator Reed said that if a ish-controlled League of Na were to be established this ought to have as nearly a B subject as possible to repres "so why not Mr. Hoover?"

Referring to reports that Hoover made $10,000,000 befo was 30 years old, Senator Reed he was a "get-rich-quick," and ing to Senator Lodge, the Re an leader, declared that if Hoover were nominated f Presidency the only thing could save the Republican from defeat was for it "to J. Rufus Wallingford."

"Then we'll have two horse alike," he added.

Declaring that he understood "the gentleman from Londo cently had bought two news the Missouri Senator said he d know for what purpose was to keep the people from nating Mr. Hoover."

Renewing, later, his discuss Mr. Hoover's candidacy, Reed suggested that George former chairman of the co on public information, whom termed an "intellectual Red," nominated as the Vice-Presi candidate.

THE DAY IN DENVER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DENVER, Jan. 24. — Sidney W. Sinsheimer, president of the Holly Sugar Company, has filed an answer to the suit filed against him by May Fletcher, Denver furrier, to collect $450 for furs which she alleges Sinsheimer sent his divorced wife in Pasadena. He alleges he merely ordered the furs, previously selected by Mrs. Sinsheimer, sent to Pasadena upon her request.

The board of directors of the Colorado Mountain Club announces the election of George C. Barnard, president, and Katherine Bruderlin, secretary. The annual outing will be in Chicago Basin, probably between August 8 and 12.

Melvin H. Smith, prominent Denver society and clubman, today obtained a license to marry Miss Virginia Stone, also widely known in social circles. Smith divorced his first wife four days ago.

Miss Lillian Poindexter, who threw flowers to Gen. Pershing in the recent parade here in his honor, received a courteous note from the general thanking her for the gift.

Federal District Attorney Tedrow has instituted contempt proceedings against Andrew Walker, president of the United Colliers Company, Bernard J. Ford, an attorney, and Charles Walters, connected with a Denver coal company. Tedrow charges that Walker, while serving as a Federal juror, discussed a case with Ford and Walters over the telephone and told them of the attitude he was taking and would continue to take when he cast his vote. Judge Lewis has designated February 2 for a hearing of the charges.

Mrs. Laure Mae Brewer has filed a divorce action against her husband, L. F. Brewer, and also another suit for $15,000 against Miss Martha E. Anderson, charging her with alienating Brewer's affections. Sensational charges are recited in the two suits.

John Kodel, a miner, who owns eleven claims near Fruita, reports the discovery of a six-foot gold and silver vein, assaying $30,000. The ore is sylvanite, he says, and much like the Cripple Creek formation. He proposes to develop the property himself.

The taking of evidence on the Denver tramway wage dispute is now closed. The arbitrator this morning began the hearing of arguments which may last until some time next week. They will then take up the matter of determining a just and equitable wage scale.

The State constabulary last night found enough liquor concealed in the drug store of Edward Eberhardt, 315 Sixth avenue, to stock up a couple of good-sized saloons. The liquor, valued at about $8000, was confiscated today.

LATIN AMERICA-U. S. BOND STRENGTHENED.

ARGENTINE DELEGATE URGES PERMANENT PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The good that will flow from the gathering here of the second Pan-American Financial Congress, just concluded, will not be measured alone in the treaties and agreements that may arise from recommendations, but also in the solid international friendships established, Dr. Domingo E. Salabeiry, Argentine Minister of Finance, said tonight, speaking at a banquet to the delegates given by Secretary Glass. He spoke for his fellow-delegates from Latin-America, and in response to an address by Vice-President Marshall.

"From such an interchange can only come moral and material benefits for all countries here represented," he said. "It is well, then, to make permanent and regular these conferences in order to strengthen day by day the ties between our countries, and to build more and more firmly upon its already deep and strong foundation, the true American solidarity."

Delegates to the second Pan-American financial confeernce, who adjourned their business sessions here yesterday, left this morning for Annapolis, where today they are the guests of Secretary Daniels at the Naval Academy. Returning to the capital tonight, they were the guests at the banquet.

BUENOS AIRES, Friday, Jan. 23.—President Irigoyen, replying to President Wilson's message of welcome to the delegates to the second Pan-American financial congress at Washington, today cabled his best wishes for the happiness of the people of the United States.

The East Wants to Do More Business With You

To quickly supply you with complete information regarding merchandising conditions and sales possibilities in their respective territories, and also to fully acquaint you with their merits as mediums through which you may directly and effectively reach their buying public, the twenty-four newspapers indicated on the map above have established three advertising offices on the Pacific Coast.

The East needs Coast products. In many cases the demand already exists, and it is necessary only to tell where the goods may be obtained. In other cases a demand can be created.

A request for data by mail, or for a call by a representative from one of these offices obligates you in no way.

It is a marvelous portrayal of the human body at its best. One beholds in its composite detail a true symbol of strength. It presents a figure of striking appearance in its erect carriage, clear skin, sparkling eyes, strong limbs, steady nerves and firm muscles; fairly vibrating in animation—keen, alert, fresh, and spirited; with an air of unbounded confidence and a face radiant in color and illuminated with a glow of hope and cheerfulness.

Could Nature have taken you for her model? Suppose you study yourself in the mirror of the present and compare your looks, your feelings and your condition with the general characteristics of this picture of the human body in perfect working order, all parts of which are sound, well organized and disposed, performing their functions freely, naturally.

If you fail in any single point of resemblance, you are not the picture of health. It's imperative, then, that you look to a means to rebuild your strength, energy and vigor—to bring your body up to a normal state of efficiency in all of its parts.

LYKO

The Great General Tonic

Nothing is more efficacious as a rebuilder of exhausted nerves and physical forces than LYKO, the great general tonic. It tends to renew the worn-out tissues, replenish the blood, create new power and endurance, and revive the spirits of those who are weak, frail, languid and over-wrought as the result of sickness, excessive strain, worry or overwork. It's a relishable appetizer, a splendid aid to digestion and a fine functional regulator of the liver, kidneys and bowels.

All druggists sell LYKO. Get a bottle TO-DAY and you'll commence to look more like the picture of health.

SEDITION BILL IS TOO SAVAGE.

Measure will be Modified, is Now Indicated.

House Judiciary Committee Decides Next Week.

Palmer Went Too Far with Radical Raids, Charged.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Return of pending anti-sedition bills to the House Judiciary Committee for modification of provisions attacked as too drastic was indicated as the probable action of the Rules Committee, which closed its hearings tonight on the application for a special rule to expedite passage of this legislation.

The committee is expected to make its decision next week, but committee members said the protest that had arisen against both the Sterling Senate bill and the Graham House measure made it appear necessary that they be modified.

Three witnesses were heard today. Jackson H. Ralston, counsel for the American Federation of Labor, opposed the bills and charged Atty.-Gen. Palmer and the Department of Justice agents with violations of constitutional rights in connection with some phases of the campaign against radicals. Representatives Blanton, Democrat, Texas, and Davey, Democrat, Ohio, urged enactment.

GOMPERS IS ATTACKED.

Blanton declared Congress must "squelch anarchy" and attacked Samuel Gompers and the Labor Department, which, he said, was "honeycombed with anarchy." If the sedition law failed, he said, Congress would "bear the mark of having bowed to Gompers."

Ralston sought to discuss activities of the Department of Justice and asserted four men had been arrested and detained a week without warrant in connection with the bomb explosion at Atty.-Gen. Palmer's home here last May.

"The committee has a right to know whether the department has abused its privileges," Chairman Campbell interjected, but later told Ralston to proceed without further discussion of this point.

Ralston said Mr. Palmer should have been asked whether existing laws had been enforced, "whether special agents of the department had not violated the freedom of the people, whether they had kept men from suffering under violation of the Constitution by these special agents."

PENAL CODE BROAD ENOUGH.

Section 6 of the Penal Code, Ralston said, provided for prosecution of all persons who conspire to overthrow by force the government of the United States, or to delay execution of any law of the United States and met every case the new bills were designed to cover.

"In view of the plain provisions of that section," Chairman Campbell interposed, "and of the decision of the Federal court in the case of Wells vs. the United States, in which four persons were indicted and convicted under the section on a charge that they advocated the overthrow of the government by force and violence, why does the Attorney-General ask for another law of similar import under which he might proceed? What is his excuse for delaying prosecution where the facts require prosecution? Was the fact that it would be embarrassing for him to answer these questions the chief reason for his failing to appear before this committee?"

Ralston said a crisis was imminent in this country. The danger, he said, will not be from Reds or anarchists, but from the suppression of free speech.

"Those who advocate such a bill forget they are Americans, forget even the confidence they should have in American traditions, which are on a real foundation," said he.

CZECH-AUSTRIA UNION STRIKES AT HUNGARY.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BUDAPEST, Jan. 24. — Czecho-Slovakia and the Austrian republic have formed an alliance against Hungary, according to a news agency report published here.

It is said the agreement reached by Chancellor Renner at Prague provides that Austria shall undertake no measures looking to an increase in her military establishment without submitting them to Czecho-Slovakia for approval and that in the event of war between the Czechs and Hungary, Austria shall supply munitions and material only to the former.

In addition, it is said, Czecho-Slovakia has agreed to furnish troops to aid Austria in securing German sections of Western Hungary.

OAKLAND MAN IS HELD IN AUTO DEATH SMASH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, Jan. 24.—Harold Gravem, whose automobile struck and killed Mrs. Marion A. Forrest early Friday morning, was charged with driving in excess of the legal speed limit by a Coroner's jury here today. A charge of manslaughter will be placed against Gravem, who is at present at liberty on $2000 bail.

BERKELEY, Jan. 24. — Lloyd Fish, son of James Fish, formerly government mail contractor in Valdez, Alaska, died today from injuries received when an automobile ran down the motorcycle on which he and his brother Val were riding last night. Two men and the car are being sought. Witnesses say the automobile was traveling at excessive speed.

GERARD TAKES MONROE DEFI.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

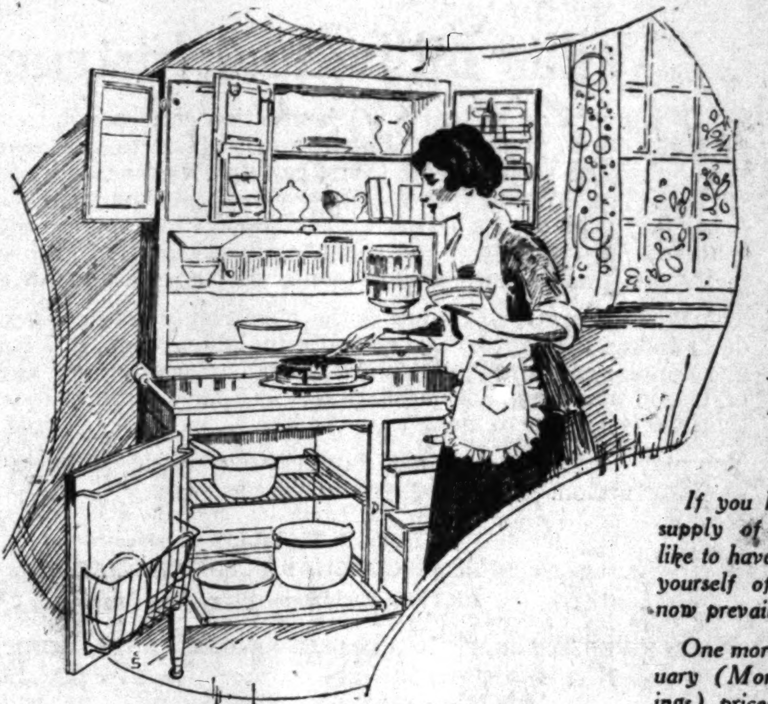
NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany, whose name was filed as a Democratic candidate for President at the South Dakota primaries, has accepted the challenge of George D. Monroe, of Chicago, an independent candidate, for a joint debate on the Presidential issues. The challenge was made and accepted in compliance with South Dakota laws. The debate will be held at Sioux Falls, March 2, Mr. Gerard announced.

BARKER BROS. | Sundry Helps to Better Housekeeping | BARKER BROS.

When Housework's Light, the Housewife's Happy

Not that she has a desire to shirk, for there's no one who'll work harder and longer hours than an interested housewife. But, when work's piled high and time fleeting, worry upsets the whole day's program unless the home is modernized in its equipment.

As a starter, there's a kitchen cabinet to help you save time in the preparation of meals, energy and labor hunting for misplaced utensils, and waste of materials. Then, a gas range that works with you and that doesn't occupy too much floor space or consume too much fuel. And, there are washday helps that make that dreaded day so much more pleasant, and electric vacuum cleaners to save you the hard work of house cleaning, and so on down the line. These are the things that help make housework light and keep the housewife happy, and they are every one purchasable on convenient monthly payments, at Barker Bros.



Invite a McDougall Cabinet Into Your Kitchen and Systematize Things

You've just arrived home from a downtown shopping trip and there remains but a few moments before time to call dinner. Into the kitchen you go half-worried, half-fretful lest husband arrive home and find dinner not ready.

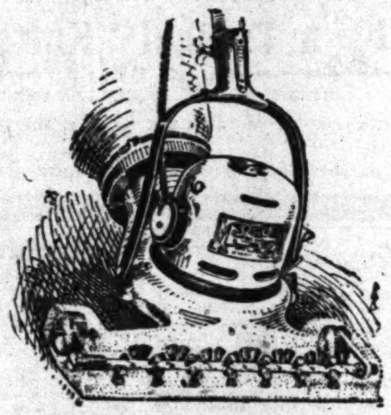
Where's the kneading board and the biscuit cutter? the flour? the salt? the sugar?—and the baking pans? Why, they are all in their place in the McDougall Cabinet. No need to waste precious time taking every pot and pan out of the pantry looking for the pans you want. The sugar's there, too, and the salt, the flour, the pepper and spices, and other needfuls.

This finely-built cabinet has 'most every convenience you could desire, including

The Auto-Front That Replaces Swinging Doors

There are no doors over the table top to knock things off; no crevices to catch food particles—just a smooth, workable cupboard shelf. Release the catch that holds the AUTO-FRONT in place, and zip, it drops down out of sight and out of the way. When done, lift and it locks. The McDougall has so many other good features that you are sure to like it.

Masterfully the Ohio-Tuec Electric Vacuum Cleaner Performs the House Cleaning Tasks Assigned to It



Perhaps nothing more severely taxes the housewife's good disposition than house cleaning, which involves moving heavy furniture and shaking rugs. The OHIO-TUEC electric vacuum cleaner was made especially to relieve you of this burdensome, boresome task.

Pure, fresh air is the only agent employed by the Ohio-Tuec to take the dust and dirt out of your rugs and carpets. Though this cleaner has a brush, the brush is only for picking up thread and lint—NOT FOR CLEANING—the powerful air force attends to that and does not need the assistance of a fabric-wearing motor-driven brush. That's why the Ohio-Tuec's brush is not motor-driven, but only revolves when the cleaner is pushed across the floor.

Wouldn't you like to see this cleaner in an actual working demonstration? A telephone call will suffice to request that we send an OHIO-TUEC to your home for a trial demonstration.

Plenty of Linens Means Less Washing Less Ironing Less Expense

IMPORTED CHINA TEA CUPS AND SAUCERS, 45c each—With conventional border decoration.

PLAIN BLOWN TUMBLERS, 98c dozen—Limit, one dozen to a customer.

Bake and Broil With the Same Burner With Never a Worry of Flame "Floating"

While the special price of $52.50 is perhaps the greatest attraction just now of this Short Cabinet model A-B Gas Range with black splasher and $57.50 with white splasher it has numerous other features to commend it.

Patented features keep the flame from "floating," consequently gas bills are materially reduced and the flame is always blue and hot, guaranteeing quick action in baking, broiling and all kinds of cooking.

The broiler pans are of solid, seamless sheet steel and coated with beautiful easy-to-clean enamel that does not peel, crack or become grimy.

And, of course, you know this is the range that helps conserve floor space, using the least amount of space possible and embodying the greatest number of conveniences possible.

REALTORS SCORE LEASES TO JAPS.

California Land Dealers will Expose Practice.

Mines Urges Easy Terms Realty Sale Campaign.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Resolutions condemning the leasing of all land to orientals or the sale of lands for the benefit and use of orientals were adopted this afternoon by the members of the California Real Estate Association at the close of convention of two days. The association pledged itself to expose to the public those property owners and real estate dealers who for personal profit sell or lease land for the benefit of orientals.

The principal speaker of the afternoon was Ray L. Riley, real estate commissioner of the State of California, who explained the practical operation of the real estate license law. Riley said that he would detail five inspectors by February 1 to see that the license law was being observed by realtors throughout the State. Letters have been written to every District Attorney in the State, according to Riley, asking them to acquaint the public with the workings of the license law. and to call the attention of the public to the penalties provided for violations of the law.

Each realty board was urged to appoint committees to co-operate with the Real Estate Commissioner in order that this department might sooner gain the confidence of the public.

MINES PRESENT BY PROXY.

A telegram was received from W. W. Mines of Los Angeles regretting his inability to attend the convention, due to illness. A paper prepared by Mines was read by S. Ross Fenner of Los Angeles, who had been requested by Mines to present it to the convention.

Mines suggested that the attention of real estate dealers be directed to the practice of selling real estate upon the so-called "easy terms" plan. The paper read, in part:

"I believe that it is right to give a person the opportunity of purchasing real estate upon easy terms, but we must guard against the dangers of selling property without placing sufficient responsibility upon the buyer. In many instances terms unreasonably low will actually result in the buyer losing his sense of responsibility in the matter and this sometimes results in dishonesty of the purchaser and ultimate loss to the seller.

"California has too many commissions and other forms of red tape, which tend to retard economic activities. The business of investment and development should be more simplified from the standpoint of the State government's participation or connection therewith. The single tax law must be constantly opposed. The proponents of this plan are thoroughly organized and financed. Unless they are combatted by equally or better organized forces they may be victorious some day. That would be economic tragedy.

"California now stands on the threshold of what I firmly believe will be the greatest era of development and resultant prosperity in her history. Eastern industries are entering our cities, and this association could use no better opportunity than that of aiding in the development of California's natural resources."

A resolution was adopted by the members of the convention urging the passage of the bill before Congress to provide for homes in the Imperial Valley for ex-service men, known as the Kettner bill, and the association pledged their support of the Land Committee of the California department of the American Legion in their efforts to provide for service men in California.

MILLER REPORTED ILL.

C. E. Miller of Los Angeles was expected to address the convention on "California a Playground for America," but owing to illness he ing them. But owing to illnes, was unable to attend the convention.

Leslie B. Henry of Pasadena, addressed the convention at the banquet tonight on the "Future Development of California." George S. Walker, State building and loan commissioner, Paul C. Murphy of Seattle and B. L. Lambuth, also spoke.

The new members of the board of directors are: C. C. Juster of Berkeley; J. W. McManus, Bakersfield; William G. Cochrane, Fresno; C. C. Tatum and W. W. Mines, Los Angeles; J. G. Munholland, Long Beach; W. J. Wren, Modesto; B. J. Wright, Monterey; F. F. Reed and F. F. Porter, Oakland; F. F. Ford, Oroville; D. W. Carmichael and Chris R. Jones, Sacramento; H. F. Rameeciotto, Albert E. Kern and Mabry McMahon, San Francisco, and F. O. Reed and W. L. Atkinson, San Jose; J. T. Summers, Santa Rosa; F. C. Nye, Riverside; J. H. Bloshonham, Pasadena, and C. P. Austin, Santa Barbara.

The place for next year's convention was left to the vote of the new board of directors. Los Angeles, Long Beach, San Jose, Sacramento, Fresno, Santa Rosa, Oakland and San Francisco all preesnted invitations for the convention of 1921.

SAN FRANCISCO TODAY.

Tomorrow the members of the convention will assemble at the headquarters of the convention in the Palace Hotel for an automobile trip. A sufficient number of autos will be on hand to take the visiting delegates over San Francisco in order that they may see all the latest developments in the city. The trip will terminate at Tait's at the beach, where visiting delegates will be entertained as guests of the San Francisco Real Estate Board.

L. H. Mooser, president of the San Francisco Real Estate Board, will deliver an address at the luncheon tomorrow noon at the Palace Hotel.

CLOSE NEWMAN BANK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEWMAN, Jan. 24.—The Newman First National Bank has been ordered closed by the Federal bank examiner. The Federal agents worked on the books of the bank this morning and later posted a notice of closing on the door. W. J. Burris, president of the bank, is out of town.

One of the year's important musical events—

TOMORROW EVENING

At Trinity Auditorium

Marie Morrisey

At very great expense the Fitzgerald Music Company has engaged the services of the famous contralto, Marie Morrisey, to appear in a special complimentary recital at Trinity Auditorium Monday evening, January 26th.

—You will have the opportunity on this occasion to hear this delightful artist in a program that you would go far to hear.

The purpose of this recital is to demonstrate that which cannot be told in words: THAT THOMAS A. EDISON HAS TRULY SOLVED THE PROBLEM OF TRANSFERRING THE LIVING HUMAN VOICE FROM THE THROAT OF THE ARTIST TO THE THROAT OF THE NEW EDISON!

We invite you to come and hear Marie Morrisey sing in her rich, colorful contralto—and then to witness the miracle of the same tones repeated by the New Edison in unison with the artist's singing. Occasionally Miss Morrisey will pause in her singing to allow the RE-CREATION to continue alone—and you will be amazed to find that you cannot distinguish the difference between the original and the RE-CREATION except by watching Miss Morrisey's lips.

—at least, that has been the experience of over 500 of the keenest music critics in the United States and of millions of people who have attended similar tone tests.

NO ADMISSION WITHOUT TICKETS

—positively no tickets issued at box office or elsewhere than at Fitzgerald Music Company. Tickets are complimentary, while they last.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) Jan. 24.—In an effort to rid the State of Sonora of Chinese merchants, Gov. De la Huerta may go to Mexico City and seek to have the Mexican-Chinese treaty abrogated. This became known here today when word was received that President Carranza has declared the action of Gov. Huerta, in driving Chinese from Cananea, illegal.

Gov. Huerta issued an order about three months ago for all Chinese merchants in Cananea to leave by January 1. At that time he said the rest of the State of Sonora was open to them, and he urged that they go on some of the State land and engage in agriculture. He called their attention to large acreage that was adapted to farming and offered them some valuable holdings.

The Chinese situation in Sonora is becoming serious in the opinions of most Mexicans. A prominent attorney of Hermosillo, capital of the State, is arranging to prepare the necessary legal papers to be presented to the Mexican Congress asking for relief. It is known that practically every merchant of Sonora is a Chinese, and the Mexican residents of the State are unable, for economic reasons, to compete with them.

Gov. Huerta has also issued an edict prohibiting intermarriage of Chinese and Mexican women in Sonora, and he will ask the national Congress at Mexico City to pass a similar law for the entire republic.

Too Far Off.

He: I'll bet you a kiss on the next Presidential election.

She: Isn't there any election before that?—[Boston Transcript.

After Eating Play Safe

It is a Wise Precaution to Take a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet After Eating to Avoid Gas, Sour Risings, Heaviness and the Lazy, Logy Feeling So Apt to Follow.

The range of food is so great, its preparation varies so widely, that few stomachs are strong enough to grapple with all conditions of restaurants, hotels, clubs, depots and banquets. The safe plan is to be provided with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, that you may eat rich and palatable food served or selected and not be troubled with gas, sour risings or such forms of indigestion. These tablets digest food, they assist the stomach secretions and for this reason people who travel away from home and must eat as it is served may play safe by taking one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal.

"Now It's Back to Work and No Chance for Indigestion With These Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

You can get these tablets in any drug store anywhere in the United States or Canada, which shows in what general favor they are among those who have learned how to enjoy their meals.—[Advertisement.

The Loveliest Curly Hair, So Easy to Have!

Why make your hair dry, brittle and dead looking with the heated waving tongs, when the simple silmerine method will produce a curliness far more natural in appearance, and at the same time preserve the lustre and beauty of your tresses? Liquid silmerine is so agreeable to use, being neither sticky nor greasy, and the over-night transformation is so pleasing, the first trial will make it your firm friend.

The approved way to apply it is to pour a little into a saucer at bedtime, dip a clean toothbrush into this and draw the brush through the hair from crown to tip, one strand at a time. A few ounces of this harmless liquid from your druggist will last a long time. You will like it not only because of the charming curly and wavy effect, but because you will also find it an excellent dressing for the hair.—[Advertisement.

TODAY'S BEAUTY HELP

We find you can bring out the beauty of your hair to its very best advantage by washing it with canthrox. It makes a very simple, inexpensive shampoo, which cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly of all the dandruff, dirt and excess oil, leaving a wonderfully clean, wholesome feeling. After its use, you will find that the hair dries quickly and evenly, is never streaked in appearance and is always bright, soft and fluffy; so fluffy, in fact, that it looks more abundant than it is, and so soft that arranging it becomes a pleasure. Just use a teaspoonful of canthrox, which you can get from any good druggist, dissolve it in a cup of hot water; this makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head.—[Advertisement.

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given By One Who Had It.

In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

MIDDLE WEST NEWS IN BRIEF.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 24.—Dr. E. H. Bullock, health director, said yesterday that if the number of influenza cases reported yesterday were not far in excess of the number reported Thursday the epidemic would not have reached an alarming stage. The situation is improving slightly, according to reports, but there still is need of utmost precaution, he said.

The Republican State committee yesterday announced the speaking dates next week of Sen. Hiram Johnson in the third district congressional campaign. Sen. Johnson will be accompanied by Arthur M. Hyde, Republican candidate for Governor. The places and dates of the Johnson meetings are: Excelsior Springs, Tuesday; Cameron, Wednesday; Princeton, Thursday; Bethany, Friday; Stanberry, Saturday.

Ben. M. Neale, Democratic State chairman, issued a call yesterday for a meeting next Thursday of the Democratic State committee at Jefferson City.

Two hundred and eighty jitney owners had renewed their $2500 indemnity risk bonds for three months up to yesterday.

DETROIT.

DETROIT, Jan. 24.—City Treasurer Guy Ingalls was authorized by the council this afternoon to refund $35,000 to residents of Lakewood boulevard. This sum was paid for paving tax under protest that the thoroughfare was a boulevard and should be paved at the city's expense.

Albert L. Melvin, head of the Melvin Realty Company, was made defendant in a divorce suit by Anna D. Melvin yesterday after thirty-two years of married life. Mrs. Melvin names Mabel G. Taylor, former stenographer in her husband's office, as having gained his affections.

Jos. J. Shupe, former majority stockholder of the Vandyke Baking Company, 429 Vandyke avenue, destroyed by a $100,000 fire, was arrested in Cleveland today on a charge of arson.

MINNEAPOLIS.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 24.—Fire which threatened the entire central market district and which did $235,000 in damages destroyed the S. G. Palmer Company at 228 Sixth street north. Many other buildings were also damaged by water. The first general alarm in two years brought out the entire fighting force of this city.

The Supreme Court yesterday held that the City Council of this city had a right to set restrictions on factories or apartment buildings in the residence section of the city that it saw fit.

Exhibits valued at $6,000,000 will be on display at the Twin City automobile show which starts January 31.

John A. Beeler, New York traffic expert, retained by the City Council to make a complete survey of the street railway situation, arrived in Minneapolis yesterday.

Senator Hiram Johnson of California will make his first appearance in this city as an avowed Presidential candidate February 12.

A new low mark for the year was predicted here tonight by Weatherman Purcell for Minneapolis. Readings as low as 20 below are expected here in the morning.

OMAHA.

OMAHA, Jan. 24.—Mrs. Charles G. Ryan, Grand Island, has been appointed State food commissioner.

Thirty new cases of flu developed here Thursday.

Charles M. Plein, well known Omaha artist, died yesterday.

Twelve Reds under arrest in Federal court objected to going on trial yesterday because it was Friday, and court postponed the cases for them.

All Omaha school teachers will receive increases approximating $200.

Mayor Smith yesterday announced definitely that he will absolutely refuse to accept the filing for Governor made in his name.

ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 24.—Hugh J. Brady, head of the Brady Sales Agency, is to be married January 28 to Mrs. Mathilde A. Alterauge, who was named in the suit for divorce recently brought by Brady's first wife.

Flint Garrison, Missouri chairman of the Committee of Forty-Eight, has returned from a conference in New York with A. H. Hopkins and Allen McCurdy, national leaders in the movement.

Miss Amelia C. Fruchte, 74 years old, for fifty years a teacher of English in high schools here, died yesterday of heart disease at the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium. She was taken there a week ago after she had collapsed in her classroom.

A reward of $1000 and a gold medal will be given to Probationary Patrolman Harry J. Shea for breaking up the attempt to rob the Water Tower Bank Wednesday when he shot and killed the robbers' lookout. He was twice wounded.

Mrs. Margaret B. Long, who died in Philadelphia November 7, left an estate of $66,533 in personal property and realty at Nantucket, Mass.

Miss Wildeth Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Martin, will be married next Wednesday to Capt. Kenneth Macon Moore of Camp Dodge, Ia.

Miss Lucy Foote has sailed for Serbia, to engage in welfare work under the auspices of the Serbian Child Welfare Association of America of New York City.

DES MOINES.

DES MOINES, Jan. 24.—Members of the Iowa code revision won out in their suit to force the executive council to pay them at the rate of $25 per day for work done since January 1. Gov. Harding and the council ruled that their time expired January 1. The courts granted a writ of mandamus, however, to compel continued payment. This decision was taken immediately to the Supreme Court.

Mrs. Ben. Beckman died at Colfax from injuries received in a gasoline explosion.

Tom Davis, the second of the accused arson gang at Oskaloosa to go on trial, was confronted with a written confession in court yesterday. He claims it was obtained through duress.

J. C. McNary, switchman, was killed at Boone.

W. T. Curtiss, well-known stockman, died of the flu at Ottumwa.

Sergt. Clarence Lowe, who has been sought by his parents at Ottumwa for weeks, has been discovered working in the oil fields in Oklahoma.

Suit for damages brought at Shenandoah against Dr. Luella Read, dean of women at Grinnell College, for alleged libelous remarks made by her in advising co-eds as to associations, has been dismissed.

INDIANAPOLIS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 24.—William R. Wheeler, prominent Indianapolis business men, died here early yesterday morning after a week's illness of pneumonia.

With rain freezing almost as fast as it fell, Central and Southern Indiana are covered with a coating of ice.

The fortieth annual meeting of the Indiana Engineering Society opened yesterday at the Claypool Hotel.

Mrs. H. E. F. Stanford was reelected president of the Marion County War Mothers at the annual election held in the public library auditorium.

There has been a slight increase in the number of influenza cases in the city, Dr. Herman C. Morgan, secretary of the city board of health, declared. During the last ten days forty cases have been reported.

Eighty-three members of the Indiana Credit Men's Association left the city this morning to attend the annual conference of the association at Muncie.

Approximately $65,000,000 in income tax will be collected in the State of Indiana during the season which started yesterday, ending March 15, according to George Spencer, deputy collector of internal revenue.

MILWAUKEE.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 24.—The will of William D. Gray, who died leaving an estate of $350,000, was filed yesterday. The estate goes to his daughter, Marjorie Gray Randall, and this grandson, Stuart Gray Randall.

Milwaukee is in the grip of a blizzard that is expected to cut off the city from outside traffic. Fair and colder weather is predicted.

Rev. James D. Foley, pastor of Gesu Church, is seriously ill at the Trinity Hospital with pneumonia.

The plant of George T. Grede, automobile body builders, was destroyed by fire; loss, $80,000.

ST. PAUL.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 24.—Ramifications of the alleged forgeries in the accounts of Frank Roeller, paymaster in the bureau of sanitation, may reach the proportions of the recent discrepancy in the office of Martin J. O'Malley, former County Treasurer, County Attorney R. D. O'Brien admitted yesterday.

J. M. Gruber, vice-president of the Great Northern Railroad, in charge of operation, and William C. Watrous, superintendent of transportation, have resigned, it was said yesterday.

Ramsey county will spend more than $250,000 for road construction this year.

Senator Hiram Johnson of California, candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination, will make the principal address at the annual banquet of the Lincoln Club in Masonic Temple February 12.

There are more influenza cases in St. Paul than at any other point in the State. There were 142 cases reported. At University Farm, 84 students are ill. The disease is in a mild form. Three deaths have resulted.

Home Wrinkle Recipe, Astonishing Results

Such startling, sensational results come from a very simple, harmless home-made wrinkle-remover; there's no excuse now for anyone wearing those hateful marks of age, illness or worry. No need fooling with worthless pastes, creams, or "skin foods" which don't feed the skin. No need rubbing, massaging, steaming—useless methods which expand and loosen skin and underlying tissue, aggravating a wrinkled, flabby condition. Better, saner, surer, is the scientific saxolite formula. Thousands have successfully tried it—thousands freed of wrinkles, enlarged pores, saggy cheeks, double chin—thousands younger looking, happier!

All you need to do is to dissolve one ounce of powdered saxolite in one-half pint witch hazel and bathe your face in this. The effect is almost magical. Even deepest crow's feet completely, quickly vanish. Skin becomes firm, smooth, fresh looking—bears no trace of treatment except that of enhanced beauty. Get these inexpensive ingredients at your druggist's and try this marvelous saxolite lotion today.—[Advertisement.

HOME SAVINGS BANK WINS SUIT FOR $2100.

DECISION HINGED ON WHETHER THERE WAS WARNING OF ALLEGED FORGERY.

The Home Savings Bank of this city was awarded a judgment of $2100 against the National Bank of Long Beach in Judge Valentine's court yesterday in a suit involving a financial transaction by T. H. Marshall, alleged forger. Marshall kept a small account with the Home Savings Bank. He is charged with having forged the name of Mrs. Mary C. Young to a check for $2100. He obtained a cashier's check for the amount and is said to have forged on the back the initials of a National Bank official.

The cashier's check was deposited with the Home Savings Bank. Marshall then went to San Francisco. Meantime the alleged forgery was discovered and a detective agency sent out notices not to cash the cashier's check payable to the order of T. H. Marshall as it was fraudulently secured. Marshall on his return got the money on the cashier's check.

The point in the trial of the suit devolved on whether or not the Home Savings Bank had been notified of the forgery. The bank officials contended that it had not been notified. The detective agency could not state positively that any official of that bank had been served. Judge Valentine gave judgment in favor of the Home Savings Bank.

HOLDS HUSBAND ALSO.

Commissioner Won't Permit Wife to Face Liquor Charge Alone.

Stating that he would not allow Hilda E. Smith of 748½ South San Pedro street to assume all of the blame in connection with the sale of liquor to a revenue agent, U. S. Commissioner Long held both the woman and her husband, Reginald D. Smith, for the Federal grand jury yesterday, following a preliminary examination.

The testimony indicated that the Smiths conducted a "blind pig" and an attempt was made to show that the wife was responsible for the sale, but Commissioner Long decided to hold both.

When the accused were arrested, 135 pints of whisky were found, but under a stipulation made in court, the alleged offense occurring before national prohibition went into effect, the whisky was released.

FORMS FOR PHYSICIANS.

Collector of Internal Revenue Carter announced yesterday that as the regular forms, to be used by physicians in prescribing liquor under the national prohibition law, have not yet been received physicians must use the present forms under the old regulations.

FOR GAS HEARING.

Chief Engineer Osborne of the Board of Public Utilities has been designated to attend the hearing on the gas situation before the State Railroad Commission at San Francisco on January 30. The board tomorrow morning will ask the City Council to make an appropriation to pay the expenses of this trip.

OPTION ON PROPERTY FOR SUBMARINE BASE.

SAN PEDRO FIRM WILL OFFER TRONA BUILDINGS TO CITY FOR $200,000.

Ralph, Over & Ralph, room 3, Bank of San Pedro, filed with the City Clerk yesterday, for presentation to the City Council tomorrow, a communication in which the firm states it holds option on the buildings of the American Trona Corporation at the Los Angeles Harbor for $200,000, and that they can sell the property to the city for this price.

These buildings are on lands leased from the Southern Pacific, and are a part of the fifty-three acres which the city desires to procure and donate to the government for an addition to the proposed submarine naval base at the Los Angeles Harbor. In a compromise agreement between city officials and representatives of the Southern Pacific, a price of $900,000 was reached on the entire tract of land and the Trona Corporation buildings, and the cost of construction of these buildings was given as $580,000.

Members of the City Council stated yesterday that it is probable this body will take no action toward acquiring the land at the harbor until receipt from Washington of the full text of the recommendations of the Secretary of the Navy for developments at the Los Angeles Harbor.

Should the records show that official recommendations have been made that justify the city in undertaking to secure the land desired so that it may be donated to the government, then, say the Councilmen, the proper step would be to ascertain the validity of the option on the Trona Corporation buildings, and to determine whether the lands could be acquired separately from the buildings.

It is expected that the records from Washington will be in the hands of the City Council some time during the ensuing week.

ENGINEERS WILL ASK HOOVER TO BANQUET.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION IS TO HOLD CONVENTION IN CHICAGO BEGINNING MAY 11.

The Executive Committee of the American Association of Engineers, which organization will hold its annual convention in Chicago beginning May 11, yesterday asked H. Z. Osborne, Jr., chief engineer of the Board of Public Utilities and head of the local chapter of engineers, to extend to Herbert Hoover an invitation to give the annual address at the national association annual dinner. Mr. Osborne is a personal friend of Mr. Hoover, they having been classmates together at Stanford University, with a common home at Encino Hall.

The letter to Mr. Osborne says:

"Our interest in civic and political affairs and citizenship in its broadest terms would give Mr. Hoover an excellent opportunity to present his views, particularly if at that time he be a candidate. Because of Mr. Hoover's having been elected president of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, it is especially desirable that we invite him, and that he accept, for in this manner as in no other could engineering unity, in which we are all so much interested, be advanced."

RED CROSS OVERSEAS WORKER DIES IN EAST.

ROYS STROHN, LIGHTING PLANT MANAGER IN ILLINOIS CITY, WELL KNOWN HERE.

News of the death in Aurora (Ill.) of Roys Strohn, a graduate of the Los Angeles High School and a native Angeleno, was received here yesterday. Mr. Strohn, since his graduation from Stanford University, has been manager of extensive municipal lighting and other interests of his brother-in-law, Congressman I. C. Copley of Aurora.

Shortly after the United States declared war Mr. Strohn accompanied Marshall Field, Jr., to Europe on behalf of the Red Cross. They were given supervision over some important operations of that organization, particularly in handling vast purchases of supplies. They also organized the first American hospital train for the Red Cross.

Mr. Strohn's mother, Mrs. Mary Strohn, and his sister, Mrs. Eleanor Macaulay, live at 2620 Menlo avenue. Another sister, the wife of Congressman Copley, and a brother, Claire Strohn, of Elgin, Ill., also survive.

Mr. Strohn leaves a widow, formerly Miss Grace Clark of San Jose and a daughter, Mary Ann, about 15 years old.

OUTDOOR GRADUATION.

The graduation of eighth-grade students of the Sixty-first-street school day before yesterday was a midwinter event conducted in midsummer fashion. The diplomas were presented on the roof of the school, the girl students wearing white dresses and slippers.

TOO WEAK TO DO ANYTHING

A Serious Feminine Illness Remedied By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Casco, Wis.—"After the birth of each of my children I had displacement and was so weak I couldn't do anything. I found a book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so thought I would try it, and after taking it I soon felt better. That was fifteen years ago and I have felt well ever since except that I had a slight attack of the trouble some time ago and took some more of your Compound and was soon all right again. I always recommend your medicine and you may publish my testimonial for the benefit of other women."—Mrs. JULES BERO, Jr., R. 1, Box 99, Casco, Wis.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills in this country.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

MONDELL AGAIN ATTACKS LOANS

Opposes Credit to Prevent Starvation in Europe.

Declares Suffering Reports are "Sob Stories."

Attacks France for Bringing Misery to Austrians.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Republican Floor Leader Mondell renewed his attacks upon the proposed $150,000,000 credit for the purchases of food for starving people of Central Europe today in a speech in the House. Mondell accused France of responsibility for Austria's condition.

"I have conflicting emotions about this matter," said Mr. Mondell. "I do not want my view to settle this thing. I am only one member of the House and I am not going to make any efforts to have the House follow my views as to this thing but I believe we should think long and carefully before we take the money of the people of the United States to provide funds for the people of Europe no matter how trying conditions may be.

"Gentlemen, do not be misled. I think conditions must be frightful over there from what all we have heard, but all the sob stories that you hear are not true. We practically gave France several hundred million dollars' worth of good foodstuffs left there at the signing of the armistice. The condition of starvation does not prevail generally in Austria, but the condition in Vienna is in the main due to the fact that France insisted that Austria should be dismembered to the last acre and that then German-Austria should not be allowed to join Germany.

AMERICA NOT RESPONSIBLE.

"We are not responsible for that condition. If Austria, what is left of her, were today a part of Germany, I have no doubt that the German people, their neighbors, their kinsmen speaking the same language, would provide for them. But France said no, and the Allies agreed.

"The responsibility is not primarily ours, and France, war-torn as she is, might spare at least a little of the army foodstuffs we left with her in order to take care of these people just over across the hills from her border, whose present condition is largely due to the fact that she insisted that they should remain as an independent government."

Mr. Mondell said someone had urged him to support an increased appropriation for airplanes on the ground that Great Britain had appropriated $350,000,000 for that purpose.

"AN OLD GAG."

"I said, if there was any rag of truth in that old gag, then we ought to pass a resolution through the House insisting that England pay the interest on what she owes us," continued Mr. Mondell.

"If England can afford to pay $350,000,000 or $150,000,000 or $100,000,000 for airplanes, then she ought to pay the interest on her debt to us. The trouble is that there is nothing in the story. It is not so, and no such sum or anything approaching it has been spent or is being spent for that purpose."

Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas, suggested a loan of $50,000,000 to Europe. This amount would represent only the profits of the Grain Corporation, he said, adding that "it is only due the people from whom it was made."

PENSION PLOT SUSPECT HELD.

Petty Crimes may Lead to Charge of Attempt to Steal $250,000.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, Jan. 24.—Circulars sent out by the Oakland police in an effort to establish the identity of a man arrested some weeks ago for a petty crime has resulted in his being identified as Raymond Osterman, wanted by the Los Angeles authorities for burglaries, and for suspected connection in the recent plot to rob the paymaster at Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle of $250,000 in pension money.

He is said to have a long criminal record. When arrested here for stealing parts from an automobile he gave the name of Elmer Gage.

HURT IN RUNAWAY.

Street Car Passenger Victim of Collision with Wagon.

Howard Siebold, 28 years old, of 547 South Seville avenue, was painfully injured yesterday when the tongue of a heavy wagon, driven through the side of a street car on which he was a passenger at Seventh street and Central avenue, struck him on the right ankle. The wagon, drawn by a team of runaway horses, was wrecked and the side of the street car badly smashed.

At the Receiving Hospital Siebold was found to be suffering from a fracture of the right ankle and serious lacerations. According to the police, the horses, which were hitched to a L. J. Christopher Company wagon, became frightened by a bit of paper that blew in front of them on East Seventh street. V. L. Fuller, the driver, was hurled from his seat on the wagon before the collision.

RABBIT AWARD MONDAY.

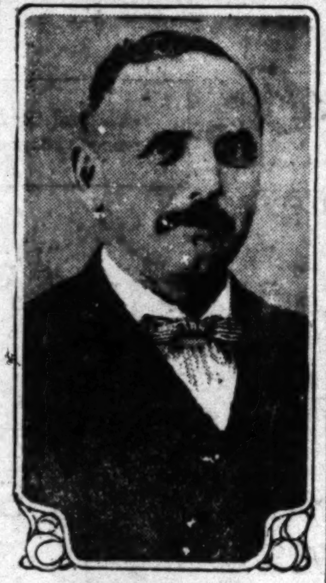
Pet Stock Show Judges Unable to Finish Task on Time.

Judging of the entries in the annual exposition and championship show of the Southern California Rabbit Fanciers and Pet Stock Association will be concluded today, and the list of awards announced Monday.

The unusually large number of entries so swamped the judges that they were unable to finish their work Friday as originally announced.

The banquet planned for last night will be held Tuesday evening instead, according to Andrew Wilson, manager of the show. Tuesday will also be "School Children's Day," as it has been decided to admit the kiddies free on that date.

In addition to the large number of rabbits and guinea pigs on exhibition, a feature that is attracting unusual attention is the display of fine fur garments made from domestic rabbit skins, which show the possibilities of Southern California as a center of the fur industry.



Alexander C. Little.

ASKS MASONS TO AID SEARCH FOR HUSBAND.

EX-MAYOR OF WASHINGTON CITY MISSING AFTER TRIP HERE FOR HIS HEALTH.

Former Mayor Alexander C. Little of Raymond, Wash., who came here more than two months ago in the hope of improving his health, is missing. His wife, Mrs. Jennie Little, has arrived in Los Angeles to search for him. She fears that he may have met with foul play, or during mental stress and worry, with which he has lately been suffering, he may have wandered away, and is unable to communicate with her.

Mr. Little is a Thirty-second Degree Mason, Past Exalted Ruler of Raymond Lodge of Elks, a life member of the Eagles, and a member of the Woodmen of the World. Mrs. Little asks members of these organizations to communicate with her if they have any news of her husband's whereabouts. She is at 940 West Sixth street, telephone 66488. She offers $150 reward for information which will enable her to find her husband.

Mr. Little is nearly six feet tall, weighs 215 pounds, is of light complexion, with light blue eyes. His hair and close-cropped mustache are of iron gray. When last seen at Torrance on November 23 he wore a dark gray suit, with brown hat and shoes.

Mr. Little was for five years fish commissioner of the State of Washington, and was Mayor of Raymond for ten years. He had also been for a number of years editor and publisher of the Raymond Review.

AUTO VICTIM DIES.

Police Exonerate Woman whose Car Causes Fatal Injuries.

Ladovico Zucca, 44 years old, of 135 El Sereno street, who was crushed beneath an automobile owned and driven by Mrs. Grace Stenbock, of 814 Golden avenue, at Turquoise street and Huntington drive late Friday afternoon, died at the County Hospital yesterday. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Alvarez & Blue.

According to the police the automobile struck Zucca when he became confused while attempting to cross the street. The accident, the police stated, was unavoidable and no arrest has been made.

FOR THE CANADIANS.

Prominent Men and Women to Speak at Beach Gathering.

With a programme that includes speeches by prominent men and women, practically all arrangements have been completed for the Canadian picnic at Long Beach, Tuesday. If the day is fair the picnic will be held in Bixby Park, but in case of rain an adjournment will be taken to the lower floor of the municipal auditorium. A programme of sports and games has been arranged, and coffee will be served.

After lunch there will be speeches by the following: Mrs. A. B. Ormsby, president of the Women's Canadian Club, Toronto, Ont.; Mayor Lisenby of Long Beach, Chief Justice McGuire of Saskatchewan, Hon. T. W. Crothers, former Minister of Labor, at Ottawa, and Col. H. A. Mullins of Winnipeg. There will also be games and races for young and old, and suitable prizes will be awarded. The Long Beach band will be in attendance.

A special effort will be made to have every one register. Registration will be by provinces. The officers of the organization, P. F. Bredt, of 127 Maine street, president and G. N. Buffum, of 452 Locust avenue, secretary and treasurer, may be seen at the office of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce.

GUILTY OF SELLING TWO PINTS LIQUOR.

After the charge of Judge Trippet, yesterday in the case brought by the government against J. P. Goytino, charged with violation of the war-time prohibition law, the jury found him guilty of selling on December 13, two pints of liquor to Sebastian Contini, for which he received $12.50. Next Thursday was set for sentence. The deliberations of the jury did not last more than ten minutes.

Goytino is at liberty under $500 bond on this charge. He is also under an additional bond of $10,000 in a case growing out of his alleged efforts to get Sebastian Contini, the prosecuting witness out of the country, so the court allowed the bond in the liquor selling case as originally made before the United States Commissioner to remain in force.

TOURISTS TO BE WELCOMED.

A reunion of men, women and children from Illinois will be held tomorrow evening in Forum Hall, 203 Mercantile place. H. J. Brubaker will preside. The speakers will be Col. Frank H. True, Mrs. Ella Stewart and Col. John Sobieski. Refreshments will be served. The January reunion of the Tennessee State Society will be held Tuesday evening in Smead Hall, 934 West Sixth street. A social and musical programme has been arranged. Tourists are invited to meet old home friends at each reunion.

THE WEATHER.
[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Jan. 24. — [Reported by H. B. Hersey, Meteorologist.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 30.23; at 5 p.m., 30.23. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 51 deg. and 58 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 85 per cent.; 5 p.m., 87 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 2 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 5 miles. Highest temperature, 70 deg.; lowest, 49 deg. Rainfall for season, 4.80 inches; last season to date, 4.15 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—A strong field of high pressure covers Montana, the Dakotas and Minnesota, and extends southward to Texas, giving very cold weather over that whole region. Snow has fallen at most stations from the Missouri and Mississippi valleys to the Atlantic coast. Very light showers occurred yesterday morning at a few stations in the southern part of this State, but no other rainfall was reported in California during the past twenty-four hours. Rain is falling this morning in Washington and Oregon, and will probably work southward, reaching this vicinity by Sunday.

ORCHARD REPORTS.—Minimum and maximum temperatures from the orchards, reported yesterday to the Los Angeles office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, were as follows:

EFENSES AGAINST WINTER TORRENTS FACE FIRST ASSAULT OF RIVERS.

The long black lines along streams indicate channel reinforcement either on one or both sides, as seemed necessary, together with levees, channel dredging and riverbed brush grubbing. This is indicated practically the entire length of the Rio Hondo, as well as along sections of the Los Angeles River, San Dimas Wash, Tejunga Wash, Verdugo Creek and Ballona Creek. Circles along streams indicate flood-control work of similar nature not yet accomplished. Nigger Slough work is a canal to drain several mud holes into the sea. Part of this is finished. Straight black lines in the mountains and hills indicate check-dam work, the white dots showing portions of check-dam work not yet done.

ACID TEST FOR FLOOD CONTROL IMPENDS.

With Heavy Rains Due, Emergency Part of Great Protection Work Stands Ready for Winter's Buffets; Twenty-five Hundred Check Dams and Miles of Barriers and Channels are Awaiting First Trial.

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY.

With the season of heavy rains at hand, the great programme of flood control being worked out in Los Angeles county is on the eve of a practical test of the highest importance. The solidity and effectiveness of the emergency works are about to be given their first real trial. On the manner in which the pioneer dams, dikes, channels and retaining walls function and the way in which they withstand the battering of destructive waters, will depend perhaps the whole future of flood-control work in Southern California.

The forthcoming rains will give, however, only a partial index to the ultimate effectiveness of the programme that is being carried out in mountain canyons, along valley streams and at the border of the sea. Only about a fourth of the work originally planned has now been completed. And yet, incomplete as the job stands, the engineers in charge admit that the deductions to be drawn from the first contest between raging streams and the flood-control devices will be of the first importance.

Of major interest, also, is the volume of the contruction work that has been accomplished, in spite of considerable difficulties, since last July. The most essential of the emergency measures have been taken before the time of heavy rains. This is in itself a victory for the flood-control district officials.

Chief Engineer Reagan of the district says the work which has already been done is substantial and that it will afford great relief from floods, though it cannot be held too strictly to account, because the flood-control work that is a part of the present programme cannot be finished this year.

WOULD WELCOME TEST.

"If heavy rains would hold off till about February 1, I would welcome a mild flood," said Engineer Reagan, yesterday. "It would test the work that has already been done and give us something around which to build further plans. Only a good volume of water can properly try bank reinforcements and levees such as we have built."

There is no way, however, to judge how severe such a test might prove to be; floods of destructive force have been more or less frequent in the past. No longer ago than the winter of 1914, damage amounting to millions of dollars was done by flood waters rushing down the shallow streams and emptying into Los Angeles Harbor, where they deposited 3,000,000 cubic yards of silt which the government is now dredging out at enormous expense. It has been estimated that 12,000,000 cubic yards of valuable soil were washed away by the flood of 1914, and the heavy storms of 1916 also did a great deal of damage which has not yet been repaired.

The flood control programme is, because of soil destruction in the past, a project of reconstruction. Chief Engineer Reagan gives it as his opinion that within a few years after the work has been completed, fully 3000 acres of valuable river bottom land will have been reclaimed.

The big project has been held back by delays in securing rights of way, but since construction work was begun in July rapid progress has been made, at least in certain localities. At times the district has worked as many as 998 laborers. At present it has about 500 men on the job, the policy being to take the tools and equipment out of the river bottoms and shorten sail for a few weeks until the rains are past. Then the work will be renewed with the same energy that has marked its progress during the past year.

CASH FOR TWO YEARS.

As for expense, Chief Engineer Reagan states there is enough money on hand to keep the work going at a good pace for about two years. Out of a bond issue of $4,450,000 the county has sold $2,500,000 worth of bonds, and it has received $500,000 in State aid. There is still $500,000 to come from the State treasury.

The Federal government is spending $1,800,000 in the vicinity of the harbor. That sum represents the cost of the outlet channel, which is being dredged from Cerritos Bridge to the ocean for the purpose of carrying the waters of the Rio Hondo and the Los Angeles River into the sea without allowing the accumulation of silt in the harbor.

When finished this channel will be 535 feet wide and about seven miles long. A strip seven blocks long has now been completed to a point within half a block of the ocean. Engineers say that in the event of a flood the water would quickly break out the block of earth at the lower end of the channel and let the waters flow into the ocean, thus saving Los Angeles and Long Beach Harbors from being again filled with silt.

Engineer Reagan declines to make an estimate regarding the ultimate cost of flood-control work in this county. He says the people can and will spend whatever they wish to spend. He does not deny that from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 could be spent during a series of years to rectify the channels of the numerous rivers and tributaries and put in retarding dams to prevent rapid runoff. The work to be done after the visible supply of money has been exhausted will probably be determined, he thinks, by the efficiency of the work now in progress.

GOOD WORK DONE.

Certain it is that the flood-control engineers have worked under serious handicaps during the last six months in order to complete the emergency work which is now in. A car shortage compelled them to haul most of the piling by truck and trailer from San Pedro to points as far distant as San Dimas and Duarte. Labor was hard to get until a few weeks ago, since when it has been plentiful.

As for the results which can already be seen, they look effective enough. River bottoms which were willow-clumped and wobbly a year ago are now clean and smooth as a park speedway, and either straight or gradually curved. The kinks have been taken out of the streams that are accused of having wrought all the havoc in rainy seasons of the past.

The chief aims of flood-control work here seem to be to slow up the flow and to straighten the channels so that the water can be kept moving. By retarding the runoff, the engineers expect to prevent the gorging of streams, and by straightening the channels they expect to make it possible for the waters to travel faster and to get out of the way of storms that are to follow.

One of the most notable pieces of protective work that has been done is in the neighborhood of Vernon. Out at the old city dump, where flood waters gnawed out hundreds of acres of valuable land a few years ago, the flood district has built a dike nearly a mile long, on Jack

SALIENT FLOOD-CONTROL FACTS.

About one-fourth of the whole flood-control project has been completed in the first six months, just concluded. It will take about two years to finish it. The most-needed work is being done first.

Chief Engineer Reagan says $1,250,000 has been spent for rights of way at Long Beach and $1,000,000 for flood control.

The original bond issue called for the expenditure of $4,450,000 in flood-control work in this county. Of this total, $2,500,000 worth of bonds have been sold.

Twenty-five hundred check dams have been built in canyons extending from Pacoima to the Little Dalton.

Seventeen thousand heavy piles have been driven thirty-three feet deep to form river-bank barriers.

Fifteen thousand steel tubes have been driven fifteen feet into the ground, supporting barriers of wire and brush.

Thirty-one miles of barriers and revetments have been built along the Los Angeles, Rio Hondo and San Gabriel rivers.

Rio Hondo channel has been straightened, scraped and reinforced from Monrovia to Jimtown bridge, a distance of seven miles.

Mile of barriers, levees and riprapping has been installed along the Los Angeles River at Vernon to protect property.

Thirty-five miles of river bottom have been freed from willow trees and other obstructions.

Scores of sharp curces have been eliminated from rivers by scraping out channels and building revetments.

Seven blocks of channel 535 feet wide have been dredged at Long Beach by the Federal government.

The government will spend $1,800,000 to dredge this channel the same width from Cerritos trestle to the sea.

The county has enough money to carry on flood-control work for two more years, Chief Engineer Reagan says.

He declares channel rectification will eventually reclaim at least 3000 acres of valuable river-bottom land.

The State is furnishing $1,000,000 to assist in carrying on extensive flood-control work in Los Angeles county.

Mr. Reagan says any amount of money people are willing to spend can profitably be put into flood-control work here.

Nearly 1000 laborers have worked six months to accomplish emergency measures for protection against floods this season.

Devil's Gate dam is being rushed to completion and tunneling is being done for the San Dimas dam.

"Americas Oldest and Finest Piano"

Chickering
Piano Co.

The Music Maker of the Future

It has been said: "If there were a Chickering Ampico in every home now containing a piano, America would be the most musical country in the world."

In every home now possessing a piano there is also the desire to hear it beautifully played—a desire seldom gratified.

The Chickering Ampico provides this ideal playing so eagerly desired and this is why it is so rapidly supplanting the ordinary piano in homes where the value of music is realized.

The Chickering Ampico appeals alike to the lover of the popular music of the day and the one who demands artistic superiority in the interpretation of the great masterpieces of music.

Its flawless performances, reproducing exactly the art of the pianist—going far beyond what any other reproducing piano can do—places the Chickering Ampico as supreme in the art of producing music by scientific means.

The cultivated concert-goer experiences in hearing the Chickering Ampico the same emotional thrill and finds in its reproductions the same ideal beauty which captivated him when hearing the living pianist from the concert stage.

The New Records Are Here!

We have just received a large shipment of the latest Victor and Columbia successes, including the popular

"Dardenella"

(Columbia Record)

Dardenella is a fox trot in which the lure of the Orient and the "pep and go" of modern American dance music are delightfully blended. It is a "whirlwind" success everywhere, and is played for Columbia by Prince's Dance Orchestra.

Other Popular New Columbia Records Include:

A2816—Freckles
Ev'rybody Calls Me Honey
Sung by Nora Bayes

A2816—When I'm Gone You'll Soon Forget
I Love You Just the Same, Sweet Adeline
Peerless Quartette

A2815—You'd be Surprised, by Irving Kaufman
Just Leave It to Me, Irving and Jack Kaufman

A2821—Tell Me, by Al Jolson
Wonderful Pal
By the new Columbia "find," Grant Stephens

A2829—Let the Rest of the World Go By. Tenor duet sung by Campbell and Burr. (Rings, tenor duet, James and Harrison.)

New Victor Records:

74599—Don Pasquale, sung by Amelita Galli-Curci.
64838—Only You, by John McCormack.
18630—Oh, What a Pal Was Mary
Nobody Knows
Played by Jos. C. Smith's Orchestra

18625—My Baby's Arms
And He'd Say Oo-la-la! Wee-Wee
Pietro and his piano-accordion

18628—Wait Till You Get Them Up in the Air, Boys
Sung by Billy Murray
Floatin' Down to Cotton Town
The American Quartette

18630—I Am Climbing Mountains, sung by Campbell and Burr.

Is There Any Question You Want Answered?

All the mysteries of distance, of time and other people's thoughts, is said to be nothing to the I-D-O Graph. The most wonderful talking board ever invented. I-D-O is said to be a direct communication between the known and unknown. Just tell I-D-O your birthday, or ask a question—but it would really be unfair to tell what it does. It is interesting and mystifying and you simply wonder and wonder. But it answers just the same. The I-D-O Graph is out-selling all other "talking boards" five to one. When you go to the Toy or Department stores, ask for the I-D-O and insist upon what you want. The moment you see the I-D-O you will want no other. For sale at all Toy and leading Department stores, in the Toy Department.

POLITICS.

THE WATCHMAN.

TREND OF POLITICAL THOUGHT AND ACTION.

By the Sentry on His Beat.

The anti-Japanese sentiment continues to grow in all sections of California. A conspicuous local development was that of the past week, when a large number of American grocers asked the City Council to pass legislation regulating the hours of foodstuff stores, so that they may not have the unfair competition of about 1000 aliens who keep open for this line of business day and night.

Senator Phelan's bill, which provides for absolute exclusion of Japanese, has been referred to a subcommittee of the United States Senate Immigration Committee, and his bill to appropriate $500,000 for more efficient guarding of national boundary lines and more rigid enforcement of the immigration laws has also gone to a subcommittee.

The growth and activities of the Anti-Asiatic League in many parts of California has become a notable feature. So far, Gov. Stephens hasn't budged in the matter of calling a special session of the State Legislature to consider anti-Japanese legislation regardless of the insistent demand for such action. Some of the leaguers want to picket the Governor's office and mansion, in order to keep his constant attention on the subject. Others are in favor of starting an initiative petition to put certain anti-Japanese features on the ballot at the next general election.

Is It Silverwood?

Mayor Snyder is about to name a new Police Commissioner to fill the vacancy created by the unlamented resignation of Francis Drake, ultra-radical union laborite. In Police Commissioner Burge the Mayor has a vigorous representative of the Puritan and church element of Los Angeles. As a foil for this commissioner it is generally predicted the Mayor will select a man of more "liberal" views. The name of F. B. Silverwood has been discussed in this connection during the last few days, and there are many who believe that the Mayor's choice will fall upon this popular merchant philanthropist and general good fellow.

As to the Sheriff.

Within the present month—January 29, in fact—the charges made against Sheriff John C. Cline in an action filed by County Counsel Hill will be heard before Superior Judge Monroe. Should the result be an ouster for Sheriff Cline, I think I may safely include Sam L. Browne, who was Cline's opponent in the last campaign; George Lyons, George K. Home, John L. Butler, W. A. Hammel, Eugene Biscailuz and Teddy Zehner in the list of candidates for the succession.

Luce is Waiting.

"I am in the same position as several others who have been mentioned as likely to be candidates for Congress in the Eleventh Congressional District. I am waiting for developments. I may be a candidate; that is about all I can say concerning the situation. I am fully satisfied that the Congressman to be elected from the Eleventh District is going to be a Republican."

This is the statement of Superior Judge Edgar A. Luce of San Diego, who has been discussed for the place now held by Congressman Kettner. Judge Luce was appointed a Superior judge about a year ago by Gov. Stephens upon Luce's return from war service.

Hugh L. Dickson of San Bernardino is making an active canvass for the Democratic nomination, and is especially trying to curry favor with the union labor voters. So far, he has no opposition in the Democratic ranks. Col. Ed Fletcher of San Diego announces that he will not be a candidate for the Republican nomination. Others who have been discussed are "in the hands of their friends."

Wood Headquarters.

Leonard Wood headquarters for Southern California have been moved from the Fay Building to a suite of rooms at 530 Douglas Building, and Col. Beecher B. Ray is in charge. The entire area of Southern California is being canvassed with Wood literature sent out from this headquarters and direct personal work is in progress for the spread of the Wood propaganda.

The Woman Delegates.

There's no sex in politics, but it is generally conceded that there must be a division between men and women in handing out the honors of seats in the Republican National Concention. California probably will send four women delegates to Chicago, and two of these doubtless will be from Southern California. Mrs. Herbert Cable and Mrs. Clara Burdette are said to be on the slate—but Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz may edge one of 'em out.

In the Seventy-fourth.

It now appears that one colored man will oppose another in the race for Assemblyman from the Seventy-fourth Assembly District. F. M. Roberts is the incumbent, and probably will strive for re-election. E. Burton Ceruti, a negro attorney of this city, will also be in the field, it is said.

Bromley is Willing.

Elmer Bromley, Assemblyman from the Seventy-third Assembly District, is willing to go back to this job for another two years, and is laying his lines to that end. No other candidate has definitely announced himself in this district, although there is a report that Billy Vacher may enter the race.

Weinstock's Successor.

One of the favorite indoor sports is guessing as to who will succeed Col. Harris Weinstock as State Market Superintendent. Locally, James P. Britt, city superintendent of markets, is an avowed candidate, and I happen to know that various Angelenos close to the Governor are working for Britt's appointment. The report is current also that A. L. Ming, member of the Board of Public Utilities, will be urged for the appointment by at least one man who was very prominent in the last campaign for Gov. Stephens. Mr. Bigelow, who was assistant to Weinstock, is said to be a candidate for his former chief's place, and San Francisco has a candidate. Britt's name goes before the Governor with numerous indorsements from Los Angeles.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of this Hamburg tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacupful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—[Advertisement.

82 Years Old and As Good as a Youngster

"Seven or eight years ago I was a very sick man. Doctors said catarrh trouble of stomach and bowels, affecting the liver and heart. For more than a year I wanted to die, but could not. Upon the advice of a friend I tried Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and although 82 years old, I now feel as good as a youngster." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—[Advertisement.

VETERANS' BIG DAY.

The school children and the men from Los Angeles who were in the army and navy during the war will play a prominent part in the reception to Gen. Pershing. Arrangements have been made to have the American Legion and other military organizations take part in the parade tomorrow morning and the committee has changed the tentative programme to provide for a mass meeting under the auspices of the Legion at Exposition Park in place of the proposed reception for the veterans at Pershing Square.

It was not expected that Gen. Pershing would make any address while here as he has usually requested that no arrangements for him to speak be made. However, he is going to have something to say to the men who were overseas with him when he meets them again at the big mass meeting in the park.

The general will be at the park at 3 o'clock. Thousands will be there to see him, but there will be a roped-off section to which only former service men and their relatives will be admitted. This part of the programme has been arranged as a personal meeting between the veterans and their former commander-in-chief.

Music will be provided by service bands, the battleship Mississippi will send its band from the harbor and the band of the Arcadia Balloon School as well. A girls' chorus of 800 voices will give selections before the general makes his address.

FLOWERS FOR GENERAL.

The parade in which the general will be the central figure will pass as many of the city's schools as possible, so as to enable the children to see the American army leader. The Lower Grade Pupils as Well as High School Students Get Recess Tomorrow.

Children of the grammar grades of the city schools, as well as students of the high schools, will have an opportunity to see Gen. Pershing when the former commander of the American Expeditionary Forces arrives in this city tomorrow. This became known yesterday after the Board of Education had received many complaints because, under previous arrangements, only high school pupils were to have been given the privilege of seeing the military chieftain.

President Helm of the board issued yesterday an order that the recess period—from 10:30 a.m. tomorrow until noon—granted for the high schols by action of the board the 15th inst. shall be extended to the lower grades. Children will be excused from school between those hours, provided the consent of their parents is obtained.

FOR A UNION STATION.

Backed by recommendations of the State Railroad Commission, the project for a union depot at the Plaza is approaching fruition. Los Angeles is now listed among the first ten great American cities and it is fitting that it should have a consolidated, metropolitan central railway depot. Scattering little stations about over the metropolitan district, blocking valuable thoroughfares with railway tracks, and retaining deadly grade crossings—these are so many blotches on the metropolis. Modern cities are not built that way.

The necessity for a union depot has long been apparent; but the choice of a suitable location has been one of the chief delays. The site is settled in a satisfactory way by the Railroad Commission's report. Adaptability and expense were the two essentials. The Plaza site is plainly the most adaptable for the purpose, and the commission has found that the expense is not prohibitive. It examined two other possible sites and found that neither was suitable.

Now comes the time for organized effort to secure the necessary legislation and permits, both here and in Washington, to get actual construction started. There are a thousand details that must be attended to, but if the force of public opinion is put back of the project minor difficulties will fade. There may be complications growing out of the unsatisfactory condition of railway finances and railway control, but the highest hurdle has already been taken.

THE EASIEST WAY.

Work more; spend less; and quit your monkey business. That's about the only way to get back to first principles.

AFTER A RECORD.

The Oklahoma woman who traded her husband for a phonograph didn't do so well after all. Her husband had a record, but now she has to buy them.

THE YOUNG IDEA.

Chicago is shy a couple of hundred school-teachers, in spite of the fact that the salaries have been raised an average of $50 a month each. There is still more money in trimming hats than in filling heads.

HAM AND EGG CANDIDATE.

Champ Clark is still toying with that Presidential ambition. It would be a good year for Champ to run. The Democratic nominee, whoever he is, is due for a beating to a queen's taste. That old-fashioned ham-and-egg menu that Mother Clark serves to friends of the family in Washington would not save James Beauchamp.

UNITED THANKS.

If the New York Assembly has its way Thanksgiving Day will be permanently fixed for November 11—the day of the great armistice. The consolidation is appropriate and has heretofore been urged, but November is a rather gloomy month in the East, anyhow, and two days of thanks and gratitude might serve to make it more endurable.

MAKE IT UNANIMOUS.

The votes of almost 160,000 college students on the question of the ratification of the League covenant have been recorded and tabulated. Through the efforts of Senator Hitchcock the returns have now been made a part of the Congressional Record. It would seem that the Senators who have been arguing and holding back for a referendum of the people would be ready to read this signpost and behave. A Representative who will promise to honestly carry out the will of his people should have it sufficiently indicated to him when the votes of less than one-tenth of the students of America are recorded against a League of Nations. Of the more than 158,000 votes recorded over 110,000 were for unqualified ratification or immediate compromise. Less than 28,000 would hold out for the Lodge reservations. In the face of straws like this every delay of the Senate in getting together on a sensible compromise is an affront to their constituency.

CIVIC PRIDE.

The use of prizes to stimulate civic growth has been decided upon by the people of Marion, Kan., and they have raised a fund of $50,000 to that end. The list includes a purse of $10,000 to the largest industry locating in the city within the current year. There are also prizes of from $1000 to $2500 for the best examples in home-building and the greatest improvements in a city block. There are even $500 purses for the homeliest man and woman locating within the town during the year. Marion also craves celebrities. Prizes of $1250 each are offered for the greatest author, artist and musician who shall make Marion his or her home during 1920. The desire is to swell the population to 25,000 at once and even poets will be accepted as legal tender to that end. Possibly our Chamber of Commerce might think up something along similar lines, but it would seem that we had celebrities enough. A bonus for a few plain people might help.

"TO BE OR NOT TO BE"—AMERICANS.

ARE the people of this country to be unadulterated Americans, or are we to be a MIXED MULTITUDE OF MONGRELS? "To be or not to be"—Americans, that is the question. It becomes more insistent every day.

We are now in exactly the case of a missionary who returned to this fair land with some harmless-looking samples of serpent eggs. The good man laid the samples in an uncovered little box in his library. These innocent-looking curios were shown to guests who called at the good man's library. But one day the missionary came into his warm and cozy library to find young serpents wriggling among his books and on his study table. Having seen their like in India, he perceived that they were exceedingly venomous. They were dangerous reptiles which he had brought over under the eggshell covering of innocence. But the missionary was obliged to exterminate the poisonous pests at once.

Our immigration law is that missionary. Like the missionary our American spirit has been sincere, kind, neighborly and brotherly. We have been too unselfish to wish to enjoy our blessings of freedom and opportunity only among ourselves. We wanted to share God-given privileges with all mankind. In this spirit of American magnanimity we sent out the invitation to all peoples, languages and tongues, saying, "Whosoever will may come." People from overseas came by swarms. Year in and year out they came, day and night, winter and summer. Many of these became real American citizens. Many of them took with solemn sincerity the oath of allegiance. Every land on the continent, every country on the globe has made some valuable contribution to the American republic. We are not forgetting that our discoverer himself was a "foreigner." The Pilgrim Fathers themselves were "foreigners" who came here to be Americans through life and in death.

II.

BUT among these swarms of immigrants, Europe shipped over some serpent's eggs. They were warmed in our genial atmosphere and the serpents of anarchy were hatched. Kind-hearted Uncle Sam permitted these hatched reptiles of anarchy to breed and brood till lately he has discovered with consternation that the venomous serpents are wriggling among his libraries in the form of German propaganda books. Some of them, paid with American money, disseminated their Prussian poison from professional chairs. Munsterberg was one of these. But there were others. And one of the most important things that Uncle Sam can do educationally is to sweep American schoolrooms clean of Prussianism, sensualistic socialism, Sinn Feinism, Bolshevism, disloyalty and anarchistic industrialism.

Your patient Uncle Sam, more indulgent in this particular matter than wise—in allowing the serpent's eggs to be shipped over here—is now getting gloriously on the job of sending the serpents back to the European nest in which they were originally laid. How much better and wiser it would have been to have some limitation on our immigration law which would have prevented the shipping to these shores of the serpents and their eggs. Many a free-and-easy citizen has locked the barn after the horse was stolen. But we Americans have a wise proverb which says, "An ounce of prevention is worth more than a pound of cure." Hereafter in our immigration laws we must practice the wisdom of this proverb. IT IS ESSENTIALLY UN-AMERICAN TO ALLOW PERSONS TO COME TO AMERICA WHO DO NOT INTEND TO BE AMERICANS. "To be or not to be"—Americans in our immigration laws—that is the question. Let us make it hard to become Americans, but easy to be Americans after they become.

Let us put up the price of the privilege of being an American citizen, but let us increase the value of being one. Let every immigrant's ticket read, "The moment I cease to live and move and have my being in Americanism, that moment I forfeit my American citizenship? Let America be known as "The hermit nation" against every form of Prussianism, Red-Russianism, sovietism, syndicalism, De Valera Sinn Feinism and assassination, I.W.W.-ism, and of every other brand of inhumanity and lawlessness. Let America be known as the neighborhood of nations.

III.

IF AMERICA is better than some other countries, let the people who come in here pay the price of being better people after they come. This is no blood-and-thunder country for gun-toters. It is plain that we have some bluffers among us who think it is. And they put their thinking into practice. And again and again we are forced to witness the awful spectacle that "murder will out." In view of the well-established fact that "murder will out," let us put the murderers in and keep them in. Uncle Sam is not in the business of prize fights or bull fights, but in the beautiful and big business of making American citizens who shall be increasingly useful to themselves and to all the world.

"To be or not to be"—Americans—"That is the question." It is evident that thousands of persons have come from overseas to America simply and solely to suck the juice out of the plum. Europe vomited them over here out of her sick stomach. They were literally spewed into our civilization. This is not pleasant truth. But it is important truth. Our Americanism—and, thank God, we Americans still possess the eternal principles of Americanism—but our Americanism needs pruning, fumigation and expurgation. The Christ said: "I will thoroughly PURGE MY FLOOR." That is what the oriental harvester does. He gives the winnowing winds a chance to blow across and through the wheat. That process purges the wheat of darnell, cockle and chaff. America is just now suffering from overmuch chaff. But hope is in the vibrant air, for the winnowing winds are blowing a lot of the chaff back over the sea. We must have more wheat and less chaff. We Americans must clean our fields and then keep them clean. We have for long been too careless of the Russian thistle and the Prussian nightshade. Whosoever will, let him be an American. But whosoever will not be an American, let him be something else, but let him be somewhere else. Send reds and Prussians and Sinn Feiners back where they belong. Fellow-citizens, that necessity is now upon us. A diseased democracy is no more safe than any other diseased body. Cancer is of slow growth and insidious growth, but it kills. Anarchy kills. That is its chief function. It is the deadly cancer which is now running its virus through the veins of this American commonwealth. We are not stampeded nor scared, but we are intelligent enough to be concerned. Americanism must root up these un-American weeds at once. Weeds and corn cannot both flourish at once in the same field. The choice as to which we shall have and keep is now before us.

IV.

JUST as the war with England and Germany was commencing we walked down the street with a poor fool of a German who had lived in this country for nearly twenty years. We expressed regret that Germany was forcing war on the world. The German at once replied in guttural: "Too bad, but now dat it has begun, I hope England gets it in de neck." A short time after this episode we learned on his own word that this German had been in this country nearly twenty years, but had never taken out naturalization and citizenship papers. All these years he had been eagerly taking the loaves and fishes from Uncle Sam's generous hands, but he had with studious secrecy avoided everything which would bind him to any sort of loyalty to America or her flag. There are numbers of this Prussianized German yet in this land. HE IS CONSPICUOUS IN THE CAMPAIGN FOR HIRAM JOHNSON FOR PRESIDENT. He does not belong here. He belongs to Germany. After America had been forced to go to war with Germany we were in conversation with a Prussian who had fought on the Union side in our Civil War. He had lived in this land for fifty years. He said, "When Mr. Wilson asks us Germans to join England to fight against Germany, he is asking too much and we won't do it." The Prussian serpent of militarism dies hard, even on American soil. "To be or not to be"—AMERICANS. THAT IS THE QUESTION.

THE BUSINESS LETTER.

The importance of the business letter should claim the attention of the efficiency experts. Many a firm is seriously handicapped by its unskillful, ill-composed business correspondence. Many a first-class business man is a very inferior letter-writer, and yet will insist upon dictating his own correspondence, often thereby representing his firm in the least favorable light.

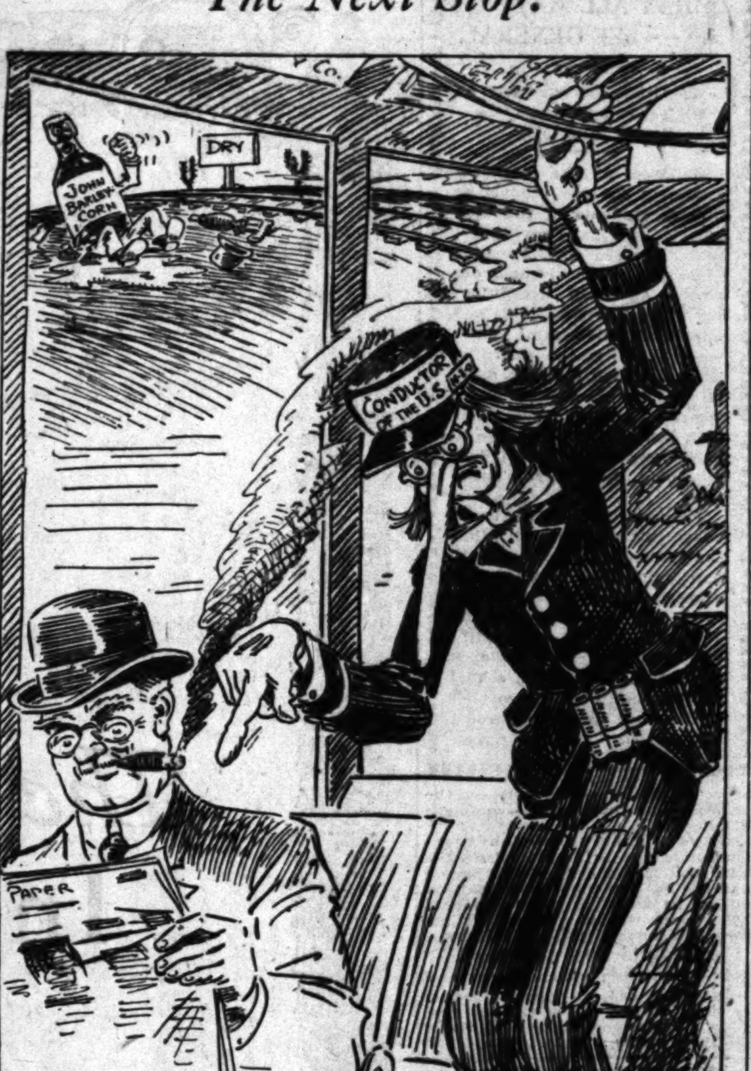
A good letter should be concise, brief, strictly to the point, couched in polite language, irreproachable grammar and carefully covering every necessary detail. Yet the majority of business letters leave out essential details, omit necessary dates, prices, measurements or queries, and almost always err on the side of windy verbosity and vain repetition. It is well to treat the average business correspondent as an intelligent being with a mind of his own, yet many letters appear to start with the presumption that they are addressed to a semi-imbecile for whom the most labored explanations will be in order.

Most American business letters are either too ingratiating and toadyish or else go to the other extreme and lack all the courteous graces. English business letters, on the other hand, usually err on the side of chilly formality. French business letters are nearest the ideal, generally combining practical elucidation with charming courtesy.

Since so much modern business is done by mail, that firm possessing an expert correspondent enjoys a valuable asset.

Another thing, one of the uses to which a high school ought not to be put is a matrimonial bureau. Marriage has no place in the curriculum.

The Next Stop.



ARE PARENTS A FAILURE?

Scholastic control of the health, hygiene, manners, morals and dress of children is gradually spreading. Modern education is now deemed to include all these departments, and parental control seems to be waning, while official discipline is gaining slowly but surely in power. "Official education" obviously has a poor opinion of parents—parents once so all-powerful and infallible.

We hear a great deal about innovations in the schools—about medical supervision, by which parents are notified of their immediate duties anent hygiene and medical attention; about dress reforms and official edicts as to certain types of clothing; of various forms of compulsory education, as in the new ruling that young girls must take courses in home-keeping and motherhood. All over the country parents are being called to order. Mothers' centers for baby inspection and advice are being founded everywhere.

Long Beach, for instance, has now undertaken to provide the graduating dresses for the girls, insisting upon uniformity and economy, no matter what the circumstances of the parents. Riverside recently held a stocking inquisition and put a ban on frisky patterns. A recent case in the courts in Los Angeles brought forth the fact that a teacher had been suspended chiefly because the blond hair and short dresses of her own three daughters were deemed immoral.

Two years ago the Los Angeles schools initiated a system of supervising the home duties of children. Cards were provided upon which the parent was required to note exactly what "chores" children performed at home and how well they did them.

These are but a few indications showing which way the wind is blowing. Dozens more could be cited. Juvenile Court authorities invariably blame the parents for the delinquencies of their offspring. Articles flood the magazines with advice to parents on child-rearing and training. Didactic editorials by syndicated writers warn parents through the newspapers of their faults and failings.

Altogether, one way and another, mother and father are distinctly at a discount. Reproachful criticism and stern advice meet them on all sides.

But so far ma and pa seem to have taken the affront lying down. Parental protests are rare and far between. There has certainly been no sign of organized resistance. Even the Parent-Teacher Associations are largely under scholastic control and aid and abet the new attitude.

What does this parental meekness imply? Surely all the parents are not preoccupied with lost love suits, divorce proceedings, will contests, murder trials, million-dollar drives and Japanese exclusion.

Yet we of the older generation, who recall the awful infallibility of mother and father, cannot but gasp at the humble acquiescence of the modern ma and pa under this barrage of indictment. Does conscience thus make cowards of them all or has the insidious change been so gradual that they do not recognize their lost influence?

Father's laxity we can somewhat understand. He always did leave a good deal to mother in these matters. But what of mother, with her modern vote, her modern clubs, her modern political power, her plethora of attained rights, privileges, equalities and superiorities? How comes she to rest meek and unprotesting against this insidious undermining of her family prestige? Is she really content to provide the baby and let the educational authorities do the rest?

Sarcely a week passes but what little Johnny brings home a note from school pointing out some department in which mamma has been remiss, or handing her some advice for her future guidance. Yet not so very long ago the shoe was on the other foot. In those days principals and teachers could count upon a parental call-down almost any day, and it would have been a brave pedagogue indeed who essayed to include the home in his sphere of influence.

But now the next generation bids fair to be the product of official educational incubation, of scholastic, bottle-fed offspring. Breast-fed infants and home-trained children are equally out of date.

It remains to be seen whether better character-building will evolve from the new regime. Parental responsibility either way will be insignificant. Where the great men of the past delighted in raising their glass of sinful nectar in the reverential toast—

"Gentlemen, my mother!"

the great men of the next generation will doubtless raise a glass of denatured cider to the glad official toast of—

"Gentlemen, my Board of Education!"

And drink it in water that has been boiled.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

OUR WANDERING BOY.

Since nations ceased their throwing fits, their hands in blood imbruing, I often think of Eitel Fritz and wonder what he's doing. They bring me news of old Ex Bill, from o'er the briny billows; he's in the woods, already still, a-whacking elms and willows; the sycamore he roundly hits and saws it with emotion; but not a word of Eitel Fritz comes o'er the oozy ocean. Oh, Eitel Fritz, in olden times, you made me rather weary; you were embalmed in German rhymes and German legends beery. The favorite of men and dames, you spent your lifetime maying, with glee pursued your giddy games before the grand stand playing. Of all good bets you were the best, one issue that was vital; and now we hear of all the rest, but not a word of Eitel. The Kronprinz Willyum on his isle cuts up some dismal capers, and now and then, with sickly smile, speaks pieces for the papers. We hear of divers busted dukes, and skates of princely title, and Hindenburg and other flukes, but not a word from Eitel. Oh, Eitel Fritz, you giddy boy, once sassy, vain and bossy, does life still seem a round of joy, or is it total-lossy?

WALT MASON.

THE COMMERCIAL WORLD.

I made up my mind that I needed a new shaving brush and dropped in at the druggist's.

I made my wish known to the spruce clerk and was led to a brilliantly-lighted corner where he strewed the glass top of the counter with an array of lather creators.

Not being overparticular I selected a harmless-looking specimen and inquired lightly as I dipped for my slender roll:

"What's the damage?"

"They have gone up a little in price, I believe," observed the clerk as he consulted a typewritten list. "Yes—those were $14.33 and now they are $17.23."

"And why," I inquired, "not make them $17.76? It would seem more patriotic."

"Now you are joking," said the clerk very cleverly, and with an indulgent smile. "They are high in price, but of course that's natural. You see, the prices of labor and wood and glue and strings and things are all higher. And it is believed that the German and Austrian and Bulgarian generals are all shaving now to escape recognition—to say nothing of the Russians."

"But the Bolsheviki are growing full beards," I suggested.

"I hadn't heard of that," said the clerk. "Shall I wrap it up?"

"No, I'll pass it up!" was my response, as I left.—[Cartoons Magazine.

Between feeding the furnace and the fam'ly the average man back East must be having his troubles these days.

THE LANCER.

Untraveled and uninformed people ought to be severely edited when they are making enthusiastic statements about their city, their State or their country. They make the rest of us look so silly.

For instance, those new lights on Broadway. Highly creditable. But an ebullient afternoon contemporary flatteringly assures us that Broadway, Los Angeles, is now "the most brilliantly-lighted highway in the world." Well, it isn't. It compares very favorably with the other fifty most brilliantly-lighted highways in the world, which can be found scattered all the way from a London suburb called Brixton, with its "Electric avenue," to Theater street, Yokohama, in Japan.

Two years ago I heard an enthusiast assuring a big local meeting that Los Angeles would shortly have the most wonderful harbor in the world. It sounded inspiring. But soon afterwards the government officials who came here on an inspection assured us that we really had the makings of a useful harbor if we pretty well made it over and spent a few more millions on it. In the meantime Sydney, Hongkong, San Francisco, Liverpool, Southampton, New York, Kiel and a few dozen other places all have the "finest harbor in the world."

It is the same with pipe organs. Every new pipe organ that is installed in every theater in every ambitious city is "the largest in the world." Denver has one, so have we, so has Westminster Abbey.

The Colorado publicity writer raises a smile on every page of his booklet. Denver, you will please to know, is the most remarkable industrial city in the world. The Colorado national parks are the finest in the world.

But when certain innocently-enthusiastic publicists start declaring that the United States had the most moral army and navy in the world and that this fair country has the purest and noblest women in the world it is time for some self-respecting patriot to apply the gag. It is that sort of talk that makes us look thoroughly ridiculous.

As a matter of fact, we average up fairly well, take us by and all, but we are just as human as the rest of the world—and they know it.

A nice American lady writer, after reading Arnold Bennett's "Pretty Lady," has emerged with the delightful deduction that English women are far less moral than American women. As a matter of fact "the pretty lady" in that story was French, but that does not alter the fact that every American city, even Los Angeles, has its quota of pretty ladies, even if the lady writer has failed to become acquainted with the fact. There was, for instance, the Thaw case. . . .

Ah, yes, and Judge Crail is quoted as declaring that "Every husband owes a good wife a debt he can never repay. The woman gives up everything to make the husband a home. The debt is forever against the man."

That is a profound and awful edict. A perpetual mortgage that can never, never be raised. It would almost seem advisable to marry a wife who was just a little less than "good" under the circumstances.

I can imagine nothing more exacting and irritating than that "woman who has given up everything to make the husband a home." Fancy life with a conscious sacrificial martyr!

Fortunately for the average husband, the lady has rarely "given up" half as much as she gains, and the more satisfactory the wife the more would she readily acknowledge it.

The judge's statement cuts both ways. I offer an amendment to the effect that "every wife owes a good husband a debt she can never repay. The man gives up a deuce of a lot, if not everything, to make the wife a home. But he would be a churl and a brute if he harped on it."

What's this about Tom Mix and a lady bandit! Says she robbed his home of several thousand dollars' worth of jewelry, the evidence thereto being a lady's handkerchief and a few tresses of golden hair. Well, after all, there is of course no reason why our gentlemen theatrical stars should not be in on this form of publicity. Still, it sounds kind of copy-cattish.

But what was she doing leaving those golden tresses behind? She must, indeed, have got into a strenuous "Mix-up."

A weary citizen is suggesting that the police lay off the purity arrests for a bit and go after the house thieves for a change. These spectacular raids on Turkish baths and captured sinners are such small consolation for looted homes, and "no arrests have yet been made." In short, he would like to see the robbers tackled instead of the rubbers, as it were.

Quite right, too. When you come to think of it, it does not worry the average citizen half so much to know that a few moral crooks are robbing each other at poker parties held in the sacred precincts of Turkish baths as it does to have one's home looted with impunity at the rate of half a dozen a day. Even if the rascals accompany their poker parties with some wood-alcohol refreshment on the side we should not really care. But we do get kind of touchy when we merely furnish new publicity for the feared and famous porch-climber who swipes our treasures with impunity.

When Anne Morgan was being entertained at the home of our nicest hostess 'tis said she gave her talk on devasted France in French before half a hundred of our social elect. And it lasted over an hour.

The strain must have been awful. Fancy maintaining an interested, intelligent pose of vivacious sympathy all that time and never giving oneself away! But perhaps I jump to mean conclusions. They were probably all excellent French scholars. Oh, surely.

If You Possess "What Half the World Is Seeking"---a Home in Golden Californi

you will feel the winsomeness of

This Last Week in Barker Bros.' Month of Many Savings

THE MAIL ORDER DEPARTMENT serves out-of-town customers personally, through friendly letters and graphic photographs—with a sincere understanding of their tastes and longings to begin with. Please write us for merchandise, suggestions or any help we can give you.

When you awaken Sunday morning in a fragrant, sparkling bath of winter sunshine or hear the promising matin of a kind, world-washing rain upon your "vine and fig tree," aren't you GLAD you live in Southern California?

SOME PERSONS declare there is need for a new motive in industry —"public service" instead of "private profit."

Ignoring entirely any consideration of that idea as practical or otherwise, the mere suggestion of it is interesting.

Certainly no business of any account can result in private profit unless it has "Public Service" for the wide plank in its platform.

It is often difficult to analyze impelling motives—to see where one begins and another ends — and to know which deserves the greatest credit when success is made.

But the main motive is to be happy ourselves and want to make others happy; to have a vision and long to share it, for visions grows brighter when many eyes behold them.

And then, whether ours is the business of running a store or of raising a child, of furnishing a million homes or of making one a paradise, our investment will pay large dividends.

(Signed) W. A. Barker. (Signed) Chas. H. Barker.

And when you listen to the percolator chuckling among the birds and ferns and general festivity of your breakfast room, aren't you glad you have A HOUSE in Southern California?

And when you sink your head back against the cushions of your big "man's" chair and lift your legs luxuriously to lounging height upon an ottoman of size and soundness, don't you thank "whatever gods there be" that YOUR family isn't begging for a home in this fair country as so many families are this year?

It's a bad thing to be smugly self-satisfied about the c tions of your life, of course, but there IS a thrill in kn that you have the inalienable right to something very w ful—such as your home.

And there's a consciousness of responsibility—a feeling you have a blessing to be used and made the most of. A lightful feeling!—because, of course, you WANT to your home more beautiful and more successful, and it is right to do so NOW.

January has been so full of unusual values in furniture home-appointments that it earned the title "MONTH MANY SAVINGS"; the allurement lives—for one more!—at Barker Bros.'

"Heart-to-Heart with Homemakers"

—might be used as the motto for Barker Bros.' LAMPSHADE SCHOOL.

It is far more than just a place to learn the art of making shades for your own lamps. Here women with homes drop in to hear what's new in table runners, to see what sort of cushions other women are concocting and what type of lamp shades are preferred this season.

The Designers who preside over this cheerful "needle shop" of ours are quick to grasp ideas and work out ways to employ them most effectively; their counsel and aid are free—and graciously given.

Surely there is inspiration here for any woman who loves the things that make a house a home—and wants the fun of making them herself!

The Immemorial Charm of a Good "Swap" mingles with the exhilaration of a "change" in the sensations of doing business with Barker Bros.' EXCHANGE AND BARGAIN BASEMENT. But the most fascinating part of all is the joy of gaining a better, more congenial home. The Exchange Department will accept your undesired furniture and credit its value to the price of the new furnishings you select at Barker Bros.'

A Cabinet adds Convenience and Eclat

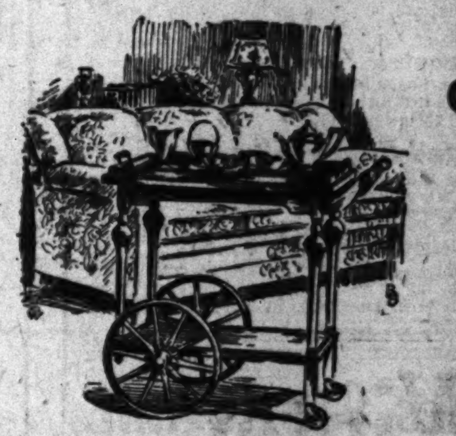
—to the dining room that's bare or lacking in distinction. This week—the last of Barker Bros.' MONTH OF MANY SAVINGS—a few good-looking Cabinets and other individual articles of dining room furniture remain to be chosen for your home at especially friendly prices.

In addition we have a number of sets of admirable Dining Tables—in different finishes of walnut and mahogany, with Chairs in harmonizing patterns—that are marvelously well-worth seeing at this week's saving prices.



Gracefully Begging to be of Service

—a group of smart, well-tailored Tea Wagons stand now with yellow "Special" tickets, in a corner of a certain floor Bros.'

Surely they will not wait here long! And if the style of of them appeals to you, we hope you'll be here early enough it for its spirit of hospitality and the steps it will save you in

One Week to Buy---but Many Weeks to Wear!

The "snuggly" wee Coats and warm winter Hats that small folks will find comfortable for several months to come may be chosen, during this last good week of January, at very satisfactory savings in the Apparel Section of Barker Bros.' Children's Store.

School Frocks for little girls, in many pleasing patterns, ideal for immediate wear, also are offered now at special prices.

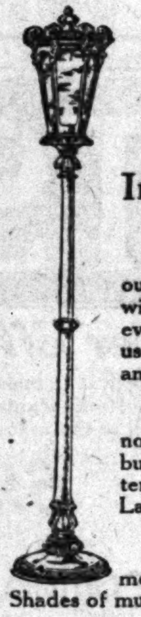
Given an Instinct for Home-Making and "Some Pretty Stuff for Hangings"

—a woman can work cheerful miracles within the limits of four walls.

For this last week of this great MONTH OF MANY SAVINGS, the Drapery Section is rejoiced to have a versatile variety of popular Fabrics that can be offered homemakers at reductions most appealing.

The wherewithal to work that feminine touch may well be chosen here this week!

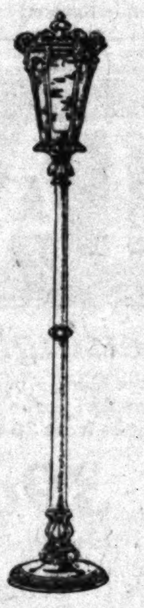
New Cretonnes, Scrims, Voiles and other materials, as well as sumptuous Cushions, snappy Couch Covers, etc., are included in the Clearance.



Final Reductions Upon All the Beautiful Wares

In Our Picture and Gift Dept.!

(Mezzanine Floor)



Beginning February first, this department of our store will assume a higher level—that is, it will devote itself more earnestly, if possible, than ever before to the success of homes through the use of correct decorative touches, lamps, pictures and objects of art.

A complete readjustment of stock is going on now and this week will be the last opportunity to buy lovely lamps of all types—Torcheres, Lanterns, Bridge Lamps, Table Lamps and Floor Lamps—at really substantial savings.

There is a new shipment of brand new Parchment Shades now in the clearance, as well as Silk Shades of much charm, well-chosen and artistically designed.

Sheet Pictures, Framed Pictures and Picture Frames—in addition to Mirrors, Vases and other objects of fine art—are conspicuous among the lovely wares of Barker Bros.' Art and Gift Department—

All at Savings of 10 to 33⅓ Per Cent!

Some Savings Upon Living Room Appointments

are apparent in the particularly agreeable prices that will be noticed by those who view the beauties of our Living Room Furniture Floors this week!

Quality-Reed is Like the Southland Sunshine

It's a "year-round" proposition. And during the last week of the successful MONTH OF MANY SAVINGS, there will be some well-formed, pretty Rockers, comfortably reduced in price.

If You Have a Bedroom Ready for Re-Furnishing

—it may be that the suite you want for it is among those specially priced this at Barker Bros.'

Bedroom Furniture should, above all things, be well built, refined and and all ours is, no matter what its price.

Savings, when we offer them, are sincere—and the furniture itself is and friendly.

A New Collection of Correct Axminst deserves a mention among the items of interest in today's brief story from Department.

Also new arrivals have augmented our assortments of Rugs in the size 8 by "ten feet six"—a popular size that has been scarce.

We have a wonderful stock of superb, fine Wiltons.

And there are some snappy bargains THIS WEEK in good-looking Axminster Rugs.

SIMS HAS NAVY'S SOLID SUPPORT.

Officer of Our Sea Forces Applauds Expôse of Sinn Fein Treason and of Medal Award Absurdities; Daniels Regime an "Era of Demoralization."

BY A DISTINGUISHED OFFICER OF THE U. S. NAVY.

The navy stands solidly behind Admiral Sims in his condemnation of the Irishmen or Sinn Feiners who attacked our gallant bluejackets in the streets of Cork. And in defending our men he also paid a high tribute to Irish womanhood and to all loyal Irishmen who fought against Germany. The officers and men of the destroyer flotilla are delighted to hear the truth made known and they would hail with joy the opportunity to testify to the cold facts so courageously stated by their commander-in-chief.

Of course, it is not at all surprising that Daniel O'Connell and the Irish National Bureau should have the castiron effrontery to demand that Admiral Sims should be reprimanded by the Navy Department. They doubtless expect that this administration, in its fear of the Irish vote, might be intimated and that Admiral Sims would be called down in obedience to the dictates. And no doubt Mr. O'Connell knew that it has been the policy of the Navy Department for the past six years to DENY FREE SPEECH IN THE NAVY and autocratically to throttle naval officers of high rank, even when they were patriotically working to make the navy ready and efficient for war. He may have recalled the humiliating and amazing fact that Mr. Daniels refused to permit Admiral Fiske to address the Commercial Club on preparedness and that Mr. Daniels told the admiral: "You cannot say that two and two make four!" Why, then, should not Admiral Sims be reprimanded for telling the truth? Why should a mere admiral have the right to say anything about anything, without first asking permission of the Secretary of the Navy, who rules like a Czar? Admiral Rodman, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet, recently discovered that he could not make a little after-dinner speech without submitting his notes to Mr. Daniels to be vised. Comment is unnecessary.

NARROW ESCAPE.

The whole navy knows that Admiral Sims told the exact truth concerning the attacks on our bluejackets in Cork, and the motives that actuated the Irishmen who made these assaults. And it is also true that many naval officers fully expected that Sims would be reprimanded for doing his duty in this case. They are delighted that he may be spared, but they have reason to feel that he had a very narrow escape when they read Mr. Daniels's comments as follows: "Admiral Sims was granted permission to write a book on his experiences in Europe. The department did not censor it and is not responsible for any statement in it."

An analysis of Mr. Daniels's comment will prove it to be one of the most beautiful examples of political and official side-stepping on record. It is perfectly plain that the Secretary was afraid to come out in support of Sims and in defense of our bluejackets. He was thinking of the Irish vote, so he gladly passed the buck to Sims. Fortunately, the admiral will not be scared. He has a habit of hitting straight from the shoulder and he is afraid of nobody.

Sims did not condemn loyal Irishmen. He praised the Irish who fought with us against Germany. But he did condemn the Irishmen who were traitors and slackers; who intrigued with Germany; who compelled the assignment of two or three British divisions to duty in Ireland instead of having this force on the battle front in France, fighting with our boys against Ludendorff; who compelled Sims to withdraw some of his officers and men from the fight against the submarine and to station them to protect our naval stations in Ireland against attacks by traitorous Sinn Feiners.

OUR ENEMIES.

Sims was right to condemn these men, and the so-called Irish-Americans who attack Sims and who applaud the Sinn Feiners—enemies of the United States—should be themselves condemned by all true-blue Americans.

If the people of the United States can't tell the difference between an ally and an enemy in war, it is about time that Sims should tell them. You can't fool the navy. The officers and men of the navy know a traitor or a slacker or an enemy when they see him. And they have no use for such people. If politicians are afraid to condemn certain enemies of the United States, the navy will be glad to perform the duty. The navy stands squarely behind Sims.

It is fortunate that a commission of loyal Irishmen who fought with us against Germany in this war has arrived in this country to combat the propaganda of De Valera and his retainers, who attacked and vilified the officers and men of our navy on duty in Ireland. De Valera has himself publicly justified the attacks upon our bluejackets in Cork, and in doing so he cast scandalous reflections upon Irish womanhood.

Who is this De Valera, anyway? Who is this long-legged, cadaverous Spanish-Irishman who is running around the United States trying to squeeze money out of our people? Where was he during the war? What side was he on? Where did he and his "staff" do their fighting? What battles did he help to win? It is about time that these questions were answered. If the people take no interest in this matter, the navy is most decidedly interested.

STARTLING EXAMPLES.

There are two incidents in connection with this subject which deserve special mention and special condemnation. At a meeting of the Sinn Fein faction in New York City the name of Admiral Sims was hissed and the name of De Valera was cheered! And at a "hearing" before the Congressional committee on the subject of the recognition of the "Irish republic," one of the De Valera faction declared amid cheers and the waving of the Irish flag that he would welcome war between the United States and Great Britain if it would serve to make De Valera president of Ireland!

This spectacle is presented for the consideration of the intelligent and loyal people of the United States: Sims is hissed, De Valera is cheered, and war with England is openly invited in the interests of a faction that virtually fought or intrigued against us in the war with Germany! Naturally, the navy would like to know what it can expect. The navy would like to be prepared for the next war, and know who its enemy is to be. Must the navy fight under the banner of De Valera against the British Grand Fleet, with which it served against Germany in the war zone? Will "Admiral" O'Connell of the Irish national bureau take command, hoist the Irish flag and lead our naval forces into battle against our late friend, Admiral Beatty?

BRITAIN'S SERVICE.

Of course, our people fully realize that the British navy protected the whole world, including the United States, in the early years of the war, and transported and convoyed more than half of the army we sent to Europe. But the civil power is supreme in the United States, and the navy obeys orders. And so the navy must meekly accept the situation when Admiral Sims is hissed and when his officers and men are insulted. The army and navy of the United States must be ready to serve under "Admiral" O'Connell and "Field Marshal" De Valera in the war against our late ally, against the country that saved the world for three long years while we were "too proud to fight."

Verily, we need more men in this country like Mayor Hanson, Gov. Coolidge and Admiral Sims, who have the courage to speak out against enemies from within, enemies who would gladly embroil us in war for their own selfish ends.

RIGHT ABOUT MEDALS.

And Admiral Sims is right in the medal question, too. Who is the best judge of the work done by our Liquor for Exhibits in U. S. Trials to be Kept in Steel Vault.

U. S. Commissioner Long yesterday solved the question of what he shall do with the liquor that in varying quantities makes up the exhibits in pending cases, by arranging to have the stuff stored in the burglar-proof safe in the office of the clerk of the Federal court.

The safe is lined with steel sides, and it is believed that the evaporation of which much complaint has been made can be avoided. There is enough wine, brandy and whisky on hand to stock up a 'regulation' blind' pig.

OPEN NOSTRILS! END A COLD OR CATARRH

How To Get Relief When Head and Nose are Stuffed Up.

Count fifty! Your cold in head or catarrh disappears. Your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more snuffling, hawking, mucous discharge, dryness or headache, no struggling for breath at night.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothing and healing the swollen or inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable. Relief is sure.—[Advertisement.

Jiffy-Cup Free

An Aluminum Measuring Cup

Also Dessert Molds

Send us two trade-marks from Jiffy-Jell packages—the JJ circle trade-marks on the front. That will certify that you use Jiffy-Jell.

We will mail you this half-pint cup. It is an exact cup for use with any recipe. And two fillings with water dissolve one package of Jiffy-Jell exactly right.

11 Other Molds

With the Jiffy-Cup we will send you pictures of eleven other molds — dessert and salad molds. All those molds are sent free to users of Jiffy-Jell.

We want you to have them. We want Jiffy-Jell served attractively.

It's Real Fruit

Jiffy-Jell means a real-fruit dessert. It is not like the old-style gelatine dainties.

The flavors come in liquid form, in bottles. They are juices of crushed fruit concentrated.

Jiffy-Jell has a wealth of fruit flavor. We use half a pineapple, for instance, to flavor a pint dessert. The Pineapples are crushed in Hawaii—fruit too ripe to ship.

It is real fruit, not mere flavor, that folks like and need.

Serve It Often

People need fruit daily. Jiffy-Jell supplies it at a trifling cost, and you make it in an instant.

A delicious serving of rare fruit-flavored dessert costs you less than one small apple.

Serve it often—three times weekly. Winter is when people need it. And every serving seems like a fruit-time dainty. Cut out this cup offer so you won't forget.

TO WELCOME GEN. PERSHING

Whole City to Turn Out to Do Honor to War Chief Here Tomorrow.

principals of other schools outside the route selected will march their classes to some point where the parade will pass so that a large number of the schools will be able to take part.

As far as the children are concerned it is going to be a floral welcome. The committee in charge will provide every child with a flower to be thrown into Gen. Pershing's automobile as he passes.

The other features of the programme will be official. Gen. Pershing will be here only one day, although he will be in the city for a short time on Thursday on his way back from San Diego. But he will be here on that day only long enough to take an automobile for Pasadena, where he will have luncheon as the guest of the city and then take his train for Phoenix, Ariz.

Gen. Pershing spent Saturday in San Francisco as the guest of Lieut.-Gen. Hunter Liggett, commander of the Western Department. Late this afternoon, his special car will leave the northern city attached to the regular train, and arrive here at 8:30 tomorrow morning.

OFFICIAL WELCOME.

A committee headed by Mayor Snyder and including other city and county officials, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association and Col. Ira Flavel, commandant of the Arcadia Balloon School, will meet the general and his staff at the train and extend the city's official welcome about 9 o'clock. Following a brief ceremoney, the entire party will go in automobiles to the balloon school, where Gen. Pershing will make an inspection.

The return trip will be made so as to arrive at the Broadway tunnel before 11 o'clock when the parade is to start. The automobiles will return by way of Huntington drive and North Broadway and will take their place in line with the other cars, containing representatives of various civic and patriotic organizations. The parade will form at the tunnel and will go along Broadway to Seventh street, Seventh to Hope, Hope to Washington, Washington to Figueroa and thence to Exposition Park.

At the park the student training organizations from the various schools will be massed for an inspection by Gen. Pershing and following the ceremony the General will be taken to the Alexandria Hotel for the Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

All available reservations for the luncheon were taken early in the week, many of those who failed to get tickets for the banquet tomorrow night contenting themselves reluctantly with attending the luncheon. Besides Gen. Pershing and his staff, other military and naval officers have been invited as guests of the chamber.

TO VISIT STUDIO.

Immediately after the luncheon, the General will go to Exposition Park for the Legion's mass meeting and greeting from former soldiers. When this is concluded, the party will be taken in automobiles for a trip to the world of motion pictures, and Gen. Pershing and his staff will be given a close-up view of how big feature plays are produced, and will see leading actors and actresses in action before the camera. Arrangements have been made for him to visit the Goldwyn Studios at Culver City.

The banquet to be given tomorrow night by the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association promises to be the most successful of the annual affairs ever held by that organization. It will be in many respects a military affair and the patriotic motive will be prominent in the decorations.

With Gen. Pershing are nine staff officers. They are Brig.-Gens. Fox Connor, George V. H. Moseley, and Malin Craig; Cols. George C. Marshall, Jr., Richard H. Williams, John G. Quekmeyer and Henry Breuwkes; Lieut.-Col. Edward Bowditch, Capt. John T. Schneider and one secretary. Admiral Rodman, commander of the Pacific Fleet, and members of staff will be guests also, as will Brig.-Gen. B. E. Kuhn, commander of Camp Kearny, and his staff officers. Gov. Stephens is among the list of speakers, his subject will be "Americanism." Oscar Lawler will act as toastmaster.

TO ATTEND BALL.

During the evening Gen. Pershing will also visit Goldberg-Bosley Hall, where Victory Post of the American Legion will hold a Pershing ball in his honor. Many service men who will be unable to get away during the afternoon to attend the Exposition Park meeting will see the general there. He will also attend a meeting of the Nebraska State Society at the Friday Morning Club. He will leave for San Diego on the midnight train.

Gen. Pershing will spend two days in San Diego, inspecting Camp Kearny, North Island, and other military posts in that section of the State. He will leave there early Thursday morning and on his return here will motor to Pasadena for the luncheon to be given by the City Commissioner in his honor.

The Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Adolph Tandler, will play a special concert for him at the Hotel Maryland, Pasadena. Following the luncheon, Gen. Pershing and his staff will end their week's trip through California and take the train for Phoenix.

SIMS HAS NAVY MEN'S BACKING.

officers and men in the war zone? Since when, in any civilized navy, have men been decorated simply because they happened to serve on a ship that was sunk by an enemy? And are the officers on Admiral Sims's staff who helped him plan and control the whole campaign in Europe to receive less credit than officers and men whose responsibility was limited to one little ship that may have been sunk by a torpedo? According to this principle, the general and staff commanding an army in the field would get less credit, or no more at least, than some subordinate officer or man who took part in an unsuccessful attack, or who was driven back by the enemy!

It is very fortunate that Admiral Sims has so courageously brought this question before the people. It is time that Congress had something to say in a matter that so vitally affects the fighting efficiency and morale of the navy. During the past seven years the navy has been ruled tyrannically. Traditions have been trampled upon; admirals have been ignored and denied free speech; officers have been humiliated, and favoritism has been rampant. It has been an era of demoralization. The real truth concerning the actual conditions in the navy has been suppressed. The people were told that the navy was ready for war in 1916, when officers knew perfectly well that it was not ready in any respect whatever—in organization, material or personnel. And officers knew that no attempt whatever was made to get the navy ready for war until the war was actually upon us! All these facts have been designedly kept from the people. They have been deceived. During the war every officer hustled in the performance of his duty in order to make up deficiency due to complete unpreparedness. The standard of duty in the navy has always been high. Naval officers have nothing else for which to live.

Following the armistice, the people and Congress have had troubles of their own, and there have been so many vital national questions for Congressional committees to solve that the conditions existing in the navy as to morale and efficiency have either been ignored or unknown.

But the navy cannot safely be left to the mercy of personal and political rule. The navy hopes for a thorough investigation of past methods of administration, and a close examination of present conditions. The navy wishes the people and Congress to know the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

Goodyear Solids Run Four and One-Half Years for California Storage Company

"We have experimented with many makes of truck tires and have come to the conclusion that Goodyears are most practical and economical.

"One set of Goodyears have run four and one-half years and covered 15,200 miles over all kinds of roads.

"We have standardized on Goodyear Solids and will specify them for all future equipment.

"CALIFORNIA FIREPROOF STORAGE CO."

ONE of the California Storage Company's vans has run four and one-half years, covering 15,200 miles on Goodyear Solid Truck Tires.

And, in spite of heavy loads and gruelling road conditions, these Goodyears have not chipped and still appear almost new.

This ability to remain free from chipping and shredding results in a low cost per mile and is what makes Goodyear Solids economical.

However, this tire service is not entirely the cause of so many satisfied Goodyear users in Los Angeles.

Prompt and efficient service rendered by the service station has been a large factor in reducing trucking costs for many truck owners.

By prompt service, we mean that the service station will serve you at any time, even at night or on Sunday.

The service stations understand trucking conditions and by analyzing your trucks can determine for you whether or not your tire equipment is economically correct.

It is possible that Goodyear cushions or Pneumatics would serve you better than Solids but this can only be determined by a careful analysis. We'll analyze your conditions tomorrow.

PRIZE PLAY SEES LIGHT.

Morosco Presents Harvard Classic in Gotham.

"Light of the World" Flares and Flickers Out.

Maeterlinck Thinks Movies are Coming Art.

BY HARRY CARR.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The big event of the theatrical week was the production by Oliver Morosco of the Harvard prizes play, "Mama's Affair," written by Rachel Barton Butler.

The critics declare it to be the best comedy ever turned out of the famous Harvard "English 47" course and one of the very best plays to be shown in New York this season. As one of the critics put it, "This year's Harvard prize play is so good that even a graduate of Princeton could enjoy it."

"Mama," who had the affair, was a lady with a passionate and tearful desire for her doctor to discover for her some new ailment. She had a daughter whom she almost suffocated with an affection of the kind that selfishly demands all of the victim's sympathy and energy.

There is a second lady with complicated maternal responsibilities and no sense. She has a son upon whom she showers stunting love.

The manner in which the hard-headed doctor makes all these people behave, and in turn is made to behave himself, is the motif of this delightful comedy.

Mr. Morosco produced it in the Little Theater dedicated to high art and high-brows. Since the Winthrop Ames days Mr. Morosco has returned it from the Little Theater into a good-sized theater by the addition of 400 seats.

It is quite appropriate that in this reformed high-brow temple now dedicated to commercial ventures there should be presented this product of a high-brow institution of learning also given over to practical theatrical writing.

Prof. Baker of Harvard seems to have avoided the hazy rubbish of most schools of art. Miss Butler, the author, could not have shown a surer touch or a finer knowledge of theatrical technique if she had spent all her life on Broadway.

THE BROMIDIC TECHNIQUE.

Personally I have no faith in the theory that the only school is the school of experience. I have a dreadful suspicion that dramatic technique is chiefly bunk anyhow, and that it is only another name for the dramatic bromides and that when we get more plays from Harvard and fewer from retired actors we shall step along a little faster.

And heaven knows we should step along. This has been a theatrical season of outrageous successes. The town has been packed with people eager to go to the theater. It is difficult to imagine a play so bad it could not get over this year. It is the season that theatrical men have dreamed about.

One of the few instances where the worm turned was "The Light of the World," which is knocking its last at the Lyric Theater on Forty-sixth street. If this thing had been put on in the Bingtown I.O.O.F. Hall over the drug store it would have been hooted out. Only a thoroughly ignorant jay town like New York would have stood for it for one performance.

Unhappily there is no law except the law of good taste to prevent a manager like Morris Gest from putting out a cheap junk melodrama with Jesus Christ as the hero who does all the customary strutting. The personality of Christ in this managerial vulgarity is as thinly veiled as Anton the Christus in the Passion Play. It might be possible to witness worse acting but personally I do not see how it could well be accomplished.

The night I went the girl ushers behind me all joined in my snickers at the sad scenes. And when you get below the artistic depths to which any usher can descend you are going some.

I must say that after looking over many and various plays this season the prestige of a "New York appearance" will never impress me again. Most of the plays now running in New York are badly acted. In fact by far the best portrayals now seen in America are in the movies, where they can cut out the film when the players begin to "act up." Some of the little girls of the screen who have learned their art simply and naturally without the baleful influences of the silly actor traditions of the stage have set new and charming standards.

MAETERLINCK BOOSTS FILMS

In an interview the other day, Maurice Maeterlinck, the Belgian literary light, who has managed to express himself during his brief stay on every subject on the earth and within the earth and under the eartht, voiced this same idea. He went on to give the movies a grand boost. He said that not only new standards of acting had been established but that a delightful and amazing new art has been created. In saying that the American films are infinitely superior to the European, he intimated that it is through this medium that America may find herself artistically.

No one could go through this theatrical season without being struck forcefully by the marked superiority of the present-day cinema over the present stage standard.

Most of the stage acting is very bad. The most raved-over production in New York is "The Jest," yet John Barrymore, the star, utterly fails to hold the character. He wabbles horribly in his conception of the villain Nero, who is three distinctly different kinds of people during the play. James Rennie, who is the most-talked-of juvenile in New York, and who is regarded as the great find of the year, manages to make himself an entire collection of characters in the course of Ruth Chatterton's comedy, "Moonlight and Honeysuckle." He changes his conception in every act. And he is about the best there is.

Even the David Belasco production, "Son Daughter," which is spoken of only with bated breath, and then only after special ceremonies of purification, was pretty badly acted.

Edmund Lowe, who takes the principal male part, has the most extraordinary idea of what a young Chinaman of education is like, and when you come right down to it, Lenore Ulric herself, although charming and attractive as the "Son Daughters," does not bear the remotest resemblance to a real Chinese girl in character, thought or appearance. On the stage, all that is necessary is to dig up a pretty girl, surround her with trick electrical lighting, and you can get away with murder. In the circumstance, perhaps, Mr. Gest achieved a real distinction in "The Light of the World," in that it was the worst-acted of all the poorly-acted plays in New York.

The great impulse for bad acting really his with the public, which undoubtedly prefers Miss Ulric as she is to a character study of a real Chinese girl.

SKINNER'S NEW PLAY.

Otis Skinner has a new Italian play called "Pietro," something on the order of his "Mister Antonio," which was in Los Angeles one or two seasons ago. "Pietro" was manufactured by his dutiful wife, Maud Skinner, assisted by Jules Eckert Goodman. It is one of those stories about a tempestuous Italian who loves children, dogs and things, and squirms around in human anguish and wipes away a tear now and then.

Pietro is an Italian, who is tried for murder for killing a very objectionable wife. He is acquitted for the reason that the body of the jane was never discovered.

(The talented Mrs. Skinner, I should say, was a little shy on law, by the way, in letting this case come to trial.) Afterward Pietro becomes an oil baron in California and the wife turns up. The painfully-sweet daughter is so discouraged by the appearance of her wholly-undesirable mama that she loses belief in herself. Her father succeeds in convincing her that she is something above and beyond the soiled creature her mother is. This is accomplished through the aid of a naturalist whose biological miracles in grafting flowers suggest Luther Burbank. In fact, the playwrights seem to be largely concerned throughout the play in considering whether human nature can be edited and cultivated as successfully as flowers and vegetables.

Grace George made her appearance last week in a new and really charming comedy by Frances Nordstrom, "The Ruined Lady." It is altogether refreshing and delightful. Miss George is Ann Mortimer, who complains that when sailing on the sea of life, all she got was wet. But that's because Bill Bruce ceased to propose twelve years ago when she began a life of sacrifice to duty—duty being the rearing of the orphaned nephew and niece.

During all the years of Ann's sacrifice, Bill has called steadily. The kids become "our children." Bill has grown comfortable. Like the cat, he stays where it's soft. "He used to call me 'sweetheart,'" wails Ann. "Now it's 'good old pal.' I'm afraid he's going to call me 'little woman' next. If he calls me 'little woman,' I'll scream. I'll scream in three languages."

She has tried being cold to Bill. She has tried flirting with other men, but with no more effect that flirting with dear old Bill, himself.

Having exhausted all the weapons a woman may wield, she resorts to scandal. She contrives to visit Bill's house, arriving drenched in a storm. He comes home from the club and sends Ann to his bed, himself retiring to the spare room. Chance brings to the house Dallis Mortimer, the nephew, with an automobile party. A row brings out Bill and Ann just as one of the girls of the party discovers Ann's stockings drying before the library fire.

"Bill Bruce, you've ruined Ann," shouts Dallis. "I demand that you marry her."

In this funniest spot in the play, Ann takes a seat, and with a blissful smile, repeats "Ruined."

TOLSTOY "GLOOMER."

One of the notable intellectual events of this season was the production by the Theater Guild of Tolstoy's "The Power of Darkness." It is a somber, dismal, but absorbing and

BENEFIT BALL SOON.

With Wallace Reid, the Lasky star, as special host, an elaborate ball for the benefit of the Theatrical Charities fund will be held February 11, at the Alexandria Hotel. Prominent motion-picture people are announced as patronesses for the occasion. Mrs. Wallace Reid and Mary Miles Minter will act as hostesses.

The affair will be enlivened by the appearance of the Wally Reid Jazz Band, of which the actor himself is a member. Other musical features will be the Whiteman Jazz Classique, and several surprises to be announced later.

The list of patronesses include Mary Pickford, Clara Kimball Young, Mildred Harris Chaplin, Anita Stewart, Viola Dana, Mabel Normand, May Allison, Mary MacLaren, Enid Bennett, Bessie Barriscale, Gloria Swanson, Ruth Roland, Edna Purviance, Gladys Brockwell, Peggy Hyland, Mary Alden, Mary Anderson, Edith Roberts and others.

PUTTING GRAND OPERA IN FILM.

The Star of "Ambition" and the Holubars' Plans.

How a Mexican Peon Chorus Assisted a Diva.

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT.

A girl, who once cherished an ambition to become a great singer, has at last made her debut on the grand opera stage. Yet, when she appears before the public (we speak in the future because the picture has not been released) she will be voiceless.

Not only is this the plot of the play, but it is also apparently the scheme of life of Dorothy Phillips, who some years ago set out to be a musician. Instead, ever since she played a dance-hall favorite in "Hell Morgan's Girl," she has been ascending the golden steps of silent dramatic fame. Now, guided by her famed director-husband, Allen Holubar, she is planning to conquer an even more elevated realm in celestial moviedom.

It is not on record that a dance-hall favorite ever became a star of the opera, but such a transmutation is not impossible. We have it interestingly demonstrated in the succession of roles which Miss Phillips has portrayed during her association the past four years with the Universal Film Manufacturing Company. The career that began with "Hell Morgan's Girl" has led up to "Ambition," or "The Gorgeous Canary," as it has been renamed, to typify the operatic heroine.

Both Mr. Holubar and Miss Phillips are ambitious to do great things in the photoplay and for the photoplay and the recent offer from the Italia company, which would probably take them both abroad, is but one of a number of means they are considering of carrying out their desire for greater and more enduring accomplishments even than "The Heart of Humanity" and "The Right to Happiness," which have been reckoned as among the great plays of the past year.

Just when and how the Holubars will associate themselves in their production activities henceforward has not been determined, as there is some difficulty and uncertainty about their release from Universal. It is expected, however, that a solution of the matter will be reached within the next few weeks.

A MUSICAL STORY.

Their last Universal picture, dealing with the life of a grand opera star, was completed a short time ago, and represents what is believed to be one of their most unique achievements. Miss Phillips has always had a latent and undeveloped talent for music and for that reason the heroine of "Ambition," or "The Gorgeous Canary," appealed greatly to her. The story partakes of the flow and the ebb of success in the life of the artist of the lyric drama. She makes her debut in "Faust." She is greeted with acclaim for a time. Everything is sacrificed to her ambition. Finally, her voice goes back on her. Then she learns that beyond the coming and going of public approval there is a deeper meaning to life. It is only after her failure, however, that she reaches this realization.

Two unique characteristics of the production are the realism of the scenes depicting the Metropolitan Opera House and the fact that, instead of choosing a familiar opera for the big scene of the play, Mr. Holubar—who seeks the more original forms of expression in music, no matter how connected with the photoplay—decided that it should be a new work, based on a Chinese theme. And he even had music especially written for the episode in the film story to coincide with his idea.

A "REGULAR" CHORUS.

I wonder what Gatti-Casazza, or Gallo or Toscanini would have thought of the chorus that Holubar gathered together from the highways and the by-ways. You know in the films when you want a hard-looking Southern European chorus you don't go and get the original article. Instead of that you pick out a bunch of Mexican peons, the extent of whose knowledge of music is confined to what they get for a penny on Main street. Well, this was the atmospheric chorus for "Ambition." They learn't one phrase, something about "How Dry I Am" or the like, and they sung

Beautiful Chinese Rugs

Rug weaving is one of the oldest arts of China. Peculiar racial temperament emphasized perhaps by non-commercial instincts has perpetuated this ancient Chinese art down through many centuries, giving us today one of the most beautiful types of floor coverings the world has ever known.

Although much less costly than the masterpieces of Persia and Turkey these Chinese rugs enjoy preference with many people because of their characteristic beauty of design and coloring, and because of their very decorative value in furnishing our American homes.

The influence of the three great Chinese religions—Confucianism, Buddhism and Taoism is reflected in many of the finer pieces in eloquent symbols peculiar to Chinese superstitions and beliefs.

The knots in these rugs are tied by hand, just as in the finest Persian rugs, and the use of the very best Chinese and Baluchistan wool insures a lifetime of service.

The "California" shows some wonderful specimens in these rugs, especially in the large room sizes. We are sure that anyone contemplating the purchase of floor coverings will find an inspection of the display both interesting and profitable.

Welcome always to look as well as to buy.

OF ART AND ARTISTS.

BY ANTONY ANDERSON.

Mordkin.

Evoker of high dreams, of joy and pain,
Thy magic conjures Ilium's classic field,
Where Ajax met the foe who would not yield;
Leander swimming through the moonlit main;
Olympian runners scurrying o'er the plain,
The Belvedere so long in stone congealed;
Gay nymphs and forms in caves and glens concealed,
Reanimate, inherit earth again.
Imprisoned loveliness of Elgin's stone;
That sexless beauty Greece alone displayed,
In art untrammeled, fetterless and free;
All symmetry, all grace the earth has known
Is thine—is through thy witchery portrayed;
Life becomes beauty when beholding thee.

Third Annual Salon Again.

If you neglect to run out to Exposition Park to look at the third annual international photographic salon you will miss one of the most interesting developments in modern art. For these 300 and more photographs are really "artistic"—are really art—in spite of the fact that the artists were sadly hampered by a mechanical process that they couldn't get away from.

In unpracticed hands the camera is a delusion and a snare. The novice sets up the machine and shoots—that's all. And all he gets for his pains is a snapshot. But when an artist holds the camera he is in possession of an artist's tool that may be made almost as effective as a brush or a chisel. To be sure, he must manipulate chemical baths, and eliminate or reject this and that—but what else does the etcher do, except that he draws his own design instead of letting the sun do it for him?

Therefore, study the pictures in the present salon, that you may discover the spirit of art in a medium that you believed was forever debarred, by its very nature and limitations, from such an apotheosis. Art's domains are boundless. Art becomes the very texture of life itself, since it is the inevitable result of thought colored with feeling.

Two weeks ago I gave, in this column, a brief resume of some of the pictures in the salon. A few more remain to be mentioned. I wish I had space and time to touch upon them all—to mention the hundred, nay, the thousand beauties that will claim your attention. But if you will finish for yourselves the pleasant task I have begun you will be richly rewarded. You will know what I mean when I say that the majority of these photographs are works of art.

Study the fine portrait of His Excellency, M. Thiebaut, Paris, by Dr. Henry B. Goodwin, of Stockholm, Sweden, and the same artist's charming portrait of a woman in a quaint white costume, Mrs. Einar Nerman, as well as "Wet Hair" and "Everyman's Concubine." From W. G. Hill, Stockton-on-Tees, Eng., we have two notable prince, "Model," an expuisitely beautiful nude figure, and "The Combat," two male figures in supple gladiatorial action.

The four prints by W. A. Hudson of Los Angeles have much of the personal quality of etchings—they are all exceedingly attractive. Delicacy and refinement are noted in those by Arthur F. Kales of Los Angeles, and "The Hill Princess" Ruth St. Denis) has the beauty and dignity of a painting in the classical manner. Erle Cawthorne Kenton's "The Tunnel" is a picturesque rendering of what might have been commonplace in less experienced hands. "Ebb Tide," by Dr. Rupert S. Lovejoy, of Portland, Me., is highly suggestive of color, and its pattern of white foam is rhythmically satisfying.

Very simple and lovely is the flowing line of the river in "After the Storm," by C. J. Marvin, and the sky holds a brilliant light. We find perfect composition in Oscar Maurer's study of oxen and wain, which he calls "Down in Mexico," and the dust raised by the moving oxen is like gold. This artist's "Merced River, Yosemite" is as picturesque as a dream, his "Launching a Sampan" is very painter-like in its technique. The close and refined values of "Miner's Cabin, Cuyamaca Mountains," by Irving Lee Palmer, Descanso, Cal., make the picture look like a pencil drawing.

The five contributions from W. H. Porterfield, Buffalo, N. Y., are noteworthy because of the solidity in massing. Note the trees and clouds in "Alone in Her Vast Dome of Glory," the decorative value of the slim trees in "Night Clouds," and also of those in "Night's Curtain," which is the same subject in a lower key.

Springlike and charming is "Danse des Arbres," by O. C. Reiter, Pittsburgh, Pa., and finely serious is "Husbandman," a plow horse laboring over a hill. Fine simplicity, bigness of effect are found in "The City at Sunset" and "On the East River, Morning," by Dr. D. J. Rusicka, New York City. The snow is good in "The Brook in Winter," by H. W. Schonewolf, Buffalo. Notably attractive figure studies are those of David J. Sheahan of Los Angeles. The three studies from Otto C. Schulte of San Francisco are excellent, and so are the portrait heads by William Gordon Shields of New York City.

Otis Williams, well known as a painter, is not less successful as a photographer. We find beauty, refinement, grace of action in his "Faun," "Sandpipers" and "Kelp Kewpie," the two last being studies of nude boys by the sea. An attractive patterning is noted in "Monterey Coast," by Ernest Williams, and his "Sand Dunes" has much tender beauty. Clarence H. White, New York, gives us "The Statuette," which has the simple charm of a Van der Meer, a fine portrait of Stephen Marion Reynolds, a very interesting and characteristic one of Nazimova.

We are given sunlight in John C. Stick's "The Sentinel," a bird seen among delicately etched twigs and branches, beauty in "The Surf Line." C. E. Wakeford, Croydon, N.S.W., Australia, offers us a wonderful landscape, "The Breezy Hilltop," among other prints that are attractive and "different." The touch of red that Lionel Wood, Woodbridge, Suffolk, England, puts into the cloak in his portrait of Miss Noerena Feist in "As You Were," is strikingly effective.

You appreciate, do you not, the

The Critic at Large.

Only the other day an artist—a musician—reproached me with being a classicist. He had just played for me something from Debussy, and then something from Beethoven, and I had decidedly preferred the latter. Debussy had interested me greatly, but he had also excited and bewildered me, while Beethoven's melody, his perfect form had given me nothing but pleasure. Even the musician, a modern of the moderns in his tastes—and especially in his opinions, a very different matter—had to admit that the Beethoven number was beautiful.

Exactly what is a classicist? And is he always, of necessity, a reactionary? I think not. It seems to me that the man of classic spirit is he who looks for "clearness, compactness, measure and balance" in art—for that perfection of form which is art's one universal language and without which the artist may be understood, but is quite as likely not to be. The classicist does not deny the value of the poetic and the spontaneous, the importance of the idea. He does not believe that substance should be sacrificed to form, but that the two should be beautifully balanced—a difficult but quite possible performance even for the man of "temperament," even for the painter who is more poet than artist.

You cannot get away from the fact that each of the arts has its own conventions, which are made "classical" by time, and which may not be rejected without producing chaos. Color, emotion, feeling—these are all the more effective when they are expressed with form, or at least, their charm is made more enduring.

If to be a classicist is to be enamored of form and regardless of any artistic content—as my musical friend perhaps thinks—then, decidedly, I am not a classicist, for I hold that if a work of plastic or pictorial art expresses no "idea" (a sufficiently elastic word, by the way,) it is null and void and might better have been left unuttered. "Words, words, words," said Hamlet, and "More matter with less art," said his impatient mother—or rather, Shakespeare, being a consummate artist, here seized an opportunity to give vent to his own strong opinions on the subject.

In his day, that spacious Elizabethan period, Shakespeare was as modern as anybody, and he chose one of the most difficult of all methods of art expression, that of playwriting. His imagination was perhaps more active than that of any other human being that ever lived. He had a good many things to say about his fellowmen, and he was a wonderful poet besides—yet he kept within the form of the five-act play, and "Lear" is as compelling today as it ever was. Shakespeare's form is not that of Racine. He broke many of the traditions, but he held fast to those most needful. His urn was of attic shape, though almost overweighted with ornamentation, with "breed of men and maidens," with "forest branches and the trodden weed." He became a classicist in spite of himself, for his artistry was equal to his poetry.

Pictures by Sharp.

The fifteen landscapes and marines that Louis Hovey Sharp is exhibiting at the Le Roy Ely gallery, in Pasadena, are, almost without exception, unusually successful studies of light and air. Many of them were painted in the Arroyo Seco, which is very close to Mr. Sharp's studio. The exhibition continues to the end of this month.

Mr. Sharp was at one time, I believe, a commercial artist. But he graduated from this environment very early, and, though he has met with difficulties, he has steadily advanced in control of his medium, finding more and more decision and precision. He has at last begun to say what he feels, and as his feeling for nature is deep and sincere, his pictures have the value that belongs to that depth and that sincerity.

Living near the Arroyo Seco, it is no wonder that he has become enamored of the shine and shimmer of the sunlight in that place of golden enchantments. He tells me that he never tires of it, that it offers new pictures to him every day. Nevertheless, he has found it wise and expedient to make excursions into New Mexico, where he studied the Indian in his native wild, and to the Pacific Ocean, where the onward sweep of the white-capped waves tempted his brush.

He has done well in both these outside ventures. With the sea especially so, even though his "Walpi at Sunset" is one of the best pictures in the present collection. "The Rollicking Surf" shows us the ocean breathing and surging among its rocks, its blue breaking into cold green and sheer white. We are given golden headlands and golden sands in "Midsummer Shore," the waves being very quiet and very green. In "Along Shore," we have sand dunes whose shadows are a pinkish blue, the distant heaving sea being a light green. The weight and the vastness of the ocean, its brooding mystery, are felt and rendered by Mr. Sharp.

A very beautiful picture, dripping with sunlight, is "Autumn Gold," foreground sycamores forming an arch through which we see tawny golds and reds of distant trees, the blue-gray of the mountains, the amber of the sky. Blue are the shadows, in "Distant Hills," rosy is the light on the slopes, golden in the middle distance, well modeled are the eucalypts to the right. There are long lines of hills in "Where Summer Breezes Break," all gold-pink and amethyst, all gleaming with light.

Sunlight and the greenish gold of spring lie on "Hills of Avalon," whose blue sky is soft and tender. "Hills at Sunset" gives us color that is golden and pink in the light, purple in the shadows. More hills—"Hills in April"—delicately yellow and green and lavender. This is the poetry of nature that this sincere artist offers us from one season to another.

By Katherine Logan Luke.

Kathryn Logan Luke recently made a brief visit to Southern California. When she returned to her home in Birmingham, Ala., she left behind her a score of pictures and sketches. These are now being exhibited in the gallery of O'Hara and Livermore, in Pasadena.

Mrs. Luke has had excellent art instruction in New York, Philadelphia and other large cities. She constructs the figure with a fine decision, and she adds to the beauty of her figures and portraits the beauty of color. Also the beauty of a virile and vibrant technique. She is of the moderns in her point of view, she believes in pure color.

PRIZE PLAY SEES LIGHT.

thought-provoking play, based upon the ethical standards of the real Christian religion as contrasted with the modern orthodox religions. There are many touches of savage irony, as when the murderers of Akolina's baby are careul to erect a cross over the grave, so the child's soul will go to heaven. And as when the weakling Nikita manages to wash his soul clean after two murders and a series of wicked love affairs, only to be sent to Siberia.

Quite apart from its ethical appeal the play is tremendously interesting because of its vividly realistic picture of the ignorance, superstition, brutish life and general hopelessness of the Russian peasant in Tolstoy's time. Mitrich, the old laborer, says to Nan, Nikita's 10-year-old stepdaughter:

"How should the likes of you not go to the bad? Who teaches you? What do you see? What do you hear? Only vileness. A peasant woman, what is she? Just mud. There are millions of the likes of you in Russia, and all as blind as moles—knowing nothing. All sorts of spells, how to stop the cattle plague with a plow and how to cure children by putting them under the perches in the hen house — that's what they know."

PUTTING GRAND OPERA IN FILM.

it through the scenes in the picture with unvarying monotony.

"We had a hard time teaching them to sing that phrase," said Miss Phillips. "It was the only one they could learn, and we were glad for that much. But, my, how tiresome it was, and how hard for us to keep our faces straight while going through the scenes, with the listless accompaniment."

Perhaps, though, when the film is sliced and cut to fit the needs of the screen you will never know but you are looking at the minor satellites of Gotham's temple of musico-dramatic art. For a chorus is a chorus, and whether on the screen or the stage, it never runs away with the honors of the performance.

Mr. Holubar's liking for music has not begun or ended with his photoplay production of grand opera. His views on the subject of melody's function in the presentation of the films are very strongly defined. He believes first of all that the critics do not pay half enough attention to the synchronizations effected at the theater.

MUSIC SHOULD BE PANNED.

"If the music does not suit the mood of the picture, I believe that this should be noted," said Mr. Holubar. "You cannot make the place of music secondary to the film. It is possible completely to distort the appeal of the photoplay through bad or inadequate musical arrangements. Luscious melodies occurring where cacephonies, dissonances or jagged themes are really necessary to express the action are out of place. So, too, is weak and ineffectual music in dramatic scenes."

Mr. Holubar believes that the psychological play, the photodrama of great characterizations, is the one destined to come to the fore in the next few years. "Who dare say that we will not be able to produce on the screen the dramas of Ibsen, Strindberg, Maeterlink or Dunsany? As a matter of fact, some of these have already been presented, but under disadvantages which do not exist at the present time, and which will further be reduced with the development of the photoplay art.

"We know that the future of film-making does not lie so much now along its physical as its art development. We have seen the greatest growth in the industrial and mechanical side of photoplay production; art's opportunity is here now. You may look for an increasing artistry in the making and presentation of films within the next few years."

It is Mr. Holubar's ambition to produce the modern classics of the theater by the greater writers. He has studied deeply modern dramatic literature and keeps in touch with the latest continental as well as American movements.

Holubar is at the doorway of his career, you might say, from the fact that he is still a very young man, but his achievements have already placed him in the foremost rank; yet he has his mind and his eyes on the future of possibilities and not the past of success.

JOINS MUSIC WORLD.

Noted Eastern Pianist Makes Home in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles should be symbolized as an immense jeweled cage, with sides constructed of huge golden harps and through whose shining gate the singing birds of the world are forever flying. The symbol would not be an extravagant one for, with every passing year, the Angel City captures scores of noted musicians.

The last artist of prominence to have been allured to the Southland is Miss Marie Ten Broeck, pianiste, who, following a recent engagement at Denver, where she played, in one night, to 15,000 people, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to make her home here. Miss Ten Broeck is a pupil of Victor Heinze, Leopold Godowsky, Harold Bauer and Alberto Jonas.

Upon her return to America, after her studies in Europe, Miss Ten Broeck toured the country with Otto Meyer, violinist, and her public appearances have created an unusual amount of interest.

ELIMINATING JAZZ.

Substitute Is Needed, Says Local Chorus Director.

"Our high-brow musicians are making a great fight on jazz. That's all very well, but the only way to abolish jazz is to give the public a substitute for it. Give the people pure melody and good harmony and they won't want jazz." This was the statement made yesterday by Joseph Dupuy, whose male quartettes and invisible girl choirs have recently attained such signal successes at Grauman's Theater. Mr. Dupuy is now engaged in preparing new and novel musical entertainment for the Grauman theaters.

"Not only musicians, but the public in general is getting sick of jazz," declared Mr. Dupuy. "More people attend the moving-picture theaters than any other place of amusement, and the managers of the cinema palaces should see to it that their patrons get the very best of music, both instrumental and vocal. The majority of people love harmony above everything else in music. A good quartette never fails to "get across." The only way to eliminate jazz is to give the people something a little better."

Doolittle, Mrs. Louise Cross, Mrs. Georgia Gustin, Mrs. Chloe MacLaren, Miss Eunice Tullock, Miss Helen Mosher and Mrs. Herron.

Dinner-dance.

Miss Georgia Kean, an attractive society bud, is planning a dinner-dance for Saturday evening, at the Los Angeles Country Club. She will have sixteen guests, besides the chaperones, who are to be her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. West Hughes, and Baron and Baroness Alfred de Ropp.

Miss Stivers's Dinner.

Miss Hildegarde Stivers entertained twelve of the younger set at dinner Saturday evening prior to the junior bachelor dance, which was the fourth of a series. Her guests were Misses Hope Drown, Ruby Hay, Elizabeth Sherlock, Esther Heathe, Frances Vale; Messrs. Wallace Moir, Nichols Milbank, Jr., Danforth White, Guy Richards, Reynolds Lewis and Howard Wilson.

Musical Salons.

Mme. Lillian Werth-Fruhling, whose musical salons have afforded much pleasure to a large group of music lovers, is to have these affairs on the second Sunday evening of each month, instead of twice a month.

By Mr. and Mrs. Seaver.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett H. Seaver of Wilshire boulevard were hosts last evening at a jolly little buffet supper and bridge party, for sixteen guests.

By Mrs. Linden.

Mrs. Ellis G. Linden presided over a luncheon Thursday at the California Club.

By Mrs. Henry.

Mrs. Leslie Henry was hostess on Thursday at a tea for fifty guests, at which she complimented Mrs. Arthur Figley of Minneapolis. Cecile Brunner roses and violets were used to decorate the rooms. Mrs. Byron Hanna and Mrs. F. E. Brown assisted.

Holbrook-Wegeforth Nuptials.

A wedding ceremony of much interest here was that of Mrs. Lillie Spreckels Holbrook and Dr. Paul Wegeforth, which took place Monday in Coronado, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Spreckels, on Ocean boulevard. Rev. John Wood, pastor of the Methodist Church of Coronado, officiated, in the presence of members of the two families.

Little Miss Harriet Holbrook, daughter of the bride, was flower girl and Junior Spreckels and Frank Spreckels, young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Claus Spreckels, were the pages. Dr. Humphrey J. Stewart played the wedding music on the great pipe organ in the music room. The couple left immediately after the ceremony for San Francisco and will later be at home in Coronado. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Spreckels went down from San Francisco for the wedding.

By Mrs. London.

Mrs. Robert London of New York was hostess at a luncheon Thursday at the California Club in honor of Mrs. Cordelia Severance, who came to the city with the Will H. Hays party. Plates were set for eighteen guests. Mrs. William H. Howard gave a luncheon for Mrs. Severance on Tuesday, and Mrs. Harry Callender will give a luncheon in her honor this week at the Hotel Huntington, Pasadena.

Stanford Women's Luncheon.

The hostesses for the luncheon to be given at the Clark Saturday for members of the Stanford Woman's Club are Misses Ella McDonald, Helen Bordwell, Ellen Andrews, Grace Seward, Florence Woodhead, Katherine Williams and Mrs. Marcia Hunt Lynch and Mrs. Carol Smith. Reservations should be made by Thursday through Miss Helen Bordwell of 2022 West Twenty-fourth street.

At Coronado.

With entertaining for brides and brides-elect, society at Hotel del Coronado is busy, luncheons, dinner and supper parties, dances and cards being scheduled for every day.

Honoring their sister-in-law-to-be, Miss Rhoda Fullam, whose marriage to Raymond Welch will take place in the near future, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson of Spokane entertained with a charmingly-arranged supper party at their home, 1124 G avenue, Coronado, Wednesday evening. The house was decorated with a profusion of spring blossoms and ferns. The guests included Miss Fullam, Mrs. Austin L. Sands, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Welch, Mrs. M. K. Miller, Commander and Mrs. E. Winfield Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Neustadt, Mr. and Mrs. Claus Spreckels, Mr. and Mrs. Trafford Huteson, Gen. and Mrs. Alfred Cecil Critchley, Mr. and Mrs. Finucane, Mrs. Nathaniel Pascal, Mrs. Charles Whitley, Mrs. James Daugherty, Capt. Ward Wortman, Mr. Greenshields and Clyde Graves.

Miss Fullam motored up to Los Angeles with Mrs. Winfield Spencer and Mr. Welch Thursday morning, returning to Hotel del Coronado in time for the dinner party with which Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Neustadt entertained last evening at their home in Coronado. Many other attractive affairs are being planned in honor of Miss Fullam.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlemagne Tower of Philadelphia are at Hotel del Coronado for the winter, motoring down from Los Angeles, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. William Abbott Robertson, and her small son. Mrs. Robertson was formerly Miss Helen Tower, and her husband, Maj. Robertson, was in command of Mather Field at Sacramento until his recent transfer to Ream Field, Coronado. Maj. and Mrs. Robertson have taken a cottage for the season in A avenue, Coronado. Maj. Robertson flew down from Sacramento Monday afternoon, joining his family at Coronado.

Mrs. Florence Kennett Dupee, who is passing the season at Hotel del Coronado, was the guest of honor at a luncheon party with which Mrs. Frank Hall Moon entertained at her home in Orange avenue, Coronado, Wednesday afternoon. Spring flowers and trailing grasses were artistically combined in dainty French baskets, forming the center pieces on the tables. Place cards to match marked covers for Mrs. Dupee, Mrs. John Dupee, Mrs. John D. Spreckels, Mrs. A. B. Spreckels, Mrs. Francis Mead, Mrs. Claus Spreckels, Mrs. Gale Thompson, Mrs. U. S. Grant, Jr., Mrs. Hayne Ellis, Mrs. James H. Eckels, Mrs. Philip E. Fisher, Mrs. George Watson Smith, Mrs. Luther M. Kennett, Mrs. Norbert M. Murray, Mrs. A. B. Daniels and Mrs. Dwight J. Peterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitlock.

Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Whitlock have leased their home on West Eighth street for a year and will be at the Palace Apartments in Long Beach after February. Their daughter, Miss Mary Helen Whitlock, left Tuesday for the University of Washington, where she will do post-graduate work.

By Mrs. Vollmer.

Mrs. H. F. Vollmer was hostess at a luncheon for a dozen friends on Wednesday.

Mrs. Hubbell.

Mrs. Stephen Hubbell has as her house guest her sister, Mrs. M. F. Le Roy of Lancaster, Iowa, who has visited here many times before.

Mrs. Hubbell is planning a reception for the middle of next month in honor of Mrs. Robert Fite (Dorothy Lindley,) Mrs. Webster Holmes (Marion Kerckhoff,) and Miss Eleanor Workman, who is soon to marry James Scarborough.

For Miss Drake.

Miss Dorothy Drake, fiancee of P. S. Bullen, was honoree at a miscellaneous shower at which Mrs. Louis B. Heeb and Miss Lola Stanchfield of 4103 West Washington street were hostesses. Marigolds, freezias and ferns filled baskets that decorated the tables. Yellow and white was the color note used in favors, ices and dainties. Miss Drake is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper C. Crisp of 4616 West Eighteenth street, and Mr. Bullen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bullen of West Twenty-first street. The guests were Misses Dorothy Hallock, Edith Wright, Mary Doerr, Marjorie Fitch, Adelaide Shilling, Loretta Roberts, Mildred Squire, Josephine Robbin, Mmes. Leslie Milton Wolf, William B. Mott, W. R. Lockyear, Louis R. Lemieux, Mark Stanchfield, Henry Stanchfield, Ira M. Cowan, J. C. Crisp, F. A. Sennett, Luisa Stanchfield, Clara Lampston, Charlotte Alvarez and L. A. Stanchfield.

By Mrs. Ledbetter.

Mrs. William Ledbetter gave a luncheon in honor of Miss Jennie Hanson. After luncheon the guests played cards. Among those present were Mrs. Frank Hanson, Mrs. Clarence Hunt, Mrs. Charles Chamberlain, Mrs. Alfred Bradley, Mrs. B. Wickersham and Mrs. L. Taylor.

Miller-Buckingham Wedding.

Miss Florence Miller and Dwight Buckingham were married Monday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Adams by Rev. L. Goodwin. Mr. William Harvey Miller gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white Duchesse satin trimmed with pearl sequins. Her veil was of tulle and was caught in place with sprays of orange blossoms and pearl ornaments.

Miss Etta Adams was maid of honor and wore apple green satin and silver lace. Mrs. H. Ashby, matron of honor, was in apricot silk, and Miss Elizabeth McGuire was in orchid silk. Miss Mabel Miller wore a gown of pink silk, while Mrs. Harvey Miller, Jr., the other bridesmaid, was in turquoise silk. Harvey J. Miller, Jr., was best man. After a reception the couple left for a wedding trip to New Haven, Ct., where they will visit his relatives.

By Miss Wade.

Miss Elizabeth Wade entertained a coterie of her sorority sisters of Lambda Chapter, Sigma Kappa, of the University of California, with a luncheon at her home, 717 Manhattan place, Tuesday afternoon. The table was centered with a large bowl of deep crimson carnations and violets. Corsage bouquets of violets with dainty pen-and-ink sketches, on which were penned interesting limericks portraying some characteristic of the guest, marked places for Misses Rachel de Nick, Helen Nelson and Fern Kilborn, Miss Marjorie Imler of Glendale, Misses Viola House, Louise Wilcox and Donna Leavens of Pasadena.

Marriage Announced.

Miss Ruth Willis and Earl Mendenhall, both of Los Angeles, were married at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Mendenhall of 3813 South Hobart boulevard. Fifty relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Dr. James A. Francis of the First Baptist Church.

Ferris-Conley Nuptials.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Rilla Conley and Arlo B. Ferris at 1528 West Seventeenth street on Saturday, week. Rev. J. M. Schaefle officiated in the presence of fifty guests. After a wedding trip the couple will be at home at 1528 West Seventeenth street.

Home Wedding.

A pretty home wedding was that at the residence of Mrs. Alice Bestor in Inglewood, when her daughter, Miss Angeline Bestor, became the bride of Philip Schiffer of Anaheim. Rev. J. M. Schaefle performed the service in the presence of relatives and intimate friends. After a brief wedding tour the couple will reside at Anaheim.

House Guests.

Mrs. Ralph Chester Lane, formerly of Indianapolis and Chicago, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stephen Wakeman of 1337 West Fortieth place. Mr. Lane, who has been engaged as executive secretary of the War Camp Community Service for El Paso and the border, will arrive soon, as he and Mrs. Lane expect to make their home in Los Angeles.

By Mr. and Mrs. Ley.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Ley of 1057 South Grammercy place entertained at a dinner party Thursday evening.

By Mr. and Mrs. Haynes.

A bridge-supper at which Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Haynes were hosts was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gardiner, Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff, Jr., Mrs. Jaro von Schmidt, Mrs. Charles H. Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Potter, Ferdinand Bain, Mr. and Mrs. Seitz, Mrs. Simpson and Mr. Russell.

Told at Luncheon.

Miss Marion Lord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Lord of 1415 Milan avenue, South Pasadena, announced her engagement to Mr. Charles Cobb at a luncheon she gave yesterday. The table was adorned with pink and white carnations. Her guests were Misses Helen Stearns, Dorothy Williams, Betty Jones, Martha Curtis, Ivy Erheart, Veva Tripp, Ida Uzzell, Gertrude Roberts, Florence Brady, Loraine Hendry, Frankie Wright and Madge Rogers.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McBee of 498 West End avenue, New York, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Grace Livingston McBee, to Edgar Reed Beal of Los Angeles.

Miss Jackson Entertains.

A surprise party and buffet supper in honor of Miss Hildegarde Jackson of 943 Magnolia avenue was given by a group of friends. Oriental lights and gay-colored flowers were used to deck the rooms. Among the guests were Misses Hyacinth Jackson, Audrey Maxine, M. B. Tannahill; Mmes. G. A. Milas, Katherine Hanish, C. W. Davies, O. H. Nichols; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Koch, Mr. and Mrs. Luther C. White, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stratton; Messrs. B. E. Tilde, F. J. Silk, Jr., D. A. Jackson, William Jackson and Dwane Esper.

To Wed Tonight.

Miss Elsie Rosenthal and Maurice Rudman will be married this evening at 8 o'clock at Christopher's banquet room in the presence of eighty guests. The bride-elect is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosenthal. She will wear a gown of white charmeuse and real lace trimmed with pearls and her bouquet will be of bride roses.

Miss Maurine Waktor will be her maid of honor and Frances Rudman will be the flower girl. She will be frocked in Nile green tulle and will

Of Merchandising Which Governs the Policy of
This Store

Merchandising today is a science. No longer is it just a matter of "Keeping Shop" and being governed by rule of thumb methods. In our line the jeweler who conducts his business along these lines, marking his goods to the limit of what he thinks they will bring, is not giving his customers a square deal.

The up-to-date jeweler knows to the fraction of a cent what every dollar's worth of business costs him and adds to this only a close margin for profit—depending on increased sales to bring results. "Conditions will settle themselves as soon as every man figures his prices on a Rock Bottom Basis."

Rest assured there is no inflation in our prices—we know where we stand—it's on a spot-cash basis in every transaction—so we are ready and able to take advantage of every discount we can obtain in all our purchases. This saving shows itself in our Rock Bottom prices—in the low prices of our Diamonds—our Watches—our Silver—our Gold jewelry—in fact, everything in our store reflects our fair-price policy. Everything is priced on the dollar for a dollar basis. Give us the acid test and you will see—quality considered—in each and every instance our prices are fair and just to the customer.

You will see this value in our $15.00 Men's Elgin Watch—in our Diamond Rings at from $100.00 to $3000.00—in our Silver—in our Gold jewelry—in our Clocks—no matter how small the value of the article may be, no matter if it runs into the thousands of dollars—the same just principle is carried out — a small profit—over the cost of the goods and the cost of conducting our business—no guess work—an honest price—and one price only to all.

PASADENA.

One of the leading events of the season will be the opening ball and dinner at the Hotel Green on Tuesday evening. While many social affairs have been held at the Green this season, the formal opening ball this week will serve to open the social season at the popular hostelry. The programme for the evening will be preceded by a formal dinner.

On Saturday night at Hotel Maryland, a "Paris night" entertainment was held at which the French motif of decorations and entertainment was emphasized. The affair was in the nature of a dinner-dance and was largely attended. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wonders, social dancers, gave a programme of dance numbers.

The first of a series of afternoon tea dances was given at Hotel Green on Wednesday and was largely attended. Music during the afternoon was furnished by the Royal Marimba Band. On Friday evening at Hotel Maryland, the first of a series of bridge parties was given. At Hotel Huntington on Saturday afternoon the second of a series of tea dances was given.

Miss Margaret A. Meyer and William Burns were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Minnie Meyer, 181 South Catalina avenue. Rev. Angelo Shattuck of the Lake-avenue Congregational Church performed the ceremony in the presence of near relatives of the young couple. A wedding supper was served after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Burns have gone to Arizona on a wedding trip.

Complimentary to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Oscar R. Howard, of Tulsa, Okla., gave a luncheon on Tuesday at Hotel Maryland for Mrs. Everett B. Howard of Tulsa. The guest of honor is the wife of Congressman Howard of Oklahoma. Covers were laid for sixty-five guests. Acacia, violets and azaleas were used as the decorations.

Hamburger's
ESTABLISHED 1881

Just as the pink buds of the Spring appear to brighten the landscape anew, the lovely spring styles blossom forth to enchant in the Fashion Salon of Hamburger's.

Styles O' Spring

—They make their debut most gloriously—for one has only to step into Hamburger's to be amid a perfect bewilderment of gay enchantments, or demure conservatism, in the way of delightful apparel for women. Gowns, suits and wraps that frankly own their inspiration was derived from Paris.

The New Suits and Dresses

—Suits that will give radiant hours of contentment and satisfaction to the wearer.

—Suits, so lovely, are really beyond the medium of printers' ink to describe—for can we tell of that subtle chicness of line—the soft colors of spring or the beauty of tricotine, wool jersey, tricolette, serge, Poiret twill, etc., of which these adorable suits are made!

—And 'tis no easy task to tell you of the charming simplicity of the smart frocks for spring. They, like the suits, derive much of their smartness from embroidery. And the ingenue will perceive with joy the ruffles that frivol round-about the cunning skirts of the taffeta models. Others have demure little touches that please the older as well as the younger women, as short sleeves, tucks, pleats and little vestees of lace or brocade.

—The Georgettes appear in beaded profusion, as do the satins, while the jerseys and the mignonette silks cling to embroidery. The bolero is a feature in these frocks as in the suits. Priced 49.75 and up.

Sports Apparel of the New Mode

—Picturesque garments that candidly take the name of "sports clothes" but should take some roseate name that would suggest more adequately their glorious beauty—

—Coats that are so accommodating as to accompany one on all sorts of practical as well as lovely excursions, for they are fashioned of camel's hair, so soft and light; of polo cloth, so practical; of suede, velvet, tweed and even of fuzzy, woolly angora; clever things they are, too—and yes, of leather and of velour.

—Suits that bring up the most entrancing visions of the Arabian Nights and treasured fabrics. They must have been made with the same sort of magic as those fabled old-time silks. Suits made expressly to wear on the most winsome of California days, of Sinbad crepe, velvet, duvetyne and tricolette, jersey and of Poiret twill—heavily embroidered in chenille and braid.

—Dresses that combine the most picturesque of fabrics, as baronette satin and angora—every one daringly original and fascinating. Sports frocks, they call them, but you'd want to wear them any time and any place. And others of satin meteor, tonkin silks and mignonette.

The Debut of Spring Millinery

—Attend the coming-out-party of the smartest and cleverest of small hats, that will be held at Hamburger's, Monday.

—Some of them do not even apologize for their brimlessness, for they are fashioned of lisere braid, so they turn up in exclusive aloofness. Those that have a touch of "celophane" do, too, and well they might for it is as beautiful as jet, the "diamond noir."

—Have you seen this exclusive and scintillating "celophane" braid? It is bewitching in its sparkling somberness; looks like jet, but it isn't—it is something very intriguing and—oh, so new!

—Novelty rough straws and milan braids in the most beautiful of the spring dress models. And others of faille silk in the newest styles and shapes.

—And raffia has gained a conquest among those versed in hat-lore, for it appears in unexpected Egyptian tones in novel and gay effects on the newer hats.

—A flash of henna is seen among the newer hats for spring and the lovely pastel shades as well as the always-favorite navy, black, brown, taupe and purple. Best of all these hats are popularly priced.

avenue entertained on Friday afternoon with an informal tea. Mrs. Scherer was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Paul Scherer.

On Friday morning at the Hartzell Memorial Methodist Church occurred the marriage of Miss Frances Allen and Edwin W. Michel of Fillmore. The marriage ceremony was read by Rev. C. B. Allen, father of the bride. The service was witnessed by members of the immediate families. After February 18 Mr. and Mrs. Michel will be at home in Fillmore.

Mrs. W. W. Yenewine entertained at the Annandale Country Club on Friday with four tables of bridge, the guests also remaining for the informal tea which was served during the afternoon.

On Tuesday evening at the Calvary Baptist Church, Miss Hazel Rogers and James Mitchell were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. B. B. Jacques. The bride wore a gown of pink taffeta and Georgette crepe, and was attended by Miss Ovetie Kelly, Miss Beth Toland, and Miss Edith Peterson. Beach Knight was the best man. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Rogers of 855 Wyoming street.

REDONDO BEACH.

P. S. Venable was given a surprise party at his home on North Catalina avenue, Tuesday evening. The guests met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cate, going in a body to the Venable residence. An evening of games and music was enjoyed. A delicious two-course supper was served by the hostess. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George H. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Albee, Mr. and Mrs. George Cate, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Duffy, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Sprinkle, Dr. and Mrs. Hembree, Mrs. J. E. Morrell, Mrs. Eileen Hammond, Miss Lucy Whichelo, Miss Mamie Woods, Miss Mabel Thoberg, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Gould, Mrs. L. J. Hannon and Mex Venable.

A birthday party was given Saturday by Mrs. C. W. Davis to honor the twelfth birthday of her daughter, Genevieve. An afternoon of games was followed by a dainty luncheon. The little guests were Katherine Wheaton, Nellie Romine, Genevieve Browing, Ruth Singred, Elise and Shirley Getter, and Georgia Heath.

A violet luncheon was given by Mrs. Roy Heath Tuesday, for Miss Elizabeth Oakey of Virginia, who is spending the winter in California. Violets decorated the table center and place cards. A three-course luncheon was served. Covers were laid for Mrs. I. B. Finch of Los Angeles, Mrs. Elwin Lechner of Fullerton, Mrs. E. F. Lechner, Mrs. Dora Davis, Mrs. Ralph Burgion, Mrs. C. W. Davis, Mrs. Ernest Heath and Miss Oakey.

Mrs. C. H. Ellis entertained informally at dinner Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Fay Thomas of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Frambes of El Segundo, Mr. and Mrs. Guy McCandless of Oklahoma, Verne Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis.

Miss Maris Wise had a trio of out-of-town guests at a week-end house party this week. They were Miss Else Roberts of Boise, Idaho, Miss Helen Flask and Mrs. G. S. Sargent of Los Angeles. The four were formerly chums in Boise.

The Philathea Class of the Methodist Church was entertained Tuesday evening by Miss Nina Mangold. An enjoyable evening was had, and refreshments were served. Those present were the Misses Helen and Mabel Venable, Ruth Davies, Ida Allen, Venita Sutton, Delight Modlin, Evelyn Nelson, Margery Squires, Florence Venable, Mabel Steel, Nina Mangold and Mrs. A. S. Day.

TORRANCE.

The Friday Afternoon Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. George Watson, on Andrew street, last Friday. Mrs. Harry McManus won first prize; Mrs. Vanhagen and Mrs. Henry Barnett tied for second. Every member was present and a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon was spent. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Kate A. Russell, of 1247 Ionia street, Los Angeles, was the guest of the Lady Maccabees, on January 19th. Mrs. Russell as district deputy acted as installing officer.

A joint birthday celebration was held on January 3rd, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Williams, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Long. Mrs. Williams is a daughter of the Longs. Covers were laid for twelve Compton and Los Angeles friends.

Sunday visitors to Torrance were Mr. and Mrs. Al. Cook, of Burbank, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jeffries and daughter Mary; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jeffries and daughter, Rebecca, of Los Angeles. Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wolgast, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Verse Householder of Pittsburg, Penn., have returned to Torrance, and will locate here.

Mrs. Phoebe Sykes and family entertained with a dinner party recently. Covers were laid for twenty friends from Lomita and Bell.

—o—

RIALTO.

A notable affair of the week was the birthday surprise party given in honor of Mrs. Ida Nish at her beautiful home on East Foothill boulevard, Wednesday evening. Delightful musical numbers, games and dancing sped the happy hours and delicious refreshments were served by the self-invited guests.

The Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Rialto Woman's Club was marked by a programme of exceptional interest for which Mrs. T. H. Van Frank and Mrs. S. L. Soden were responsible, and the record attendance of the preceeding session was very nearly duplicated. Dr. C. C. Owen was the principal speaker of the afternoon and the lovely vocal solos given by Mrs. Harry L. MacRae gave delight, lessened only by thoughts of her leaving soon for the new home in Los Angeles. The large room was beautifully decorated in almond blossoms, japonicas and laurestina, and during a social hour about the table delicious refreshments were served by hostesses of the afternoon Mmes. Merton Brimmer and Clarence Amos.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lackey dispensed delightful hospitality at a quiet family gathering taking place at their attractive home on South Orange street. At the prettily appointed table, where 12 o'clock dinner was served, fragrant violets formed a dainty centerpiece and covers were laid for Messrs. Raymond Easton and Eugene Pisner of Long Beach, Mrs. Henry Robertson and little Junior, Misses Erna and Thelma Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Lackey, Sam Easton, the host and hostess.

Quite the loveliest affair imagination could picture was the baby party given by Mrs. Paul Weller on Friday afternoon in honor of her tiny son, James Harvey, who celebrated the passing of the first milestone. Pink carnations were used in decoration, forming a typical setting and for the birthday feast the little men and women were seated at small tables, while the grown-ups were served on individual trays.

BAKERSFIELD.

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Fulton was the scene of a celebration of the birthday anniversary of Robert E. Lee, given by the members of the United Daughters of Confederacy. Rev. Willis G. White and Rev. Benjamin E. Diggs gave short talks on the life of the Confederate general and this was followed by a delightful musical programme. Fifty guests attended.

In front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry Gay, on Silver street, Waterville, Mass., is a large elm tree that bears on one branch of its trunk, about fifteen feet from the ground, a fully-developed and blossoming sunflower plant. The plant consists of a single stem about four feet in height, crowned by a perfect and ordinary-sized sunflower.

The Chinese are very skillful in making confectionery. They are able to empty an orange of its pulp entirely and then fill it up with fruit jelly without being able to find the smallest cut in the rind, or even a tiny hole. Indeed, they even empty an egg in this manner, and fill it with a sort of almond nougat without one being able to find the slightest break or incision in the shell.

The frequency of spontaneous combustion in bales of cotton was explained to the French Academy of Sciences by G. Le Roy as due to the iron bands with which they are bound. A shock may break one of the bands, when it becomes at once a perfect Hertzian resonator, and the contact of metallic circles produces self-induction to help to cause a circuit of sufficient capacity and spark in the presence of much atmospheric electricity.

SOCIETY.

Angeles, are spending a week as the guests of friends here.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Michaels of Bakersfield to Harry Carmack of Taft, has just been announced,. The marriage took place at Visalia. The young people will reside at Taft.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Miller was the scene of the marriage of Miss Ruby Kidd and James F. Bird, both being popular young people of Bakersfield. The former is a sister of Mrs. L. C. Miller. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served by Mrs. Miller, assisted by Mrs. W. P. Bird. The bridal couple left immediately after the supper for Los Angeles, where they will spend their honeymoon. Those present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Bird and children, Frank Kidd, Florence Kidd, Mrs. A. McFee and daughter, June, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Seaton, Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Hatch and children and Nick Kidd.

Mrs. Clara Titus has as her guests Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Titterington and family of Hennessey, Okla.

Two notable affairs in club circles featured the week's activity at the Woman's Club. Miss Ethel Bacon was in charge of the harmonia programme which was devoted to dancing and music. The drama section enjoyed a reading of the play, "The Burgomaster of Stillemonde," by Maurice Maeterlinck, Mrs. Howard A. Peairs being the chairman of the day.

TAFT.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Carpenter, accompanied by Mmes. J. S. Beal and D. Hart motored up from Los Angeles this week to spend a few days with friends.

Miss Alice Randall has gone to Whittier where she will remain for some time the guest of friends.

Misses Margaret Kelly and Madge Unnan were hostesses at a whist and dancing party Friday night, the affair being given in St. Mary's Hall.

Mrs. Harold Haskin of Frankfort, Kan., is visiting Mrs. Jane Love and Mrs. Winifred Love Daly.

Mrs. M. Montgomery entertained at her home in Kerto in honor of Mrs. Edward Fortine. Five hundred was the diversion, after which a delicious lunch was served.

Miss Rose Dienstein celebrated her birthday anniversary with a party at her home on Center street.

Miss Etta Countess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. T. Williams, entertained nearly a score of their friends at the latter's home, the diversion being cards. After the games, refreshments were served.

Mrs. R. W. Patterson was pleasantly surprised when a number of her friends called on her for an evening at cards and dancing. At 10:30 a delicious dinner was served, which was prepared by the young women of the party.

A very attractive birthday party was given at the home of Mrs. Henry Houchin in honor of her daughter Jessie. Mrs. Malin and Mrs. Edwards assisted Mrs. Houchin during the afternoon.

MANHATTAN BEACH.

The Neptuni Club held their first meeting of the season in the library building last Tuesday. Current events and a social time passed away a pleasant afternoon. Under the auspices of the club, Mrs. Sinsabaugh will entertain with a card club in the near future.

Miss Mae Fallin of Ninth street is entertaining Miss Janet Pendergast of Los Angeles for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Jorgensen and two daughters, of Fillmore, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Emery on Sunday. The two families were old neighbors in Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lindsey of Los Angeles, former residents of Standard Park, were dinner guests of the G. E. Conklins, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Elliot of Standard Park have been entertaining quite extensively lately. Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell, son and two daughters, of San Fernando were Sunday guests. Mrs. Carrie Lyons and Mrs. E. A. Lyons of Los Angeles are down for the week. A nephew of Mr. Elliot, Sohn Case, returned to Fresno Thursday, after a three weeks' visit.

—o—

CORONA.

As a result of a whist tournament at the Corona Country Club, in which the gentlemen played against the ladies and lost, the gentlemen on Tuesday evening paid their forfeit with a most delightfully appointed dinner at the club house, which was attended by about forty members.

Dr. R. B. Lichtenwalter, as chairman of the men's team, is deserving of much credit for the feast which was provided for the victors. Following the dinner the guests enjoyed card playing, dancing and billiards.

The marriage of Miss Kathleen Baldwin to Mr. Walter Yance, which was solemnized on New Year's Day at the home of relatives in Ventura, has just been announced, the popular young couple having succeeded in keeping the news of this event a complete secret. Mrs. Yance is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Baldwin of West Riverside, and is well known in this section. Mr. Yance is a young business man of fine qualities, and news of this happy event is a most happy surprise. They are comfortably located at the corner of Eighth and Belle streets.

One of the quiet weddings of the season was that of Miss Janice Reeves to Mr. Roy Scudder of Trona, which occurred on Wednesday, the Rev. George A. Laughton of Riverside performing the ceremony. Mrs. Scudder is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Reeves of this city, and is well and favorably known to a large circle of friends. For more than a year she was a clerk in the local postoffice, resigning that position the first of the year. Mr. and Mrs. Scudder will make their home in Trona.

Mrs. M. M. Nowles has had as her house guest the past week Mrs. E. H. Brann of Orange.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Conover are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. John Hyatt of Larned, Kan., who made the trip to Corona by automobile. The visitors are planning on touring the State from one end to the other, and may decide to locate here permanently.

ALHAMBRA.

A guest from Pasadena, Mrs. A. B. Palmer, was the honoree at a luncheon presided over by Mrs. Isaac Boyd last Friday. Covers were laid for ten. Purple violets and yellow acacia were used in profusion, making a handsome color scheme. Following the luncheon the afternoon was devoted to music and general chat.

Mrs. Fred Richardson and Miss Mary Woodward were in charge of the programme for the P.E.O. luncheon at which Mrs. E. L. McCormack was the hostess at her

Store Expansion Sale

Carpenters are still at work and probably will be all this week, and so to repay you for the noise and confusion we put forward scores of lowered prices and worlds of new merchandise, too!

Mr. F. B. Silverwood We Welcome You. to Upper Broadway

—We're proud, indeed, to have you for a neighbor—

—Proud because you stand for the best in modern merchandising—

—Proud, too, because you add the weight of your judgment to the faith that we Northenders have in Upper Broadway—

—Quite a few people—including yourself—think that you are taking this store just across from us—as a temporary location—but here is once that you are mistaken.

—You will open your wonderful new store at Sixth and Broadway without a doubt, and we wish you well — but Upper Broadway is going to be such an eye-opener to you that you are bound to stay with us—

—Our business right now is running practically three times that of any previous year—note that again—three times ahead of any previous year!

—What we are doing—our neighbors are doing, too—and we know you are going to follow suit—for we know your way of doing business—

—Again welcome — we'll all be over to see you in the morning—

ROMANCE SHINES ON THE SCREENS.

Comedy Sparkles Also Fill Cinema Programme.

Mabel Normand and Wallie Reid in Light Roles.

Norma Talmadge, Clayton and Hayakawa Stars Gleam.

The invigorating influence of strong drama has not yet died down in the photoplay world, but nevertheless the sentiments of the screen followers will be gladdened by the sunnier warmth of comedy and lighter romance this week. During the seven days just closed, the more intense features dominated, but such names as Wallace Reid and Mabel Normand, now heading the list in the new plays, promise many smiles and laughs.

Norma Talmadge, in her "Romance of Two Worlds," will reign among the stars in the more serious type of entertainment. Sessue Hayakawa and Ethel Clayton also will be seen in dramatic plays. So, too, will Alice Joyce.

Mary Pickford and Anita Stewart, in the continuations of their respective features, however, provide a large share of amusement, as well as pathos. Elsie Janis also has a very cheerful story. Charlie Ray, who will be seen at two different theaters, assures many glad moments. "The Triflers" and "The Boomerang" are the titles of two plays of the more vigorous type.

Harry Houdini will be seen in a startler, "The Grim Game."

"Everywoman" still reigns as a feature de luxe.

Grauman's.

Speed is the keynote of Wallace Reid's "Double Speed," which will show this week at Grauman's Million Dollar Theater. It is also the motif in Al St. John's snappy comedy "Speed."

Situations in the "movies" in which the hero poses as another and causes all sorts of complications are fairly common, but did you ever hear of a person occasioning a big commotion simply by pretending to be himself? That is exactly what Wallace Reid does in "Double Speed." Mr. Reid has the role of "Speed" Carr, a wealthy young "live wire" who on an auto trip to Los Angeles from New York is robbed of everything in the middle of the desert by tramps and is obliged to finish his trip with a friendly farmer who happens by in a "flivver." Carr had planned to meet his uncle, John Ogden, in Los Angeles, there to arrange about his inheritance. He is ejected from the bank as an imposter on presenting himself, and is forced to secure a job as chauffeur. It happens that he is employed by the bank president's daughter, under the name of Barry Cole.

Later, in order that he may negotiate a loan with his uncle, the banking man gets the supposed chauffeur to pose as the missing young man. All sorts of complications follow, but, of course, it turns out happily for "Speed" and the girl.

Included in the supporting cast are Wanda Hawley, Theodore Roberts and Tully Marshall. The fast and furious work of Al St. John is said to be at its supremacy in his latest vehicle, "Speed."

The orchestra, conducted by Arthur Kay, will play the overture to "Zampa."

Clune's Broadway.

Rupert Hughes is one of the few American novelists whose works have not been branded by foreign critics as "superficially smart," and in his "The Thirteenth Commandment," in which Ethel Clayton appears at Clune's Broadway, beginning today, Mr. Hughes is said to have struck a telling blow at a social condition, which presents one of the big domestic and economic problems in America today, namely, the mania for spending that has caught American women in its silken net. It is not merely an indictment of the extravagance of women that Hughes presents; it is a criticism of the weakness and wife-indulgence of the American business man.

Ethel Clayton has, in the role of Daphne Kip, whose moral courage leads her away from the morass of suffocating luxury, unpaid for, into the clean breeziness of business independence and the "partnership marriage" which the modern woman is demanding. Miss Clayton has that luminous beauty so peculiar to the carefully nurtured hothouse culture of the young American girl, and her insight as an actress lends to this ingenious sweetness that intriguing touch of sophistication that so puzzles the foreigner.

Miss Clayton is supported by Irving Cummings, Winter Hall, Charles Meredith, Anna Q. Nilsson and others.

Symphony.

Elsie Janis in "A Regular Girl," written by Frances Marion, who created many of Mary Pickford's successes, and directed by James Young, comes to the Symphony this Sunday as a companion offering to Jack Roberts's musical comedy presentation, "Step Lively, Girls." A Christie comedy, "Fuss and Folly," and the Fox news weekly complete the bill. "A Regular Girl" shows Miss Janis as an enterprising young maid, who starts up a circus in order to raise money for a worthy cause. The stunts of daring abandon she performs in her circus brings the smart set out to see her shows, and she demonstrates to her father and fiance that a girl can gather a fortune for herself in the business world.

Don Adams, the trick comedian of the Jack Roberts company, will have a laughable role in the tabloid musical comedy, which will contain new songs, dances and pleasing costumes.

Alhambra.

Alice Joyce is the star in Rex Beach's dramatic society play, "The Vengeance of Durand," which will show at the Alhambra, beginning today. The play has been adapted for the screen by Mr. and Mrs. George Randolph Chester, and was directed by Tom Terris. "The Vengeance of Durand" is said to possess gorgeous settings, and a strong plot theme. Chivalry and modern knightliness find play throughout against a contrast of equally dynamic evil. The climax is laid in the social capital of the world, Paris.

The cast in the picture supporting Miss Joyce is composed of G. V. Seyffertitz, Percy Marmont, Herbert Pattee, William Bechtel, Eugene Strong and Mark Smith.

Miller's.

Sessue Hayakawa, the oriental actor, will be seen in "The Tong Man," his latest production, at Miller's Theater, beginning today. He appears as the hatchetman or gunman of one of the mysterious tongs of Frisco's underworld.

One of the thrilling and hair-raising episodes of the play is the riot of the tongmen, and the raid of the tong. A whole section of the picturesque section of San Francisco is shown, filled with fighting Chinks, who swarm up the fire escapes, over the roofs of houses, and tumble-down cellars, in an attempt to exterminate their assailants. Hayakawa is in the midst of this melee in a spectacular rescue of his sweetheart, pretty Sen Chee. She had fallen into the hands of the murderous leader of the tongmen after effecting her escape from the secret tong chamber.

An additional attraction will be Teddy Sampson in her first Century comedy, "A Four-Cylinder Courtship." The Miller topical digest, good vocal numbers, a clever cartoon and music on the big Robert Morton organ are other units in the programme.

Superba.

"The Triflers," an all-star production, directed by Christy Cabanne, will be the dramatic feature of the police on the secret chamber of the Superba bill, starting today. This will be supplemented by the Century animal comedy, "Weak Hearts and Wild Lions," and a screen biography of Gen. Pershing, showing the commander of the overseas forces, who is coming to Los Angeles for a visit, from boyhood to the present day.

"The Triflers" is the story of a shop girl with a crepe de chine soul, and the cast comprises Edith Roberts, David Butler, Forrest Stanley, Arthur Shirley, Kathleen Kirkham, Nell Craig, Magda Lane, Lillian Langdon, Bennie Alexander, Arthur Hoyt and others.

The little shopgirl of the story comes to realize that love in the home of a motor cop is preferable to boredom as the sweetheart of a millionaire.

"Weak Hearts and Wild Lions" is said to be one of the funniest animal comedies yet produced. "The Life of Gen. Pershing" is being staged in honor of the noted commander's visit.

Victory.

Three attractions constitute the bill at the Victory, opening today. Henry B. Walthall, who will be remembered for his "Long Arm of Mannister," will be seen in "The Boomerang;" Al Jennings is to appear in his latest two-reeler, "An Unexpected Shot," and Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran, the twin funsters, appear in "In the Sweet Dry and Dry," a satire on the prohibition question.

"The Boomerang" is a story of love, frenzied finance and crooked politics. Walthall is supported by a large cast, which includes Melbourne MacDowell, Helen Jerome Eddy, Jack MacDonald, Beulah Booker, Nigel de Brullier and Nina Byron. Bertram Bracken directed the picture.

Many critics have pronounced "The Boomerang" Walthall's best picture since "False Faces." It was staged by the National Film Corporation from the well-known novel by William Hamilton Osborne.

De Luxe Theater.

During the production of "The Grim Game," the Paramount-Artcraft picture, starring Houdini, which is being shown at the De Luxe Theater this week, the famous YO, HO, FOR THE PIRATE CRAFT!

Another Adventure of the Picture Star-Gods in the Olympian Heights; How They Trapped the Privateer.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

"What's on for today?" yawned Tommy Meighan Mars, as he entered the lobby of the Lares and Penates Hotel late the morning after the Titans had been downed, as related in a foregoing reel of this veracious tale concerning the doings of the stars who consented to let the jealous Olympian gods take their places on earth for a while.

Tony Moreno Bacchus stopped in his sipping of a brimstone Tom-and-Jerry he had got one of the Titans to teach him to make, glancing up from the morning edition of Olympian Peppy Papyrus, which he was reading. "Excursion on Tom Mix Neptune's Charon Super-Six motor boat!" he replied.

"Is it going to be exclusive?" drawled Gloria S. Penelope, "because if they're going to have any of those little bush league gods along, I'm not going!"

"Oh, no, only us face-cards are to be allowed!" spoke up Wally Reid Mercury with a grin.

"Do they allow dogs?" asked Peggy Hyland, patting Cerberus on one of his heads.

"Sure! Dogs but no goats," answered Tony Bacchus, glancing at Mary MacLaren Diana.

"Oh, I wasn't intending to take

MORE BRITISH CAPITAL HERE.

Munitions Manufacturer Buys Romayne Control.

Plans Foreign and American Activities.

What Doing in Hollywood and Along the Rialto.

An important move in the film world was accomplished last week when G. F. Thew, as head of the Thew Syndicate, Ltd., of Liverpool and London, formerly engaged in the making of war munitions, took over the controlling interest in the Romayne Superfilm Company of this city, of which H. Y. Romayne is president.

Mr. Thew and his son, Eric, are both here at present, completing preparations for the expansion of the Romayne studios in Culver City, and announce that many improvements will be made in the already well-equipped plant. A portion of Thew's time each year will be spent in California and the remaining months in England.

Plans of the company, according to Mr. Thew, include the building of a studio in England, probably in Cheshire county, where pictures will be made for Romayne with native actors and also with American players sent from here. The companies will go to France and Italy for some of their pictures. Mr. Thew, Jr., will remain here to oversee work at the Culver City studios. The elder Thew will stay here until about April, when he will return to England.

Four companies are at present working at the Culver City studios. Others will shortly be added. These companies consist of three comedy and a western. A line of Romayne specials in comedies is to be commenced this week, starring Bumps Adams, with Grace Gordon as feminine lead. Fred Jefferson has charge of the company in which Dorothy Wolbert is playing leads. The Western, headed by Dave Esburg and Horace Carpenter, is at Victorville making scenes for their current picture.

Pallette as Model Hubby.

Eugene Pallette will be Viola Dana's leading man in "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," her Screen Classic picture following "Eliza Comes to Stay," Maxwell Karger, Metro director-general, stated today.

Mr. Pallette is at present enacting "Red" Joclyn in "Alias Jimmy Valentine," Bert Lytell's picture. He was May Allison's leading man in "Fair and Warmer," playing Billy, the model husband. In "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" he will have the role of Reggie, also a model husband, and one who gets himself into some amusing scrapes.

"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" is a hilarious boudoir comedy by C. W. Bell and Mark Swan. It was first staged at Atlantic City and later went to the Republic Theater, in New York City, where it had a successful run. In the film production Miss Dana will be Polly Hathaway, society reporter on a "scandal sheet," played in the original stage production by Florence Stone.

With Armstrong Company.

Kenneth Chryst, dramatic art student of Marion Warde, has joined the Armstrong company at the Burbank Theater and is appearing this week in a character part. This talented young actor was seen recently at Grauman's Theater as the Toy Maker in "The Toy Shop." He took the part on a few hours' notice.

Saturday night Marion Warde held her usual monthly salon. About fifty guests were present among whom several were visiting artists who gave, during the evening, an impromptu programme. Senorita Rivera, lyceum entertainer, presented in costume two delightful Spanish dances; the Misses Turner and Maleby rendered operatic and popular numbers; Miss Edith Yorke of the Ince studio, and Miss Eleanor Fenelon of the Benson Players, London, gave readings, and Mr. Le Witt of the Pantages circuit pleased with a humorous monologue.

Troops Clash in Pass.

British and Indian troops numbering 900 will battle in the Santa Susana Pass during the next week for scenes in "The Hope," the Drury Lane melodrama, now being filmed by Screen Classics, Inc. This pass, located in the mountains above Chatsworth, is the division between the San Fernando and Ventura valleys.

It was chosen as the location for "The Hope" because of its similarity to the famous Khyber Pass in India. This great passageway, "gateway to India," is the scene in Cecil Raleigh's and Henry Hamilton's melodrama of a spirited engagement between Afghanistan savages and troops of the British India army.

The crowd that participates in the battle scenes of "The Hope" will be transported daily to and from location, a distance of fifty miles. Herbert Blache is directing this famous story and has a squad of assistants. Jack Mulhall, Ruth Stonehouse, Frank Elliott and Marguerite de la Motte head the cast. Both Mr. Mulhall and Mr. Elliott take part in the battle scenes.

Leap Year Proposal.

One charming young Nipponese person, to judge from her photograph which accompanied an admiring letter to Arthur Edmund Carew, the film favorite, evidently has taken "American leaping year" much to heart, for she writes:

"Most Honorable Carew: It very unordinary Japanese girl write America man I love picture for you and I go see movie holl two three time weekly hoping see you once again. America girl in Tokio tell this leaping year in America. Inclosed my picture if you like you send for me. I await your honorable answer."

Of course, Carew, a chivalrous young man, will give out neither the name nor the address of the young creature who assumes occidental fashions of 1920 in so decisive a manner, but the picture of his "first

SONG AND FUN IN SPOTLIGHT.

Much Gay Entertainment in Footlight Land.

Olcott Comes to Mason in "Macushla."

"Chic" Sale and Edwards the Orpheum Topliners.

Stageland is a fair land this week, for every show is brightened by melody or humor. Chauncey Olcott, who is reckoned as one of the inimitable personalities of the footlight realm, returns in his Irish comedy with music, "Mucushla." Olcott will sing favorite ballads of Erin. "Civilian Clothes" and "The Country Cousin," stock attractions, are both holding over. The former is in the thirty-first week. A new fun-music festivity will be staged by the Armstrong company. The Orpheum bill has two topliners in "Chic' Sale, the rube imitator, and the Gus Edwards' musical revue. An indoor circus that will make an especial appeal to children heads the Pantages bill. The Hip has a thrill photoplay feature and vaudeville novelties.

The Community Theater in Pasadena is presenting Shakespeare's "Tempest," and "The Mission Play" is running as a regular attraction at San Gabriel.

Mason.

That popular hero of Irish romance on the stage, Chauncey Olcott, is to provide entertainment in acting and song this week at the Mason. His play is "Macushla," which is described as a potent fantasy of old Erin that will charm the admirers of the singer-star. All the color and fascination that goes to make a costume production is said to be blended into the old dramatic plot of the play. The cast has been suitably chosen to surround the favorite.

Orpheum.

The Orpheum programme starting tomorrow afternoon will be headed by Charles (Chic) Sale and Gus Edwards. Mr. Sale is the accepted stage delineator of rural types—not a burlesquer, but a faithful portrayer of the folk one finds in the little backwoods. He himself came from such a village and he has made a special study of the types. Only recently was he released from a revue engagement in New York to resume his vaudeville activities.

Gus Edwards is noted as a writer of popular songs, who in recent years has often brought out a revue of his own composition and his proteges. He retired for a time to do nothing but produce and write, but he was later prevailed upon to present a 'Welcome Home' revue as his real farewell. In it he is accompanied by Alice and Hazel Furness and by a smart 'Kid McCormick," Vincent O'Donnell.

The Arnaut Brothers are musical clowns, tumbling while playing violins. Charles E. Bensee and Florance Baird appear in Scotch garb, offering songs, dances, patter and fun galore; Phil Roy and Roy Arthur are seen in "A Chinese Restaurant," but what they do to it and its furnishings in their juggling is said to be a caution; Dolly Kay sings syncopated songs cleverly and smartly, and the Rickards have a stunt act.

The only holdover is the Ford sisters, with their orchestra and their succession of smart and fetching dances.

Majestic.

"The Country Cousin" by Booth Tarkington and Julian Street, a brilliant comedy of American life both at Centerville, O., and amid the swift set of the Atlantic Coast, will go into its second week at the Majestic Theater tonight. "The Country Cousin" has proven one of the biggest hits yet staged by the Wilkes Stock Company and is a distinct triumph for Miss Evelyn Varden, who plays the leading role.

The play has an irresistible charm and is filled with laughs throughout its four acts. From a scenic standpoint, "The Country Cousin" is one of the best plays yet staged in this city.

Edward Everett Horton in the role of George Tewksbury Reynolds, III, of whom the sountry cousin makes a real man before the play's end, provides a wealth of comedy in his usual finished fashion. Franklin Pangborn, George C. Pearce, Harry Garrity, Forrest Seabury, Arthur Allard, Miss Marie Curtis, Olga Eide, Alice Elliot, Arri Rodman and others round out the cast.

Morosco.

"Civilian Clothes, Thompson Buchanan's hit, will enter the thirty-first consecutive week at the Morosco Theater with today's matinee.

Herbert Heyes, the new leading man, is making an enviable reputation for himself through his interpretation of the role of "Capt. Sam McGinnis." He combines the gift of being an excellent actor with good looks. Miss Eleanor Woodruff, the leading lady, who is also very clever in her work, is wearing a number of newest Paris gowns. Miss Helene Sullivan, a favorite player here, is proving her popularity.

Other members of the cast are: Alfred Whitman, Dora Mae Howe, Joseph Eggenton, Harry Duffield, Lillian Elliott, James Corrigan, Leta Nelson, May Hanna, William Austin, Joseph Cox, Arline Griffith and Charles Geggus.

Pantages.

Old-time circus days will return tomorrow afternoon at Pantages with a unique show billed as an indoor circus. Robinson's Military Elephants head the performance with their stunts, such as marching, pyramid building, acting as Red Cross nurses ministering to a wounded comrade, etc. Next in importance on the circus bill is an acrobatic act, "The International Nine," with a group of agile and adept tumblers and somersaultists. Novelle Brothers have another acrobatic act and a music turn beside. They play violins while performing. There will be clowns in grotesque costumes and other circus features.

In connection with the circus there is to be an old-time concert with several numbers by Genevive Mier and the pretty Gibson Sisters, who do difficult toe dancing and fancy steps, while John T. Ray and his players furnish singing, dancing and humorous dialogue in appropriate character parts.

In addition there will be shown on the screen the pictures which were taken at Pantages on the stage last week by the Making Movies Company.

The fourth episode of the new Vitagraph serial, "The Invisible Hand," with Antonio Moreno as the detective, will be flashed on the screen.

Burbank.

Armstrong's Baby Dolls will be seen in the Nipponese musical concoction, "Maid in Japan," beginning today at the Burbank. This production will be staged with much oriental glamour, and judging from the rehearsals, it looks as though it would be the best offered thus far by the organization. During the action of the play, Harlan Thompson, will render "Oh, What a Pal Was Mary," as a bass 'solo. Other musical numbers in the show will be the popular "While Others are Building Castles in the Air, I'll Build a Cottage for You," "Hindu Rose" and "My Desert Love." "Poor Butterfly is a Fly Girl Now," is another, and a special number written by Mr. Armstrong entitled, "I Don't Like to Play With Boys," is a catchy feature.

The Armstrong Trio will sing, "I Ain't Got No Time to Have the Blues." "The Buddha Dance" will be an oriental specialty, interpreted by Miss Irene Brooks, especially engaged for this solo. Bobbie Dean will be seen again in her singing and dancing specialties and a brand-new routine.

Edward Armstrong and George Rhen, as the American visitors in Japan, get themselves into many troubles.

Hippodrome.

The feature picture in conjunction with the six-act vaudeville bill at the Hippodrome, starting today, it is "The Tower of Jewels," a crook play in which Corinne Griffith plays the leading role as the "Female Raffles."

An amusing sketch heads the vaudeville show—"Getting Money," played by Harry Mason and company of four people. Mr. Mason has the role of an old Hebrew character. Wood and Lawson with the aid of a piano present fifteen minutes of rapid-fire entertainment.

The Six Serenaders present melange of music and songs, and Leo Raley, in "Nothing Serious," tells some amusing stories. Collins and Dunbar in songs and dances, and Harris and Harris in balancing feats complete the show.

The Mission Play.

The Mission Play enters upon the second week of its season at the old San Gabriel Mission with increasing attendance each afternoon. Never before have the crowds been so large, it is averred, and the Pacific Electric report they have had to add extra cars on three days during the week to handle the throng.

Frederick Warde and Mrs. Tyrone Power head the large cast of 100 that interpret John Steven McGroarty's pageant drama of the early days of Southern California concerning the Franciscian fathers' struggles with the Indians in their battle for Christianity and civilization. The Mission Play is distinctly a California institution. The old San Gabriel Mission locale is the Mecca of the tourists.

Hollywood Community.

The fourth production of the Hollywood Community Theater's season will open for the usual two weeks' run, beginning February 2. Two of the four one-act plays, a part of the selection secured by Director Neely Dickson during her recent trip to New York, will have their premiere. These two plays are "The Green Scarf," by Kenneth Goodman, a society comedy with an unusual plot, and "Distinguished Service," by Florence Clay Knox, a society comedy-drama, which, in spite of its name, is not a war play.

A translation of "Sabotage," one of the most tremendous and startling successes of recent years, at the Grand Guignol, Paris, will afford balance to the bill, by supplying the tragedy. "Sabotage" has created more discussion in Europe than probably any other one-act play in its generation, it is said.

The beautiful pantomime produced last year, "The Shepherd in the Distance," with its most ingenious stage set by Mitchell Leisen, will be repeated.

Casts for the four plays will be announced later.

WILL MANAGE STUDIO.

Clune Executive to Leave Down-Town Picture House.

Otto L. Little, manager of Clune's Broadway Theater, will relinquish his duties in that capacity February 1, and at the same time will assume the more important position as manager of Clune's Studio at Hollywood. During the year of his association with W. H. Clune as manager of his Broadway playhouse, Mr. Little has won many friends among the theater's patrons and he will be greatly missed along the cinema rialto. In his new position, however, Mr. Little will have the opportunity of utilizing his managerial talents in a wider field. C. A. Pedrick, formerly manager of Clune's Theater in Pasadena, will succeed Mr. Little as manager of Clune's Broadway.

Misrepresentation.

San Francisco newspaper man, whose Dragon's Daughter," has to the screen for Ses- under the title of Man," is in this city and been received from him by the management of the Miller Theater regarding the criticism by the Chinese Six Companies of San Francisco, who protested against the picture as misrepresenting their race.

He says, in part: "Hayakawa's filmed version of my novel, 'The Dragon's Daughter,' called now 'The Tong Man,' seems to me to be intended solely to interest and please the amusement-loving public just as my book was written to interest and please the reading public. The novel received favorable reviews notably in all the San Francisco daily papers and no protest was thought of against its appearance in book covers. Its action on the screen parallels with remarkable accuracy the action of the story.

"To the San Francisco dweller, tong wars were not an uncommon occurrence. The swish of a gleaming hatchet in a dark alley, the spit of an automatic from a sheltering doorway, the eating of the heart of a tiger cat to give the hatchet man courage, were not fiction—they were facts. It was well known that if a member of one tong was killed, that tong demanded an eye for an eye and got it by slaying a member of the tong that did the killing, and killings went on until the tongs got together and declared peace, which was not always very lasting."

Completing MacLaren Film.

"The Road to Divorce," Mary MacLaren's latest starring vehicle, is nearing its final scenes at Universal City under the guidance of Philip Rosen. The photodrama is based on J. Grubb Alexander's story, "The Better Half," and Miss MacLaren's support includes Edward Peil, Bonnie Hill, Eugenie Forde, Helen Davidge, Gloria Holt and Roy Stecker.

Useless Labor.

Wallace Beery is in a sad frame of mind. When he was given the role of the Hun U-boat commander in Hobart Bosworth's latest production, "Behind the Door," he was forced to practice a lip movement in German. When Bostworth asks him if he will have a drink he lets loose a large "Ja." Beery says he has perfected the "Ja," in English, "Yes," and now the country has gone dry, and if he is asked to have a drink his "Ja" is of no use.

A Surprise Finish.

Colleen Moore and Rhea Mitchell, who are supporting Sessue Hayakawa in his current production being made at the old Griffith studio, drove away to lunch in Miss Moore's new coupe, and as they drew up at the curb in front of the cafe of their choice, they halted near a vegetable cart. The vender had a little boy with him and the youngster piped up: "Them's play actors, aren't they?"

"Cute little fellow," Miss Moore was saying in an aside to Miss Mitchell when she was rudely interrupted.

"Hold your tongue, you young rascal," the two actresses heard the old man cry, "you don't know what you may come to yourself!"

Change Name Bennett Film.

Enid Bennett's latest Thomas H. Ince production, announced previously under the title of "The Man in the Moon," has been changed to "The False Road." The story deals with a gang of bank robbers of New York and is said to give Miss Bennett wide scope for dramatic portrayal of the highest order. Fred Niblo is directing.

Elmer Harris Re-engaged.

Elmer Harris, writer of farces and musical comedy librettos, has recently signed with Famous Players-Lasky Corporation for another year, to do scenarios, particularly farcical photoplays and adaptations. Elmer Harris has already written "The Lottery Man," starring Wallace Reid; "Why Smith Left Home," "It Pays to Advertise" and "The Six Best Cellars," with Bryant Washburn as star, and "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," in which that actor is now working. "The Sins of St. Anthony," a new Washburn scenario, is just being completed by Mr. Harris.

Aside from his screen work, Mr. Harris has done a number of musical farces with Oliver Morosco, including "So Long Letty" and "Canary Cottage," while he is sole author of the farce, "Poor Mama," and "Your Neighbor's Wife."

Viola Adopts Dog.

Viola Dana and her sister, Shirley Mason, have adopted two young Chinese named Quong and Qui. They (the Chinese) are 3-months-old twin puppies, silky, brown and black, Pekinese. Both Miss Dana and her sister pretend to tell them apart, but no one else can.

Olcott's Bracer Puzzles.

One of the most interesting events in the stage career of Chauncey Olcott, who will open his engagement in this city Monday night at the Mason, in "Macushla," is an account of his opening night in the Drury Lane Theater, London, twelve years ago, and he relates this incident with more than usual delight.

As everyone knows, an actor who opens in a new part in a strange land is very nervous and will do and say things that he or she would never do when the attraction goes into "smooth sailing."

Mr. Olcott, like every principal player in the theaters of England, was allowed a valet, who looked after all his wants while he was in the theater.

Olcott had noticed time and again that the valet would laugh heartily at something of which he (Olcott) was entirely unconscious. This annoyed Mr. Olcott very much, as he thought the English valet was making fun of him. The valet continued to laugh, however, until it had "gotten Mr. Olcott's goat."

Chauncey at last broke out, "William, what are you laughing at?" "Mr. Olcott, where is Kalamazoo?" asked the valet.

This, of course, brought Mr. Olcott back to his normal sense and he remembered that while he was putting the paint and powder on his face and dressing his wig, he was saying to himself, loud enough for the valet to hear, "Brace up, old man, you are not opening in Kalamazoo tonight."

A Friendship Bottle (?)

Arthur Edmund Carew and George Irving, leading man and director, respectively, for Lawrence Weber productions, have become fast friends since the beginning of filming of "Children of Destiny," being made at the Brunton studios.

But Irving now declares that Carew has not comported himself as should a friend and fellow-artist. The other day Arthur Edmund appeared on the set and just before entering a scene with Miss Edith Hallor, he drew a bottle from his "hip pocket" and quaffed of an amber brew. "For my cold," he explained, naively.

Director Irving stopped all activity to inquire into the peculiar nature of Carew's malady and even showed an inclination to try Carew's "medicine."

"Better not," warned the film favorite. "It's cough medicine. Bitter stuff, too."

"Tell that to the marines," retorted Irving, while Miss Hallor gazed askance at the disclosing of masculine vices. "Leading man and director should share and share alike. I've got a cold myself. I'd like to try that stuff," and Irving gave a rasping cough to substantiate his argument.

Finally, Carew was prevailed upon and the director, dry as Sahara, imbibed a long draught. When he "came up" for air his countenance was a sight to behold.

"Wow!" he yelled. "Bitters!"

And Carew declares he was maltreated, in the matter of lighting and action for that entire day, and that even now the sting has not yet been entirely assuaged.

Carey's Vacation Over.

Harry Carey has returned to Universal City after a rest of six weeks and is ready to begin on the production of "Luck," by John Frederick, as soon as the cast has been completed. Lynn Reynolds, who directed the star in "Overland Red," will supervise his next feature.

Director for London Stories.

Edward ("Ted") Sloman will direct the Jack London stories Metro is producing for C. E. Shurtleff, Inc., which owns the screen rights to the late novelist's work. Mr. Sloman signed a contract with C. P. Butler, general superintendent of the Metro studio, Friday. He will begin the first picture, "Burning Daylight," the first week of February.

Edward Sloman is the son of an English concert singer, Isaac Sloman. He is related to the American stage producer, David Belasco, on his mother's side. He was on the stage for twelve years, starting at 18 in a London stock company. He received encouragement and instruction from Augustus Harris, then manager of the Theater Royal, in Drury Lane.

Writes New Normand Song.

Victor L. Schertzinger, who wrote and directed Mabel Normand's latest Goldwyn production, "Pinto," has likewise composed a popular song especially for the production. During his recent visit to New York he placed three original compositions with a publishing firm. "Pinto," the song, as well as the picture, will feature the programme at the California Theater beginning Sunday.

Murray's Tips to Crooks.

Charley Murray, the Celtic comedian of the Mack Sennett forces, celebrated, last week, his fourth visit by strangers. It cost him about $3000, according to his report to Los Angeles' Chief of Police. "I wouldn't mind being the victim once or twice—but four times in a year; that's too much like an epidemic," says Comedian Murray.

"I am having a sign painted in stencil to be hung at all my windows: 'Please don't break the glass. You'll find the back door unlocked. If my clothes don't fit you, let me know your size and I'll get 'em altered. Don't take the piano. It isn't all paid for yet. The beer is in the cellar.'"

Alaskan Exhibitor Here.

Accompanied by his wife, L. H. Kubley, manager of the Dream Theater, in Ketchikan, Alaska, was a visitor this week at the Lasky studio. Ketchikan is near Juneau, and is one of the most thriving of the northern towns. Mr. and Mrs. Kubley are in Los Angeles for their first visit. They will spend several weeks here before returning to the Far North.

Phyllis Haver Solves Plot.

Among the principals in the plot of "Ten Dollars or Ten Days," Mack Sennett's newest two-reel comedy feature to be released early in February, are Ford Sterling, Charley Murray and Phyllis Haver. Sterling will be seen as a nattily-dressed young married man whose deportment isn't quite as irreproachable as his dress. Phyllis Haver, as his wife, makes his tendency to roam most difficult to understand, while Charley Murray, the judge, with prohibition tendencies, is congenially engaged in reconciling the pair—a feat rendered hilariously simple by Miss Haver herself.

Popular Novel Screened.

Jack Ford, who directed Harry Carey in his most recent success, "Marked Men," is about to begin filming "The Girl in the Mirror," from the popular novel of the same name by Elizabeth Jordan. The cast will be headed by Frank Mayo, and includes Claire Anderson, Elinor Fair, Harry Hilliard, Ray Ripley, Ruth Royce, Robert Bolder, Arthur Hoyt and Bull Montana.

New MacLean-May Special.

Douglas MacLean and Doris May are again starred in a Thomas H. Ince production, this time a picture of more interest and more comedy than the previous MacLean and May features. Just one little inkling concerning the film is that the plot of the story hinges around an escaped "jailbird"—not a very desperate one, indeed, but a chap who has just bundles of humor in his make-up—and a sweet little country lassie as his pal.

Contributes to Mirth.

Ellis Parker Butler, author of "Pigs is Pigs," etc., will be seen at Tally's Kinema next Sunday on the screen. The famous wit has a few things to say on prohibition in Mr. Chester's newest screen offering, "Screenics," which is a combination of beautiful scenes and witty sayings by the nation's humorists.

The Lure Inevitable.

"Is there anybody who does not want to get into motion pictures?"

This was the inquiry made by Wallace Reid, star of "Some Speed," coming to Grauman's, after going through his "fan mail" recently.

One letter was from a 17-year-old boy, who felt capable of starring in western pictures. Another was from a woman of 60, who regretted that she had not started in motion pictures earlier, but added that she was ready to begin at once. Still another was from a mother of a pair of 3-year-old twins. "They are the handsomest boys I ever did see," the mother wrote, "and I just know they have dramatic talent."

Wanda's Ultimatum.

Wanda Hawley, playing Beauty in "Everywoman," who also has one of the leading roles in "Held by the Enemy," arrived on the set ten minutes late the other morning.

"The servant problem is responsible," she told Donald Crisp, who is directing the picture at the Famous Players-Lasky studios.

"How so?" he inquired.

"The cook quit yesterday," Miss Hawley explained, "and this morning I had to cook breakfast twice. Everything burnt up the first time. The only way you can be sure of having me here on time is to find me a new cook."

self-liberator accepted the challenge of four naval officers to be lashed to the muzzle of the cannon which is located in Pershing Square, Los Angeles, and escape before the gun could be fired. The weapon was loaded and a fuse attached, but the police interfered before the trigger lanyard could be pulled.

However, Houdini extricated himself from the ropes, which it had taken six minutes to tie, in exactly two minutes and a half, it is said.

Palace.

Charles Ray comes to the Palace today in "The Clodhopper," said by critics to be one of his greatest successes. The photoplay was written by Monte M. Katterjohn, known as author of "The Flame of the Yukon," and is a Thomas H. Ince production made by Triangle.

Mr. Ray undertakes the role of a farm boy who is forced to leave home through the cruelties of a stern father. He goes to New York and makes a sudden success as a dancer in time to save his father from ruin and marry the girl.

Mr. Ray is supported by an excellent cast. Margery Wilson, who has been seen as "the girl" in other productions starring Charles Ray, again takes the leading feminine role.

Clune's Auditorium.

Eleanor H. Porter's story, "Pollyanna," has proven an ideal photoplay for Mary Pickford, and the picture will continue on its course of success at Clune's Auditorium, the second week opening tomorrow. The star is supported by a strong cast, including J. Wharton James, Katherine Griffith, William Courtleigh, Herbert Prior, Helen Jerome Eddy, George Berrell and Howard Ralston.

In Mary Pickford's characterization, it is said, there is a depth of feeling that reaches the heart. The humor, the pathos, the genuine humanness that she puts into her work in this picture, all emphasize the charm of the story.

Garrick.

Charles Ray will be the star of the bill at the Garrick today in "Red Hot Dollars," his Paramount picture, produced under the direction of Thomas H. Ince. "Red Hot Dollars" is the story of a young foundry worker who becomes rich overnight, but who is unable to sever relations with his poor friends, much to the regret of his aristocratic sponsors.

The role afforded Ray is especially fitted to his talents. The play is well filled with drama, suspense and laughs.

As added attractions "While the Auto Waits," a film version of one of O. Henry's delightful tales, and a news weekly showing all the latest events on the screen, are announced.

Grauman's Rialto.

"A vision of loveliness, a story of the ages in an ultra-modern atmosphere," is an apt way of expressing the appeal of "Everywoman," the Paramount-Artcraft production which starts its second week's screening at Grauman's Rialto Theater today. Violet Hemming, in the title role, portrays the character of a young and beautiful girl, who is wooed by three suitors, a struggling young physician, an actor and a millionaire. She is very indifferent toward the former, and, being offered an opportunity to go upon the stage by a theatrical manager, she confers with her girl friends who give her varied advice.

Symbolism now enters into the story, and the girl becomes "Everywoman," her companions are Youth, Beauty and Modesty. Flattery appears and calls everywoman to seek fame on the stage of life, she accepts the offer of the theatrical manager, and becomes a star practically over night; she is wooed ardently by the actor called Passion, and Wealth, the millionaire. Passion is mistaken by her for Love, and she succumbs to his wiles only to discover in time that she has made an error.

Her life then becomes a tempestuous affair; cisissitudes beset her; she yearns for the supreme happiness of a woman's life, true love, and after many dismaying encounters finally returns to the young physician, whom she finds typifies the love she has been seeking.

The picture is convincingly interpreted by Theodore Roberts, Wanda Hawley, Irving Cummings, Bebe Daniels, Raymond Hatton, Mildred Reardon, Tully Marshall, and many others.

A spoken prologue, a musical atmosphere provided by the Rialto String Orchestra, and organ solos, are some of the other features of the programme.

Tally's Kinema.

Norma Talmadge will make her debut as a "First National" star in the film adaptation of Leroy Scott's famous novel, "A Daughter of Two Worlds," at Tally's Kinema today. She has the role of Jennie Malone, daughter of Black Jack Jerry Malone, denizen of the underworld, gambler, confidence man, and adored by his kind. There are two worlds which pass each other daily in the streets, unknowingly, and from one of these worlds Jennie is transposed by love into a world new, beautiful, and strangely romantic to the impressionistic girl. Leroy Scott has taken a theme new to film fans, it is said and woven it into a dramatic romance which favors the leading character with opportunities to display her histrionic ability.

The added Kinema attractions will comprise an atmospheric entreact, "The Story of Aloha," showing bewitching settings of the famous jungle craters of Hawaii, the lava flowing down the mountain side into the deep blue seas and valleys, Prince Lei Lani, in songs of the southern seas with native dancers and singers assisting. The overture will be Offenbach's "Orpheus in the Underworld," under the direction of A. Merrill Gilbert.

Tally's Broadway.

Anita Stewart who has been playing to packed houses in the good luck picture of 1920, "In Old Kentucky," will now appear in the same production at Tally's Broadway, beginning tomorrow.

"In Old Kentucky," which was directed by Marshall Neilan, shows as its main episodes, wild rides of the night riders, the fox hunt, the Louisville derby, the revenge of the moonshiner, the dance of the ants and a leap across the chasm.

There will be added screen attractions as well as musical numbers, with C. Percival Garratt at the pipe organ.

California.

In conjunction with the feature attraction "Pinto" starring Mabel Normand, an exceptional bill is announced for the California, beginning today.

The Goldwyn production, "Pinto," written and directed by Victor Schertzinger, provides a new departure for vivacious Mabel, it is said. The scenes are laid in Arizona and New York City. Her wild and woolly entrance into eastern society furnishes many of the big laughs. Miss Normand is supported by Cullen Landis, Edward Jobson, George Nichols, Edyth Chapman, William Elmer, Hallam Cooley, Andrew Arbuckle, Richard Cummings, George Kunkel, John Burton, Joseph Hazelton and Dwight Crittenden.

A big attraction on the programme will be the appearance of Charles Wakefield Cadman, the composer, rendering selections from his own compositions, chief among which will be "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water" and "The Robin Woman" song from "Shanewis." The vocal interpretation will be given by Mme. Manuela V. Budrow. The California concert orchestra will assist. An elaborate stage setting will add atmosphere for Mr. Cadman's cycle.

The short feature subjects will include the "Illiterate Digest," by Will Rogers; scenic subject; "The Jungle Gentleman," a novelty comedy, and California topical review and magazine. The overture, "Merry Wives of Windsor," will be played by the concert orchestra.

OMAR KHAYYAM ON THE SCREEN.

FERDINAND EARLE PREPARING TO FILM PERSIAN POET'S ROMANCE.

The unique plan of Ferdinand Pinney Earle, noted as a creator of attractive art titles, for the picturization of classic romances with painted backgrounds, is shortly to see fruition in a photo feature delineating the story of Omar Khayyam. The most important portion of the work, consisting in the evolving of the scenic effects, has been practically completed at Mr. Earle's miniature studio on Highland avenue.

The project of the noted artist is perhaps one of the most peculiarly different in film production, as it undertakes the making of pictures from an entirely new angle. It is Mr. Earle's belief that some of the most notable masterpieces of literature, like the tales of the Arabian Nights, can be most effectually picturized in this manner.

WALLIS SCHOOL PRODUCTION.

The two hundred and sixth public production by the Wallis School of Dramatic Art will be offered next Friday night in the school's theater, Gamut Auditorium. Advanced students will appear in a three-part programme, consisting of "Courts of Law," a three-act drama; dancing numbers and musical numbers, with Lucy Wolcott directing. In the cast of "Courts of Law" are Armond Patzer, Garland Brunton, Alfred Manhoff, D. D. Reese, Benjamin Sharpe, Dr. H. A. Ferguson, Joseph Grey, Arthur Legrand, Jessie Ruth Elliott, Leda King, Hortense Prohaska, Marjorie Prince, Lora Jane Lowery, Lillian Lawler and Prof. Ellicott, director of pantomime.

LOCAL COMPOSITION.

The "Dawn of Dawns," lyric by Mrs. Corinne H. Dodge, music by Mrs. Hennion Robinson, will be featured by Mme. Davril at Exposition Park at the reception to Gen. Pershing next Monday.

A TOAST TO "EVERYWOMAN!"

Everywoman, thy beauty, youth and modesty
Are attributes that nothing can replace
Once flown—and when time's hand shall trace
Upon the cameo-clearness of thy face
Shadows of evil—e'en the constantcy
Of those who love thee truly, cannot stand
Against the loss of all that gave thee grace.

Pause, Everywoman, on the brink of tragedy;
Place all thy trust in truth whose charity
Shall lead thee thru the labyrinth unto love,
Ending thy quest at last; and in the sacred grove
Where happiness and hope majestically move,
To the soft and dulcet cooing of the dove—
Thy heart shall find its own in rhapsody,
Akin to the soft music of the spheres
Through all the coming years.

Can "Flattery" Win "Every Woman"

This question is powerfully answered by the greatest photoplay ever written, wherein is revealed the inner workings of women's hearts. The greatest cast ever assembled portrays each character vividly.

section of the Club met at the home and Miss Grace Brierly last week. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Herbert J. Goudge. Miss Agnes McMillan and Mrs. Theodora Brewitt of the Alhambra Public Library took charge of the programme for the afternoon. Children's books were discussed by Miss McMillan, who read several short stories, and Mrs. Brewitt read several excerpts from the much-discussed "Young Visitors," by Daisy Bashford, and attributed lately by critics to James Barrie. Mr. and Mrs. James Barkelew and Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell of Los Angeles motored to Santa Barbara, Saturday, for the week end. Other week-end motor parties included Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kemp, and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Gibbs, who made an interesting trip to Indio. Dr. Fred Wood and Mr. Norman Beebe are spending this week duck hunting in the vicinity of the Salton Sea.

WHITTIER.

Miss Edith Tebbetts was hostess at the meeting of the local chapter of P.E.O. Tuesday afternoon. Mothers of members were special guests for the afternoon, thirty-five being in attendance. Vocal and instrumental music and readings formed the programme of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Glasgow of 548 South Greenleaf avenue entertained informally Tuesday evening complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Archer of Seattle, who are spending some months in the Southland.

Miss Gladys Corwin of Los Nietos and Guy Loomis of this city were married in Los Angeles Saturday, surprising their many friends in Whittier. Both young people are well known here and have a host of friends. They will reside here, the groom being an employee of the Standard Oil Company.

Mrs Harry Williams entertained for her daughter, Miss Dorothy Williams at the family home, 441 North Painter avenue, Saturday evening, the affair carrying out the leap-year idea. Mrs. Williams used a color scheme of red in the hall and living-room with pink and green in the dining-room and for luncheon table and place cards.

VENTURA.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carne entertained groups of their friends at bridge parties on two evenings of this week, about fifty in all enjoying the Carnes hospitality.

Mrs. W. E. Ready was hostess to the Golden West Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at her home, Thursday afternoon.

Little Jeannette Alice Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks, celebrated her third birthday with a children's party on Monday evening.

An art club has been organized by a group of the younger girls, who want to devote a part of their good time gatherings to some fixed purpose. Miss Edythe Kurth is president of the organization; Miss Dorothy Hogue, secretary, and Miss Thelma Jewett, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Randall opened their hospitable home to the Baraca boys of the First Methodist Church for a party on Friday evening.

SANTA PAULA.

Under the direction of the drama section of the Ebell Club, of which Mrs. George A. Miller is the curator, Monday's regular meeting was devoted to the dramatic works of Sir J. M. Barrie. A musical programme of typical Scotch songs was rendered by Mrs. L. B. Bowker, Mrs. Fannie E. Peck and Mrs F. M. Peck, and the Scotch motif was carried out in the floral decorations of the auditorium, which were of Scotch broom. Mrs. Eugene Gardner read "Alice Sit-by-the-Fire," and Miss Madge Cummings gave a resume of the works of the dramatist. "The Twelve-Pound Look" was given with good effect by members of the drama section.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Converse of Pittsburgh, who have recently purchased and commenced the development of the O'Hara canyon ranch, formerly owned by the O'Hara and L. E. Mills families, have arrived from the East, and have named their country place Lindooley ranch. It is to be one of the show ranches of this valley when completely improved.

SIERRA MADRE.

Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dietz, on Baldwin boulevard, the members of the cast in the recent theatrical production given by the Episcopal Church bazaar were entertained with a delightful dinner by a committee of women from the Woman's Guild. Among those besides the members of the cast were Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Shaw, Mr. W. Allen, Ester and John Olsen and Mrs. Palmer Rhodes. Very unique place cards containing clever inscriptions of the achievements and characteristics of each guest were distributed. After the repast card games were played during the balance of the evening.

One of the most successful social affairs of the season was the combination dinner-dance given by the entertainment committee of the Woman's Club in the clubhouse auditorium on Friday night. Many of the younger dancing set from Pasadena and other foothill towns were in attendance. The hall was prettily decorated with pepper boughs and roses.

Mrs. Walter Lynch has been the guest of Mrs. Ralph Braddock in Los Angeles during the past few days.

COACHELLA.

The Coachella Ladies' Aid held a business and social meeting at the church Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Myers was the hostess.

The "Partners" held a business meeting at the home of their teacher, John Westerfield, Friday evening. New officers were elected for the coming year as follows: President, Edgar Maxwell; vice-president, Edgar Smith; secretary and treasurer, Joe Maxwell. Before the pleasant evening closed dainty refreshments of cocoa, cake and sandwiches were served.

The Mecca Growers' Association held its annual meeting Saturday at Mecca and elected Messrs. Yost, Gibbs, Ames, Edmunds and Blackburn directors for the ensuing year.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Thayer, the Misses Metzler, Nash, Mathews, Weigle and Sayre, and Messrs. Smith, Harvey, Ames, Laflin and Campbell spent Sunday at the teachers' quarters at Mecca and visiting the canyons east of Mecca in the afternoon.

Mrs. J. M. Ferguson entertained Mrs. Faries's and Mrs. Fothergill's Sunday-school classes Monday afternoon in honor of little Paul's seventh birthday anniversary. Games and other amusements were enjoyed by the little folk.

PERRIS.

A crowd of unusual size greeted Mrs. Melinda Woodworth at the meeting of the Perris Woman's Club Friday, January 16, and listened to her talk on interior decorating. She had with her a number of samples of draperies and wall papers which were used to illustrate the lecture, and point out the difference between harmonious hues and discordant effects. Mrs. Hoadley and Mrs. Paul Butterfield gave a piano duet, and a vocal duet by Miss Virginia Greenleaf and Miss Hartshorn were greeted by applause. Refreshments and a social hour followed.

At a meeting of the Perris Congregational Church the following officers were elected: Deacons, Karr Young, T. D. Kirkpatrick, Charles G. Hibbard; trustees, Dr. T. L. Lanier, J. L. Greenleaf; clerk, Mrs. C. H. Cowles; Sunday-school superintendent, George H. Hibbard; assistant superintendent, Mrs. L. A. Wood; music committee, Mrs. Helen Brum, Mrs. T. D. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Morrison. Following the business session the attention of the minister and his wife was called to a shower of groceries and canned goods, which had been brought by the people of the parish.

CORONA.

The members of the 16-16 Whist Club were the guests Tuesday evening of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Key at their home on Olive street. Whist was played at five tables and was greatly enjoyed by those present. Mrs. C. C. Harrington and C. R. Miller held the high scores at the end of the playing and were awarded the first prize, a beautiful cut-glass vase.

About thirty-five lady members and friends of the Country Club enjoyed a luncheon and party at the West Olive-street clubhouse Tuesday. Mrs. F. E. Snidecor and Mrs. F. W. Kuster were in charge of the splendidly appointed affair.

The programme of the W.C.T.U. meeting held at the school room of the Methodist Church Tuesday at 2:30 was as follows: "Law Enforcement—Why and How," Dr. Todd; "The Constitution; its Ideals and Principles," Judge Clayson; "The Eighteenth Amendment and How it Was Adopted," Rev. Cole. The large audience thoroughly enjoyed the three excellent addresses.

RIVERSIDE.

Among the notable weddings of the winter season was that of Miss Gertrude Muriel Hersey of this city and Roger Logan Cudworth, St. Paul, which occurred Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride, 1587 Mulberry street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. H. Emmons of Los Angeles, formerly pastor of All Saints' Universalist Church of this city. Decorations of cut flowers brightened the home for the occasion. The bride was gowned in her tailored traveling suit, and wore furs and a close hat. She was given into the keeping of the bridegroom by her uncle, Randolph Hersey, of San Diego. Late in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Cudworth left by motor for their wedding journey, the route being by way of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle. Their destination is St. Paul, near which city they will make their permanent home.

At an impressive church wedding, solemnized Tuesday evening, Miss Elsie Carlson of this city became the bride of Frank Carlson of Lindsborg, Kan. The ceremony was performed at the Swedish Lutheran Church, and the service was read in Swedish by Dr. Carl A. Hemborg of Los Angeles, formerly pastor of the local church. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine, softly draped and delicately embroidered with hand work. The bride was accompanied by Miss Elsie Carlson, a cousin of the groom, as bridesmaid, and by Miss Olive Carlson, the bride's sister, as maid of honor. Little Ethel Benson was flower girl. The groom was attended by Clarence Anderson and Arthur Carlson. The wedding reception was held at the Y.W.C.A. rooms, where the bride and groom were assisted in receiving by Mrs. L. A. Carlson and Miss Johnson, mother and aunt, respectively, of the bride, and Mrs. E. A. Sundberg of Los Angeles, sister of the groom. Before her graduation from the University of Southern California, Mrs. Carlson was connected with the local Y.W.C.A., and after receiving her degree she was affiliated with the Long Beach Y.W.C.A., in an official capacity. The newlyweds will make their home in Lundborg, Kan.

SOUTH PASADENA.

Councilman and Mrs. H. D. Lanfair and Miss Ida Lanfair motored to Arcadia on Saturday evening, where they attended a very enjoyable party given in honor of the birthday anniversary of their niece, Mrs. Richard Krebs.

Mrs. Clayton Palmer, president of AA Chapter, P.E.O., was hostess at a luncheon to the ladies of that organization on Thursday afternoon at her home on Bushnell avenue. An important business session followed the luncheon, at which plans

Fashions of Assured Correctness at the Threshold of a New Season

Infinitely Smart Batiste Blouses

Hand-made and Hand-trimmed

The Batiste Blouse is a charming youthful new favorite, and all the piquancy and crispness and daintiness of a truly springlike and lovely sheer fabric, exquisitely hand-worked, is embodied in the lovely Batiste Blouses of this collection.

Some models are exquisitely hand-drawn in unique designs, with hand-tuckings to offset the openwork of their patternings—some have lovely touches of real Filet lace, outlinings on collar, cuffs and vestees—some are hand-embroidered in conventional dot patterns—some combine embroiderings and hemstitchings—and some more elaborate models have hemstitchings, Real Filet lace, tucks and hand-embroiderings, without a single fear of being over-trimmed or too elaborate.

Tuxedo styles are shown, also roll collars, square neck lines and V neck lines, with chic little narrow shoulders and new designs in simplicity sleeves.

$6.50 to $22.50

New Corsets

Conform to the Normal Figure

Paris brings out a wealth of new styles for Spring in charming corsets with very long skirts, and no tops at all—a style that requires a wide brassiere that at the same time features an extreme decolletage, to conform with the very decollete frocks and evening gowns. Not a great deal of boning is used, and in many instances buttons are used instead of busks, to eliminate any tendency toward stiffness in their lovely, supple garments. Satine Brocades and Tricots are the favorite fabrics, and pink, blue, orchid and white the favored shades.

$7.50 to $25.00

A Brilliant Entree of

Exclusive Spring Frocks for 1920

Elegance is acclaimed in the piquant Spring Frocks, that bespeak their Parisian Origin, in short sleeves, pertly puffed hip lines and extremely decollete neck lines—in their elegance of trims, and their fancifully ornate skirts and plain little bodices. Garments that are fully apart from the commonplace and the mediocre offer highly individualized types of youthful, naive smartness; two charming examples are illustrated.

One of Black Taffeta is short of sleeve, tight of bodice and exceedingly bouffant of skirt. A flagrant tracery of white and Kelly green silk covers the skirt, and a Kelly-green ribbon pretends to be a girdle. An unusual note is sounded in the scalloped bottom of the skirt.

Decidedly different is a graceful creation of Chinchilla satin in the new toast shade, with slender, long-waisted bodice, harem-effect draperies, short sleeves and huge swinging tassels of silk, in toast and turquoise. Turquoise satin faces every possible frill and pleat, and ball buttons dangle nonchalantly down the front.

Capucine, Citron, Toast and Chardon are the favored early-season shades—but the exquisite blues and reds of the winter season are also in evidence—and unusual color-combinations present odd contrasts and queer blendings.

Fancy pins and ornaments are also in evidence, and one piquant model on toque lines has a top of rough black straw, faced around the edge with cornflower blue silk and ornamented with two long straw-topped pins. A long black veil with tracery of blue floats gracefully around the shoulders, and adds a finish to the collarless frocks of the moment.

SOCIETY.

were perfected for the benefit entertainment which the chapter is to give on the night of February 5 at the Women's Clubhouse.

Mrs. Marcus L. Godfrey entertained the Beata Hora Society on Friday with a delightful luncheon at her home, 1414 Spruce street. Covers were laid for twelve.

Some of the most charming of the informal social affairs being given this season are the afternoon teas which the various Parent-Teacher associations have held as a means of promoting sociability and acquainting the members one with another. The one on last Friday afternoon at which Mrs. E. C. Stanton and Mrs. J. G. Goodsell were hostesses at the Stanton home on Windsor place, was largely attended by the mothers of the El Centro district, and all present were enthusiastic over this happy way of spending the afternoon and talking over problems in common with the tea cups.

The church folk of South Pasadena are wide awake, and some of the best times are had at the different affairs which the young people of these several organizations give from time to time. The party which Mr. Ernest Vatcher gave on Thursday evening at his home, 1407 El Centro street, to the members of the young men's class of Memorial Baptist Church, was no exception to this rule. A rousing good time was enjoyed by the following, who were present: Donnell Baldwin, Robert Jackson, Marten Coops, Jack McLaughlin, George Peterson, Raphael Rowell, Harold Sanford, Clifford Wride and Norman Boyer.

UPLAND.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry O. Bloom were hosts at a bridge dinner of pleasing appointments Friday evening at their home in Euclid avenue. In the auction tournament which followed the menu, the prizes were captured by Mrs. C. C. Eymann and William Springer.

Mrs. V. W. Holden was hostess at a pleasantly informal tea Wednesday afternoon at her home in West Thirteenth street. The early hours of the afternoon were devoted to fancywork and chat and a collation followed.

Mrs. James Lynnward Grahame entertained with a bridge tea Monday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harold Clark Moore, in Euclid avenue. Spring blossoms were used in decoration and a collation followed the card tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Niles Rohrig were hosts Wednesday evening at their home on East Ninth street. Music and cards featured the evening and refreshments were served. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Waterman, Mr. and Mrs. R. Waterman, Miss Elizabeth Fossett and Mr. and Mrs. Niles Rohrig.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the First Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday morning when Miss Nellie Gladys Cooley became the bride of Howard Ingalls, the Rev. Charles Augustus Kent being the officiant. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cooley of First avenue, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Ingalls of West Tenth street. Both are popular members of the Upland younger set. After a honeymoon spent in the Imperial Valley, they are to make their home in Upland.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Wright were pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening when a gay party of friends gathered at their new home in Laurel avenue for a housewarming. The guests brought refreshments with them and a merry evening was enjoyed.

ONTARIO.

Mrs. Isaac M. Whitaker was happily surprised Friday evening on the occasion of her birthday anniversary when a merry group of friends assembled at her home, 125 West D street, to help her celebrate. The affair was successfully planned and carried out by Mr. Whitaker. The early hours of the evening were spent at cards and toward its close a tempting buffet supper was enjoyed.

Mrs. Frank Savage and Mrs. Frederick William Mack were hostesses at a happily informal tea Thursday afternoon at the attractive apartments of the latter at The Charlemagne. Violets were used effectively in decoration.

MONTEBELLO.

Dr. and Mrs. N. J. Brown, Jr., entertained Wednesday evening with a delightful card party, at which the guests were Judge and Mrs. L. T. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Church, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Olds, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Schaack, Maj. and Mrs. Truman Cole, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Cash, Mr. and Mrs. Bert E. Cannon, Mrs. Fred H. Howard, Mrs. D. A. Cole, Miss Cole, Miss Clarissa Bridge, Dr. M. R. Parmelee, Clyde Yerian. The first prize was won by Dr. Cash and the consolation fell to Dr. Parmelee.

Mrs. Thomas Darcy of Washington avenue gave a luncheon of charming appointments Saturday complimentary to Mrs. S. C. Hichborn and Mrs. Mabel Summers of Los Angeles.

HEMET.

Mrs. William Smith and Mrs. John Nelson were hostesses to the members of the Zenith Club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Smith. Mrs. C. E. Moyer, the new president, called the meeting to order. After the business session, Mrs. T. C. Richey read most interesting current events. Dainty refreshments of orange, cocoanut, cake and cocoa were served. The affair proved most enjoyable in every detail. Fourteen members and two guests, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. S. B. Smith, were present.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hoegerman were pleasantly surprised last Sunday by a visit from Mr. Hoegerman's brother, H. A. Hoegerman, and family and J. Kotera and family from Los Angeles, who made the trip in their touring car. Mr. Hoegerman is a prominent building contractor in Los Angeles and reports business fine. William Hoegerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hoegerman, also spent the day with his parents, having come up in his Ford.

LAKE ELSINORE.

The Elsinore Woman's Club met Thursday afternoon at the Fraternal Brotherhood Hall in open meeting. A talk by Mrs. Woodworth of the County Farm Bureau on "Interior Decoration" was the feature of the afternoon. Delightful music was given by Mrs. L. Yates, Jr., and the Mmes. E. Thompson and F. Ware.

Wednesday night the officers of the Elsinore Knights of Pythias Lodge were duly installed by P. C. C. Del Crane, as follows: Robert Kirkpatrick, Chancellor Commander; C. S. Merrifield, Master of Work; Amos Gardner, Prelate; Samuel A. Stewart, Master of Exchequer; Dr. M. A. Schutz, Master of Finance; Frank Ware, Keeper of Seals and Recor Lafayette Yates, Inner Guard.

YUCAIPA.

About twenty of the young people of Yucaipa were guests at the Roedel home, Avenue A, on Saturday evening last, and thoroughly enjoyed the leap year party and dance. Music was furnished by the Brunswick phonograph. After dancing games were played and at a late hour delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake and assorted confections were served.

The guests included Misses Clara and Mary Boggess, Helen and Burnice Ward, Neta and Ofa Brakebill, Marie Seltzer, Catherine Hudson, Laurena Puls, Pauline Bliss, and Messrs Dean Hudson, Lowell Twomley, Jake and Richard Brakebill, Harold Puls, Stewart Allen, Lorraine MacWilliams, Raymond Hilton and Grant Jenkins, Jr.

Mrs. J. E. McCrea of Pasadena spent several days this week in the valley. Mr. and Mrs. McCrea ex-

CATALINA.

Summer homes on the Magic Isle are being transformed into the most delightful of rendezvous not only for week-ends but for the remainder of the busy winter social season. Dr. and Mrs. Nat Greene of Los Angeles have reopened their charming cottage on Sumner avenue and plan to entertain a number of friends from the city during the coming month.

Mrs. Anna Hutchinson of Pasadena entertained at her lovely cottage on Beacon street, for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hill, with a week-end house party.

Mrs. Reynold Blight and children of Pasadna are again in the Blue Bird cottage on Descanso avenue and will have with them as their guest for the week Miss Anna Dowling of Glendale.

Mrs. William Wrigley, Jr., and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Wrigley, are visitors at Catalina this week. Mrs. Charles Wrigley arrived at Pasadena a few days ago to pass the winter with Mrs. William Wrigley in Southern California. They expect to devote much of their time on the Isle of Enchantment, dividing their time between the Hotel St. Catherine and the beautiful clubhouse at the Isthmus, until the new Wrigley residence on Buena Vista site at Avalon is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Renton and young sons, David and Malcolm, returned from Pasadena yesterday. They will make their home in the Wrigley residence on Descanso avenue at the foot of the Catalina Country Club.

Among prominent guests from New York at the Hotel St. Catherine are Mr. and Mrs. Harrington Moore. Attracted by the winter out-door sports of the Magic Isle they have extended their stay at Catalina for another week.

CLAREMONT.

Announcement was made last week of the engagement of Miss Edna Baker of Claremont and Guy V. Whaley, superintendent of the Pomona city schools, and formerly of San Diego. The news was told at an informal party with which Mrs. E. C. Norton entertained last Saturday afternoon at her home, 137 West Seventh street, in compliment to Miss Baker, Miss Alice B. Carter and Miss Gertrude Norton, a niece of Dean and Mrs. Norton. Miss Baker attended Pomona College several years ago, and is now completing her course with the present senior class. Mrs. Norton's guests Saturday included the Misses Laura Squire, a former college classmate of Miss Baker, Olive and Orra Mabon, Minnie Wharton, Grace Byington, Jessie Parsons, Mabel West, Glyde and Mary Maynard, and Miss Unangst, niece of Mrs. C. S. Vaile, who is in Claremont for an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs Chauncey S. Sheldon were hosts at dinner one evening recently in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Sheldon's father, Henry McFarland of Pomona. Covers were laid for the guest of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gow, and two little daughters, of Pomona, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon and Miss Marjorie Sheldon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Easley and William Easley of Trinidad, Colo., who are in California for the winter, and Mr. Choate of Los Angeles, visited Sunday at the home of Mrs. Adora B. Smith and Miss Ora Smith, motoring out from Los Angeles.

REDLANDS.

The Nichewaug was the scene of the big society event of the week for the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce attracted many of the society folk, especially because of the fact that Capt. Paul Perigord, of the French High Commission, who has many friends here, was the speaker. Capt. Perigord told of the reconstruction and economic recovery of France from the great war. His talk was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Helen Mitchell Loyd entertained at her home for a number of her friends, in honor of Miss Gwelda Loyd. Those present were Mrs. Katherine Winne Boettger and daughter, Miss Eugene; Mrs. B. Blankenship Harris and daughter; Mrs. Inez Freel Rice and son; Mrs. Roy Shaw and children; Mrs. Frank Loge and two children; Mrs. Hallie Doyle, Mrs. Mildred Ferguson Barker and Miss Ruth Chadwick. The afternoon was spent in games and conversation.

The members of the Daughters of the American Revolution here were the guests of Mrs. F. H. Folkins at her beautiful home on Highland avenue on Friday. Mrs. F. W. Davis, Mrs. N. B. Hinkley and Mrs Churchhill of Loma Linda were in charge of the luncheon served. The officers chosen for the coming year were Mrs. John Shreck, regent; Mrs. John Sering, vice-regent; Mrs. M. Coggeshall, secretary; Mrs. L. F. Churchill, treasurer; Mrs. M. F. Pierce, recording secretary; Mrs. J. W. Melchoir, registrar and Mrs. H. A. Powell, historian. The out of town guests were Mrs. R. F. Garner of San Bernardino, Mrs. H. P. Swenton of Maine and Miss M. A. Montgomery of Maine.

MONROVIA.

One of the pleasant affairs of the week was the luncheon given by Mrs. E. E. Taylor at her home in Pasadena. Mrs. Taylor was assisted by Mrs. Frank O. Eager of Monrovia. The centerpiece for the luncheon table was an attractive bowl of yellow flowers. Hand painted place cards marked places for the following guests, members of the Domestic Science Luncheon Club of this city: Mrs. George A. Newcomb, Mrs. Joseph Fowler, Mrs. C. H. Sarwine, Mrs. S. H. Reynolds, Mrs. L. S. Vollmer, Mrs. S. A. Schilling of Long Beach, Mrs. Thomas Bynum of Venice, Mrs. M. E. Spellicy and Miss Louise Hutchins of this city. Following luncheon Mrs. Taylor assembled her guests at the Florence Theater, where a pleasant theater party was enjoyed.

The first of a series of parties to be given by Mrs. C. E. Boyce, who is noted for her charming hospitality, was on Friday evening, a number of the younger set being guests. Those receiving invitations were Misses Evelyn Siderfin, Ruby Bennett, Marian Dyke, Viola Vollmer, Gwen Siderfin, Pauline Thomas, Christine Hotchkiss, Frances Willard, Dorothy Slosson, Louise Hotchkiss, Mabel Gard, Marian Woodward, Inez Gard, Ruth Bennett, Frances Wheeler, Roberta Gaylord and Anna Spellicy.

Mrs. Hannah Price of Wild Rose avenue had as her guests on Sunday, at a daintily appointed dinner Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hanford of Los Angeles.

A charming little affair of the week was the luncheon over which Miss Jeannette Reid presided as hostess. Invited to the luncheon was a number of girl friends. The afternoon was devoted to cards.

Taking the life and works of Jacob Reis as their study for the afternoon, members of the D. D. Club, which met at the home of Miss Kate Collins on Saturday afternoon, enjoyed one of the most interesting of programmes. Those in charge of the programme were Mrs. O. W. Bryant, Mrs. E. E. West, and Mrs. Mabel Griffith. Following the afternoon study needlework formed a pleasant diversion. Dainty refreshments were served later by Miss Collins, who was assisted by Mrs. E. D. Laughren and Mrs. A. R. Clifton. About twenty members and guests were present.

CALEXICO.

Miss Mabel C. Reed has been called to Banning by the death of her sister, Miss Helen Reed.

Miss Laura Douglas of Fresno became the bride of Capt. Stephen Spence, quartermaster at Camp Beacom, Rev. Q. P. Royer officiating, Wednesday evening. It was a military wedding. Sergt. Earl Bagley and wife, Sergt. W. H. Cody and wife and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Leonard were included in the wedding party.

Imperial Crown Chapter, O.E.S., installed officers Friday night as follows: Worthy Matron, Mrs. D. A. Leonard; Associate Matron, Mrs. G. F. Ramsey; Secretary, Mrs. C. A. Baskin; Treasurer, Miss Anita Wood; Conductress, Mrs. Harry Krotz; Associate Conductress, Mrs. H. W. Goode; Chaplain, Mrs. Alice Taylor; Organist, Mrs. George L. Blevins; Marshal, Mrs. H. B. Little; Adah, Miss Florence Baskin; Ruth, Mrs. E. R. Brown; Esther, Mrs. O. S. Pratt; Martha, Mrs. L. B. Kirby; Electa, Mrs. J. P. Manuel; Warden, Mrs. R. H. Isom; Sentinel, Mrs. E. R. Brown.

INGLEWOOD.

S. M. Greene and wife had as their dinner guests Sunday, the Rev. Dr. Enoch Perry and wife of Milwaukee. Dr. Perry occupied the Methodist Episcopal Church pulpit at the Sunday morning service, at which time the balance on the debt still standing against the beautiful church property was easily raised.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lehman of Dudley Olk, arrived Wednesday for a visit at the Lee Stoner home on Inglewood avenue.

Mr. Henry Shettler of Corning, N. Y., arrived Monday to spend the winter at the home of his brother, Sidney White.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bolton of Plainview, Minn., are welcome guests at the home of Mrs. Bolton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Saxe.

ANAHEIM.

An event of the week that created much interest was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Johanna Jessurun to Rex Gibson, which was made by Miss Jessurun on Friday evening when she entertained a bevy of the younger set at her home on North Lemon street. A shower of kewpies swung from the chandelier in the prettily decorated dining-room, the kewpies bearing small hand-painted cards announcing the engagement. At midnight a collation was served.

Green and yellow formed the color scheme at the luncheon served by Mrs. M. Nebelung to the members of the Elite Club on Thursday afternoon. Cards formed the diversion for the afternoon with Mrs. J. Kellenberger winning first prize, Mrs. A. Erickson, second and Mrs. H. Schindler, third. The members of the Star Whist Club held a pleasant meeting on Friday afternoon at their club rooms in the Masonic Temple, Mrs. W. P. Webb, Sr., and Mrs. Henry Hansen, hostesses. Twenty ladies were present, Mrs. Harbeson winning high honors, Mrs. Sackett, second; Mrs. Callaway, third, and Mrs. Jackson, fourth.

Mrs. W. B. Holland was hostess at a charming five hundred party on Thursday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. E. W. Davis and Mrs. Ella de Weese of Long Beach, who were her house guests for several days. Jonquils were used in carrying out the yellow and white color scheme.

A joint birthday celebration was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McClellan on Friday, celebrating the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. McClellan and her daughter, Mrs. Nemetz of Los Angeles.

ARLINGTON.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ozment, Mrs. E. A. Ingerick and Miss Willa Cook attended the Christian activities conference held at the First Methodist Church at Riverside Thursday afternoon. Nineteen churches were represented.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society will meet next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. J. Reynolds, on Magnolia avenue.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Miss Willa Cook on Castleman street, Wednesday afternoon. After a usual business session, the social hour was enjoyed, during which the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Earl Cook, Mrs. W. A. Caldwell and Mrs. Frank Cox, served delicious refreshments.

A card party and social were given at the home of John Bushman at the corner of Garfield and Everest streets. The proceeds were for the benefit of St. Thomas Church.

At a meeting of the directors of the Citizens' Bank of Arlington, held last Tuesday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. B. Clancy; vice-presidents, S. H. Herrick and Charles H. Low; cashier, J. W. Wells. Directors: John Allen, D. P. Chapman, P. W. Clancy, W. G. Fraser, George Frost, S. H. Herrick, Charles H. Low, G. Rouse, F. A. Tetley, E. H. Wood and C. Van Zwalenburg.

VICTORVILLE.

The ladies' branch of the Apple Valley Farm Center met with Mrs. C. R. Neutzel on Thursday afternoon, January 22. The meeting was well attended and was followed in the evening by the regular meeting of the farm bureau.

The subdistrict Sunday-school convention was held in River-

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

On legal affidavit, John Hart Brittain, business man, certified to this: "My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth.

"Yet now, at an age over 66, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs." Mr. Brittain certified further:

INDIAN'S SECRET OF HAIR GROWTH

After hair growth

"At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian 'medicine man' who had an elixir that he asseverated would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in youthful days.

That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind [illegible]

Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious pomade. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotalko, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist.

That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved [illegible]

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair

It has been proved in very many cases that hair roots did not die even when the hair fell out through dandruff, fever, alopecia areata or certain other hair or scalp disorders. Miss A. D. Otto reports: "About 8 years ago my hair began to fall out until my scalp in spots was almost entirely bald. I used everything that was recommended but was always disappointed until at last I came across Kotalko. My bald spots are being covered now; the growth is already about three inches." G. W. Mitchell reports: "I had spots completely bald, over which hair is now growing since I used Kotalko." Mrs. Matilda Maxwell reports: "The whole front of my head was as bald as the palm of my hand for about 15 years. Since using Kotalko, hair is growing all over the place that was bald." Many more splendid reports from satisfied users.

Miss Marjorie Richardson returned Sunday morning from Altoona, Kan., where she spent the holiday season with relatives and old friends. She was accompanied home by her sister, Miss Eulalie Richardson, who will visit with relatives here and in Los Angeles for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Krames of San Diego, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Nolton. Mr. Krames is Santa Fe station accountant in the coast city.

The election of officers of the Ladies' Aid Society has been postponed to the first Thursday in February, owing to the illness of the president, Mrs. C. M. Morgan.

POMONA.

The young married peoples' classed of the First Presbyterian class of the First Presbyterian Church served a cafeteria supper Monday evening in the church parlors, after which a special evening was enjoyed. The supper committee was composed of Mrs. W. G. Burnham, Mrs. E. C. McComb, Mrs. Skeen and Mrs. Sidney Boyd. The programme was in charge of Mrs. William H. Eaton and Mrs. Burnham.

The women's guild of St. Baul's Episcopal Church held a social afternoon Thursday. The outgoing and incoming officers were hostesses to the guild members.

The Fraternal Aid Union held an installation and jolly social time on Wednesday evening in I.O.O.F. Hall. Dancing and cards were also enjoyed. W. A. Gould and his well-known degree team of Santa Ana officiated, and the following were installed: Past president, Kirk Thompson; president, Frank Elsworth; vice-president, Ira Parker; secretary, Walter Dosett; treasurer, A. M. Harris; trustee, Hugo Lindsey; chaplain, Helen Parker; guide, Miss Stella Werner; assistant guide, Rose Royer; inner guide, Mrs. Lizzie Lindersmith; outer guide, Charles Hill; musician, Emily McCain. At 6:30 a supper was served to the members and at 9 o'clock the hall was opened for dancing and cards. The committee in charge of the supper was composed of Mmes W. H. Poston, Rose Royer, Walter Dosett, Ira Parker, Munore Thurman and Emily McCain.

Mrs. P. F. Hunt entertained a number of young people on Monday afternoon at her residence, 1173 South Eleanor street, in honor of her little daughter Muriel's birthday. Pink and yellow crepe paper was used to decorate the rooms and little pink crepe paper dolls made of clothes pins were used as place cards. One of the games played was that of hunting for pieces of gum, and when found, transforming them into pictures, the cleverest artist receiving a prize. Georgia Shoemaker and Donald Brown were the fortunate ones. A big birthday cake, with eight candles, graced the table. Besides the cake, ice cream and candy were served. Mrs. Hunt was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Shoemaker. There were present the following children, Margaret Webeck, Margaret Connell, Bernice Ehret, Evelyn Williamson, Elizabeth Norr, Edith Dunevan, Marie Hughes, Isabelle Hughes, Melvina Donski, Dorothy Jones, Margaret Galbrith, Frances Marshall, Evelyn and Helen Hammond, Gertrude McCain, George and Jose Shoemaker, Paul Hastings, Lemont Palmer, Marion Hammond, Donald and Stanley Brown, Gene Smith and Cleo Ashurst.

It was a happy thought when Our Times decided to have its members answer roll call by giving conundrums. Such merriment has not prevailed at a club meeting for many a day, and some of the women are still smiling over the fun they had. The meeting was Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. I. F. Childs, 387 South Park avenue, and continued the study of "Everyman's Land," a book they have been reading. Miss Susie Dewey and Mrs. Charles Sawyer were the leaders. It was decided during the war times to discontinue serving refreshments, and now the members feel that their time is left so free to enjoy the programme when not having to bother with refreshments that it has been agreed not to resume the practice. The guests of the day were Mrs. W. I. Stevens, Miss Velma Snowden, Miss Blanch Dissenbaugh. The latter is from Monmoth, Ill., and is visiting Mrs. Harry Schooley.

OXNARD.

A charming informal afternoon party was given by Mrs. John R. Hunt on Monday as a compliment to Miss Paula Dunnigan and the Misses Mary and Florentine Goodwyn of Los Angeles, who appeared on the Monday Club programme Monday afternoon. Many friends of Mrs. Hunt were asked to call during the afternoon to meet the visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Otte were the recipients of a pleasant surprise party at their country home Monday evening, when a large group of their friends motored there to help them celebrate their fifteenth or Crystal, wedding anniversary. Many handsome gifts were received by the honor guests. A delicious repast was served the guests at midnight.

Complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. J. Sexton of Ventura, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Sexton entertained with a dinner party at their home on Tuesday evening. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Leon Revalon and Mrs. Jack Killip, besides the hosts and the guests of honor.

The regular meeting of Oxnard chapter, O.E.S., was made especially interesting Friday evening by the official visit of the District Deputy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of the State of California, who is Mrs. Ophelia B. Prentice of this city. Following the recital of impressive memorial services in memory of the late Mrs. Blanche M. Langwell, Worthy Patron Rudolph Beck gave a well-chosen address. He spoke of the great honor it was for Oxnard chapter to have one of its own members, Mrs. Prentice, as District Deputy Grand Matron, and at the conclusion of his talk presented her on behalf of the chapter a beautiful gift from the members. Later, adjournment was made to the banquet-room, where a delicious lunch was served, under the direction of Mrs. Homer P. Markwell, assisted by a very able committee.

VAN NUYS.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wilkinson and family, who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Wilkinson's mother, Mrs. Arthur Walsh, left Wednesday for their home in Auburn, Neb.

Mrs. Howard Schuyler of Texas visited over Sunday with her mother-in-law, Mrs. C. Schulyer.

Miss Elsie Weaver of Pasadena spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. DuPlessis.

Mrs. R. S. Taggart of North Saugus avenue returned last week from a visit in Long Beach.

An enjoyable dinner party was given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Chadeayne. Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Steinman and John Troutner were the honored guests.

Sarah Attix and Donald Jugua, two popular Van Nuys young people, were quietly married Sunday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Attix, on West Leesdale street, in the presence of a few immediate relatives and friends. The ceremony was performed by a minister from Los Angeles. Following a sumptuous wedding dinner, the young couple left by automobile for a trip through the northern part of the State.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Shannon of Toledo, O., were visitors in Van Nuys Sunday.

Sam Mitchell of Phoenix, Ariz., was a guest of Gen. M. H. Sherman at the latter's home on Ventura boulevard.

BEAUMONT.

Miss Jessie Files entertained members of her Sunday-school class with a party at her home Tuesday evening. Ricardo, the talented son of Mr. and Mrs. Hitchcock, assisted them in musical features, which formed a prominent part of the programme for the evening.

District Deputy C. F. Massinggale of Redlands was a visitor to the Beaumont Lodge of Odd Fellows Tuesday evening and had charge of the work of installing new officers. The district deputy was assisted by a team of local Odd Fellows, which included M. O. Foster, A. M. Belford, G. S. Hitchcock, Robert Adams and U. S. Lemon. Following the list of the officers who will serve for a term of six months:

N. G., W. B. Pool; V. G., George Eason; recording secretary, Robert Adams; financial secretary, M. A. Meyer; treasurer, Roy Adams; N.S. N.G., C. H. Wallace; L.S.N.G., Carl Fowler; R.S.V.G., Ray Samson; warden, R. E. Dillon; conductor, W. J. Sears; chaplain, W. J. Krebs.

The community social held at Cherry Valley schoolhouse Friday was well attended. Those present had a very enjoyable time and were very much pleased to have Mr. Dillon lead the singing, with Miss Marjorie Dillon as the piano accompaniste. It was voted to have our community meeting the second Friday in each month.

SAN LUIS OBISPO.

Mrs. William J. Kalar entertained the members of the Emanon Club at her home on Terrace Hill on Friday afternoon. After a delightful afternoon of music and conversation, the hostess served refreshments.

The ladies' night of the Elks, Tuesday evening, was attended by a large numbers of Elks and ladies. Cards furnished the amusement of the evening, Mrs. C. J. McGovern winning the first lady's prize and Mrs. Sam Tognazzini capturing the consolation prize. The men's prizes were won by William T. Shipsey and Dr. C. J. McGovern.

An interesting meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held on Tuesday afternoon at the high school auditorium, with the president, Mrs. D. J. Riley, presiding. The paper of the afternoon, on the Benet and Simon 'mental tests for school children, was read by Miss K. Jenkins. A musical programme was given by Allen and Leo Righetti, Rae Mayhall, Ruth Nelson and Mrs. G. S. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Cherry have returned from an automobile trip to Los Angeles and San Diego.

Miss Bertha Haberl, who has been the guest of Mrs. J. E. Martin, has returned to her home in San Francisco.

SANTA BARBARA.

Mr. and Mrs. George Choate Kendall entertained with a dinner at Ilahee, their Montecito home, on Friday evening.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Langdon Irving in Montecito was the scene of a delightful dinner party on Wednesday.

Lord Glenconner of London, Eng., is being entertained by Montecito and Santa Barbara society people during his visit here as a guest at the Ambassador. A number of exclusive social affairs have been given in his honor.

Spring Clothes of Character

And now it is a matter of clothes—Spring Clothes.

Even while one is resting a bit from holiday festivities, one is expectantly waiting for the first authentic style news on the Paris cables.

And the only logical way to be really smart—every woman knows this—is to choose advance styles before they are generally known.

The woman who stands out in every assemblage as being just a bit in advance of the mode—every one knows, too—shops at Robinson's.

Spring Suits

A new sport suit—for now—may be all silk or willing to share honors with fine wools, but nevertheless, silk plays the leading role.

The shorter coat is in evidence and the styles are chiefly marked for their individuality.

Sport Frocks

The sport influence brings the verve of youth into frocks for informal wear.

Fine fabrics are uniquely shaped and finished with a dash of color that attain both distinction and becomingness.

Figure 1.—Cut fringe of midnight blue outlines the quaint style of this frock of white crepe de chine. It is cleverly simple. At $89.50.

New Wraps

Wraps that are fit companions for the new frocks, really look as if they had been planned in a sumptuous evening spirit and developed in the ways of vivacious sports apparel.

Figure 4. Honey colored Silk and Wool Duvetyn needs and takes no other trimming save its own lovely self. For it has a long draped collar that is the essence of grace. At ...$150.00

Women's Underwear

All of the comfort of men's athletic underwear is charmingly joined with feminine daintiness.

Fine Lingerie Cloths, in plain and novelty weaves, of a delicate pink shade, are shaped on boyish lines.

They have a bodice top with ribbon straps and a neat lace edging.

Lisle webbing across the back gives freedom without bulkiness.

All regular sizes may be had.

From $1.50 to $4.25

What Is New in Trimmings?

The unusual touch determines the real character of a costume.

New things, introduced ahead of time, mark the woman whose choice determines the styles.

—Cordeliers, in a variety of effects are to be flat braid or heavy cords. All are finished with heavy tassels. And they are quite the thing for graceful silken frocks.

Priced from $4.00 to $17.50.

—Georgette Crepe Flouncings that are smart for smocks or for frocks, have borders of braid, open work or solid designs and three-tone effects, attained by conventional embroidery.

At $9.50 to $19.50 a yard.

—Net Overblouses, made of lacea braid, add feminine charm to plain silk frocks for informal afternoon or evening wear. They may be had in rose, orange, tan, navy and white.

At $59.50 each.

Modart Corsets

In figure, at least. Youth belongs to the woman who chooses the correct corset and has it expertly fitted.

Words cannot describe the lithesomeness and grace of the perfectly molded form, but the eye recognizes it at once.

To bring out the most becoming lines, in accord with late fashion mandates, we have a staff of skilled corsetieres.

A trial fitting costs nothing.

Our corsetieres can show you — but only in our fitting rooms—what a wealth of comfort and poise and perfect style there is in a Modart.

TRIO'S LARGER PLANS.

SASLAVSKY SOCIETY WILL SOON BE ENLARGED.

Announcement of details of the enlarged plans of the Saslavsky Chamber Music Society, headed by Alexander Saslavsky, concert master of the Los Angeles Symphony, are made in connection with the programme concert tomorrow evening at Symphony Hall. This will be the last recital given by the organization as a trio, for at the next events a violin and viola will be added for certain pieces.

The personnel of the trio, which includes May MacDonald Hope, as pianiste, and Axel Simonsen, as 'cellist, will remain the same. At the February concert Osmar H. Dietz, violinist, and Otto Pauer, violist, members of the Symphony Orchestra, will also appear. At that time the programme will be devoted to the exposition of the works of Dvorak, including his string quartette (Sonatina,) and Piano Quintette. Later Mr. Saslavsky plans to give a Schumann programme. This will be followed by more modern works, including a trio by Glinka, and a quintette by Lekeu, the Belgian.

At the concert tomorrow evening Haydn's Trio in D major, Lekeu's Sonata in B major for violin and piano, and the Trio Elegiaque, Opus 9, by Rachmaninoff, will be played. The Rachmaninoff trio is declared to be a representation in tone of the events leading up to the revolutionary period in Russia. Especial interest attaches to the music of this composer because of his recent visit to the Coast.

A number of new sponsors for the concerts of the society are announced.

A special feature of the event tomorrow evening will be the violin of local manufacture which Mr. Saslavsky will play. This violin is only four days old, but is said to possess a remarkable tone. It is modeled after the violinist's own Guarnerius.

—o—

Trio Intime Debut.

The Trio Intime, composed of Alfred Kastner, harpist; Ilya Bronson, 'cellist, and Jay Plowe, flutist, will make their initial appearance in concert February 11 at the Little Theater. This little playhouse is especially well adapted to the delicate type of music played by this combination of instruments. The debut is to be entirely invitational and will serve to introduce to the music colony of Los Angeles and the Southwest an interesting, novel type of chamber music.

—o—

Minneapolis Programmes.

One week from today the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, with Emil Oberhoffer conducting, will open its third annual engagement at Trinity Auditorium. This organization has been enjoying the most successful road tour of its career this year.

The Sunday afternoon programme will include Tschaikowsky's E Minor, the Prelude and Love Death from "Tristan and Isolde" (Wagner,) the "Ride of the Valkyries" (Wagner,) and the "Joan of Arc" aria (Tschaikowsky,) with Harriet McConnel, the young American contralto, as soloist.

Tuesday afternoon, February 3, Conductor Oberhoffer will present the overture from "Midsummer Night's Dream" (Mendelsshon,) Theme and Variations in G Major (Tschaikowsky:) symphonic poem, "The Sirens" (Gliere,) and the finale to "Rheingold" (Wagner.)

Tuesday evening the Rachmanin- Tuesday evening the Rachmanin- "Afternoon of a Faun," the "Spanish Rhapsody" (Ravel,) and the "Meistersinger" prelude (Wagner,) will be given.

—o—

Estelle Dreyfus Programme.

The Estelle Heartt Dreyfus recital orginally scheduled for February 9 is now announced for February 16 at Trinity Auditorium. Blanche Ebert Seaver, pianist, and Jay Plowe, flutist of the Philharmonic, are to assist. As usual, the Dreyfus recital affords a novel and interesting series of numbers; not a few of these are in manuscript.

An especially interesting group will be the art song sketches of Japanese poems, ranging from the very old to the contemporary Japanese poets. Some of the music for these songs has been built up from original Japanese folk themes idealized, some are entirely atmospheric, with no trace of Japanese scales, and one or two are by Koscak Yamada, the Japanese musician, whose musical education was gained in Europe.

—o—

Gentle as Soloist.

Alice Gentle, whose fine mezzo-soprano voice and distinct histrionic ability will be recalled from her appearances here in opera three years ago, returns to Los Angeles next Friday afternoon and Saturday evening as soloist with the Philharmonic Orchestra.

This singer's success is typical of the American's idea of achievement. Gifted with a naturally beautiful voice, she has risen from the ranks of highly-paid church singers to premier position at the La Scala in Milan, and has been one of the leading mezzo-sopranos as the Metropolitan.

Her appearance with the Philharmonic has been made possible through the courtesy of Fortune Gallo, impresario of the San Carlo Opera Company, which is scheduled for a season in Los Angeles next month.

Miss Gentle has selected two operatic arias, for the Philharmonic concert, "O don fatale" from "Don Carlos" (Verdi,) and "Pleurez, pleurez mes yeu" from "Le Cid" (Massenet.)

A second feature of the programme will be the appearance of Alfred Kastner, the harpist as soloist in two Debussy dances for the harp and orchestra, the Danse Sacree and the Danse Profane.

The symphony will be the Brahms No. 3 in F Major. The programme will close with the "Tannhauser" overture (Wagner.)

—o—

Heifetz Engagement.

Announcement is made that tickets for the two Jascha Heifetz recitals scheduled for Tuesday evening and Saturday afternoon, February 17 and 20, will be placed on sale at the Trinity box office tomorrow morning.

Mr. Heifetz is the Russian violinist whose eighteen months in America has established him with a great popular vogue.

—o—

Women's Lyric Club.

The second concert this season by the Women's Lyric Club will take place Friday evening, February 13, at Trinity Auditorium. Several of the songs will be given in French.

—o—

Oratorio Society.

The regular monthly social of the Los Angeles Oratorio Society was held Monday evening, following the rehearsal. The Sterns-Gregg trio and Ewart Williams, tenor, presented a programme. Conductor John Smallman announces excellent progress in the choral work for the February concert when the society will perform the "Hiawatha Wedding Feost," by Coleridge-Taylor and other compositions.

Miss Minnie O'Neil, pianist, and pupil of the De Avrett School of Long Beach, played at the Redondo Auditorium on January 21. Her programme consisted largely of modern selections, which were interestingly presented.

—o—

Mary Gowans's Recital.

Miss Mary Gowans, contralto, sang in recital at the Wa-Wan Club last week. Her voice revealed a quality of charm. Miss Gowans will also be soloist for the Alhambra High School concert Wednesday.

—o—

Hamburger Concerts.

Charles Demorest, dean of the American Guild of Organists, will be among the local musicians to play at the series of concerts to be given at Hamburger's Auditorium on Monday afternoon.

—o—

Jessie Weimar Recital.

Miss Jessie Weimar, singer, will give a programme at the Woman's Press Club on next Tuesday evening. She will be assisted by Miss Louise Garrison, violinist, and Miss Ruth Miller, soprano. The latter will present a song composed by Mrs. S. L. Kerrigan, member of the club. Miss Weimar will give readings by Charles Battel Loomis and Eugene Field.

—o—

Ellis Club Concert.

The Ellis Club concert will take place at Trinity Auditorium on Thursday evening. This is the second of the season. J. B. Poulin will conduct.

—o—

Philharmonic Pop Today.

With a trio of soloists the Philharmonic Orchestra, Walter Henry Rothwell conducting, will present its seventh popular concert this afternoon at Trinity Auditorium.

The Cherniavsky brothers, Leo, violinist; Jan, pianist, and Mischel, 'cellist, will each be heard in solo numbers, with orchestral accompaniment, including the Tschaikowsky D Major concerto for violin, the Hungarian Fantasie of Liszt for piano, and the violon-'cello concerto in A Minor by Golterman.

The novelty of the programme will be the March of the Dwarfs from the Ballet Laurin (Moskowsky,) and in response to requests, Conductor Rothwell will repeat the delicate Petite Suite of Roger Ducasse.

Aside from their appearance with the Philharmonic, the Cherniavsky Trio will be heard in recital programme Saturday afternoon at Trinity.

The programme will be opened with the Dvorak Trio, "The Dumka,' followed by violin solo by Leo Cherniavsky, "The Devil's Trill," two piano solos by Jan—Fantasie and Three Preludes (Chopin,) and then by Mischel, the 'cellist; the Kol Nidrel (Bruck,) and Trantella (Popper.) The Glinka Romance and Boisdeffre's "At the Stream," for violin, piano and 'cello, will close the programme.

—o—

Lazzari Next Recital Star.

The next artist on the Philharmonic concert series is Carolina Lazzari, the gifted American contralto, who will sing next Tuesday evening at Trinity Auditorium. Lazzari's career has been unique; she was born in a small town in Massachusetts and after attending the public schools of her native locality and the Conference Seminary at Bucksport, Me., she was sent to Italy, where she studied for three years at the College delle Orsoline, Milan. Here her great talent for music, both vocal and instrumental, was cultivated, as well as her instinctive linguistic ability.

Jan Cherniavsky,

Pianist of Cherniavsky trio, who will be a soloist at Philharmonic pop this afternoon.

It was upon her return to her native land, however, that the different side of her career became evident. The great natural beauty of her voice and the early training would have secured her many engagements, but instead of accepting them as they came, Lazzari engaged a studio in New York and for the next three years devoted her entire time for eight hours a day to the improvement of an already well-placed voice. The technique of the stage, opera repertoire, recital programmes and general cultivation of music became her fetish for that period. Then she sang for the late Campanini, was immediately engaged for leading roles, and last summer secured the Metropolitan opera contract for star parts.

The programme of Lazzari will compose lovely old Italian arias seldom heard, choice selections from operas, songs in English. She is accompanied on tour by Miss Blanche Barbot.

—o—

Will Present American Tenor.

Arrangements have been made for the presentation of John Hand, the American tenor, in a recital February 20 at the Ebell Club House, by the Matinee Musical Club. Mr. Hand is at present making a tour of the Western Coast. He will be accompanied by La Var Jenson at his recital here.

The club programme last Thursday was given by Verna Kloess, a pupil of Hilda Nolte, who played several Liszt compositions, Grieg's "Norwegian Bridal Procession," and Schubert's Impromptu in A flat; Mrs. Fred Jungquist, saxaphonist; Marguerite Gallimore, solo dancer, assisted by Melba Havichorst, Viola Hegyi and Louise Klein of the Victory Ballet. Ruth Omay and Mrs. I. Kruger were accompanists.

—o—

Rosi to Open School.

Signor Rosi, ballet master, who has been associated with the California School of Arts, is to open his own school of ballet here about February 1 in the Ponet Hotel. Signor Rosi has trained students in the art of the dance in various sections of the world. His most recent experience before coming here was the introduction of European methods at the Imperial Theater in Tokio. The management of the school is to be in charge of Miss Frances Goldwater.

—o—

MacDowell Club.

The MacDowell Club of Allied Arts will have a dinner at the City Club Saturday at 6:30 p.m. There will be several noted guests present, and speeches and music will make up the programme. The table decorations will be a reproduction of the MacDowell Colony at Peterborough. The programme will begin at 8:30.

—o—

Wa-Wan Club.

The next Wa-Wan Club programme will be given at 3:30 p.m. instead of 2:30, as heretofore. Both music and drama sections will be represented at the meeting, which will be held Wednesday afternoon. Myrtle Pryibil Colby, soprano, will give the musical part of the programme and Louise Anderson Henderson and Florence Pierce Reed will make up the cast in the one-act play, "Lemon and Cream," by Mrs. Reed. Florence Dunnigan will read "The Man Who Came Back."

The altruistic section of the club reports a full month for December, having given programmes at the Hollenbeck Home, McKinley Industrial Home for Boys, County Hospital and Juvenile Hall. Many of the club's most competent members are giving their talent and much time to make this section of value.

MUSICIAN MAKES HER STAGE DEBUT.

While John McGroarty's "Mission Play" is not a new thing under the sun of California, the author never fails to incorporate a new novelty in the big second act, with every fresh season's performance. This year one of the principal features of the play is the soloist quartette, in which Miss Mary Gowans, a contralto of Los Angeles, appears in the first stage work of her career.

Miss Gowans, who is in charge of music at the Westlake Presbyterian Church, and who is also soloist at Congregation B'nai B'rith, is a Californian by adoption, although she received her musical education in the East, having been a pupil of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Toedt and of Herbert Witherspoon. Miss Gowans, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Ross, will give a programme next Wednesday afternoon at the Alhambra High School.

MRS. MacDOWELL ILL; IS NOT COMING WEST.

Expectations of a visit by Mrs. Edward MacDowell, who was to come West this spring, will probably not be realized this year, as the widow of the noted composer has been taken ill, and is remaining at her home in the East under advice of her physician. Mrs. MacDowell visited the Coast several seasons ago, and delivered a lecture on the work of her husband and his plans for the artistic colony at Peterboro, N. H. It is understood that the strain of carrying on this project has proved very great for the late composer's widow.

BUSY DAYS FOR CHERNIAVSKYS.

Youthful Musicians Finish One Tour and are Laying Plans for Another.

BY JEANNE REDMAN.

The Cherniavsky Trio, which is to play this afternoon with the Philharmonic Orchestra, and which will give a concert at Trinity Auditorium on the last day of this month, is in Los Angeles, after a tour of fourteen months, which took them to remote parts of South Africa, India, China and Japan.

The Cherniavskys are known to the musical gentry as the men who have made chamber music understandable to the general public. They have brought the subtlest of musical forms, the ensemble, within the enjoyment and the comprehension of the untrained music-lover, and at the same time have kept their position in the world of the musically intelligent. Their faculty for popularity lies in the old secret of personality. They have what we call "pep" raised to the nth degree, and they manage to bring variety into everything they play.

If music is an expression, and perhaps a speech, the Cherniavskys simply talk more distinctly than do most of the ensemble players. There are intense and powerful ways of saying what one has to say, and there are delicate and subtle ways—the former method is that of the trio. Probably people are quicker to understand us if we emphasize our speech, and emphasis is one of the chief points of the Cherniavskys's music.

Since they were extremely young children, these three brothers have played together before the public. Their mutual understanding is complete: "We discuss the turn of a phrase," says Leo, violinist, "but we do not argue about it, for we always agree."

Leo is the business man of the trio, Jan, pianist, is distinctly poetic, with hair like Paderewski's and a slender physique, and Mischel, 'cellist, may briefly be described as a combination of the other two.

Fourteen months ago the Cherniavskys went on tour in South Africa, giving 142 concerts, from that time to this. They played to 3000 persons at Johannisberg, then sailed to India, where they had seven concerts of one week at Calcutta, and six in one week at Bombay.

The Viceroy commanded an audience of the military to attend a concert in Delhi, and Leo tells of the brilliant personnel of the audience. "Our audiences in these places are never composed of the natives," he said, "but of the foreign population. England sends only the cultured men out to India and South Africa, and we never see a black face at a concert. In Yokahama we had some natives, for there is a new and fine conservatory of music there which teaches European methods. Aside from that we played to European audiences."

HAD MALARIA, TOO.

Malaria attacked the trio at Java, and they were in bad shape until they got to China, where they had to await a boat two weeks. The traffic is incredibly large, and except for influence they might have spent several months, as many do, awaiting their chance to sail. When in the Orient the trio played the same programmes which they will present here, because of the seemingly unbelievable similarity of the audiences attending their concerts.

From here the Cherniavskys will go to Texas, and April 1 will sail for South America, where they have a long tour. They are scheduled for twenty-five concerts at Buenos Aires alone. They will remain ten weeks in South America and will then leave for England. With all this travel it is difficult to conceive of a time for practice, but the "boys" work continuously alone and together, and when they get on shipboard they "practice like mad" for many hours a day. Ocean trips of a month or six weeks smooth out rough places, and when they arrive at a hotel room, their first thought is of their rehearsals.

The family of Cherniavsky, of which there are sixteen at present in Los Angeles, are reveling in the home-coming of the trio, even for so short a time, and last week the sixteen motored to Riverside for the concert there, where the trio was warmly greeted.

BEACH MUSIC THRIVES.

Concert Events Meet Large Demand on South Coast.

That the season of music in Long Beach is well-patronized, and is proving a financial and artistic success, is the statement of William Conrad Mills, who, by special arrangement with L. E. Behymer, is managing the Philharmonic Course at the South Coast beach city. Various prominent artists are appearing there this year, and the next concert scheduled was by Mme. Schumann-Heink, who, owing to illness, has been forced to postpone her engagement.

"The present illness of Mme. Schumann-Heink is regretted in Long Beach as it is everywhere," said Mr. Mills, "but doubtless, capacity audiences will greet her when she is able to again resume her singing."

Mr. Mills, who is choirmaster of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, has planned an extensive musical programme for the coming Lenten season.

The musical numbers, solos and choruses, from "Elijah," Mendelssohn, will feature a special musical service, February 15. Dean A. G. H. Bode, the rector, and a musician of high attainments, will talk on the story of Elijah. The solo parts of the oratorio will be sung by the regular soloists of the choir: Mrs. Fred S. James, soprano; Mrs. Hazel McLaughlin, mezzo-soprano; Douglas Normington, baritone, and Mr. Mills, tenor. An interesting chorus and also numbers from "The Crucifixion," Stainer, "Olivet to Calvary," Maunder, and "The Seven Last Words," Du Bois, will be musical features of the regular Lenten services. On Good Friday night the musical setting of "The Seven Last Words" by S. Mercadante, an oratorio, will be sung. This work has not been used much in the West, but it is one of the most effective musical settings of this text. It is typically Italian in style. The regular choir of thirty-five voices will be augmented for these special musical services by ten or twelve additional voices and a small string orchestra.

"I want to register a vow," said the politician, bringing his fist down hard on the table.

"Oh, what's the use of registering it?" replied the practical friend; "it can't vote!"—[Yonkers Statesman.

PIERRE KEY'S Music Article

BY PIERRE V. R. KEY

YORK, Jan. 24.—It takes lished musical equestrian all the horses, large and that are prancing about our and concert rings. What of musical steeds we have to be sure. The good old-ed sort, that remind one of broad-backed animals we saw circus-days, and upon which masculine or feminine performed all manner of The more spirited kind, too, are safe enough if you know to ride. RUSSIAN MUSIC MENUS.

Russian music has hit the singers and instrumentalists almost as hard as the orchestras. One encounters it on any average programme—for piano or violin or song. Even the chamber music organizations have offered compositions suggesting "ski" or "ovitch" endings. It is musical vodka with a vengeance, which on some of us is exerting a vodka effect.

I am just home after hearing Benno Moiseiwitsch play a pianoforte concerto by one Nikolai Nickolaievich Tcherepnine, who, I discover, was "destined for a legal career." After hearing this piece I have a feeling Mr. Tcherepnine should have followed it. The writer of the New York Symphony programme notes stated at the end of his explanation that "a gradual climax brings about the final affirmative consummation." I believed him when I saw a considerable number of people decide affirmatively, after Moiseiwitsch's performance, to make for the front door.

Allen McQuhae and Josef Shilsky, tenors; Ellen Rumsey, mezzo-soprano; Mary Cavan, soprano, and her tenor husband, Otakar Marak (both formerly of the Chicago Opera;) Helene Kanders, Margaret Ringo and Ethel Frank, sopranos; John McCormack, and those wizards of the fiddle, Heifetz and Kreisler, all dealt during their respective recitals in a Russian composition or two. But the ultimate, I thought, was Sophie Braslau's singing of a Moussorgsky aria during an American music concert in the Manhattan Operahouse. Frances Alda also felt the Russian urge, at a recent Commodore Hotel musicale.

Most of this music, though, was of excellent sort. The results, however, leave the constant-listener with the stuffed feeling that attends a too generous feasting upon a single dish.

VARIETY ELSEWHERE.

There was a grateful musical variety to be found in other programmes of contemporaneous days. That saved us from complete Slavmusico giddiness. The Kentucky mountains folksong concert by Loraine Wyman and Howard Brockway was, in its appeal of these simple "Lonesome tunes," a welcome relief from the oft-barbaric color of Russian writers. Not an unusual voice, Miss Wyman's, but she interprets with art. And Brockway plays the piano as skillfully as he composes.

Edna Thomas, Leonora Sparkes, whose soprano has been so often heard in Metropolitan second-role operatic music; Angelo Raggini, a tenor newcomer; the Marchesa Cappelli and Giovanni Martinelli and Lambert Murphy have sung for us—out of the Russian groove. Harold Bauer also played a varied pianoforte music recital, and Mischa Elman and John Powell appeared respectively on the Commodore and the Manhattan American concert programmes, and Marchese Cappelli with the Marchesa.

With the exception of those artists, who need no further emphasis to place them more firmly in their high niches, there was little in the work of the rest to cause a hulabaloo. Promising for the future, some of them, when the school of experience has been more extensively undergone. For there is where the musician must learn, and best learns—while in the presence of a critical gathering.

Of the chamber music organizations, Carolyn Beebe's New York Chamber Music aggregation—which is a sort of abbreviated orchestra—moved one most with a desire to linger. The Hambourg brothers, Jan the violinist and Boris of 'cello fame, joined forces with pianist Garcia Guerrero in forming an ensemble, but they won no blue ribbons from the newspaper critics. The piano playing of Augusta Cottlow—who was "Gussie" in her prodigy days—was admirably done. I admired her courage, incidentally in refusing to give away hundreds of tickets just for the sake of having a crowded house

"ZAZA" HAS ITS PREMIERE.

Never do I see the title "Zaza" that there does not arise a mental scene of David Belasco dragging Mrs. Leslie Carter about the stage by the hair. (Merely, as the newspapers explained at the time, to stimulate the lady's temperament.) That was, of course, years ago. I really do not know whether Mr. Belasco ever performed the feat; but it made a good story, as is shown by the way it sticks in my memory.

By the time this appears in print the Metropolitan should have given the first American presentation of the late Ruggiero Leoncavallo's "Zaza," with Geraldine Farrar in the title role. For the benefit of my readers I will give them some advance information which may be of interest, and which I got from the dress-rehearsal I sat through from 11 o'clock Wednesday morning till long after two that afternoon.

First, unless I am much mistaken. Miss Farrar will score one of her biggest popular success as Zaza. Her sparkle, her physical effervescence and her magnetism unite in making her impersonation one of irresistible appeal. Her acting is finely conceived and tempered, and the music does not run too high for her voice.

The first act scene, back-stage, will please the public, also "Geraldine's" kicking of a champagne-glass to smithereens and her buoyancy generally. Amato also pleased me, and Kathleen Howard was effective in an effective role. But the tenor Crimi missed more than one good dramatic opportunity that would have helped matters. Leoncavallo's music will get a critical toasting, I am sure, but I notice the composer of "Pagliacci" has a "sense of the theater." So I will be surprised if this opera we have been so long expecting does not gain a considerable vogue.

AN OPERATIC RUMPUS.

If only I may live to some day see a fiery conductor climb upon the Metropolitan Operahouse stage and engage some principal in a fisticuffs bout I shall experience a desire gratified. It looked, for ten seconds flat, as though Arthur Bodanzky might do that very thing during the general rehearsal of "Le Coq d'Or." Adolf Bolm suggested a slower tempo to some of the music, for the benefit of the dancers—to which the always-for-the-music's-sake Bodanzky objected. He was, moreover, considerably heated in his objection. Recalling the amateur boxing contests I had seen on that classic stage (when our old friend Max Hirsch used to be referee) I felt inclined to whisper "sick him!" But the rumpus ended in amiable agreement, to my disappointment.

It was a splendid performance of "Coq d'Or." All the critics save three said that Bodanzky got more out of it than Pierre Monteux. Personally, I discovered no noteworthy improvement save in a few spots. Two or three times it seemed to me that Bodanzky was in a great hurry to get somewhere; too much so for the good of the music, and sometimes for the dancing. That's the way of it; once acquire a reputation for excellence in any given vocation and, as king, you can do no wrong. Mabel Garrison, Marie Sundelius and Louise Berat (one of the ablest of Metropolitan singers, though she is, usually cast for second roles) secured the vocal honors. Didur's basso rumblings were too choked and unsteady. This charming music of Rimsky-Korsakoff, is, by the way, the only Russian which has not recently made me wriggle when I heard it.

"The Blue Bird" has had another hearing since its premiere, and left a pleasurable effect. We have had "Samson et Dalila," with Caruso magnificent and Mlle. Besanzoni still leaving us wondering about that reputation we heard so much of. Also a "Marouf," with Mme. Alda appearing at her best possible advantage and De Luca singing gloriously. "Faust," with Miss Farrar and Martinelli looking perfectly their characters of Marguerite and Faust, a creditable "Tosca" and a "Cavalleria Rusticana," in which Claudio Muzio made me forget how little Crimi makes of his exceptional voice. Otherwise no high lights strong enough to cause me to blink.

M'CORMACK'S WORLD TOUR.

Around the world in eighty days will not be said of the coming John McCormack tour of the globe. He plans to make more than a year of it—and with the members of his family, the indefatigable D. F. McSweeney and two servants. Nine, all told, in the party. (What joy for the transportation and hotel gentlemen.

I am able to give, for the first time, the important details of the forthcoming venture. I got them from the tenor himself, last Sunday night, during a Hippodrome concert intermission. It was the first time we had met since we finished writing "John's Life Story." Being in superexcellent voice, John forgot all about those troublous days.

McCormack will sail for Australia early in June, giving forty concerts in that country, New Zealand and Tasmania, Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide, Brisbane, Perth, Auckland, Wellington, Hobart and Launceston are to be the favored cities; but the financial returns, because of the small auditoriums available, will be comparatively small. John calls the tour "an artistic relaxation."

Plans are being made for McCormack to give song recitals in Milan and Rome (where this form of singing has never been done;) he will sing for a French benefit a concert in Paris with a symphony orchestra, and do twenty concerts in the British Isles. He is due to reach New York in October, 1921.

I have it on excellent authority that Arturo Toscanini has been engaged to come here next season for a tour of the United States at the head of the St. Cecilia Symphony Orchestra. This is the organization which was to have been brought here last autumn, arrangements with managers all over this country being cancelled at the last moment.

TIPS FROM TEXAS.

As a general thing, when the sign says: "Look and listen," the man listens and the woman looks.

Another thing we like about the gum chewers is that they don't look uneasy when they don't see a cuspidor.

Our position simply is that skirts ought to be long enough to save stockings from having to be darned all the way up.

Furthermore, grandfather got along very well on a small income because he was industrious enough to groom his boots instead of sending them to a garage to be greased.

The old-fashioned woman who thought she had to wear red flannel to live through the winter, now has a granddaughter who would rather die than put it on.—[Dallas News.

AROUND THE MUSIC WORLD.

"Butterfly" to Afford Most Up-to-Date Appeal in the Opera Season.

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT.

If one may forecast the coming opera season from this distance, it would seem that "Madame Butterfly" will afford the most attraction of the works to be presented. There are several reasons for this. In the first place—although this, in a way, is a sad commentary on the initiative of producers — it is the most modern work to be performed. Secondly, it will have Marcella Craft as its star. Third, which is perhaps the most important box office reason why "Butterfly" is a good risk—the opera has been for some time past the most popular with the local public.

This Japanese lyric drama is one of three operas which is to have a repetition during the engagement, the other two being "Carmen," which has illumination of Alice Gentle's presence, and "Trovatore," for the repetition of which there is no adequate reason to be cited, unless it is that this threadbare melange of tuneful piffle still manages to hold a certain favor. It is therefore honored far more than its childish libretto and saccharine melodies deserve.

Miss Craft's appearance in "Butterfly" will be an event. It is one of the operas in which she succeeded in gaining European recognition. It does not seem hard to reconcile Miss Craft as a singer with the title role of this opera, whereas it is almost impossible to conceive of her as Salome in the Strauss music-drama, to which portrayal much of her pre-America fame is attributed.

Operatically, Marcella Craft is known chiefly for the creation of the heroine of Horatio Parker's "Fairyland." That was a difficult and ungrateful task to set before any singer, and Miss Craft succeeded in a very capable rendition under the circumstances. It will, as a consequence, be a great pleasure to behold her in a role which she has matured and made her own through some years' of experience, and particularly will it be interesting to see in the part an American singer, as at most performances in the past few years, Japanese stars have been holding forth as the Chrysanthemum Lady.

Signor Gallo, the impresario of the San Carlo, perhaps, is wise in giving nothing more recent than "Butterfly." The last few years have brought forward very little that is worth while in opera, with the exception of "L'Amore dei Tre Re." We have heard "Fedora" and "Zaza" and other modern works of the Italian school without particular interest, and unless a producer would be so venturesome as to essay some of the French works that are new to this locality, it is safer and better to stick to the established successes. Especially is this so in a troupe like Gallo's organization, which has built its way to success from a very small foundation.

Churning the Emotions.

Puccini has ever shown a fertile capacity for stirring emotions. He exercises a sort of David Wark Griffith sway on sentiment, with perhaps a degree of more lasting success than D.W.G. The Italian composer of warm sensuous melodies, lucidly empasized with captivating harmonies, especially in "Butterfly," has manifested an almost primitive control over the equation of pure feeling. The intellectual savor may be absent from the Puccini music, but it certainly sends the heart interest home, and that is the reason for the popularity of "Madame Butterfly." I will freely confess that I cannot hear, or play on the piano, certain passages from the opera without getting to an extent excited over it, because the music is vastly exciting of its kind. It is full of a red-blood vitality that is he equal of a rare, grea melodrama. When "Butterfly" first came out it made an instant success. The popularity of the opera has not diminished greatly, but then there has come very little in modern writing to take the place of the emotional appeal of the best Puccini works. These seem to gain a constantly changing and perhaps enlarged coterie of admirers.

Bennyan as Recitalist.

You doubtless remember Felipe Bennyan, who did some very able singing with Constantino here a few seasons ago. He took part in a very successful performance of Rossini's "Barber of Seville" and also rendered the "Dio Possente" from "Faust" with a fine degree of fervor. Bennyan always did possess a very satisfying voice.

At present this young baritone is in New York. He has made several appearances in concert, and it is pretty safe to conclude, that he won't be long coming into his own, even in the much-vaunted "critical atmosphere" of the musical metropolis.

Zoellners Still on Tour.

The Zoellners are sending very favorable reports of their success on the tour they are making through the South and East. The ensemble organization has been very busy with concerts since their departure, averaging close to an appearance a day. Sometimes they have also to play two concerts daily. The quartette will return in the early spring for the completion of the series of concerts here.

Cadman Scoring Opera.

Charles Wakefield Cadman has just received word from the East during the past week that the American company which is to produce his "Shanewis" and Joseph Carl Breil's "Legend" will definitely start their tour next fall. The inception of said tour was delayed until nevt season so that a full transcontinental trip could be made, which would prove impossible at so late a date during the present musical year. Mr. Cadman is now arranging the orchestration for his "Garden of Mystery," which will be ready for presentation next season, and the composer is making arrangements which will insure its production then.

Pool winning first for gentlemen, George Grover second, and Mr. Gebelius, consolation. For the ladies, Mrs. Gebelius won first, Mrs. H. O. Miller second, and Mrs. King consolation.

The P. E. O. Society met Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. Mathews. The programme was in charge of Mrs. C. D. Pool, who gave a very interesting talk on Longfellow, interspread with readings from his poems. She was assisted by Mrs. H. M. Thomas. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Mathews.

CHINO.

Members of the Chino Chapter No. 330, Order of Eastern Star, gathered at the H. G. Shafer home Thursday evening during his absence so as to surprise him on his return.

The occasion for the surprise was to present him with the past patron's emblem, and to extend thanks for his efficient assistance during the past year, and wish him with his estimable family all that is good in their new home at El Centro, where they will go in a few days.

The Ladies' Aid of the Baptist Church, gave a delightful box supper on Thursday evening at the church.

The programme was given in an informal way with games and a social time in charge of the committee under Mrs. C. A. Day.

The proceeds of the evening go to the general funds of the church.

The Ladies of the East Side Thimble Club, to the number of about fifty, with several guests, were entertained at the A. M. Switzer home. Mrs. F. A. Roll, Mrs. Jennie Lanning and Mrs. G. C. Miller assisted Mrs. Switzer in the entertaining. The visitors included Mrs. Matoon, mother of Mrs. Ed. Burbank, who recently arrived from Vermont, Mrs. Porter Vance, Mrs. Clayton Borthwick, and Mrs. G. A. Sietel.

INDIO.

The ladies of the Indio Community Circle met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Black. Work for the new year was discussed and it was decided to take up the studies of missions, studying first the children of the Orient. It was also decided to hold a cooked food sale in the Ward building, the latter part of January. Mrs. Black assisted by Mrs. A. J. Shamblin, served very dainty refreshments. The next meeting will be held January 28th at the home of Mrs. A. V. Jones.

Mrs. R. L. Bell and mother were hostess at the all-day meeting of the Friday Afternoon Club. The members gathered early, and the morning was spent in a pleasant social way. Luncheon was served at 12:30, each one doing ample justice to the host of good things. Mrs. R. M. Cologne presided at the head of the table.

J. L. Marshall, who has been visiting with Mrs. Marshall among old friends at Ottumwa, Iowa, for several weeks, returned home last Saturday.

MUSIC SPECIALIST TO GIVE LECTURES.

ORIGINATOR OF DUNNING SYSTEM ARRANGES THREE EVENTS.

Child training in fundamentals of music, to which she has devoted her efforts for many years, will constitute the main theme of three lectures to be delivered this week at the Friday Morning Club House by Carrie L. Dunning, prominent as an instructor and lecturer in the music world. She is the originator of the Dunning System of Improved Music Study for Beginners, regarded as a very efficient method of making young people acquainted with the rudiments of music, and quickly paving the way for the development of their higher education. Simplicity is said to be its dominant note, which is most clearly sounded in the rapid attainment on the part of a pupil of a comprehensive knowledge of key relationship.

Originally Mrs. Dunning's appearances were arranged for Tuesday morning, Wednesday afternoon and Friday evening, but a change was necessitated in the Tuesday event from morning to afternoon, and the Wednesday from afternoon to morning, which is now the order of the recitals. Mrs. Dunning's talks will be illustrated by pupils of the representative of her system of training in this city, Isobel Tone.

Fourteen years ago Mrs. Dunning held a normal training class in this city. During the interim she has been touring the country conducting lectures. She has spent a portion of her free time at her country home in Long Island, and the remainder, for the past few years, in this city. Many of her lectures have been given at convents and schools, where her method has made an especial appeal.

Tobacco Hardens the Arteries, Overtaxes the Heart and Shortens Li

Says Dr. Connor, Who Suggests a Simple Test to F If It Is Hurting You. Can You Stand It?

New York.—Dr. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital, says: Hundreds of thousands of men who smoke and chew and who believe themselves healthy are suffering from progressive organic ailments. They would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco and most of them would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco.

The best known habit forming principal of tobacco is nicotine, but the most deadly and demoralizing is furfural. Both are deadly poisons, which, when absorbed by the system slowly, but surely, affect the nerves, membranes, tissues, vital organs and vitality of the body.

The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances and the individual. In some it causes general debility, others catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will power, cowardice and fear, mental confusion, etc.; in others it causes heart disease, bronchial troubles, hardening of the arteries, palpitation of the heart, tuberculosis, blindness, cancer and the common affliction known as tobacco heart.

If you use tobacco in any form you easily detect its harmful effects by making the following simple tests: Read aloud a full page from a book. If your voice becomes muffled, hoarse and indistinct and you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh and it may be the beginning of very serious catarrhal trouble. Next, in the morning, before taking your usual smoke, walk up [illegible] flights of stairs at a regular [illegible] stop. Mother! Teach the Children Their Daily Health Duty

You can't be too insistent!

FEW children find pleasure in the things most vital to their physical comfort and health, so it rests with the watchful mother to see that they are done. The child will be grateful in after years.

Chief among the functions necessary to the upbuilding of the little body, so that it will not be a dyspeptic, constipated body when it matures, is elimination regularly every morning. If the mother will be insistent and allow nothing to interfere with it, it will soon become a habit, a daily routine that will not be forgotten throughout life.

There are times, however, when nature will not operate unaided. Then give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, and the headaches, the biliousness, the torpor will quickly disappear. It acts gently and without griping, and as it contains no narcotics and is pleasant to the taste, it may be given to infants. Thousands of families have been regulated to healthy maturity with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

A bottle can be bought at any drug store. In a large family there is always someone who would feel better for a dose of a good medicine like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois.

How Signs Of Old Age Creep Into Your System When the Iron In Your Blood Runs Low

For Want of Iron, You May Be Old at Thirty—Nervous, Irritable and All Run-Down—While at Fifty or Sixty, With Plenty of Iron in Your Blood, You May Be Young in Feeling and Brimming Over With Vim and Energy.

IRON IS THE RED BLOOD FOOD

That Helps Strengthen the Nerves, Restores Wasted Tissue and Aids in Giving Renewed Force and Power to the Body. Physicians Explain Why Administration of Simple Nuxated Iron Often Increases the Strength and Endurance of Delicate, Rundown People in Two Weeks' Time.

YOU ARE AGING If you are wearied by the activities of your daily life.

If you have lost the spring of your step and your movements are cumbrous.

YOU ARE AGEING If your skin is shrinking and your face looks wrinkled, careworn and old.

YOU ARE AGEING If the enthusiasm for tackling your daily problems has waned.

Old age has already sunk its talons into thousands of men and women who ought still to be enjoying the springtime and summer of life simply because they have allowed worry, overwork, nervous strain, dissipation and occupational poisons to sap the iron from their blood and thereby destroy its power to change food into living tissue, muscle and brain. You will find plenty of people at 40 who are broken in health and steadily going downward to physical and mental decay, while others at 50 are strong, active, alert and seemingly growing younger every year. One class withers and dies like leaves in autumn, while the other by keeping up a strong power of resistance against disease may pass the three score and ten mark with surprising health, strength and vigor. But you cannot expect to look and feel young and vigorous unless you have plenty of iron in your blood, and physicians explain below why they prescribe organic iron—Nuxated Iron—to supply the iron deficiency in the weak, nervous and run-down so as to build them up into stronger, healthier men and women.

"Many a man and woman who ought still to be young in feeling is losing the old time vim and energy that makes life worth living simply because their blood is starving for want of iron," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.,) New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. "Thousands are ageing and breaking down at a time when they should be enjoying perfect health because anaemia—lack of iron in the blood—has fastened its grip on them and is sapping their strength, vitality and energy. But in my opinion you can't make strong, keen, forceful men and healthy, rosy-cheeked women by feeding them on metallic iron. The old forms of metallic iron must go through a digestive process to transform them into organic iron—Nuxated Iron—before they are ready to be taken up and assimilated by the human system. I strongly advise readers in all cases to get a physician's prescription for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—or if you don't want to go to this trouble, then purchase Nuxated Iron in its original package, and see that this particular name (Nuxated Iron) appears on the package. If you have taken preparations such as Nux and Iron and other similar iron products and failed to get results, remember that such products are an entirely different thing from Nuxated Iron."

Dr. George H. Baker, formerly Physician and Surgeon, Monmouth Memorial Hospital of New Jersey, says: "From a careful examination of the formula and my own tests of Nuxated Iron, I feel convinced that it is a preparation which any physician can take himself or prescribe for his patients with the utmost confidence of obtaining highly beneficial and satisfactory results."

MANUFACTURERS' NOTE. Nuxated Iron, which has been used by Dr. Sullivan and other physicians with such surprising results, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by Boswell & Noyes Drug Co.; Dickinson Drug Co.; B. & B. Drug Co.; Chambers Drug Co.; Sun Drug Co., and all other druggists.

Sincerest Flattery.

And now even the newest beaded bags are being imitated; and so well that you would actually look twice to detect the simulation!

When Pink is White.

In the white sale—if it's pink, it's there! Sounds anomalous, doesn't it? And so do the prices of the pink pretties placed in that sale, the Januaryance, at that high-class store out Seventh street. Pink underthings, pink negligees, pink gowns, pink robes intime, all the pinkety pretties that women covet, and on sale for an entire week at havable prices!

Batik-ing.

A girl who does the loveliest of Batik was gratified to have one of her artistic blouses worn by the honoree at a reception on West Adams street, the other day. This Angeleno girl does fine work. Many of her blouse patterns—always cut on long lines—are done on metallic cloth, in beautiful shades of brown, mahogany, or in purple tints. One that I saw was in a copper color with cat-tails in deep shades of brown toned with black. The one worn at the reception was of burnt orange, with grapes and the autumn leaves of the vine used as the motif upon panels, sleeves and around the neck line. This artistic girl "batiks" to order, using whatsoever colors are most desired and originating designs appropriate for such colorings and for each garment ordered.

Millinery Note.

One of the decided notes in spring millinery is the drapery of lace, held in place at the line between crown and brim and falling in uneven flounces all around, or thrown back from the face. The lace should be of a fine quality—really lace of character—for these flounces.

New Leather Coats.

The white suede coats, of which we have heard so much from Paris, have arrived! I saw one, at a specialty shop on Broadway, the soft white leather of the coat offset by collar, cuffs and a band around the skirt, of black patent leather. This stunning coat is to be worn with a skirt of black and white striped wool.

Uniquely Tasseled.

Tassels simply will not be relegated. But, in order to maintain their cachet, they must needs devise something new for themselves; and so—when used upon the newest frocks and gowns, they appear in most unexpected ways, scarcely describable, but instantly recognized as something very new. I saw, the other day in a smart specialty shop, a stunning little afternoon gown, the tassels seeming to fasten the bodice down one side, in an effect singularly "different."

• •

Ornate Footwear.

Ornate, not to say "fussy," are some of the new French low shoes and evening slippers. Lacings of silk and satin, spangled effects over the instep as well as in the buckles and sets of buttons, vie with contrasting trimming of kid and embroidery in those new short-vamped examples. It is quite problematic as to whether American women, who are said to have the best-looking feet in the world, will accept the short French vamp, which is at best intended to cover up defects in foot shape. Americans, as a rule, prefer the more slender lasts.

Spring Greens.

Not to eat, although they look "good enough to eat!" I refer to the new shades which are coming forth in millinery and in dress. Green seems an especially appropriate tint for spring, and this season it has taken on newer and more beautiful shades than ever, it would seem. Green, in its manifold graduations, appears in hats, in frocks, in dresses for afternoon and for theater wear, and green peeps out from its hiding place as lining to collars, to panels, to undersleeves and shily asserts its right to be among those present, wherever a bit of contrasting color is in requisition, to complete the charm of the costume for any time or place.

A French Fad.

Rubberized silk and oilcloth are the latest fad in chic suits, in Paris—so Nella writes! Sounds fearful—don't you think? But no doubt is wonderful—as the most impossible of combinations in materials are sure to be, once our French cousins take them in hand. Foulard and cretonne is another French consortment which we are certain soon to see on this side—and to criticise—and to—accept? no doubt.

Coigne and Coin.

In the coigne of vantage—the extremely attractive corner window of that popular store where Seventh and Broadway—well, you know—that newly unveiled window which is so very beautiful—there is on display the latest coin of the mode, just current from the mint of Fashion. White taffeta! Adorable frocks of this most likable silk, frocks made in the most modish manner, with knife plaitings of the silk, doubled and formed into trimming designs most quaint. White silks are a just-now rage.

Under Fashion's Guidance.

The pannier, in varying forms and sizes, is the leading feature of the new fashions.

The skirt of one evening gown is made entirely of black and white fluffy ostrich.

Huge, removable cuffs of mongolic are placed over the sleeves of tailored jackets.

The sleeves of evening frocks seldom grow into more than a broad band of taffeta.

An afternoon dress of pale pink kid has a high collar and cuffs of dark brown fur.

One especially charming evening wrap is made of ruby velvet and trimmed with priceless sable.

A novel coat of mole fur consists of the mole in the shape of ruffles set on a crepe foundation.

Blouse sleeves are generally of elbow length, but they vary from extreme shortness to great length.

A black velvet opera gown is draped with beautiful black lace and has a train edged with monkey fur.

Merely a silver ribbon looped at the side gives the pannier suggestion a frock consisting of a black velvet bodice and a blue taffeta skirt.

Embroidery of Indian red on white Shantung is the latest fad.

A band of seal trims a chic slip-on blouse of pink crepe de chine.

White crepe de chine is fashionably combined with black chiffon.

A smart pannier model is of black taffeta, black Spanish lace and tulle.

The tailored frock has straight lines and seldom attempts the pannier.

PRIDE IN MISFORTUNE.

A Senator said in a discussion of the steel strike:

"Strikes are often caused by pride—pride as foolish and misplaced as that of the incurable in the hospital.

"An incurable, lifting his haggard head from the pillow, said in a weak voice to a newcomer with a crushed thumb:

"'The worse we are, the better they like us here. Why, partner, they won't think nothin' o' that there thumb o' yourn. But say, if ye had a big lump in yer insides, like me, gosh-almighty, they wouldn't do a thing but make a fuss over ye then. Trifles like your thumb the young boy doctor sees to, but when it comes to big lump cases like me ye got four or five of the high muckymucks tendin' to ye. Bet yer life!'"—[Exchange.

Getting Back at Officer.

With the demobilization of the army some new stories are being demobilized, too. One is the story of the bright thought of an adjutant. The commanding officer of a force behind the lines had acquired or "won" (as they say in the army) a cow, and he was much envied in all the messes. The adjutant had a cottage with a garden in which he had some good strawberries. One day the C. O. without a word went into his garden and helped himself to the adjutant's strawberries. The adjutant could not, of course, rebuke his chief, but he put up this notice: "Trespassers in this strawberry garden will have their cow shot."—[Unidentified.

THE HELPING HAND.

"How far that little candle throws his beams!
So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

A "poor man's drug store, a dispensary and a hospital, have been established at Roxbury, Mass., by the Salvation Army. The institution is the only one of its kind in New England and one of the few in the United States, where the needy may obtain medicines, have prescriptions filled and receive hospital and surgical treatment at cost, or without charge whatsoever, if a recommendation is shown from a physician or welfare worker that the applicant's circumstances warrant free service.

The nursing staff consists of two trained and five pupil nurses. The physicians who conduct the clinics are from the Tufts College faculty and their service is gratuitous.

For the hospital and dispensary every modern facility has been installed. In addition to a complete operating-room equipment with etherizing and sterilizing machines, there is a four-chair dental clinic, also ear, nose and throat clinical equipment.

The ward capacity includes twenty-five beds with provision for children. The obstetrical department is a feature. Arrangements have been made whereby operations may be performed in the home with necessary attention by visiting nurses. Emergency treatment is provided through the co-operation of physicians in the vicinity who are subject to immediate call.

Community Service in Atlanta has opened a free employment bureau. Any person out of employment can list an application and community service will endeavor to provide the desired employment.

Heretofore employment has been provided for only local discharged soldiers, sailors or marines, majority of whom have been placed, but there are some who have not been in the army or navy, and it is now planned to provide these with work.

In a survey of the work of the Henry-street Settlement, in New York, of which Lillian D. Wald, the head resident, made a report recently, it was shown that in 1919 the "Field Hospital," extending from the Battery to Yonkers, took care of 35,423 patients and made 261,690 visits to patients, 10,758 social visits, 1320 visits to shops, and 11,655 office treatments. In addition to its nursing service the settlement also acted as a teaching center for graduate and undergraduate students training for public health service.

As a result of the rising cost of living more and more people are unable to engage fulltime nurses, and therefore the demand for the visiting nurse has been increasing. The organization is on the alert to get desirable saloon sites to turn into branches for its service.

It is announced that $675,000 has been subscribed to the Rutgers College endowment fund to provide increases in pay for members of the teaching staffs and to build new dormitories and laboratories. August Heckaher and the General Education Board have offered $100,000 each upon the condition that $1,000,000 be subscribed by other persons.

A DOMESTIC FAULT.

"With the return of so many prewar comforts," said Mr. Gibbens, "traveling is once more a possibility.'

He waited for his words to sink into the minds of other travelers in the dining-car. He was very fond of the limelight. Then he turned to his wife and six-year-old daughter.

"Come Miriam," he said grandly, "having dined, let us return to our carriage!" The good lady collected her wrap and her bag and her gloves and her handkerchief, but her little girl hung back.

"Oh, mother!" she cried, aren't we going to wash the dishes?"—[Boston Globe.

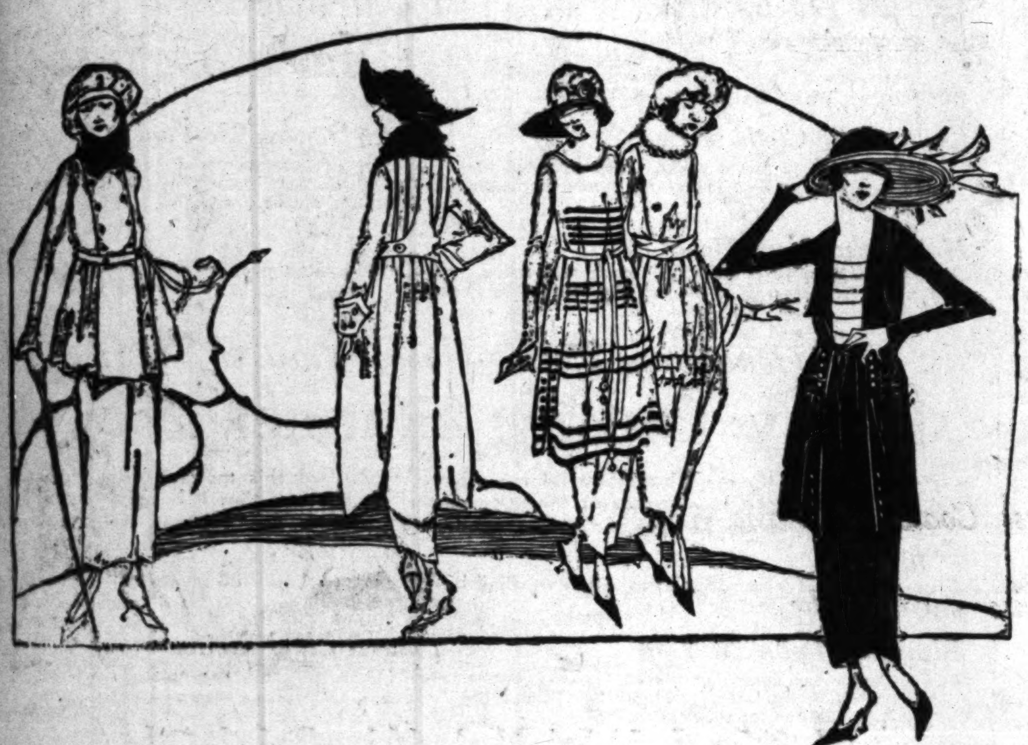
The Last Monday of the Clearance Brings to the Fore One of the Best Offerings of the Month

Women's and Misses' Dresses At $10



—We wouldn't blame you one bit if you thought we had made a mistake in quoting the price of these pretty frocks—for you rarely see such dresses at anywhere near such a low figure.

—But we haven't made a mistake—$10. IS to be the price, and we just know that because of this announcement The Broadway Basement garment section is going to be one of the very busiest sections of the store on Monday morning.

—There are satin dresses, taffeta dresses, paulette and serge dresses in navy and other desired shades.

—While there are sizes from 14 to 44 in the lot, there are not all styles and colors in each size—that WOULD be too many of a kind, wouldn't it?

—We just cannot resist telling you that Monday's price is actually less than half the original markings of some of these dresses!

500 Coats and Suits at Half Price

—The quantity gives some indication of what you may expect in the way of style diversity—for there are not many garments of a kind.
—There are broadcloth suits, velour suits, others of jersey heather, silvertone, tricotine and saloma cloth.
—Navy, brown, taupe, burgundy, other shades and black. Sizes 14 to 44.

And the Coats

—are of silvertone, velour, broadcloth and other desirable coatings. Collars are fur or self trimmed. Belted or flaring. Sizes 14 to 46.
The Broadway Basement

500 Separate Skirts at $3.38

—Why, you usually have to pay much more than that for material for a skirt—but just think of buying the completed garment at that figure!

—There are silk poplins and mixtures in plaids and checks.

—In navy, tan, Pekin blue, brown, taupe.

—Now 500 is a very small quantity, when you consider how many women will read this advertisement—and as they read, mentally resolve to come to The Broadway Basement on Monday morning—so YOU make a little resolve on the side, to BE EARLY! It will pay to do so.

Give the Top Line Position to This Lot of

1200 Bath Towels at 35c

—The size of them—the quality and the price are all worthy of emphasis. Size 18x36 up to 22x44. —They came to us as an important purchase from the factory—you see, they are slightly soiled or have here and there an imperfection. Even as they are, every one of the towels would bring ever so much more. We offer them "as is" in the finale of this Clearance at 35c each.

420 Huck Towels 17c Each

—An odd lot in sizes from 16x32 to 18x36. Some plain white, others have red or blue borders. —Every one of them worth more—slightly imperfect. Sold "as is," while they last, 17c each.

Knitted Dish Cloths 5c Each

—600 of them, 12 inches square, open mesh, to be used as sponge or dish cloth. 600, while they last, at 5c each.

Half Linen Crash 25c

—That is, the weft is all linen—free from dressing. Plain white or blue borders. Suitable for hand or dish towels. 17 inches wide. 500 yards to sell at 25c yard.

Towels "As Is" 10c

—1200 of them, small size, plain white, soft Huck towels, suitable for surgeons' or barbers' use. —These were slightly soiled in the factory, "as is" at 10c each.

Headlining News of 3000 Yards of 36-in.

Fancy Outing Flannel 25c yd.

—Perhaps one of the most important items we have announced this month. We emphasize the width—36 inch—and the lowness of the price as well as the fact that it is fancy outing flannel. White grounds with blue stripes and gray grounds with stripes, for pajamas, night gowns and underwear.

—In order to affect a wider distribution we shall be obliged to limit the quantity—10 yards to a purchaser. Second Floor.

Bleached Muslin 35c Yard

—An extra fine quality of 36-inch bleached muslin—a quality desirable for undermuslins. The price is greatly lowered for the Climax.

Most Surprising News, This—a Purchase of 1500 pairs of High Boots, Oxfords and Pumps to Offer at $5.00

—It's been a long time since we have been able to feature a shoe offering of this nature.

—It's surprising, indeed, to think that we can offer these shoes at such a little price.

—True, some of them have imperfections. They come from a maker of high-grade shoes, however.

—Then there are a number of perfect lines included, right from regular stock.

—Others are from a noted manufacturer — these also are perfect.

—Taking it all in all, it's the most unusual shoe offering of the month.

—There will be high boots in the most desired styles. Brown, black and gray.

—There will be oxfords and pumps of brown kid, brown calf skin, black kid, black calf skin and patent leather.

—Some in the lighter colors.

—Also white oxfords and pumps, including reincloth.

—There is a wide size range; of course not every size in every individual style.

—We want you to see these shoes; you'll be as enthusiastic as we are; priced $5. Aisle 8.

Giving Prominence to the Clearance of the Balance of

MULTIPLE ELECTROLYSIS,
in the treatment of
SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.
THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE METHOD

of permanently removing superfluous hair is by means of the electric needle. THE SURE WAY is always the CHEAPEST WAY in the end, with everything; and this is particularly true of unsightly, disfiguring hair on the face and neck and bushy and straggling eyebrows. We operate as high as six needles at one time, each needle removing from 30 to 60 hairs per hour, thus greatly reducing not only the usually long and tedious process, but saving YOU most valuable time and money, REMOVING SIX TIMES THE AMOUNT IN PRACTICALLY ONE-HALF THE TIME AND AT ONE-HALF THE REGULAR CHARGES.

The stationary Electric Needle Appliance is the ONLY INDORSED METHOD which permanently eradicates superfluous hair.

MRS. L. M. STYLES, Electrolysis Specialist, Suites 526-7, Bradbury Bldg., 3rd and Broadway.

COMMONSENSE BEAUTY HINTS.

In this climate it is quite impossible to have a good complexion without the use of cream. The "Key to Beauty" cleansing cream has been compounded to prevent the drying condition of the western climate by ANNA M. BERGERON, who has been located in business in Los Angeles 18 years, and specializes in the care of the skin (including electrolysis, single or multiple-needle method.) Her high-frequency bleaching treatments will clean and close the pores, strengthen the muscles and whiten the skin. Top floor Haas Bldg., corner Seventh and Broadway. H. JEVNE CO. carry a full line of the KEY TO BEAUTY TOILET PREPARATIONS.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIRS—
WARTS AND MOLES.

Pulling a few stiff hairs from the face may start a serious growth. Let me demonstrate free of charge how pulling, cutting, using wax depilatories and the so-called hair removers promote growth of hair on the face. My electric machine is the only known method of killing superfluous hair, fuzz, warts and moles, without destroying the surrounding tissue. This machine destroys 360 hairs an hour. I have had 19 years' experience and devote all my time to the work. A binding guarantee that any hairs or moles I treat will never return. Many L. A. satisfied customers will testify to my skill as an expert.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR—

HUMILIATING AND UNSIGHTLY.

There is only one method known today of permanently removing superfluous hair, and that is Electrolysis (electric needle.) This process in the hands of a reliable and expert operator insures absolute satisfaction. I stand back of my work and guarantee any hair treated by me will be permanently destroyed, leaving no scars.

Contractors and Builders.

BUILDERS, ATTENTION!

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR A PLACE TO START THAT NEXT CAMPAIGN?

VAN NUYS, Hub of the San Fernando Valley, offers exceptional opportunities for persons who will engage in building houses for sale or for rent. In spite of a building record of nearly $450,000 during the year 1919, the demand for homes and housing accommodations in this community is greater than ever.

Desirable, well-located lots and blocks of lots may be secured at very reasonable prices, which will allow a good margin of profit in a building-for-sale campaign.

It will pay you to investigate the Manufacturing, Canning, Agricultural, Horticultural, Poultry, Dairying and other industries that are the real substantial basis for the demand for homes in Van Nuys, and which demand is growing beyond the capacity of present local facilities.

WE WILL BE PLEASED TO SHOW YOU AT ANY TIME.

LEARN THE ART OF SINGING—SAVE THIS ADV.

Voice culture is an asset that cannot be over-estimated from a health standpoint alone. The deep breathing required makes red blood, quiets the nerves and gives correct poise to the body.

It requires only a little intelligent study, time and money to equip you to take your place as a singing artist.

By learning to use the breath correctly you will be greatly gratified at the interest your audience will take in your singing. Your voice will be heard farther, the tone will be sweeter and you will not fatigue, but will enjoy the singing as much as your friends.

We teach everything a singer should know, including breath control, tone color, placement, diction, interpretation and repertoire; students given an opportunity to sing publicly at our monthly recital. Students recommended to good positions when they are qualified. Daily lessons may be secured where home practice is inconvenient. Interviews cheerfully given with free voice trial to prospective pupils. Lessons may be taken before or after business hours; terms reasonable. I have several assisting student teachers giving voice and piano lessons at reasonable tuition. Come in and talk it over. You will not regret it and it may mean much to you.

Mr., Mrs. or Miss Buyer:
There must be something more to the selling of highgrade used cars than merely the exchange of wealth for wants. Back of each and every transaction must exist such a measure of unequaled service that satisfaction will cause a customer to return again when contemplating the purchase of a later model or more desirable car.
The success of the Silver Motor Car Co., through the spirit and leadership of A. M. Silver has been built up along these lines.
Through the automobile classified section of this paper you will find many cars listed which are displayed at our various stores for your inspection and approval.
Can you afford to purchase a high-grade used car where a lesser regard is given to your requirements or wants!

ABOUT SHERWOOD.

One man said: "You have the only real bargains in the city," and he came from Iowa and ought to know.
Buick, 18 model; been driven less than 6000 miles; $1375. And one at $1250.
Olds. 18 model, light 7-passenger, $1000.
Overland 90, like new, $700. Also one for $600.
18 Chalmers, $1050. This car is worth much more.
Willys 6 chummy, nearly new, $1250.
Beautiful Overland 6, 3-passenger, roadster, 5 wire wheels, new tires; can't tell it from new. $1150.
Marmon 34, 5-passenger, 17 model, $2200. Can't duplicate this car for less than $3000 elsewhere.
Mitchell sedan, 7-passenger, very late model. Driven only 7000 miles. $1450.
Hudson 6-40, new paint, plate glass top, seat covers, $975. Hudson 2-passenger closed car, 4 new Kelly tires, new paint, $975. Worth $1250. Ask any dealer.
1918 Studebaker 6, new plate glass top, new paint, new battery, 5 good tires and runs perfect. $750.
1917 Studebaker 6, been driven only 8000 miles, original paint, like new. One of the best-running 6-cylinder cars in the city. $975.
Beautiful little Monroe sedan, 18 model, like new, $975.

If you are interested in a used car it will pay you to investigate these.

A SILVER OFFERING—

1918 Chandler Chummy.

This car is without question one of the best Chandlers we have ever had to offer, and we will be glad to demonstrate anywhere. Has been repainted and a new special pantasote top with plate glass in rear curtains put on. The tires are all in good condition with one extra. The party buying this car will spend very little on it later on.

Schlesinger Says Ship Scandal has Just Started.

Several Indictmemnts to Follow that of Blain.

New York Concern Denies Giving Army Bribes.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SEATTLE, Jan. 24.—More evidence of alleged irregularities in the handling of money the government paid to carry out its huge war-time shipbuilding programme in the Pacific Northwest will be presented here next week to a Federal grand jury which yesterday indicted Capt. John F. Blain, Seattle, former Northern Pacific district manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, according to Bert Schlesinger, special Assistant U. S. Attorney-General.

Mr. Schlesinger left at midnight for San Francisco, his home. He declared he would return to Seattle in a few days. Mr. Schlesinger will handle the prosecution of the cases when they come to trial.

CLAIMS IRREGULARITIES.

"In the indictment of Capt. Blain we have produced evidence of irregularities against the biggest man in the government shipbuilding operations in the Pacific Northwest," Mr. Schlesinger said.

Several other indictments should follow in the near future, according to Walter O. Foster, special agent of the Department of Justice, who has been here two months checking Oregon and Washington shipyard accounts.

Capt. Blain, who was charged in the indictments with accepting secret commissions on sales made to the Emergency Fleet Corporation, while he was manager, will be arraigned here Monday. He was arrested yesterday and released on $10,000 cash bail.

DENY GIVING BRIBES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The Steward Davit and Equipment Corporation denied today that it had given illegal commissions to Capt. John F. Blain on purchases in behalf of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, as charged in indictments returned against him at Seattle yesterday.

"On June 1, 1917," said the corporation's statement, "Capt. Blain discontinued his agency for the Steward corporation and became district manager of the Fleet Corporation for the North Pacific Coast. During his connection with the Fleet Corporation, the Steward corporation paid him no commissions excepting a trifling amount earned prior to his leaving the Steward corporation."

AGED WOMAN GIVEN LICENSE TO MARRY.

GRANDMA, SPRY AT 71, WILL WED MAN, 70, FOR A COMPANION.

While members of the family of Mrs. Mary K. Price anxiously awaited her return to her home at 2717 East Fourth street last night, they were informed that Mrs. Price had procured a license to marry. Then one of the children in the household exclaimed:

"Oh, mother, is grandma going to get married?"

Mrs. Price, in applying yesterday at Santa Ana for a license to marry John N. Bassett, a rancher, stated her age was 71, but her daughter, Mrs. Minnie Goodrich, declared last night that Mrs. Price was 73 years old. Mr. Bassett is said to be about 70 years old and lives on a ranch near Santa Ana.

The intended marriage of Mrs. Price did not astonish her three children and numerous grandchildren for she had often hinted that she might marry somebody who could "keep her company." She left her home in this city three days ago, announcing she was going to visit a son at Latin Station.

"Ma isn't an old lady, even though she is 73 years of age," said her daughter, Mrs. Goodrich. "She's as spry as I am, and for many years has spaded up the back yard every spring and has planted a garden. She also does most of the housework around the house."

IRISH TO TALK FROM CITY PULPITS TODAY.

PROTESTANT MINISTERS HERE TO TELL TRUTH ABOUT ERIN'S AFFAIRS.

Conditions in Ireland and the British government's treatment of Erin's people will be the subject of numerous talks to be made in this city and in Pasadena today by a delegation of Irish ministers, headed by William Coote, M.P., that arrived at the Hotel Alexandria last night.

All the talks will be delivered in the churches of this city with the exception of one at a mass meeting at Pasadena at 2:30 p.m.

Rev. Dr. William Corkey will speak at the Westlake Presbyterian Church this morning and at the First United Presbyterian Church tonight. He will also talk at the mass meeting.

Louis W. Crooks, an Episcopalian minister of Belfast, will speak at the Boyle Heights Methodist Episcopal Church this morning and at St. John's Protestant Episcopal Church tonight.

Rev. C. Wesley Maguire, will talk at the Hollywood Methodist Episcopal Church in the morning and at the Wilshire Christian Church in the evening. Dr. Hazelton will talk at Emmanual Baptist Church this morning and at the First Baptist this evening.

Mr. Coote will make three addresses today. In the morning he will speak at the First Presbyterian Church, at 8 p.m. at the Temple Baptist Church and at 8:35 p.m. at the First Methodist Church.

All of the talks are to demonstrate that the conditions which the Sinn Feiners say exist in Ireland are not to be found there, and that Ireland is not being persecuted by the British government, Mr. Coote stated last night.

VICTIM RECOGNIZES VOICE OF BANDIT.

WOUNDED, PURSUES HIGHWAYMAN, CALLS POLICE AND CAUSES NEGRO'S ARREST.

After Oscar Smith of 1856 East Fifty-third street, was held up by a colored "friend" on Forty-eighth street, between Long Beach avenue and Alameda street, last night, he boarded a street car and chased the highwayman to his lair, a poolroom at Twelfth street and Central avenue. From there, he telephoned to Central Station and Detectives Barnett and Brown, answering the call, arrested the supposed bandit, a young negro named Raymond Wills. He was held in the City Jail charged with highway robbery and assault.

Smith told the police that he was on his way to Vernon with another negro when the bandit approached them, wearing a mask. Drawing a revolver, he demanded their money. Smith's friend ran while he remained to do battle. The bandit hit him on the head with his revolver, inflicting a bad scalp wound. Then he took Smith's watch and $10 from his pocket.

But the victim recognized the highwayman's voice, he says, and, knowing that he frequented a certain poolroom, boarded a street car in pursuit. When he arrived at the pool hall, he found Wills there and telephoned for the police.

MEXICAN WOUNDED IN BORDER LIQUOR FIGHT.

Immigration Inspector Burnett received a telephone message yesterday from Deputy Inspector Brasie at Calexico, stating that Friday night a party of inspectors, headed by Inspector Lenwood, surprised a number of Mexicans who had made their way across the line with four cases of whisky. A gun battle ensued, resulting in Lenwood shooting one of the Mexicans, Miguel Guitterez, through the left leg. The wounded man was captured, but the balance of the party succeeded in making their escape in the darkness.

FEELS LIKE OLD TIME SELF AGAIN

Seven Years of Trouble Quickly Overcome.

Oakland Man is High in Praise of Tanlac.

Wouldn't Take Fortune for Good it Did Him.

"I am now well and happy, and wouldn't take all the money in the world for what Tanlac has done for me," said Philip Hamilton, 90 Washington avenue, Oakland, Cal., a structural iron worker, employed by the Judson Iron Works, Oakland. Continuing, Mr. Hamilton said:

"For seven years I have had terrible stomach trouble. After every meal I had an awful burning sensation in my stomach like there was a coal of fire in it, and also intense pains. The pains stayed with me about all the time, and at night it would get so bad I would wake up in agony. In fact, sometimes I was in such misery I would not go to bed at all, but sit up all night long. I suffered a lot from gas and shortness of breath, and at times I thought I was going to die, as it was all I could do to breathe at all. I was so nervous I would roll and toss from one side of the bed to the other, and between this and the pains in my stomach I could get but very little sleep. At last I became so weak and run down I could hardly get about. I had tried all sorts of treatments and medicines, but none of them did me any good, and finally I was told that nothing but an operation would help me.

"Well, I had seen so many statements from people I knew praising Tanlac I decided to give it a trial, and it went right after my troubles. It was only a short while before I began to get better and feel like my old-time self. I have taken six bottles and can eat anything I want without being troubled with that burning sensation, gas or shortness of breath, or any other bad after effects. And best of all, that dreadful pain in my stomach is entirely gone and I never have an ache or pain of any kind. My nerves are in good condition. I have regained my strength and I feel as good in every way as I ever remember feeling in my life. Tanlac has put me on my feet and I am glad to say a good word for it, for I think it is a grand medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by The Owl Drug Co.—[Advertisement.

Why Preserve Your Teeth—and Neglect Your Hair?

—It Is Because Your Hair Does Not Ache?

Prof. John H. Austin, bacteriologist, hair and scalp specialist of Chicago, says that the hair should be given the same daily care and attention as the other parts of the human body. There are not seven people in ten who pay one-half the attention to their hair that they do to their teeth. Why is this? Is not the hair the crowning glory of all nature's gifts? Is not a woman robbed of her beauty when she is robbed of her hair?

About Ten Million Dollars Is Spent Yearly to Prevent Troubles of the Teeth.

Now — How Much is Judiciously Spent in Prevention of Baldness?

Not half of that sum. And why? Simply because the hair does not cause you pain. Simply because you forget about your hair except when you comb it two or three times a day. If your hair could only cause you pain there would not be nearly as many cases of baldness as there now are.

Men and women—do not wait until some scalp trouble has started your hair falling out; do not wait until you are nearly bald—it may then be too late to preserve your hair.

The exact trouble can only be determined by turning a powerful microscope upon your hair and scalp.

Prof. Austin says that the use of mange cures, dandruff cures, hair tonics, vaseline and elixirs is like taking medicine without knowing what you are trying to cure.

Free microscopic examinations of the hair and scalp daily—hours from 10 A.M. to 12 M., 2 to 4 P.M. Private office, Second Floor, Hamburger's.—[Advertisement.

Henry Z. Osborne, Jr., chief engineer of the Board of Public Utilities, hit it about right the other day when he remarked to the Fact and Comment man that: "Among the Mission Fathers there must have been some very able engineers. I have talked with many of the best engineers in the West, and they all agree that the Mission Fathers displayed remarkable knowledge of engineering in their selection of sites for cities. They founded their missions at unquestionable vantage points and started their towns in locations which are unquestionably of great value from an engineering standpoint."

It's a long way back to 1781, but Engineer Sachse has made the trip from an engineer's viewpoint, and he agrees with those early engineers—the advance guard of civilization—that the Plaza is the logical place for a union terminal.

Mr. Sachse has studied the terminal and grade-crossing problem of this city for more than two years. He has seen it through the analytical eyes of an engineer accustomed to coping with matters of State-wide importance, unhindered by the opinions of railroad men or property owners earnestly desirous of having the union depot located where the resultant appreciation of property values would perhaps greatly benefit them or the interests they represent.

His report recommends the removal of the team tracks from congested warehouse districts. This should enhance the value of warehouse sites, and result in a more rapid handling of all warehouse commodities in the present team-track district. He has worked out a plan which he says will eliminate 97 per cent. of the railroad traffic on Alameda street and take care of the remaining 3 per cent. between midnight and morning. He would abolish the North Spring-street railroad crossing and eliminate perhaps seventy-five grade crossings by putting the tracks in open subways at certain points and elevating them at other points.

Among other things he recommends creating a Pacific Electric interurban subway from the Plaza to the Main and Sixth-street station. To the north he would run the interurban out on an elevated track by way of the Aliso-street bridge to Brooklyn avenue, where it would descend to grade.

Subwaying and elevating the Pacific Electric interurban cars would practically eliminate them from the surface in the business district of the city. Taking the freight traffic off Alameda street would give the street cars a better opportunity to pass from one side of the city to the other, the delay at steam railroad crossings having been a serious one from the street car company's standpoint ever since the city grew out of swaddling clothes. This may be expected to be of some assistance in solving the gigantic traffic problem which now confronts the city.

Such a union terminal as Engineer Sachse proposes would lie along the east side of North Main street, extending from Commercial street to Alhambra avenue. The station would front south at about Aliso street. The tracks which would carry trains in and out of such a station would call for the destruction of Chinatown, a section of the city which is of little consequence aside from its questionable historic value. The complete plan would create a district of entirely new and modern improvements perhaps half a dozen blocks square.

The confidence which property owners have had in north end sites has been restored in a great measure by this report to the State Railroad Commission. The North End has been vindicated. The pendulum is swinging back, it appears, and property values which long have been seriously questioned are likely to enjoy a sudden and substantial revival.

RAILROADS BEGIN FIGHT TO BRING RENTS DOWN.

Say City's Future as a Tourist Center is Threatened by the Shameless Landlord Profiteering.

In order to save the city from a "tourist boycott' in future years, steam railroad officials announced yesterday that they will advise people not to come to Los Angeles this winter, but will divert travel to other sections unless hotel and apartment rates are promptly lowered to somewhere near their former level. The railroads assert that they have invested thousands of dollars each year in advertising to bring visitors to this city and that now apartment and hotel men are driving them away by exorbitant rates.

Many complaints have been registered with the local traffic offices in which it is charged that increases amounting to from 100 to 200 per cent. have been added in the so-called first-class apartment hotels. Eastern papers are publishing scathing articles regarding the high prices here, and hundreds are leaving the city each day, returning to their homes and advising their friends to remain away, it is said.

The Chamber of Commerce will back the railroads in their fight to force prices down, said Secretary Wiggins yesterday. He stated that while the owners are justified in charging small increases for apartments and rooms during the winter, the prices now demanded are unfair and must come down. He said that the chamber housing bureau is receiving complaints continually and when exorbitant charges are reported the bureau refuses to send tourists to these places. The demand is so great, however, that the apartments are rented without the aid of the housing department.

A telegram received from the eastern office of a railroad last week stated that "rumors of lack of accommodations in Southern California are having effect on travel here. There is much traffic now to Gulf States. Clippings from eastern newspapers sent to the local offices also have told of the high prices and unfair treatment of tourists here.

At the meeting tomorrow of the traffic managers of the roads the subject will be brought up and a determined stand taken by all the steam lines. One manager said yesterday that his road spends $50,000 a year advertising one train coming into this city, and that this money has been thrown away because of the treatment of tourists here.

The Railroad Administration is spending in newspaper and magazine advertising this year fully $500,000 to bring easterners here. Before starting a campaign assurances were given that crowds could be taken care of. All the big hotel men agreed to help. The question of prices did not enter the discussion and it was supposed that the regular winter rates would prevail. The people were brought and now the railroads feel they have good cause to protest against the increased charges.

A number of houses have not raised their rents very much, but are making big charges for service. One first-class apartment-house makes a charge of $5 for steam heat, $1 for hot water; maid service is charged for whether it is wanted or not; telephones, gas, light and linen, all are extra.

These things have brought a storm of protest from visitors, and they are being driven to smaller towns. Besides the charges, the apartment operators are assuming an independent air, it is said, and are refusing even to treat the guests with customary courtesy.

The plans outlined by the railroad men indicate that tourists will be advised of conditions here, and towns in all parts of the State. These that if necessary they will be diverted to other towns in all parts of the MEANS BIG IMPROVEMENT.

Hollywood members of the Y.M.C.A. will join the local organization, Tuesday, in a financial drive for the purpose of raising $750,000, of which $100,000 will be set aside for the erection of an association building in Hollywood. Plans for the structure have just been completed by Frank Rasche, a Hollywood architect.

The Hollywood association already owns a site, about 200 feet square, at Hudson street and Selma avenue, but members of the campaign say there is no certainty that the association home will be built there, as there has been talk of selling this site and purchasing another.

Architect Rasche has planned a Spanish renaissance type of building on the bungalow order, part of it to be one story and part to run a story and a half. It will cover about 100x170 feet of ground space. The outside will be hollow tile with plastering. The interior will carry out the Spanish scheme in detail. The walls will be of imitation stone and the ceiling will be heavily beamed. The entrance will have a vaulted ceiling. Cordova tile roofing will be used.

Inside the building will be a swimming pool at one end and a gymnasium at the other, with lockers between. A spacious library and study will also occupy a part of the main floor. In a half-basement billiard-rooms and bowling alleys will be installed. The tennis and handball courts will be in the rear of the building.

G. G. Greenwood, prominent Hollywood banker, will be chairman of the Hollywood division of the big drive.

FINE CHURCH HOME ASSURED.

Success Crowns Campaign of Episcopal Parishes.

Temple, Community House for Wilshire Site.

Two - Hundred - Thousand - Dollar Drive Nears End.

A splendid example of constructive organization, following the uniting, recently, of the Episcopal parishes of St. James and St. Barnabas, in the Wilshire district, is seen in a successful campaign, now well under way, to raise $200,000 for the building of a new home of worship at Wilshire boulevard and St. Andrews place.

While the exact cost of the new church, which is to be one of the handsomest west of the Rocky Mountains, has not yet been determined, the minimum has been set at $150,000 and half that amount has already been subscribed.

The new church, which will shelter the members of the two old parishes, will be known as the S. S. James and Barnabas, and the rectors in charge will be Rev. Ray O. Miller, formerly rector of St. James, and Harry G. Gray, associate rector, the latter formerly in charge of the Mission of St. Barnabas.

Tentative plans suggested for the new building are for a church and community house—the last an innovation here—constructed after the Tudor Gothic style of architecture, the main auditorium of the church to seat nearly 1000, the community house to consist of four stories, capable of housing a Sunday-school of 1000 members and containing a swimming pool, gymnasium, clubrooms for men and boys and guild rooms for the women of the church.

The boundaries of the new parish extend from Sixteenth street, on the south, to Melrose avenue. The location of the church is easy of access to all residents of the Wilshire district, being situated midway between the two old parishes. The merger of the parishes is to be formally completed at the diocesan convention of Episcopal churches in Los Angeles, Wednesday. E. E. R. Kalt is treasurer of the building fund, the campaign committee consisting of H. L. Arnold, D. E. Spangler, F. H. Osler, W. C. Warmington, G. A. Camphuis, W. W. Mines, D. C. Narver, E. E. R. Kalt, J. M. Morris, H. S. Mason, J. N. Colkitt, G. S. Wright, W. E. Oliver, C. A. Rockwell, George Parsons, G. L. Graves, C. M. Gorton, C. J. Smith, Dr. S. G. Moore and Revs. R. O. Miller and H. S. Gray.

RIPLEY IS THRIFTY.

Building Restrictions in Business District are Stringent.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIPLEY, Jan. 24.—For a town that was formally opened less than a month ago, Ripley seems to be making a record. Today over $30,000 worth of lots have been sold, most of them for actual use and occupancy. Materials have been ordered which will start the town off with about $200,000 of business and residence structures, among them a $50,000 hotel. The main business section is restricted to brick or concrete buildings, which must have uniform arcades over wide sidewalks. The townsite company has a force of men at work graveling and curbing the streets and is planning a water system and an ice plant.

HOME PLANS IN GREAT DEMAND.

Even Livelier Activity in House Building Here is Forecast at Public Library.

House plans are in tremendous demand at the Public Library, according to a statement given out there yesterday. Even greater growth in the volume of home building is presaged by this unparalleled interest, in the opinion of the library officials. Forty per cent. of the people of this city now own their own homes, and it would seem that the other 60 per cent. is seriously interested.

The library people also report a great call for books on agriculture and industry.

GOOD DEMAND FOR NEW RAMONA ACRES.

At New Ramona Acres, where the Janss Investment Company has subdivided and sold hundreds of suburban home places, the following recent sales are reported:

J. E. Springer, three-fourths of an acre with house, $1950; G. E. Powell, an acre for building purposes, $1000; Don Rowbotham, three-fourths of an acre improved with five-room house and fruit trees, $2750; G. E. MODEL HOME IS UNIQUE EXHIBIT

House of True Spanish Type Shown at Walnut Park.

Will Remain Open to Public Inspection for a Year.

Numerous Other Activities in Suburban Subdivision.

Walnut Park, one of the notably attractive residential subdivisions suburban to Los Angeles, opens to public view today a model home, which, for uniqueness of design and general home-like arrangements, is likely to attract widespread attention. Although the house is of entirely dissimilar design, being of the true Spanish type of architecture and reminiscent of the early Southern California days, the idea of building the house as a public exhibit is similar to the "model bungalow" plan inaugurated last year at Walnut Park by Victor Girard, who planned and opened this subdivision.

The model colonial bungalow plan was suggested by the famous model-farm exhibit at the San Diego exposition, whereas the new Walnut Park exhibit is purely Spanish in character, from the house design itself to the interior furnishings. The house, containing seven rooms and bathroom, patio and inclosed garden, was designed by A. H. McCullough, in charge of the architectural and construction work at Walnut Park. Every detail to make a complete and artistic home has been incorporated in the plan, which contains many features which especially appeal to the feminine taste. The house is connected with the garage by a high garden wall, inclosing the formal garden and giving the desired seclusion to the tenant. The unusually attractive patio, one of the most striking features of the house arrangement, is also of the cloistered type and is entered from the street through an ornamental grille. In its center is a fountain, surrounded by palms.

REAL ADOBE BRICKS.

Of especial interest is the building construction. The basic material used is cement, with the main walls of adobe brick. These brick, made on the ground at Walnut Park by expert Mexican brick makers, were especially treated with waterproofing materials and then laid on a foundation of concrete. The white exterior, however, is of plaster. The thickness of the walls, together with the treatment given them, absolutely insures the dwelling against the effects either of moisture or of changes in temperature, according to Mr. Girard's engineers. The interior wall finish is white plaster and the floors are hardwood. The life of this construction, Mr. Girard explains, is virtually unlimited, experiments showing that it is absolutely impervious to fire and moisture.

The house is at Long Beach boulevard, the main highway between Los Angeles, Walnut Park and Long Beach, and California street, on a terraced site 100 by 130 feet. While complete figures are not yet available, it is estimated that the construction cost will approximate the cost of a frame dwelling of similar size and arrangement.

In constructing this model home, Mr. Girard's purpose is to show the manifest advantages of better construction for smaller dwellings and the adaptability of the architecture of the old California days to the present period.

OPEN FOR YEAR.

The house is completely furnished, and the landscape and garden work are now being finished. It will remain open for at least one year as a public exhibit, admission to which is free.

The furniture is of special Spanish pattern made by Barker Bros., the other exhibitors being Clarence P. Day, landscape architect, who laid out the grounds; the Pacific Pipe and Supply Company, Rust Nurseries; Bungalow Fixture Company; George Smith, Cole Radiators, Calhoun Tile and Mantel Company.

Other construction activities at Walnut Park, including a large number of homes of both frame and adobe construction, new streets, sidewalks, curbing and landscaping, are making many changes in that district of unusually charming homes. Fourteen new bungalows, no two of the same design, are being erected on Flower street, ten on Hope street, six on Olive street, six on Broadway and five on Cudahy street.

The company, now entering its most successful development year, has its own lumber mill at Wilmington, an architectural and engineering department at Walnut Park, and its Los Angeles office is on the second floor, H. W. Hellman Building, Fourth and Spring streets.

Reminiscent of the Early Days of Southern California.

Fact and Comment.

Development of the south and west sections of the business district has been more a matter of different opinions than anything else. It has been the experience of many important cities that business districts shift from time to time, and this is something which will happen at many times in the future. They follow high-class improvements, as a rule, and in the case of the union terminal for the Plaza the same rule may be expected to assert itself.

North End supporters venture the prediction that if the union terminal is built at the Plaza the business district will quickly retrace its steps toward North Broadway and North Spring street, to the end that all the intervening space will eventually be built up with high-class, modern business structures, especially if the much-discussed civic center scheme materializes on the heels of the union terminal recommendations, as is likely to be the case.

And yet those who have put their money into business enterprises to the south and west have nothing to fear, because the improvements there are of the best and will be of an exceedingly enduring nature, the residence districts bordering upon them being of such a substantial nature as to assure the stability of their values. The construction of a union terminal at the Plaza would do no more than cause North Broadway, Spring and Main streets to enjoy a great revival of building which would only in the course of time link up the South Broadway and West Seventh street business blocks with those of upper Broadway and Spring street, making one big business district which would have at its gateway the most beautiful union terminal in the great Southwest, an improvement that all should hope for and help to develop into a realization.

WILL AUCTION OFF MANY CITY LOTS.

Considerable interest has been aroused by the announcement that the Title Insurance and Trust Company will sell building lots in Chesterfield Square, February 7. The property known as Chesterfield Square has frontage on Western avenue, Slauson avenue, Wilton place, Gramercy place and Fifty-fourth street. The tract has been artistically laid out, and boasts of improvements of the highest character. There are more than 100 houses already erected on the property, the majority of which are occupied by their owners.

The tract developed steadily during the period of little real estate activity and its owners anticipate that following the auction sale there will be considerable building, as doubtless many of the lots will get into the hands of builders and individuals who will erect their own homes.

The lots will be sold on easy terms, and as an inducement to purchasers the Title Insurance and Trust Company has agreed to accept Liberty Bonds at par value. The sale will be conducted on the property at Chesterfield Square under a big tent.

FOR STORING CARS.

Benedict & Blakeslee have just closed a lease which gives J. W. Johnson control of the Cahn-Meyer property on Grand avenue just north of Fifth street, and Mr. Johnson will immediately erect thereon a large garage for the storing of business and pleasure cars. Mr. Johnson states that he will put up one of the largest auto storing garages in the city.

UNIQUE SUBWAY TO OPEN SOON.

Climb to Southwest Museum will be Eliminated.

Ancient Mayan Architecture Features New Entrance.

Idea is Credited to Dr. Hector Alliot, Late Director.

BY HENRIETTA BOECKMAN.

No longer will the visitors to the Southwest Museum need to make an arduous climb up the hill to the institution. Greeted with a universal sigh of relief comes the announcement that within a few days the new subway-entrance to the Southwest Museum will be opened to the public. Unlike any other in the world, this entrance, 300 feet away from the museum and 100 feet below its foundation, will be made doubly notable by reason of its adaptation and duplication of Mayan architecture.

This unique entrance was planned by Dr. Hector Alliot, late scientist and director of the Southwest Museum. It has been said that the long climb up the steep graded road to the museum hastened his death. The entrance will now remain through the ages as a monument to Dr. Alliot's memory, for even as the Mayas built a thousand years ago structures that are still standing, so has this entrance-subway been constructed to withstand the vicissitudes of time. Nearly 5000 tons of concrete was used and almost a year has been required in which to build it. Over $50,000 will have been expended upon it when the ornamentation has been completed. This sum has been supplied by two benefactors of the Southwest Museum of which Dr. Milbank Johnson is director, and Dr. John Comstock, assistant director.

Led up to by a short stretch of prettily curving roadway and a walk, is the portal to the entrance. This portal is twenty-four feet across the face, sixteen feet high and twelve deep, and except for a small room at either inner side, it is solid. The subway, extending for 262½ feet, and measuring eight feet wide and twelve feet high in the clear, leads to an octagonal waiting-room 18x12½ feet and proportionately high. From this is entered the elevator shaft, 108¾ feet deep or high, and with 7x9 feet of floor space, which leads to the front center of the museum directly overhead. The tunnel walls vary in thickness from nine to twenty inches and come together in peaked effect overhead in typical Mayan style. The corner pillars of the shaft are uniformly eighteen inches square and the walls nine inches thick. Shale and sandstone compose the formation through which the subway was blasted. While carrying on this blasting, a number of fossils were found, including an extremely large oyster which remains unclassified.

Fifteen hundred to a thousand years ago the Maya, with a culture equal to that of Egypt, occupied a great territory in Mexico and Central America. They were wonderful mathematicians, their astronomical calculations were exact enough to tally with ours, and they were learned in history and medicine. The Mayas developed an architecture essentially their own, an architecture of balance and beauty such as is a never-ceasing marvel. Glimpses of this surpassing architecture will now be on view in a state of reproduction at the Southwest Museum subway, though only the occasional traveler may have seen those great colonies of Maya ruins left behind in the destructive path of the Spaniards upon their invasion of that country.

Miss Margueriet Tew, who has been engaged to do the sculptoring of the Mayan models to be placed in the subway, has entered into the spirit of her work exactly as if she were a Maya. All of the sculptoring for the portal is now completed. The motif for this portal was secured from the nunnery, Casa de Monjas, standing in excellent preservation at the great Mayan city, Chichen-Itza in Yucatan. Six serpents form the main design of the museum portal. This motif is seen everywhere in Mayan art, since the serpent formed an important factor in the religious and civil life of this people.

The Mayans built their blocks of stone farther outward at each increasing level and covered the gap at the top with a single stone.

The subway roof, which is of this type, will be supported by fifty sculptored pilasters, each five and three-quarter feet tall. These pilasters will alternate between niches and bas-reliefs.

In the niches, of which there are fourteen, each three feet high and three and a half feet wide, will be placed habitat groups of California coastal and inland Indians; Spruce Tree House, the Colorado Cliff Dwellers, ruined city; Papagos, Apaches, Navajos, Hopis, a Hopi kiva, Zunis; typical Maya building in part, and others. The bas-reliefs will be taken from the stelas which were great oblong pillars of stone upon which were carved elaborate glyphs recording dates, historical or religious, and momentous occurrences.

In the waitingroom the walls will bear sculptured panels, the two principal, each seven by eight feet, being facsimiles of the Tablet of the Sun from the Temple of the Sun at Palenque, Chiapas, and the Tablet of the Cross, from the Temple of the Cross at the same place. There will be four other panels, each seven feet high and three and one-half feet wide. Over the lintels of the doorways will be glyphic panels dating the building according to the Mayan chronology.

All of the statuary and sculptoring done by the Maya was painted. Very beautiful were these colorings, a charming red-violet being noted everywhere, combined with delicate browns and a rich cream. These colors will be employed in the reproduction work at the Southwest Museum. The Mayan artisans used carved stone, stucco and cement, but in the subway only the latter has been employed. Emphasizing the striking color scheme of the entranceway will be a system of concealed indirect lighting to give a daylight effect. The Maya often painted their floors a brilliant terra cotta and this color will be utilized on the subway floor.

HOME BUYING BRISK; SEES HUGE GROWTH.

The Wright-Callender-Andrews Company's residence sales department reports a very active demand for houses of every description in all directions and names sales amounting to $250,000 in this department during the past thirty days.

A member of the firm states that in his thirty-six years' residence in Los Angeles he has never seen such an epidemic of home buying as that which prevails at this time, families coming not only from the north, south and east, but from Canada, and among them many persons of prominence, here to locate after many years' desire. He prophesies that the next census will be well over the 750,000 mark.

ASKS ACTION TO SAVE HIGHWAYS

Supervisor Stirred by Espee Right-of-Way Claims.

Many Miles of Roads may go Into Railway Control.

Cogswell Urges Congressmen to Press Remedial Law.

The claim of the Southern Pacific Railway Company to a right of way 200 feet in width through its entire lines so far as they traverse former government lands, has created a serious situation in regard to a large portion of the State and county highways. Supervisor Cogswell, who has been devoting a great deal of time to the question, first raised by Judge York in a suit to register a small piece of property under the Torrens Registration Act, yesterday sent letters to the various Congressmen of the State, urging Congressional action before the railways pass out of the control of the government.

The history of the matter is that in 1871 the government granted the Southern Pacific a strip of land 200 feet wide in trust for right of way. No claim, apparently, has ever been made by the Southern Pacific for more than 100 feet, and sales of railroad land have reserved only 100 feet right of way.

In the land registration suit the railway company put in a claim for a 200-foot right of way. Supervisor Cogswell says that if this claim is upheld, and it apparently was by former court decisions, it will affect several hundred miles of State and county highway, including the boulevard systems through the San Joaquin Valley and the San Fernando boulevard, or altogether about forty miles of highway in Los Angeles county, not to speak of highways in other portions of the State.

The Southern Pacific holds that since the land was given in trust for right-of-way purposes, the railroad company had no power to sell or grant it to any other parties for any other purpose.

Supervisor Cogswell inclosed with the letter a draft of a proposed act prepared by County Counsel Hill, which would reduce the right-of-way to 100 feet where the land has been improved.

FINE RESIDENCES SOLD.

VACANT LOT BUYING IS NOTABLY ACTIVE.

TUNNEL OUTLOOK AND PLANS FOR OPENING FIGUEROA STREET STIMULI.

There has been considerable activity in vacant lots in recent weeks, the tendency seeming to be in the direction of buying unimproved property while it can be had at decidedly reasonable figures. Unimproved property appears to be about the only thing that has not had profiteering methods applied to it.

Last week the City Council instructed the City Attorney to prepare a resolution calling for the opening of Figueroa street at its present width clear through to North Broadway. This can be done by cutting down the hills into which its north end now bumps. The proposed Second-street tunnel, which now seems to be a sure thing, would go through from Hill to Figueroa street. The latter will extend to Sunset boulevard as soon as the proposed cut is made.

Real estate men on Sunset boulevard say there has been great activity in unimproved property along the well-known route to Hollywood in recent days. They attribute this sudden revival of interest in vacant lots to the discussion of plans for opening Figueroa street and putting through the Second-street tunnel. Thus it appears that one improvement calls for many others, and what benefits one section of the city unquestionably proves of benefit to other districts, even though they be somewhat remote.

"TIMES" AD SELLS RANCH.

The Gilbert Hay and Grain Company of this city during the past week found a buyer for the Imperial ranch property of one of their shippers through the classified advertising columns of The Times.

G. H. Schill, owner of a ranch, consisting of 160 acres of highly-improved land, close to Holtville, sold to H. D. Meyer, a Pasadena merchant.

The deal involved approximately $40,000 in cash and trade.

BEGIN FIGHT TO LOWER RENTS.

State. These towns are not at the present full and the average person who comes here for the climate would as soon live in a small place. If this action is taken it will mean a tremendous loss to the city, besides giving it a name that will take years to live down.

WANT SHOWDOWN.

The issue has been forced upon them, the railroad men say, and they are acting in their own defense and intend to force a showdown from the landlord profiteers.

The advertising of future years will have no effect if people are permitted to come here and then are overcharged, they say, so unless conditions are changed at once, trains will be unloaded before they arrive in the city.

Apartments and houses that brought $40, $50, to $75, are being rented for prices ranging from $135 to $225 a month. One incident in a $200 apartment became known yesterday. The apartment was reserved by mail, and when the tenant arrived he stated that everything was satisfactory except the covering for the dressing table. He asked that a clean one be provided. This was refused and the owner stated that if the place was not satisfactory the tenant could get out.

TREATMENT GENERAL.

This kind of treatment is not unusual, and reports in detail are reaching the East. The tourists are unable to buy because of the top prices demanded by builders. Houses are $1000 to $2500 overpriced in ordinary locations. Railroad men stated that the spirit of the West has changed from one of hospitality to one of hostility, and that future years will see the tourist rush diverted to other places if the present carnival of high prices continues.

Other cities are charging higher rates than previously, but they are not in the same position as this city, they say. Los Angeles has invited the people on the strength of treatment received in former years, and after getting them here are charging more than the traffic will bear.

Some definite action will be taken tomorrow at the meeting of the traffic men, following which they will advise their eastern offices of conditions here. This will probably result in a ban being placed on the State, and, as one manager expressed it yesterday, "the goose that lays the golden egg will not go to slaughter."

LAFAYETTE SQUARE VIADUCT UNDER WAY.

ELIMINATION OF CROSSING GIVES RESIDENTIAL PARK NEW OUTLET.

After numerous delays incident to the war and other causes, construction is under way on the viaduct spanning the Pacific Electric's West Sixteenth-street tracks and linking up Lafayette Square with West boulevard.

Completion of the viaduct will eliminate the present dangerous grade crossing and open a new outlet for the Lafayette Square district to the north and west.

This improvement is of special concern to the residents of Lafayette Square, as it will afford a safe route of only four blocks to the million-dollar Los Angeles High School, and give direct access to the West Hollywood and Beverly Hills district by way of Pico and Wilshire boulevard.

Owners of this residential park recently dedicated to the city the necessary land required in connection with the building of the viaduct. When this project is completed, Lafayette Square will be completely surrounded by important automobile and interurban roads—Washington boulevard on the south, Sixteenth street and Venice short line on the north, Crenshaw boulevard on the east and the new West boulevard viaduct on the west.

C. R. L. Crenshaw, who has been identified with the development of this district for many years, and who has recently organized the South Wilshire Company for the purpose of conducting the liquidation sale of Lafayette Square lots, states that the paving and street improvements now being installed in Washington boulevard, near the city limits, together with the West Sixteenth-street viaduct is already having a marked influence on this portion of the west-end territory. He reports that during the last five weeks his company has sold in Lafayette Square alone upwards of $100,000 worth of lots, practically all of which will be improved in the near future.

INSPECT RAILROADS.

Officials of Union Pacific and Salt Lake Begin Tours.

Officials of the Union Pacific and the Salt Lake have started on tours of their roads, it was announced here yesterday. W. H. Comstock, assistant general manager of the Salt Lake Route, has gone on the regular tour.

Guy Adams, mail traffic manager of the Union Pacific, left yesterday to join Carl Gray, president of the road, at Salt Lake City, where they will begin their trip. They will go to Portland to complete arrangements for the new Union Pacific steamer line along the coast. They will include Los Angeles and San Francisco in their itinerary.

QUICK PROFITS FOR TULARE RANCH DEAL.

VISALIA BUYERS CLEAN UP IN SALE; NEW OWNER FINDS PURCHASER AT ONCE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 24.—Real estate transfers in Tulare county during the past week approached the million mark in value, setting a new record for the county. The upward trend in prices of land of all classifications has been very marked, and fruit property is now 75 per cent. higher, average, than for six months ago.

J. F. Gibson and G. W. Snell of Visalia, who recently bought the 1120-acre ranch property of the Porterville Alfalfa Company, transferred their title to J. B. Newman, also of Visalia, with a net profit for 100 days of ownership of nearly $40,000. While the deeds were being prepared to Newman he in turn sold it, also at a good profit, to a syndicate, the promoters of which have not been announced.

One of the largest citrus deals of the past year was completed in the transfer to John Burr and Charles Burr of 118 acres of navel and Valencia oranges, a part of the Craig-y Nos orchards, owned by the Robyn interests. The consideration was not made public, but is said to have run into six figures.

HOUSES IN DEMAND.

A. J. Ward, realty broker, who recently moved to new quarters in room, 322 Investment Building, states that his office enjoyed an active week and reports the following sales:

WILDOMAR
Lake Elsinore

For Us—
The Dawn of Development

ELSINORE, long the Cinderella District of Southern California, now through Wizardry of Water—the Open Sesame of Transportation—takes her rightful place alongside those better-known, choice fruit raising and farming communities whose success has done much to give world-wide renown to our sunny Southland.

There was a time when the fertile valleys of this California Paradise were the Mecca for thousands of home-seekers. Its balmy climate, its rich soil, its scenic beauty, were the magic charm that lured them.

Thousand of acres were turned into fields of waving grain and stately orchards. Wherever these early settlers scratched the soil, their results were marvelous. The story of their achievements spread to other communities. The prolific production of these sun-kissed valleys excited the imagination of man, and thousands came to claim their share of the God-given riches.

These enthusiastic pioneers soon learned that riches could not be made from the soil alone. They had to dispose of their products. They had to have markets. And without rapid transportation—cut off from the more populous sections—their fruit rotted on the trees—their vegetables remained in the ground. One by one the majority of these settlers drifted away—only those remained who neither could nor would give up hope. The lands were planted in grain and other non-perishable products. And so these valleys plodded along apparently in a rut—ridiculed by their more fortunate neighbors—and until recent years a seemingly unprofitable country for the rancher.

Elsinore Valley—Over an Immense Body of Water Bearing Sands

For many years the only ranching in this section was carried on by dry farmers and those fortunate few who occupied the sub-irrigated lands on the shores of Lake Elsinore. After years of patient effort these men had succeeded in building up fairly profitable orchards of Olive, Almond, Walnut, Citrus and Deciduous Trees. They had proved the productivity and richness of the soil—but they keenly felt the lack of ample water and rapid transportation.

Eight years ago, after an exhaustive examination of the Elsinore region, the late James Dix Schuyler, the eminent engineer, and Prof. Gilbert E. Bailey, the noted geologist, made known the startling fact that the territory was underlaid with water-bearing sands capable of producing an unlimited supply of water.

Then began the present era of progressive development. Wells were drilled and irrigation plants installed by a few of the ranchers. When their neighbors saw the astounding results derived from an abundance of water, they too, started drilling wells and irrigating their orchards and fields.

Today, one finds this community forging ahead at a rapid pace. New orchards of every variety are being planted. Raw land is being developed into rich ranches.

The Dawn of Development is Here

Murietta Valley—a Vast Area of Sub-Irrigated Lands

Almost by accident, it was discovered that the Murietta Valley was a vast area of sub-irrigated land, which, with modern agricultural methods, could be made to yield enormous crops. Thousands of acres have been put into cultivation. The ranchers have amassed comfortable fortunes from their land.

The early settlers acquired immense holdings, which until recently could not be obtained in small plots. Now, however, that these men have seen the results to be obtained from the intensive cultivation of small acreage, and realizing the futility of attempting such methods on large tracts, many excellent pieces of land can be obtained in the Murietta Valley.

Here alfalfa fields have been known to produce a thousand pounds of seed to the acre — gardens have produced onions weighing over three pounds each—a pear orchard of 123 trees paid the owner $700.00 for one crop. Startling results have been accomplished without creating any excitement or without attracting the attention of the public.

We Want More Neighbors

We have undertaken this publicity campaign to tell you folks of the unlimited opportunities existing in our section.

This is no longer a sleepy, isolated section. It is not lacking now in water and transportation. The difficulties encountered by the pioneers have been overcome. Our roads and boulevards are equal to any in the State, and other extensive road improvements are now under way. We have an unlimited water supply. Today we are a thriving, prosperous community—and we have room for thousands of home-seekers in this favored section.

The surpassing scenic beauty, the picturesque loveliness of the Elsinore District, with its balmy climate, makes it a most desirable homeland. Here you will find valleys of rich fertility ready to respond to the magic touch of plough and water. Our towns and fields offer you abundant opportunity to enjoy health, happiness and prosperity. It has every advantage of the better known communities of California, together with many desirable features peculiar to this locality alone.

You are offered a wide choice in the matter of products. There are lands suited to almost every product raised in the entire State of California. It is a proved walnut district. The most excellent section for olive culture in the entire State. The citrus lands here are well protected from frost and winds and free from pests. The flavor and appearance of the Elsinore apricots are unsurpassed. Pears, peaches and almonds have been grown here for years. Alfalfa seed is a very profitable crop in this district. Onions and potatoes thrive in the rich, loamy soil. In fact, it would be impossible to choose a single product, except those requiring a tropical climate or coast fogs, that cannot be raised to perfection in this marvelous valley.

Louisiana Oil Leases

We own personally a number of oil leases in the wonder oil fields of Louisiana, where they are bringing in almost daily wells of from 5000 to 40,000 barrels of high gravity oil. Some of our leases are located in the great producing field known as Bull Bayou. Our other leases are located just a little south of the great Monroe Gas Fields, where the drilling is at fever heat. We purchased those leases some time ago when the boom was young, and were fortunate in acquiring some well located stuff that we can now offer at a price that can be easily reached by most any investor, both large and small. We spent 2½ months on the ground and after seeing the fortunes that were being made in oil leases, we felt justified in investing very extensively our own capital, as it was a very common occurrence for acreage to increase in value from only a few dollars per acre to upwards of thousands of dollars per acre in the course of about 90 days, but like most other investors who visit these wonderful oil fields and really see the amount of money to be made, we bought more than we are financially able to care for, so we have decided to sell some of our holdings in from 5 to 40-acre tracts at only $10 per acre.

Here is What You Get With a Small Investment

A 5-year commercial lease to own and handle as you see fit; drill on it, sell it, or hold it and let the large companies do the developing around you. This is what increases the value of your lease, for as soon as they make a location or start to drill anywhere near you, then your lease thribles in value many times, and when they bring in a well you are then in the big money. Also after the first well is brought in on a 8000-acre lease, of which we own part, you will then have a lease good for 25 years and as long thereafter as oil is produced in commercial quantities with no expense to you whatever.

We will deliver with each lease an abstract of title showing ownership to date. Also the stamp of approval and opinion of two of the leading attorneys of Shreveport, Louisiana; and also approval and opinion of Judge S. R. Holstine of Harrisburg, Louisiana, as to the title and legality of these leases.

A 5-year commercial lease to 5 acres only $50.

A 5-year commercial lease to 10 acres only $100.

A 5-year commercial lease to 20 acres only $200.

A 5-year commercial lease to 40 acres only $400.

A small investment has made many fortunes for the investor who had the nerve to take a chance in the oil game, so do not delay as we only care to sell a very limited amount of our holdings at those prices. We intend to hold for ourselves a large portion of those leases for the big money.

The man who acts is the man who wins. Call and let us show you our holdings and give you all information.

Y.M.C.A. DRIVE RALLY TODAY.

All Workers are Called for "Coaching Conference."

Whirlwind Canvass for Funds will Begin Tuesday.

Name Staffs for Los Angeles and Other Divisions.

The first official rally of the 400 workers in the whirlwind campaign of the Y.M.C.A., which opens on Tuesday in Los Angeles, Hollywood, and San Pedro, will be held at 3 o'clock today in the auditorium of the Central Y.M.C.A. Building, 715 South Hope street.

Commissioner R. T. Burge, chairman, and E. L. Megee, director of the drive, will instruct the workers at this "coaching conference," and will give them ammunition of facts for the city-wide canvass which will commence on Tuesday.

In several scores of churches throughout the territory of the proposed drive today, Y.M.C.A. "field day" will be observed and the objects of the campaign to raise $750,000 in ten days will be explained.

Speakers from the Campaign Committee of the drive also will address many of the congregations and present facts and figures on the campaign.

The Los Angeles territory will be divided into three divisions, with the following official staffs in charge. E. G. Judah, general manager; I. G. Louis, associate manager, George Balman, secretary of division A; Daniel H. Jones, chairman; Carl E. Rosenberg, associate manager, and R. W. Horning, secretary of division B; Charles M. Conant, general manager; Ed T. Bishop, associate manager, and L. C. Dodelin, secretary of division C.

Besides the Los Angeles main drive three co-operative campaigns, conducted by separate committees, will be conducted in Holywood, San Pedro and Boyle Heights. The officials of these committees are:

Hollywood — G. G. Greenwood, chairman; A. Z. Taft, campaign manager, and Lloyd Darsie, executive secretary.

San Pedro—Ray Mitchell, chairman; E. D. Seward, campaign manager, and Stanley Baker, executive secretary.

Boyle Heights—Frank H. True, chairman; W. A. Reynolds, executive secretary, and W. A. Stillwell, assistant secretary.

Headquarters of the entire drive will be in the lobby of the central Y.M.C.A.

"Every dollar of the $750,000 is to be expended for home work," declared R. T. Burge, general chairman of the campaign.

"Debt handicaps efficiency and growth. The debt requires $16,009.92 annually for legitimate interest charges. This money is needed in financing constructive work which directly benefits young men and boys. Approximately $132,000 is the amount expended for interest since the erection of the central building in 1908. This tremendous tax on the resources of the association will only cease when the debt is completely wiped out.

"A minor campaign last May was for immediate needs. The association borrowed money at the banks to maintain its current work during the war, believing the citizens would approve such action and provide for the local work in a post-war drive.

"The central building was erected to serve a city of 300,000. It cannot successfully serve a city of 700,000. Buildings and work in other sections are the only practical solution if the association is to satisfactorily serve the young men and boys of the entire city.

"The strategic importance of Los Angeles, as the metropolis of the Pacific, with persons coming from all over the country and from foreign shores, makes it desirable from the standpoint of recognized city leadership that Los Angeles shall not be content to be behind other great cities in its development of Y.M.C.A. activities. It is a question of community pride."

Your Last Chance

Just six days more and this offer ends.

There isn't an unsold finished house in New Vermont Square.

Because building was not being done fast enough to meet the demand for houses, we made a special inducement to builders on a limited number of lots for January only.

Some owners in Los Angeles have doubled the prices of their lots, but we are going to make good on our special offer for January.

Builders from all over the city are realizing that they can get greater value and make money faster in New Vermont Square.

If you have houses elsewhere, sell them quickly at a reasonable turnover price and get located advantageously now in New Vermont Square.

Those who act this week will get lots way below their real value.

For example, you can get a $1000 lot for $800, or a $1250 lot for $1000, or a $1525 lot for $1220, and others in proportion.

And they are choice corner and inside lots— very desirable.

The location is excellent—improvements and utilities high grade and complete—educational facilities extraordinary—loamy soil—you can build in wet weather or walk dry shod anywhere after the hardest rain.

TO HONOR WOMAN ON NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

MRS. SEVERANCE TO BE GUEST AT LUNCHEON OF LOCAL REPUBLICANS.

Mrs. C. A. Severance, of St. Paul, a member of the Women's Republican National Executive Committee, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon to be given tomorrow at the Clark Hotel by Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, assisted by the women members of the State Republican Committee. Covers will be laid for thirty-seven members of the committee. The guests of honor and Mrs. A. F. Lobingier will address the meeting.

After the luncheon a conference will be held at the hotel to which all Republican women of the city are invited. This conference will be called to order at 2:30 o'clock.

Arrangements are being made to have Mrs. Severance speak at Pasadena, Long Beach and Santa Ana. Dates for these luncheons have not been arranged. It was announced, however, that they would be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

NEW COURSES OPENED BY Y.M.C.A. SCHOOL.

The opening of five new night business courses at the Y.M.C.A. schools will mark the beginning of the second semester early in February. According to Educational Director Roscoe A. Goodcell the schedule for the semester will embrace such subjects as accountancy, advertising, public speaking, salesmanship, and commercial Spanish.

The initial meeting of accountancy students for the new semester will be February 5 under the direction of I. C. Louis, dean of the accountancy school. Don Francisco, advertising manager of the California Fruit Growers' Association, will deliver the opening address in advertising on February 12 on "Functions of Advertising." Other lectures in the same course include T. D. Fennessy, E. M. Swasey, Mrs. Eleanor Germo, Guy Garnier, E. Maynard Harrison.

Prize Winning House Plans

Now On Exhibition

Our recently advertised architectural competition for a Hollow Tile House to cost $6000 attracted wide attention among architects and draftsmen, many of whom participated in the contest.

Our chief reason for offering cash prizes was to stimulate the keen interest already awakened in Hollow Tile. The results of our efforts in this direction have been most satisfactory.

Both exteriors and floor plans of the four cash prize winners as well as four plans receiving favorable mention by the judges may be seen. The uniform excellency of these house designs is at once apparent.

This rather unique exhibit offers a splendid opportunity for anyone contemplating building to study the latest and most modern ideas in house construction and the advantage of building with Tile.

NEW INDUSTRIES THEIR OBJECT.

Commercial Board Men Start Useful Department.

Judah Tells of Big Demand for Local Investments.

Oriental Trade Also Pressed by Organization.

The Commercial Board of Los Angeles has started a movement to create an industrial department which will supply information to local and foreign capitalists regarding the opportunities for investment here in industrial lines. Officials of the organization say it will cover a line of work not taken care of by any other commercial society. E. G. Judah is chairman of the committee in charge of the department.

In explaining the work, Mr. Judah declared there is a great demand here for industrial development. He said frequent requests are made, principally by retired business men of eastern cities, for investments where their money and executive abilities will be assets to some company already organized or in process of formation.

GIVE NEW LIFE.

"Several such firms have been located," Mr. Judah said. "A case in point is that of a music store in this city. The store was doing good business, but the owners knew if they had more capital they could do much better. One of the proprietors came to our association and asked us if we knew of anyone interested. At that time an easterner, formerly engaged in the manufacture of farm implements, was here seeking an investment. The secretary took the matter up with both, and the thing was amicably arranged. We had a new citizen added, and a business was given new life.

"This city is full of such chances. There are hundreds of men here who have quit actual business, who have a few thousand dollars, and they desire to use the money, and our association means to help them. There is no expense attached to it in any way; it is simply one of the functions of the board."

ORIENTAL TRADE.

Other matters of importance are being considered by the Commercial Board. At present it is much interested in trade with the Orient. F. B. Cramer, one of the members of the association, recently told of the way foreign firms feel toward American-made goods, and the American method of putting their articles on the market.

"Heretofore, American firms have had selling agents in foreign countries, but this plan is not proving as successful as direct selling," Mr Cramer stated. The subject of direct selling to foreign firms may be discussed at a meeting of the board The association gives semi-monthly luncheons at the Clark Hotel, and the industrial problems are discussed there.

MAYOR OF EASTERN CITY VISITOR HERE.

J. L. McLaury, Mayor of Glenwood, Minn., is a guest at the Rosslyn Hotel. He came to the Coast in November in his automobile, bringing his family here for the winter. Mayor McLaury has a brother living at Lindsay, where he has rented a cottage for the season.

EXTENSION DIVISION OFFERS NEW COURSES.

CLASSES IN FRENCH AND OTHER SUBJECTS TO BEGIN DURING THE WEEK.

The extension bureau of the University of California announces the opening tomorrow, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week of five classes in French under Louis F. D. Briois. These classes meet in room 412 of the Metropolitan Building in late afternoon and evening. A class in voice interpretation by Miss Virginia Rowell will be opened in room 405 of the Union League Building Wednesday evening from 7 until 8. A class in logic, by Dr. T. G. Burt, will hold its first meeting at 7 o'clock in room 412 of the Metropolitan Building, tomorrow, and at 8 o'clock of the same evening, after the dismissal of the class in logic, Dr. Burt will open his class in salesmanship.

A class in the staging of school plays is also offered with Miss Rowell as the instructor, the class meeting for the first time at 8 o'clock on Wednesday, in room 405 of the Union League Building. A class in Spanish, by Dr. Frederick Beckman, will be opened in the library schoolroom of the Metropolitan Building at 7 o'clock on Tuesday. Any further particulars regarding class work may be obtained at the office of the extension division, 628 Metropolitan Building.

PORT'S MONTHLY TONNAGE.

A total of 393,936 tons of inbound and outbound freight valued at $10,772,459 was handled at the port of Los Angeles during November, according to the report issued by the Board of Harbor Commissioners yesterday. The number of commercial vessels to dock was 204 with a net tonnage of 253,233. The number leaving port was 197, with a net tonnage of 251,508. A summary of the tonnage and its value follows:

Inbound domestic, excluding lumber, 16,638 tons valued at $2,716,929; inbound domestic lumber, 85,516 tons valued at $2,051,470; outbound domestic, total, 235,071 tons valued at $3,593,285; inbound foreign, total, 1602 tons valued at $122,280; outbound foreign, total, 55,136 tons valued at $2,288,495; all inbound, total, 103,756 tons valued at $4,890,679; all outbound, total, 290,207 tons valued at $5,881,780.

Eighty-eight tons of automobiles valued at $125,200 is among the items which the report shows were shipped into the city from domestic points. No autos were shipped from foreign ports. One hundred and seventeen tons of ink valued at $28,080 were shipped in from domestic ports. Ranging from automobiles to ink the domestic imports includes hundreds of articles among the most important being canned fish, coffee, flour, hardware, merchandise, paper, sugar and oil. But the $2,051,470 worth of lumber is nearly half of the total domestic imports.

By far the most important item in the outbound list of freight is 1,413,927 barrels of fuel oil valued at $2,262,083. Fuel oil alone is two-thirds in value of the total outbound domestic shipments. In addition 43,809 barrels of gasoline valued at $443,347 was shipped. Steel rails totaling 1178 tons and valued at $94,240 were shipped to domestic ports. Thirty-five tons of drygoods valued at $105,000 were shipped to domestic ports.

The outbound foreign freight includes 2153 tons of cotton seed cake valued at $107,650; 1487 tons of merchandise valued at $669,150; 149,986 barrels of fuel oil valued at $239,977; 62,215 barrels of distillate valued at $414,729; 124,475 barrels of kerosene valued at $718,209.

We show here one of the four competitive architectural designs which received favorable mention by the judges in our recently-advertised competition for

Now On Exhibition

Our recently advertised Architectural competition for a Hollow Tile House to cost $5000 attracted wide attention among architects and draftsmen, many of whom participated in the contest.

Our chief reason for offering cash prizes was to stimulate the keen interest already awakened in Hollow Tile. The results of our efforts in this direction have been most satisfactory.

AGAIN WE SAY

BUY NOW

Turner-Brooks Royalty

$100 PER UNIT

THREE weeks ago we made our first announcement of Turner-Brooks Royalty, recommending the same to investors of this section as the safest, and in every way the best oil security available on the Pacific Coast.

Following the successful flotation of a similar security, Triangle Royalty, which has more than made good, our clients have demonstrated their faith in our judgment and this form of investment as compared with others by quickly subscribing a large portion of the offering, which was made available at the initial price of $100.00 per unit.

In a Turner-Brooks Royalty investment, we believe the risk, or chance of loss, is MINIMIZED to the LEAST DEGREE POSSIBLE, while the chance for fabulous and quick profits is INCREASED to the HIGHEST POSSIBLE DEGREE. In other words, we believe that "Turner-Brooks" is the best oil offering in America, and by "best offering" we mean best for BIG DIVIDENDS NOW, and best for LARGELY INCREASED MARKET value in the early future.

Not a Stock Investment

This offering should not be confused with so-called royalty corporation investments. With all due respect to "royalty corporations," a marked difference exists between this form of investment and ownership of the royalty interest direct through a bank as trustee. By owning the royalty direct, many objections common to stock investments are eliminated, such as "watered" or "promotion stock," stock assessments, salaries of officers, heavy overhead expense, mismanagement, etc. Remember, when considering Turner-Brooks Royalty, the following pertinent facts:

Properties Are Proven

Remember, that the properties of this syndicate are not only located in the very heart of one of the richest oil fields ever found in America—Ranger, Texas—but are themselves absolutely proven to be oil-bearing, the property having actually produced and sold during the first six months, 1,027,892.82 barrels of oil from 15 wells then in operation.

Big Acreage—Many Wells

Remember, that the property in which this syndicate has an interest comprises nine separate leases, with a total of 564¾ acres, which, according to the drilling rule of that section, gives room for at least 225 wells, in the production from all of which, you as an investor, participate.

19 Producing Wells

Remember, that there are already 19 producing wells on this acreage, among which are some of the largest wells in this now famous oil district.

6 Wells "On Sand"

Remember, that at last reports, 6 wells were "on the sand," ready to be brought in, 4 of which are being drilled by the Texas Company and 2 by the Empire Gas & Fuel Company.

40 Wells Drilling

Remember, that 40 wells (including the 6 wells on sand above mentioned) are reported as now drilling on this acreage, which unquestionably means a large number of completions in the very early future, a portion of the oil from each of which will belong to the investors in this syndicate.

Big Speculative Profits

Remember that the big speculative value of this investment lies in the great number of wells yet to be drilled on this acreage. This undoubtedly means largely increased production, and largely increased production means largely increased dividends and selling or market value of units.

Past Earnings Big

Remember, that the production from 15 wells, during the first six months of operation of this property, oil figured at the present price, $3.00 per barrel, was sufficient to have paid 11 per cent. cash dividends each month on the entire par value of the 1500 units composing this syndicate, or at present selling price, 8½ per cent. monthly.

Your Guarantee

We believe it a safe assertion when we say that the 19 wells now on this property, independent of any others that will be brought in, will produce sufficient oil, in a comparatively short time, to return to you the principal of your investment if you buy Turner-Brooks Royalty Units. In addition to this, we believe it safe and reasonable to expect that the additional wells to be brought in will largely increase "Turner-Brooks" dividends, as well as the market value of these units. No one can predetermine with any degree of accuracy the future production from any tract of oil land, but by the common sense method of reasoning, and particularly by applying the well-known rule of the "Law of Average," it is plain to be seen that the chances a least, for quick and fabulous profits are present in a Turner-Brooks Royalty investment.

Our Special Proposition

Our faith in Turner-Brooks Royalty and in your judgment after acquainting yourself with full details in the premises is such that we are willing to take your conditional order for one to fifty units on the basis set forth in the attached coupon. Read the coupon, and you will see that attaching your check for 10 per cent. of the amount of your purchase, you will be given reasonable time to investigate, and that, after you have done so, your money is to be refunded in case you are not entirely satisfied. The allotment at this first offered price is limited, and is being rapidly subscribed, but if you accept this special proposition and send in your order at once, we will guarantee delivery at the price stated.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Week in Review; New Skyplane Company; Living Costs Still Advancing.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

A backward look over the week reveals a status quo so far as general business conditions are concerned. This continues at the high level which has been maintained for a long time. The break which some predicted for January has so far failed to materialize. Retail trade is excellent; local credit at top notch, and everyone employed.

The bond market is still rather dull and shows the effect of the income and excess profits tax collections which are still being prepared for. Good bonds at the present level are representative of the best bargains in the investment showcase. The increase in the rediscount rate to 6 per cent. announced by the Federal reserve bank slowed down the stock market somewhat, but failed to produce the radical bear movement which was expected in some quarters. There has been some liquidation, but industrials and the better class of oils have rebounded, and while pessimism on the exchanges is not lacking the underlying tone seems rather encouraging than otherwise. There will probably continue to be shake-outs for some time to come, and a period of comparative inactivity may extend into the new week, but the situation has been partially discounted at least, and the outlook is rather more favorable than it was a week ago.

Locally money is still the most plentiful stock in hand, and incoming thousands are daily adding to the hoards. Building is going forward in spite of the continued high cost of all kinds of construction material and the small likelihood that there will be an early improvement. In fact whatever changes have been made have been upward.

This, unfortunately, applies to foodstuffs and commodities generally. Several of the standard table necessities have advanced during the week, notably butter and potatoes, while winter vegetables generally average slightly high. The public is fretting under the burden, but neither this nor the efforts of fair price fixers are having much effect on the local market which is kept more or less bare by insistent eastern demand. It would be impossible to truthfully predict an early change for the better. During the week, press reports indicated that twenty-two articles of food established new high records. Flour is on an advancing scale and may soon affect the retail price of bread. Sugar is moving at the new price of 17½ cents and the consumer has apparently adjusted himself to this rise. Beans and rice are in the ascendency. Fruit is not very plentiful and is very high. Practically all housing accommodations are filled at record rentals and latecomers are having difficulty in locating.

There is a feeling that Wall street, by means of the money rate, is to put the screws on speculation of all kinds. This may be disturbing at the moment, but it is possible that it will actually prove to be the first step towards deflation, an orderly reduction in the cost of living, and a readjustment of general trade. This department sees no reason to recede from a suggestion made shortly before the first of the year that a break is bound to come sooner or later, and it may be sooner rather than later. There is coming to be too much weight at the top. It is only possible to fill an automobile tube so full before it explodes. It is our problem to anticipate the explosion and be ready with a new tube or at least with an efficient repair outfit.

Exports Retarded.

There is more confusion than ever regarding the ratification of the peace treaty and this has seriously retarded the recovery of the export business, notwithstanding the most serious phase of that recovery lies in the demoralized exchange. In a domestic way our trade is good. Railroads are placing heavy orders for rails in anticipation of a return to private ownership, and steel manufacturers have plenty to do, Henry Ford placing a $15,000,000 order in the Pittsburgh market. Textile, shoe and other representative trades are in good shape and there continues an unprecedented demand for motor cars which the local trade is having difficulty in filling even after long delays although it is the quiet season in the East and North. Oil production is falling below requirements. Prices have recently been advanced in the East and the probability of early increase on this Coast may be reiterated. The copper trade appears to have turned the corner and stocks on hand are declining.

A Prosperous Year.

The Wells Fargo Nevada National Bank of San Francisco, has prepared an interesting resume of California's prosperity in 1919, which it regards as perhaps the best year in the history of the State. The total value of all field corps is estimated at $284,483,000 as against $234,813,000 in 1918. Of this amount the largest contributing factor was hay with a total value of $73,220,000 compared with $59,400,000 in 1918. Barley was second with a value of $42,300,000 against $39,468,000 in 1918 and winter wheat third with $33,323,000, more than double the $16,394,000 produced in 1918.

The value of the rice crop was $21,042,000 compared with $13,938,000 in 1918. The acreage in 1919 reached 142,000 against 112,000 in 1918, and the average value of product per acre was $148. The development of rice production in the State from the experimental stage in 1912 has been most remarkable.

Cotton and cottonseed for the year amounted in value to $24,436,000, which was $7,428,000 greater than the 1918 crop. An interesting feature of the development of the cotton industry in California is its economic value in the employment of unskilled labor. Cotton picking commences about the time that fruit picking is over and thousands of laborers who, under other circumstances, would be obliged to remain idle, are enabled to find profitable employment.

Of the fruit crops, oranges as usual come first, the total value being $48,169,000. This is $21,000,000 less than the 1918 crop, due partly to smaller production, but mainly to lower prices. This is the only fruit grown in the State, the value of which did not exceed all previous records.

The raisin crop brought $37,600,000 against $20,040,000 in 1918, and prunes $31,200,000, about $24,000,000 in excess of last year's crop, the increase of the latter being occasioned both by yield and price, to-wit: 130,000 tons averaging $240 in 1919 against 45,000 tons averaging $150 in 1918.

The value of all fruit crops for 1919 was $234,813,000 against $179,263,000 in 1918, while melons and vegetables produced a value of $16,200,000 compared with $10,995,000.

The total estimated value of all products of the soil in California for 1919 was $535,496,000, which was

LATEST NEWS OF FOOD PRICES.

Present conditions point to lower prices for such commodities as cauliflower, lettuce and celery in the retail markets of the city. During the past two weeks, the supplies of these products has been large and the demand from eastern buyers less active. Cabbage has also weakened in the wholesale market, having receded from its high point of $100 per ton to present quotations ranging from $80 to $85 per ton. The lettuce market is growing steadily weaker, owing to the fact that heavy shipments are now moving eastward from the Imperial Valley, with resultant small demand for the local product.

Good cauliflower in large heads could be bought yesterday at from 10 to 15 cents per head, while some of the smaller heads were selling for 7 and 8 cents each. Ruling prices of a week ago were from 20 to 25 cents each for the larger head. Lettuce prices have come down 7 cents per head to 5 cents for the better grades, and in many instances retailers are selling three heads for 10 cents. Cabbage is firm at 6 cents per pound, but prices are due to come down if the decline in wholesale prices continues. Celery is now selling at 10 cents for the small bunches, up to 25 cents each for the larger bunches.

California Hydro-Electric Securities

No investment field in California offers better opportunities at present than hydro-electric securities.

AS LONG as water falls down hill we can be certain of having hydro-electric power. We have never had sufficient hydro-electric power in California to meet our demands. The day is coming, more rapidly than most of us realize, when even the railroads will have to look to hydro-electricity for power.

Our Railroad Commission has investigated the situation very thoroughly. In order that our power could be used in the best interests of all concerned, the Commissioners have prevented unnecessary duplication of distributing lines wherever possible. They have also given rates, which would yield a decent living to employees, and a reasonable return on the capital invested in order that more capital might be attracted to this industry. If this had not been done, the development of California would have been retarded. While the costs of food and clothing, labor and supplies, coal and oil, and other commodities have doubled and trebled, the cost of power has increased less than one-fifth.

The only people who are dissatisfied with present conditions are the small gauged politicians who cannot get ahead in their chosen profession by blindly attacking public service corporations.

In most cases the cost of the plant, the cost of operation, the rates charged and the profits made are a matter of public record. The public is interested in seeing that good service is rendered. As they are given all facts regarding costs, they realize that there are few industries in the United States whose record in holding down rates in the face of rising material and labor costs compares with that of California Hydro-Electric Companies.

We offer and recommend the following diversified list of high grade California hydro-electric company securities

FINANCIAL AND TRADE REVIEW

$98,679,000 greater than the preceding year.

The total value of mineral products for the year is estimated at $182,463,000 as against $191,100,000 in 1918 and $161,202,962 in 1917. Petroleum again showed an increase, the value being $133,000,000—about $10,000,000 greater than in 1918. The largest decreases were shown in the production of copper, which was $4,237,000, or $7,600,000 less than the year before, and salines, including potash, which showed figures of $5,130,000 about $6,000,000 less than in 1918. The total production of gold for the year amounted to $17,230,250, an increase of $791,300 over 1918.

Skyplane Development.

The greatest drawback to the rapid commercializing of the airplane has admittedly been the necessity for wide spaces upon which to start and land, and so long as journeys into the suburbs were required before beginning or after ending an air trip much of the effectiveness of the proposition from a business standpoint was lost. Now comes Charles S. Hall with patents upon which he says he has been working for eleven years and which it is claimed will solve the riddle. The project is so far advanced that an incorporation has been perfected, permit to sell stock issued, and today the company is offering 62,000 shares of its capital stock. The concern is organized for $500,000 par value $1 and as soon as the first block is disposed of Mr. Hall announces that work will start in a location near Los Angeles, probably one of the Hollywood fields, upon actual construction. The great point which is claimed for the new plane is its alleged ability to land gently and easily in a small place; even upon the roofs of large buildings. In the words of the inventor, "it will no longer be necessary for the business man to travel to the outskirts of town to begin his trip, but he will be able to land in the heart of the city and to leave in the same manner. Experienced aviators, aircraft men and pilots have examined the blue prints and drawings of the Hall patents, and have pronounced the invention a simple and logical solution of the landing and rising of airplanes." The office of the company is at 223 and 224 Union Oil Building, and the aims and purposes of the organization are more fully set forth in the initial public announcement made elsewhere in The Times today.

Story of Banking Growth.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Union National Bank of Pasadena, steps were taken to increase the capital from $100,000 to $500,000, and that of the Union Trust and Savings Bank from $425,000 to $1,000,000, making a total combined capital of $1,500,000. These growing institutions now have over $9,500,000 in deposits, an increase of over $1,000,000 in the last sixty days. Resources are over $10,000,000. At the same meeting three new directors were elected: Don F. Gates, who takes the place of C. W. Gates, resigned; W. C. Brown, for twenty years president of the Burlington Railroad, and for the last ten years president of the New York Central, and Clarence Fleming, formerly one of the assistant cashiers of the Dime Savings Bank of Detroit, both of whom are now residents of Pasadena. F. C. Bolt was elected chairman of the board, and H. I. Stewart, president. The vice-presidents are John Willis Baer and C. J. Hall.

New Mining Company.

William Cheadle Borchers, a Los Angeles financier, associated with Dr. R. W. Martin and R. T. Leonards, also of this city, have concluded a deal whereby the Duncan silver mines of Clark county Nevada, Nelson townsite, all water rights, and other mining properties in El Dorado Canyon have been taken over. A new corporation, known as the Silver Standard Mining and Extraction Company of Nevada has been formed, and with strong financial backing assured, development of the properties will be undertaken on a large scale, according to Mr. Borchers. For the purpose of increasing the production of these mines as quickly as possible, and to develop other holdings of the company, an issue of 300,000 shares of stock, with a par value of $1 per share, nonassessable, had been provided. The authorized capitalization of the company amounts to 1,500,000 shares; with this issue, the outstanding capitalization will be 750,000 shares. The value of the properties, including equipment, claims, buildings and machinery amounts to $787,217. The following officers and directors have been named for the new company: R. W. Martin, president; William Cheadle Borchers, vice-president; R. T. Leonards, director; E. W. Ferron, secretary actions occurred in Security Trust

Income Tax Facts.

Deductions from gross income in determining net income include all business expenses, which are the amounts actually incurred during the tax year in the conduct of a business, trade, or profession.

A merchant may claim as deductions the amount paid for advertising, hire of clerks, and other employees, the cost of light, fuel, heat, water, and telephone used in his place of business, the cost of operating delivery wagons, motor trucks and incidental repairs to such vehicles.

A physician may claim as deductions the cost of medicines and medicinal supplies used by him in his practice, a reasonable proportion of the expenses paid in the maintenance and repair of an automobile used in making professional calls, the expenses of attending medical conventions, dues to medical societies and subscriptions to medical journals, the rent paid for office rooms and the cost of heat, water, light, telephone, etc., used in such office rooms, and salaries paid to office assistants. The same deductions are allowed a dentist.

The Stock Market.

The market closed true to the form it maintained throughout most of the week. Trading was light, but with prices fairly well maintained. It was a day of time marking and without especial development. Government bonds were in lighter volume than for some time and there was nothing to stimulate them. A few trans- and Savings at $310 and in Guaranty Trust at $285. Oils were on Friday's level. Union sold at $183.50; Mascot at $2.53; General Petroleum $159, with the rights at $11; Jade at 17 cents; Republic Petroleum at 38 ⅜ cents. There was little activity in industrials or mines. Los Angeles Investment moved in small lots around 99 cents and United Eastern registered opening sales at $3.90 recovering later in the morning to $3.92. Visitors on the floor included Milton A. Bremer, former president of the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange and Irvin Lundborg a member of the same organization.

Distribution of Wealth.

The W. J. Wollman & Co. Review remembers that within three months we have witnessed the complete or partial disposition of three so-called "swollen fortunes." Andrew Carnegie had given away most of his wealth while he lived. H. C. Frick left the bulk of his great estate to the public. John D. Rockefeller announced a Christmas gift of $125,000,000, a substantial portion of it going to place the teaching profession on a plane approaching the condition of the affluent hod-carrier or longshoreman.

$25,000,000
Consolidated Gas Company of New York
Five Year Secured Seven Per Cent. Convertible Gold Bonds.
Dated February 1, 1920 Due February 1, 1925

Interest payable quarterly, February 1, May 1, August 1 and November 1, in New York. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1000 and $500, registerable as to principal only.

Convertible at the option of holder on February 1, 1922, or any interest date thereafter, into an equivalent amount par value of the Company's capital stock.

Redeemable as a whole on September 1, 1922, or on the first day of the month next succeeding any subsequent interest day, upon sixty days' prior notice, at 102½ and interest during 1922, at 102 and interest during 1923 and at 101 and interest during 1924.

The bonds will be secured by the deposit with the Trustee of $35,000,000, par value of the capital stock of the New York Edison Company, of which there is outstanding approximately $86,000,000. Dividends on this stock are being paid at the rate of 7% per annum, therefore, the income from the stock pledged will be in excess of the interest on the 7% Convertible Bonds.

The Consolidated Gas Company of New York, organized in 1884, under the laws of the State of New York, directly and through its subsidiaries does practically the entire gas and electric business in the Borough of Manhattan, New York City, and in large parts of the Boroughs of the Bronx and Queens, and in Westchester County, serving a present estimated population of 4,000,000.

Upon completion of the present financing, the capitalization of the Consolidated Gas Company of New York will be as follows:

	Authorized	Outstanding
Common Capital Stock (paying 7% dividends)	$125,000,000	$100,000,000
Five Year Secured Seven Per Cent. Convertible Gold Bonds (this issue)	25,000,000	25,000,000

Notwithstanding the present inadequate earnings derived from gas operation, the revenue of the Consolidated Gas Company from its holdings of securities of subsidiary companies was, in 1919 alone, in excess of $7,000,000, or an amount four times the annual interest on the $25,000,000 7% Convertible Bonds.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Steels and motors monopolized speculative attention during today's brief stock market session, the former for their increased strength and the latter because of their continued weakness. Crucible steel made an additional advance of more than 12 points in connection with reports of the company's proposed recapitalization and General Motors extended yesterday's loss of 6 points by another 3 1-4 points. Popular equipments, oils and shippings also scored substantial gains. Highest quotations ruled in the later dealings, General Motors making full recovery. The closing was strong. Sales approximated 400,000 shares.

The final session of the week on the stock exchange opened with further irregular price changes, although gains predominated. Yesterday's strong features, notably independent steels, were again conspicuous under lead of Crucible Steel, which made a new high quotation for the current movement. Shippings and several of the utilities, including People's Gas, also improved and General Motors recovered part of its recent decline, but oils reacted moderately. Trading came to a standstill within the first half hour.

The actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows that they hold $13,363,750 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is a decrease of $20,864,060 from last week.

Mercantile paper, 6. Sterling demand, $3.62; cables, $3.62¾.

Bar silver, $1.32½. Mexican dollars, $1.01.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Bar silver, 80 1-4d per ounce. Money unchanged.
